Smith, Greiner, Hillhouse Named To Three All-SWC

By RALPH E. GORMAN

Harry Stiteler's Aggies gained three berths on the Associated Press radio broadcaster's All-Southwest Conference eleven, the All-Southwest team chosen by the International News Service, and the Houston Post's 1950 All-Conference selections.

Bruisin' Bob Smith, A&M's hard running fullback, and Andy Hillhouse, the Aggies' double duty end, were named to all three teams.

Max Greiner, A&M's four year letterman guard, was chosen for the Radio and Post elevens, while another Aggie guard, Carl Molberg was the third man on the INS team. Greiner is an offensive specialist while Molberg is one of the few 60-minute men in Modern college football.

SMU, TU—Also Three Each

Southern Methodist and Texas also had three representatives from their respective elevens on each of the mythical All-Southwest teams. Baylor and Rice placed one player each on the team in which broadcasters from every section of the state polled their votes for the selection, but the Bears garnered two posts with INS to crowd the Owls out of the running.

Arkansas and Texas Christian failed to gain recognition on the AP team, and Rice joined the ranks of the non-represented in the INS selection.

McFadin is Unanimous Choice

Texas' Bud McFadin, who has gained a place on every All-American team to date, was the only player chosen unanimously by the many broadcasters. This is the second straight year for the big Longhorn guard to be chosen.

On the Radio All-Southwest mythical team Southern Methodist is represented by Bobby Collier at tackle, Dick Hightower at center, and Kyle Rote at fullback. Longhorns who would wear starting jerseys if the SWC all-stars were to play are McFadin at guard, Ben Proctor at end, and Byron Townsend in the backfield.

Isbell is Quarterback

Baylor's adept quarterback Larry Isbell and Rice's big tackle Paul Gioski are their candidates on the AP selection.

SMU's Collier and Rote are also in their second year as members of the Radio All-Southwest team.

Only four SWC members gained admittance to the young, but powerful mythical INS eleven, which was chosen in a poll of college football coaches, scouts, and INS grid experts.

Smith Unanimous

Smith and Rote were unanimously elected to the mythical backfield posts and their running and passing mates are Townsend and Isbell.

Baylor's Harold Riley edged Texas' Proctor for the end post on the INS team, as did Texas' Ken Jackson over Rice's Gioski at the tackle slot, and Molberg replaced teammate Greiner to share duties with McFadin at the guard position.

Tidwell, Meyer on Second Team

On the INS second team for the SWC all-stars the Aggies placed Billy Tidwell in the backfield and Hugh Meyer at the center post.

Lion's Club Hears Line Coach Speak

Aggie Line Coach Bill Dawson was the speaker at the noon meeting of the College Station Lions Club yesterday in the Memorial Student Center.

Dawson gave a review of the 1950 Aggie football season, with a round up of who the players for next year will be and their capabilities for the 1951 season.

Dues for the month of December were reduced from $6 to $5 after a decision by the club to dispense with the Dec. 25 meeting.

In Southwest Conference . . .

Texas Ends Clean Season

With the exception of games remaining to be played by Texas, A&M, and maybe Baylor, the Southwest Conference wrapped up its exceptional upsetting season with a bang, as the "most-upset" team in the conference—Southern Methodist—again bit the dust over the past weekend as did Rice and the Aggies.

Texas finished its first clean SWC year, defeating the Aggies, 17-0, while the Horned Frogs jumped on the band wagon behind Gil Bartosh and finally completed the job which they have been building up to for the past three years, and tied the Mustangs in the corral, by a 27-13 score, and Larry Isbell piloted his Bears in an easy de-feathering of the Owls, 33-7.

Texas still must play Louisiana State before it can complete its conference year and then move to the Cotton Bowl to meet the Tennessee Vols. The Cadets also play Saturday, meeting the Georgia Bulldogs in the Presidential Cup game. Baylor may play a Southern team, probably LSU, in the Petroleum Bowl, but nothing definite has been set by either team.

Smith Only Leader

Bruisin' Bob Smith was the only player to finish the season holding two first places on the statistics list. He leads the scorers with 14 touchdowns—84 points—and in total ground gaining with 1,303 yards, an average of over 6 yards, also tops in the conference.

The Cadets lead the league in total points scored, 304, and total yardage with 4,559.

But Champion Texas finished the season with the same number of points scored in the Conference as the Cadets, 142, and held their brother opponents to 68 markers.

★ Baylor 33, Rice 7 ★

Larry Isbell's precision passing and magical ball handling led Baylor to a ridiculously easy, 33-7 victory over Rice.

Three times his passes made the score board click and another set the stage for little Frank Shannon to get in on the touchdown parade.

His 11 completions out of 12 attempts accounted for 178 of the 186 yards Baylor gained passing.

On the ground, Baylor picked up 209 yards to 68 for Rice and six completed passes out of 19 attempted netted the Owls only 164 yards.

One touchdown in the first period, three in the second, and another in the fourth left the crowd of 20,000 partisan Baylor fans glowing with pleasure.

It took a recovered fumble late in the final quarter to start Rice toward its only touchdown.

Two to Williams

Isbell tossed two touchdown passes to Stanley Williams, who made spectacular catches, and hit James Jeffrey in the end zone with another.

An 84-yard punt return by little Johnny Curtis and a one-yard plunge by Shannon accounted for the other Baylor touchdowns, with

All-America 11s To Be Released

Complete All-America football selections from all over the country will be released in tomorrow's Battalion. Included in the list will be Look's, Collier's, AP's, UP's, NEA's, Oak Walker's, and many others.

Although some of above team selections have already been released, the Battalion Sports Staff believes that with all of the All-America teams picked by different parties together in one section, perhaps an individual may select his own All-America team, hence giving every one his choice as to who belongs among the nation's best.

Pro-Manager Joe Fagan of A&M's new $75,000 golf course tests the roll on one of the finest greens in the South which officially opened to the public after the dedication ceremonies tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. Holding the flag is Head Greenskeeper Clyde Harrison while Assistant Greenskeeper O. V. Gage looks on, amazed to see Fagan miss a three inch putt.

Premier Peat Moss
PEPS - UP YOUR SOIL

Is your soil "asleep"? Does it lack the vigor it needs to give your turf its maximum growth? Then pep-up your soil with Premier Peat Moss—the 97% organic soil conditioner.

Spongy Premier has amazing capacity for storing water, air and plant food. It feeds the roots all they need—when they need it. It gives substance to light soil—loosens heavy soil—so that roots can spread out. It helps to utilize plant food—makes fertilizer go farther, last longer. The result: fine fibrous feeding roots . . . strong-growing grass, flowers, trees . . . and the thickest most luxuriant turf that nature can give you.

The beautiful greens on the Texas A&M golf course will grow in soil conditioned by Premier Peat Moss. 600 bales of Premier were used for their construction.
