

Cost of Polio Patient Care Soars High With New Cases

The cumulative cost of caring for polio patients soars tremendously each year as new cases are added to old, H. T. Blackhurst, 1951 March of Dimes campaign director for Brazos County, said today.

Consequently, he added, increasingly larger amounts of money are needed to cope with the over-all load of new and carry-over cases. As high polio incidence continues—as it has for the past three years—the problem becomes increasingly complex, Blackhurst declared.

There is only one answer to this new polio challenge, Blackhurst said. "That is to make the coming March of Dimes, Jan. 15 to 31, the greatest on record."

Funds Depleted

The chairman explained that during 1948, 1949, and 1950—when more than 100,000 children and adults were stricken—the treasuries of hundreds of chapters across the country were depleted and many others were reduced to the danger point. At the same time the epidemic aid fund of the National Foundation reached bottom for two years running, he said.

"We are now faced with a staggering polio patient load," Blackhurst informed. "No matter what the 1951 polio season may bring in the way of epidemics, we know that we will be responsible for thousands of patients from 1950 and earlier years.

"Costs of caring for new cases are high—we all know that, but old cases usually are even more expensive because they are the seriously affected long-term cases. It is a heavy burden."

Costliest Cases

The campaign director said that in addition to the various types of prolonged and costly treatment required, thousands of patients need new appliances, braces, new wheelchairs and other equipment essential to everyday life.

"Many hundreds each year," he said, "are added to the list of patients who are unable to work."

C of C Obtains Health Charts For Students

"The Wetzel Grid," a new aid being used in schools to check children's growth and health, has been enthusiastically received by the teachers of Consolidated Elementary School," said Mrs. H. S. Cresswell, principal.

The grids are being furnished to the school by the College Station Chamber of Commerce for use with the elementary school's health program.

The grids are charts on which height and weight of the students are recorded once a month, and every normal person up to the age of 20 follows one of seven lines plotted on the chart. If there is some abnormality, even a cold, Mrs. Cresswell said, there will be some indication on the chart.

Mrs. W. M. Dowell, chairman of the health committee of the Dads and Mothers Club, explained some of the technicalities of the grid at a recent meeting with the school faculty.

Plans were discussed for supplementary rest and food for children not up to par, and for parent-teacher conferences, Mrs. Cresswell said.

Each child will be weighed and measured at the beginning of each month, she added.

said, "must live encased in respirators, with nurses constantly in attendance; these are the most costly cases of all. Their care may range from $7,000 to $10,000 a year, and sometimes much more."

In its 13 years of existence, the director revealed, the National Foundation has spent some $94,000,000 in patient care, almost two-thirds of it in the last three years. An increasing part of each year's expenditure has been for patients from previous years' epidemic, he said, for with continued high polio incidence in successive years the number of long-term cases increases.

"Even this is not the full bill since many thousands will look to us for help in 1951, if they are to continue their lives under conditions as normal as science and money can make them," Blackhurst continued. "We cannot let them down; we must open our hearts as never before in the 1951 March of Dimes."

A Lesson in Building

This youngster is learning the rudiments of one of the oldest and most useful of the human arts—the art of building. It was a great day in the life of primitive man when he learned to put sticks and stones together and build things.

From the crude structures of humanity's infancy, the art of building has progressed to its present amazing proportions. Today we have beautiful residences, imposing churches, sprawling factories, tall skyscrapers and far-flung bridges.

Life itself is a building process which begins in infancy and runs throughout our days. All the knowledge we acquire, all our experiences, habits, thoughts, ideals, and emotions are laid block on block to form the pattern of our character.

And the strength of the life we build is measured in terms of faith—faith in God and in good. With this faith man can bind together the elements of his life in an enduring structure. The Church and the Bible are the best guides in the building of a life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
