

Corps Trip Report: TSCW Cheered, A&M Marched, SMU Smarted

It was three days the Aggies will long remember, the bi-annual invasion of Dallas. Those that followed the standard routine found events pretty well in this order. TSCW was host Friday night (first picture) with an All-College dance that afforded many an Aggie a last-minute Tessie date to the Corps Trip. Helen Beys, College Government Association President, is shown pinning an identification tag on one Aggie before he trekked to the spacious dance floor bordered by male and female stag lines. The parade Saturday morning down Main Street in Dallas, (second picture) firmly established the presence of the Cadet Corps in "Big-D." Thousands of on-lookers lined the street to see the Aggie line of march and the SMU Homecoming Parade that followed. Next came the climax, the Cotton Bowl battle that found A&M thrill 76,000 spectators by out-fighting the favored Mustangs 25-20. The Aggie portion of the stands (last picture) literally went wild as "Bruisin' Bob" Smith rounded out a spectacular afternoon by rumbing 73 yards for the winning tally. The celebration that followed defies description.

First Flower Show Scheduled Tomorrow

The first of two flower shows of the A&M Garden Club will be presented tomorrow from 6 p. m. until 7:30 p. m. in the ballroom of the Student Memorial Center, Mrs. Al B. Nelson announced.

Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Edward Madeley are co-chairmen of the show.

Two divisions, horticultural and arrangements, make up the show. These divisions includes annuals, (plants that grow only one year) chrysanthemums, roses, bulbs, tubers, corms, rhizomes, branches of flowering shrubs, and pot-plants. Mrs. Cecil Wamble and Mrs. P. W. Burns are in charge of staging the show.

Show Judges

Mrs. W. M. Potts will place designs of the red flower class; Mrs. Ray Oden, blue flower class; Mrs. C. C. Doak, pink flower class; and Mrs. Frank Anderson, yellow flower class of the arrangements division.

Chrysanthemum class will be directed by Mrs. R. D. Lewis and roses by Mrs. Bill Hensell. Mrs. Lovia Edwards and Mrs. Cecil Ryan are in charge of the fresh foliage, and the fruit and vegetables classes.

Thanksgiving Arrangements
Thanksgiving arrangements will be placed by Mrs. Bill Turner, and arrangements of dry plants by Mrs. E. E. Brush. Mrs. Carl Landis will place arrangements using kitchen utility containers.

Entries for the arrangements division should be sent to Mrs. R. B. Hickerson. Mrs. Fred Hale is in charge of ribbons, and publicity is under the direction of Mrs. John Hill and Mrs. Marion Pugh.

Three New Births Reported Sunday

Three births were reported last week by the St. Joseph's Hospital of Bryan.

The youngest of the new trio is a boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lloyd Palmer of College Station. He was born yesterday morning and weighed six pounds 10 ounces.

Richard Dalketh, born Nov. 8, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Breaux. He weighed five pounds 12 ounces. Breaux is a sophomore accounting major.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Reese are the parents of a seven pound three ounce son, Robert Thaddeus Reese. Robert was born early Wednesday morning. Reese is a fourth-year industrial education major.

Pruesser to Speak At Study Club Meet

Instructor in the Museum of Fine Arts and co-director of the Museum of Contemporary Art, Robert C. Pruesser, will be guest speaker tomorrow of the Campus Study Club.

The meeting is scheduled for 3 p. m. in the Memorial Student Center. Pruesser will speak on American Painting of the past 25 years, using Chromachrome slides and pictures for illustration purposes.

Unity, Not 'Fair Deal' Plan Deemed Superior Alternative

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Friends speculated yesterday that President Truman may soft pedal his "Fair Deal" program in a drive for unity among the Democratic membership of the new Congress.

The President was reported to have told lieutenants he intends to keep hands off the selection by Senate Democrats of a new leader to succeed defeated Senator Lucas of Illinois.

He has been told it would be unwise to interfere as the late Franklin D. Roosevelt did in 1937.

At that time Roosevelt "Dear Alben" letter was credited with bringing the choice of Alben Barkley, now vice president, over the late Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi.

The circumstances are different now, however. Roosevelt had just been elected to a second term and was at the height of political popularity. Some of the lustre of President Truman's 1948 victory was lost in defeats of democratic candidates last Tuesday.

Mr. Truman has lost at least eight Senate votes for his "Fair Deal" proposals in general. This resulted from defeats of democratic Senators Graham of North Carolina, Lucas, Myers of Pennsylvania, Pepper of Florida, Taylor of Idaho, Elbert Thomas of Utah, Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma and the decision of Downey of California not to run again.

Supporters Slim
The President has left a bloc of democratic members who can be counted on to support much—but not all—of his "Fair Deal" program.

President Truman can't count on much help from the Republican side particularly in the light of the election results. His friends say Mr. Truman would be lucky to get a half dozen GOP votes, even for modified "Fair Deal" proposals.

This seemed to leave the President in the position of making a hopeless fight in the Senate for his program—for the political benefit that might accrue to him in 1952—or of trimming his sails domestically and concentrating on foreign policy issues.

In the latter field, the President has more solid democratic support and can count on Republican help if he makes any gesture toward cooperation with GOP.

Third-Graders Write-Produce One Act Play

An original play, "The Book Party," will be presented tomorrow morning at Consolidated School by the members of the Third Grade. The play was written by members of Mrs. C. K. Leighton's class, and is scheduled to be presented at 9 a. m. in the school auditorium.

Winners of a poster contest emphasizing Book Week will be announced after judging tomorrow morning, and winning posters will hang in classrooms, Mrs. Leighton said. The first-place posters will hang in Supt. Les Richardson's office, and the second-place winner will be placed in Mrs. H. S. Creswell's office. All poster entries are from Mrs. Leighton's classroom.

"The Book Party" has 31 characters, all representing books, or characters from the children's favorite stories. It is expected to last about 25 minutes. Costumes were designed and made by the children during art period. Characters range from "Little Black Sambo" to two radio-characters, the "Lone Ranger" and "Straight Arrow."
