Ag Team Ready For Arkansas, Stiteler Says

By FRANK N. MANITZAS
Battalion Sports Editor

"We'll be out to get them tomorrow," Head Coach Harry Stiteler said today. He was referring to the Arkansas Razorbacks, who will arrive today and workout in preparation for the conference game tomorrow night on Kyle Field.

Head Trainer Bill Dayton said that all of the A&M team will be able to play in tomorrow's game, and that although they are not in their best condition of this season, they can go.

It will be Dick Gardemal starting for the Aggies in the quarterback slot, with Billy Tidwell, Glenn Lippman, and Bruis'n' Bob Smith rounding out the remainder of the backfield quartet.

Gardemal is the fourth best passer in the conference when completion averages are taken into account. The Port Arthurian has successfully tossed 15 passes into arms of receivers with 15 others going wild.

Arts-Sciences Faculty Holds Annual Meet

Professor C. K. Hancock of the Department of Chemistry was elected secretary of the School of Arts and Sciences Faculty at their regular Fall meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. J. P. Abbot, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences, introduced members of the Basic Division to the group and each member discussed the progress of his special department.

Dean J. R. Bertrand gave the progress and objectives of the Basic Division. Professor C. H. Ransdell discussed the orientation program of the Basic Division and Capt. F. E. McFarland described the counseling program for the freshman.

Dr. A. J. Kingston told of the remedial reading program and outlined the principal reasons for a student's inability to comprehend after reading a printed page.

Five percent of the cases were caused by some physical defect of the student. Another five to ten percent were caused by psychological disturbances. Dr. Kingston also showed a ten minute film concerning instruction for increasing reading speed.

Dr. Abbot congratulated the faculty on their response to his request for cards to be turned in on freshman students who seem to be having difficulty with their college work.

Three Other QBs

But in case, Gardemal should fail, three other quarterbacks can almost replace him to the well known "T". Darrow Hooper, Delmar Sikes, and Ray Graves are the Aggies three other ball handling wonders. Together the group has directed the Farmer eleven to become the leading offensive team in the conference with a total of 2,331 yards.

Weekend Activity Opener . . .

Armor-Engineer Regimental Ball In MSC Tonight At 8

By RALPH GORMAN

The annual Armor-Engineer Regimental Ball will launch a full slate of week-end activities tonight at 8:30 on the Starlight Terrace of the Memorial Student Center.

Music for the dance will be furnished by the Aggeland Orchestra until time for midnight yell practice.

Selection of the sweetheart of the Armor-Engineering Regiment will highlight the ball. Each of the five companies composing the regiment have entered a candidate for the sweetheart title.

Mickey Helmke, a beautiful brunette from Seguin, has been chosen to represent A Armor in the contest. B Armor has named petite Dagny Miskala, 4' 10" student at Ball High in Galveston, as their representative.

Rounding out the list of "Jock" lovelies is Helen Woodward, an attractive little lady who is a senior at Milby High in Houston. She was a contestant in the "Miss Zither" contest in Houston last spring.

Engineer Candidates
Carolyn Woodruff, a comely blonde from Houston who is attending the University of Texas, has been selected by A Engineers as their candidate for sweetheart.

The charms of Patsy Hulse, 18 year old Houstonian, are offered by B Engineers to add to the judges perplexing task.

Those who compose the judging committee whose duty it is to make the final decision for the regimental honor are Lt. Col. J. J. Kelly, Maj. W. A. Burrus, and Grady Elms.

Escorting the lovely sweetheart candidates are Eddie Goetz, sophomore business student from Seguin; Pat Holland, sophomore business major from Galveston; Russell Hagens, senior architect from Houston; Melvin Hurst, also a senior architect from Houston; and, Bob Brown, junior engineer from Dallas.

Tickets—Refreshments
Tickets for the regimental event may be obtained from any of the first sergeants of the five companies for $2.50, stag or drag. Refreshments will be served on the Terrace.

Committee established for the Ball are under the direction of Herbert G. Mills, regimental commander, and committee chairmen are listed as Autrey Frederick, orchestra; Charles Kitchell, guests; Albert Rollins, sweetheart; Bob Barnman, tickets and programs; and Milton Patterson, decorations and refreshments.

COs to Collect Student Tickets

Unit Commanders will take up all student football tickets and vouch for the accuracy of the ticket count before the march in to the game Saturday.

Cadet first sergeants and sergeant majors will turn the tickets in to Carl Tishler, ticket office representative, as the unit marches into Kyle Field, Operations Memorandum No. 4 from the commandants office directed.

Uniform for the march will be winter serge with overseas caps and ties. Seniors will wear boots, but sabers will not be carried.

First call will be at 6:45 p. m. and the corps will move out towards the field at 6:50 p. m.

Nutrition Meeting Enters Final Day

The Texas Nutrition Conference, in session on the campus the last two days, will close today.

Primary aims of the conference were to present the latest developments on animal nutrition, discussion of membership of the Texas Feed Manufacturers Ass'n, and to discuss latest developments in vitamin B-12, hormones, and unidentified growth factors.

Five out-of-state speakers were included on the two day program, reported J. R. Crouch, chairman of the Committee on Program and Arrangements.

Anniversary Queen . . .

Pre-Game Ceremonies Slated

By ANDY ANDERSON

The Queen of A&M's 75th Anniversary activities will be presented to the student bodies in a special pre-game ceremonies on Kyle Field at 7:50 p. m.

Dr. M. T. Harrington, president of the college, will present the queen at the Saturday program. Other members of the committee are Dean of Men W. L. Penberthy and Dean of the College C. C. French.

Selected from a field of 30 beauties several weeks ago, the four finalists will appear before a committee of judges who will select the queen.

The final judging committee, made up of faculty and students, will select the queen. The finalists are Ann Malcolm, SMU student from Abilene escorted by J. D. Hinton; Pat Parker, '49 graduate from TSCW will be escorted by Doyle Avant.

Helen Woodward from Houston will be escorted by Russell Hagens. Lennie Garrard, student at the University of Houston will be escorted by John Tapley.

The bevie of beauties will be presented to a selection committee at 4:45 p. m. Saturday at an informal dance, co-sponsored by the Memorial Student Center and the Commentator.

Aggeland Combo
Music for the afternoon will be furnished by Bill Turner and a Combo from the Aggeland in the MSC Ballroom.

Commentator Editors George Charlton and Herman Gollob will present a corsage to each of the girls.

After meeting with the queen candidates at the dance, a committee of judges composed of four non students, and six students will choose the 75th anniversary queen.

Non-Student
Non-student members of the committee are Lt. Col. J. V. Roddy of the Military Science Department; C. G. "Spiker" White, assistant to the Dean of Men for Student Activities; Dick Hervey, president of the Former Students Association; and Miss Betty Bolander, assistant social director of the MSC.

Student committee members are Bill Parse, president of the Student Senate; Clayton Selph, co-editor of The Battalion; Bob Al-

Allies Attempting To Save Surrounded Yank Troops

Seoul, Nov. 3 — (AP) — Allied reinforcements rushed to the flaming northwest Korean front today to try to rescue remnants of two surrounded American regiments and buck up the sagging United Nations line.

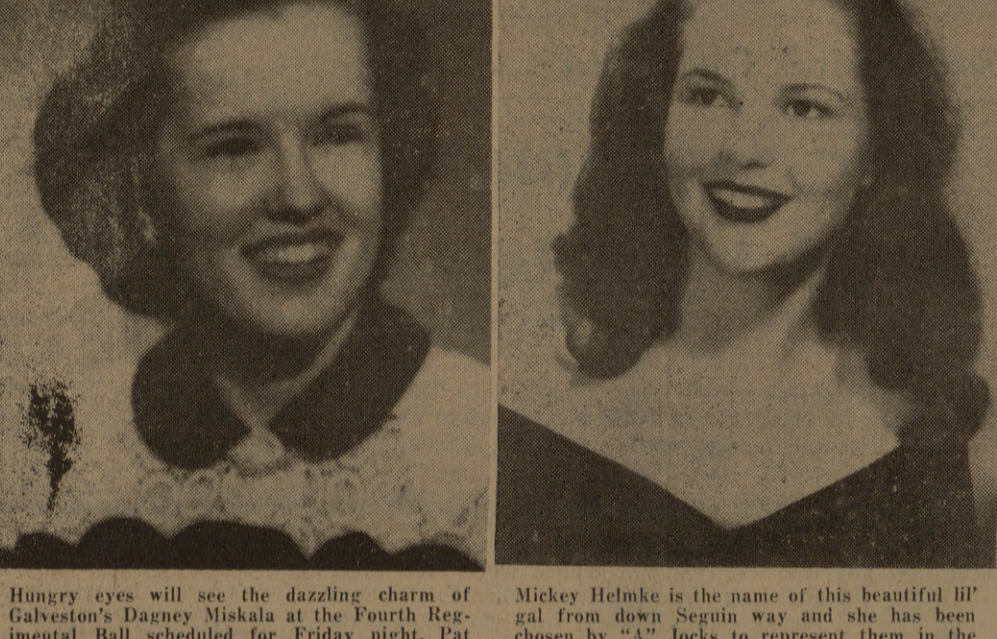

The combined Chinese Red and North Korean counterattack sent the U.N. forces reeling back in virtually every sector. At one point the Reds were only 47 miles north of Pyongyang, fallen Communist capital.

Only U.S. Marines in the northeast were on the offensive. And their thrust was blunted by a fierce Red encircling move.

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters called the situation "very serious." A U.S. First Corps spokesman said it was "not so good as it could be and not as good as we would like it."

However, General MacArthur's spokesman in Tokyo described the main battle, around Unsan, as a large-scale enemy defensive action and not a counteroffensive. Two U.S. cavalry regiments are cut off there.

The spokesman said U.N. forces still retained the initiative in North Korea.

Hungry eyes will see the dazzling charm of Galveston's Dagny Miskala at the Fourth Regimental Ball scheduled for Friday night. Pat Holland will squire "B" Armor's selection.

Mickey Helmke is the name of this beautiful lil' gal from down Seguin way and she has been chosen by "A" Jocks to represent them in the annual Armor-Engineer Ball. Her escort is Eddie Goetz.

Officials Deny Japanese Used In Korean War

Washington, Nov. 3 — (AP)—Russia gave its formal support yesterday to the Communist charge that the United States has used Japanese troops in the Korean fighting.

The Soviet Union demanded that the 15-nation Far Eastern Commission do something about it.

Without waiting for the commission to respond, the State and Army Departments emphatically denied the allegation, which was made earlier in a North Korean "protest" to the United Nations and hurled also in a UN speech last Saturday by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky.

The State Department said there are no Japanese troops in Korea, at least none in the UN forces.

The Army likewise said there is no truth in the charge.

Moscow's representative told the commission, which lays down basic policies for the occupation, that North Korea had submitted evidence "proving" American violation of the Potsdam pledge to demilitarize Japan by using Japanese forces as fighting men in several instances.

Vladimir Bazykin, Soviet Embassy counselor, submitted no supporting evidence. After reciting the North Korea charges, Bazykin declared the commission "must not pass the above-mentioned facts proving the direct violation of the agreed decisions on the demilitarization of Japan."

Bazykin also failed to say just what Russia wanted done.

The commission without comment took the complaint under consideration.

Medallion Selling Goes to Senators

The Student Senate voted last night to take over sales of the commemorative medallion for A&M's 75th Anniversary upon an offer by Exchange Store Manager Carl Birdwell.

Birdwell said the Exchange Store has nearly 5,000 of the gold-colored medallions on hand. Profits from the sales will go to the Campus Chest, of which the largest portion last year went to finance a Twelfth Man Scholarship.

This gift has been established as a student body scholarship, given to a high school graduate selected by the Development Fund committee.

Committee's Sale
L. B. Weddell made the motion for the Senate to handle the sales, with an amendment by Bill Sky-Eagle to "be sure to sell 'em at the remaining home football games." Another amendment by Joe Fuller placed the Exchange Store committee of the Senate in full charge of sales.

The same seating plan as was used for the TCU game will be used Saturday night, the Senate decided. New tickets are being distributed to senior corps members, allowing them to enter their reserved section.

Tickets will be distributed today through unit first sergeants to all seniors in the corps.

Reporting on the progress of the traffic committee, Jimmy Onstott told of "bucking tough problems already."

"We have been trying mainly to locate more parking space," Onstott told the Senate, "but we have run into many difficulties. The area just west of Trail Street, we discovered, has been set aside for a park, and appears destined to become that instead of a parking lot."

Upon a motion by Bill Moss, the Senate voted unanimously to instruct the traffic committee to forward a letter to "the Board of Directors if necessary." The letter will contain suggestions of the committee for improvement of A&M's traffic problem, which most senators agreed "is deplorable and needs quick action."

King Egger, YMCA employee, rallied to the aid of the World Student Service Fund when discussion rolled around that organization. Egger told the Senate of the activities of the group, which provides for education, medical care, food and clothing for outstanding but needy students of other countries.

A hot discussion followed Egger's report, with a possibility of A&M's obtaining a "DP"—a displaced person—as a student here in the college halting the debate.

Allan Eubank made a motion that the Senate request Egger to write the WSSSF the possibilities of obtaining such a student.

A Campus Chest committee was elected by the Senate to handle this year's campaign, which is expected to begin later in the school term. Named as co-chairmen were Eubank and I. E. "Monty" Montgomery, last year's chairman. Serving on the committee are Hans Killingstad, Bill Moss, and Brad McAllister.

MSC Offers Free Haircut To First Four

Need a free haircut?
The Memorial Student Center's new barber shop is offering a free haircut to the first four men to come in their new shop. The new four chair barber shop will open its doors for the first time at 7 a. m. Chris Gent, assistant director, announced.

The shop is equipped with all new equipment, such as new red plastic covered barber chairs, electric soap latherers and even chrome ash trays on the chair arms.

Prices will remain the same in the new shop, Gent says.

Lynch to Address Wildlife Meeting

John J. Lynch, Flyway Biologist of the Mississippi Flyway, will speak to the Fish and Game Club Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Assembly Room of the MSC.

Lynch has a BS degree in Biology from Rhode Island College. Following graduation he began work as a biologist for the U. S. Biology Survey.

Since then Lynch has served as Aquatic Biologist, and in his current position as Flyway Biologist.

The biologist has also written several articles dealing with wildlife.
