Freshmen attending the Floriculture-Landscape Architecture Societies open house last night saw what can be done with flowers, a couple of chairs and accessories, and their imagination. Exhibition of the contemporary garden, complete with living plants from the floriculture greenhouses, climaxed a tour of the landscape drafting room and floriculture greenhouses.

Vegetable Judgers Take Fifth Place

The Vegetable Judging Team placed fifth in the National Intercollegiate Vegetable Judging Contest held Dec. 12-13 at the Jung Hotel in New Orleans.

The team, which was the first from A&M to enter the competition, consists of Dan Pawlik, Athel Anderson, Billy B. Bates and Jerry Jackson, alternate. H. C. Mohr, assistant professor in the Horticulture Department is the team coach.

First place in the meet was taken by Cornell, second by the University of Massachusetts, Ohio State placed third, Mississippi State took fourth, A&M fifth, and LSU was in sixth place.

John E. Hutchison, extension horticulturist, and Mohr accompanied the team on the trip.

Kiwanis Selects Top Achievements

The annual Crippled Children's Clinic and the addition of flood lights to the A&M Consolidated football field were named the outstanding achievements of the College Station Kiwanis Club.

Selection of outstanding achievements for the past six years were made at a birthday meeting of the club.

Pas presidents enumerated the activities of the club for the past six years. George Wilcox, second president, presented a summary of the first two years.

Following Wilcox's talk, each succeeding president listed the accomplishments of the chapter during his term of office. Joe Sorrels, Sid Loveless, Ralph Steen and Joe Motheral were the other speakers.

To Cure Polio Victims . . . Dimes Campaign Begins Monday

With the opening date of the 1951 March of Dimes only six days off, Homer T. Blackhurst, campaign director, called upon all residents to join the all-out drive for funds needed to stem the rising tide of polio.

"The 1951 March of Dimes begins next Monday," Blackhurst says, "and lasts a little over two weeks. But in that short time we can help thousands upon thousands of polio patients for whom recovery is measured in terms of 10 or 20 or 50 weeks if not longer. I think we owe them the two weeks of our effort."

Rio Grande Club Picture Scheduled

The Rio Grande Valley A&M Club will have its picture for the 1951 Aggieband made on the steps of the Agriculture building Wednesday afternoon, January 10, at 5:00.

Military students will wear No. 1 uniforms and non-military students will wear coats and ties.

The regular club meeting will be Thursday, January 11, at 7:30 in room 2-d in the Memorial Student Center.

The results of the Christmas Dance will be the major topic of discussion at the meeting.

100,000 Stricken

Blackhurst disclosed that more than 100,000 were stricken by polio in the years 1948-50, with four out of five of them receiving help in whole or in part from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, on whose behalf the March of Dimes is conducted.

"Last Fall," Blackhurst said, "the National Foundation ran out of epidemic aid funds and had to call upon whatever chapters were still solvent to bolster its central epidemic emergency account, on behalf of chapters whose resources had been wiped out. From May through August of last year, chapters were drawing $1,000,000 a month from the epidemic aid fund."

Research Project

Patient care, Blackhurst emphasized, is but one phase of the fight against polio. The March of Dimes' most important job is to support scientific research aimed at finding a preventive or cure for polio, and to underwrite programs of professional education designed to provide for more skilled hands.

"I am sure the citizens of Brazos County will give, and give again, on behalf of those children and adults who look to the March of Dimes for help when polio strikes."

Boy Scouts Give Homeless Negro Family Clothes, Aid

On Dec. 30, all seemed hopeless to the family of Johnnie Young, an employee of the A&M hospital, when fire completely destroyed their home in College Hills.

All of their possessions were lost, save the clothes they were wearing, but thanks to the campaign sponsored by the Boy Scouts of Troop 102, the family is on the road to recovery.

Scouts, sponsored by the College Station Kiwanis, covered the city and secured a large supply of clothes for the Young family, which includes five children ages 18 months to eight years.

The family still needs clothes and furniture badly however and the Boy Scouts have asked the citizens to aid this family by donating clothes and discarded furniture. College Station residents in a position to help this "good deed" project are to contact Scoutmaster C. W. Manning at 4-4704 or 4-1290. The Scouts will pick-up and deliver all contributions donated.
