All-America

Grantland Rice, who is referred to as the Dean of American Sport-writers, again, with the aid of the Football Writers Association of America, picked Look Magazine's 1950 All-America Football team.

Rice decided that picking one team of eleven men is illogical since the platoon system is being used so extensively by many of the top teams. Hence, both a defense and an offensive team were chosen and the honorable mention list is composed of two-way players, and specialists.

Rote, McFadin Cadet Cagers Lose to Siena In N.Y., 42-56

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 6 (Special)—The Texas Aggies were as cold as the Eastern weather here Tuesday night as they fell to the sharpshooting Siena College Indians 56 to 42.

The defeat was the second for the Cadets on the current road trip. Wednesday morning the Aggies move on to Burfalo, N.Y. where they will meet the strong Canisius College quintet in a Thursday night encounter.

Siena's victory was apparent from the opening whistle as they held the tall Texans scoreless for the first four minutes of play. Jewell McDowell, Aggie guard who has been handicapped in all games thus far by a back injury, broke the ice with a one hand shot from about 12 feet out.

McDowell led the Aggie attack which outscored the Siena five 27 to 25 in the second half. He collected 15 points in the game to lead the individual scorers and 11 of these points came in the final 20 minutes. Fedulla was high scorer for the home team with 14 count-
