Annual Kiwanis Basketball Tournament Opens Tonight

The fifth annual College Station Kiwanis Club sponsored basketball tourney gets underway at A&M Consolidated High School Gymnasium this evening with the Rattlers of Navasota rated as strong favorites to take their second championship.

The Navasota cagers took the tournament top honors in 1948 and have looked extremely well in early season engagements. The Rattlers beat the Consolidated basketball team earlier in the season 19 points to the tune of a 17-36 encounter.

Also rated high on the list of contenders in the meet are last year's champion Cypress-Fairbanks and Woodville. Play begins at 7:30 with Waller meeting Somerville in the initial bout. Navasota and Hempstead follow at 8:30.

Saturday morning games get underway with the Consolidated quintet meeting Rockdale at 9 a. m. and Cypress-Fairbanks going against Woodville at 10:30.

The first playoff will come at 7 p. m. when consolation trophy winners will be decided. The game for third place honors begins at 8, with the finals scheduled for 9.

Hines to Speak at Winter Sports Fete Saturday in Sbis

Outstanding players on the 1950 A&M football team will be honored during the annual Winter Sports Banquet to be held tomorrow night in Sbis Hall.

In former years, local individuals have singled out top players and given them awards for their performance. Two of the 1949 winners—Carl Molberg of Fredericksburg and Max Greiner of Houston—have just completed their eligibility with the Aggies and could possibly receive the awards the second time.

Bishop John E. Hines of Austin will be principal speaker for the banquet, talking on "The Goal Beyond the Goal Line." Bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas, the Rev. Hines is well known for his colorful and forceful talks. Bishop Hines is a graduate of the University of the South at Sewanee where he played basketball during his student days.

DuBose's New Job At TU -- Certain

William T. "Bill" DuBose indicated Thursday he will resign as line coach at A&M if the Board of Regents at the University of Texas accepts his application as Longhorn end coach.

DuBose, a graduate of the University, had not formally signed his resignation, but Barlow "Bones" Irvin, A&M Athletic Director, said he expected it momentarily.

Both Irvin and Coach Harry Stiteler expressed regret at losing DuBose. Irvin said DuBose had done a fine job at A&M and DuBose's absence would be felt.

"I have worked with Bill for 12 years, and I have always been more than satisfied with his work," said Stiteler. "In all those years he's been a big help in our struggle up the line. I hate to lose him because of our close personal and professional feeling, but I know he wants to return to his home school. All I can do is wish him well."

Irvin said that no successor had been picked for DuBose. The big line coach has been coaching at A&M for the past three years.

"I'd never leave A&M if it were not for my chance to return to Texas," DuBose said. "I've enjoyed my three years at A&M, and I regret leaving Stiteler and the Aggies."

The banquet, which begins at 7 p. m., is sponsored by the Brazos County A&M Club in cooperation with the A&M Athletic Department. It is given to honor the entire football squad, including the varsity traveling squad, B team and freshman team, and the cross country team.

Thirty-five football players on the varsity team are due to receive letters along with the cross country crew. The Fish football team will be introduced as a group.

Newt Hilscher, an associate professor of engineering and official statistician for Aggie athletics, will be master of ceremonies at the banquet. Allen M. Madeley of the Dean of Men's office is general chairman for the banquet, and C. G. "Spike" White is program chairman. W. S. McCulley is chairman for the banquet and decorations committee. Marion Pugh is head of the reception committee.

Others working on arrangements include tickets chairman John B. Longley; Barlow "Bones" Irvin, A&M Athletic Director; W. N. "Flop" Colson, Wallace Kimbrough, new president of the Brazos County A&M Club, and Kenneth Bond, sports writer for the college.

'Mural News

An off-tackle smash shortly before the half netted the footballers from Squadron 12 a 7-0 win over the gridiron squad from Company 8. The stout Squadron 12 defense did not allow the Company 8 men to advance inside the forty yard line. The winners led in penetrations 7-0.

The Fish Band battled the Company 10 freshmen to a 7-7 deadlock only to lose the game on penetrations, 6-2.

Company 11 waltzed all over the bewildered Company 7 gridders to win by the overwhelming score of 19-0. The winners were ahead in penetrations 9-0 never allowing the Company 7 offensive to drive inside the forty yard marker.

A safety, two touchdowns, and an extra-point, in that order, enabled Company 3 to stop the Company 1 grid machine, 15-0.

Company 10's netters were declared the winner of the League B competition and will face the winners of League A for the championship.

AP Sports Ed To Personalize Latest Books

Local sports enthusiasts will get a chance to have an author sign personal copies of his most recent books Saturday morning.

Harold V. Ratliff, sports editor for the Texas branch of the Associated Press, will be in the Exchange Store from 10 to 12 noon Saturday for an autograph party featuring his two books—"Towering Texans" and "I Shook the Hand."

Jarrin' Jawn Kimbrough, A&M All-American in 1938 and 1940; the Twelfth Man and Lil Dimmitt, Aggie coach in the 1940's; are some of the subjects covered in Ratliff's books. Ratliff has an authentic version of just how the name "Twelfth Man" originated at A&M and who the extra man was.

Copies of both books may be bought from the Exchange Store until noon Saturday.

A former president of the Texas Sports Writers Association, Ratliff has been writing Texas sports for 27 years. He is visiting the campus Friday night and Saturday, and he will attend the Winter Sports Banquet Saturday night.

Fish Cagers Edge Slimes With Slow Game, 35-33

By FRED WALKER

Edward "Mike" Kelley, 6' 4" Rice Owlet forward barely missed being the visitor's hero when his last second crisp shot—as the gun was being sounded—took a fatal roll away from the basket and allowed the Aggie Fish to edge the Slimes 35-33 in a breathtaking curtain raiser in DeWare Field House last night.

The Fish fumbled almost disastrously and lost control of the backboards three quarters of the way through the second half to relinquish a 16-10 half time lead. Owlet guards James Beavers and Dean Small paced the second half attack by dropping in nine and eight points respectively after being held to a basket apiece during the first frame.

Faltering 27 to 30, the Owlet's managed to tie up the contest on a field goal and a free throw by substitute Forward Vol Montgomery. Guard Ronald Dwyer then matched a Rice free throw to again tie the score.

Small tallied again for the Owlets but Fish forward Don Nederer retaliated with his first goal of the evening to put the game on ice.

Fouls Hurt

The visitors proved to be their worst enemies then as two consecutive fouls gave A&M the ball out of bounds with but one minute and eleven seconds remaining.

Things looked fine for the Fish, but with only 50 seconds to go, a bad pass returned the ball to the Slimes. It was then that Cadets took over control of the backboards until the last chance shot by Kelly.

Rice had managed to get possession by the grace of an Aggie foul, but trailing by two points, they took it out of bounds with but two seconds to play. Kelly bypassed an Aggie and raced by the basket. The gun went off as the ball went up, as the clock and an A&M defender had forced Kelly to shoot off balance.

This was the third straight win for Coach John Floyd's junior basketballers. They had previously beaten Wharton and Lon Morris Junior Colleges by the scores of 41-38 and 51-35.

Beavers and Small led both teams in individual scoring with 11 and 9 points while Dwyer was high man for the Aggies with nine.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 10...THE PANDA

"Let's get down to bear facts!"

The sudden rash of quick-trick cigarette tests may have caused panda-monium on the campus—but our scholarly friend was unperturbed. He pondered the facts of the case and decided that one-puff or one-sniff tests... single inhale and exhale comparisons are hardly conclusive. Proof of cigarette mildness doesn't come that fast!

And that's exactly why we suggest... The sensible test—the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days in your "T-Zone"

(T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...
