Eliminating UMT Waste...

as wearing Wilkie buttons.

Universal military service in one form or another is one of the consequences that the United States must face as a result of its rise to the status as defender of democracy for the world.

for this military training which will benefit both our country and the individuals inducted for the training.

Some of the fiercest opponents of univer-

Business pays for brains but does not always get them.

What Do They Think We Are?

THE PRIME ministers of the Britsh Com-I monwealth nations, meeting in London, have instructed their United Nations delegates to work for a four-power conference of the United States, Britain, Russia and Red China to consider a settlement of the Far Formosa's future, Red China's admission to the UN, and a cease-fire order in Korea would be the major subjects to be taken up.

Our friends among the Commonwealth nations may think the United States is stupid enough to swallow a thing like this. But it yould have been considerate of them not to have put such an appraisal of our mentality on public record.

Britain agrees with Russia that Formosa should be given to the Reds and that they should be assigned China's seat in the United Nations. So, with three votes to do what they want, they are asking us to sit down at the table with them and be outvoted.

Evidently the British have found Secretary of State Acheson such a soft touch that they consider us only a silent partner anyway, to be seen but not heard henceforth on all broad questions of international

They know that the United States recognizes the Nationalists as the only legal government of China. They know that our agreeing to a Big Four conference with Red amount to transferring our recognition to an 18-year-old draft. the Peiping Reds. They must think that we would be too dumb to understand this or too craven to resent it.

ng Korean soil, our reply to such a proposal being turned down. can best be expressed in the outraged words of Winston Churchill, addressing the U.S. Senate immediately following the Japanese

"What kind of people do they think we —The Houston Press.

RGUING whether we should have uni- sal military service are those people who A versal military service today is as passe have been intimately acquainted with the army and have observed at first hand the training it has offered in the past. Training of young recruits has often consisted of far too much making up beds, sweeping floors, and picking up cigarette butts.

Ever since Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, as-What we must do now is devise a plan sistant to the secretary of defense, testified before the Senate preparedness committee that the draft age was going to have to be lowered to eighteen, irate parents have been bombarding her with letters and telegrams protesting such action.

If these parents were assured that their sons were going to receive valuable training for the future during the early years of opposed to the draft.

things most needed by our country today a well trained army and an increased number of college graduates.

Every day our draft boards are calling more young men into the military service. Immediately the planners for universal military service must adopt some plan such as Dr. Kemmerer's so that these young men will not be wasting the most influential years

Life would be simpler if the people on the earth were more sincere.

Take Willing First

SENATOR Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) took look upon an evacuation as inevitable.

a critical stand Friday against Defense

It is surprising to one just return year-olds when numerous recruiting offices for the Air Force and other services have

China as one of the participants would questioning Defense Department hints for

At a time when American blood is stain- are clamoring at the doors asking to go and sneak attack on the British fleet and Pearl are needed and likely be a little more willing

The Battalion

Lawrence Sullivan Ross, Founder of Aggie Traditions "Soldier, Statesman, Knightly Gentleman"

The Battalion, official newspaper of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, is published five times a week during the regular school year. During the summer terms, The Battalion is published four times a week, and during examination and vacation periods, twice a week. Days of publication are Monday through Friday for the regular school year, Tuesday through Friday during the summer terms, and Tuesday and Thursday during vacation and examination periods. Subscription rates $6.00 per year or $.50 per month. Advertising rates furnished on request.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in the paper and local news of spontaneous origin published herein. Rights of republication of all other matter herein are also reserved.

News contributions may be made by telephone (4-5444) or at the editorial office, Room 201, Goodwin Hall. Classified ads may be placed by telephone (4-5324) or at the Student Activities Office, Room 209, Goodwin Hall.

Entered as second-class matter at Post Office at College Station, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1870.

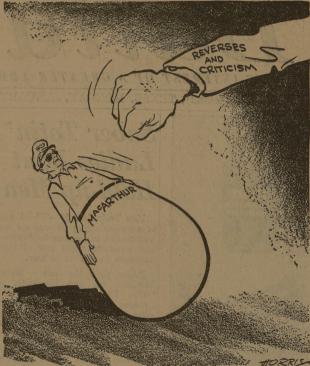

Member of The Associated Press

DAVE COSLETT, CLAYTON L. SELPH.. Frank N. Manitzas. Bob Hughson.
Joel Austin...

Today's Issue

Bob Hughson......Frank N. Manitzas Campus News Editor
...... Sports News Editor
...... City News Editor Allen Pengelly

military service, they would not be quite so Korean War Lost Dr. W. W Kemmerer, acting president of the University of Houston, proposed a Says War Writer; Next Step Debated

(Editor's Note: Don Whitehead, world famous Associated Press war correspondent, has just returned from the frozen, wavering front lines of Korea. A hard-hitting but equally sensitive reporter, Whitehead writes his own personal opinion and impressions of the fight of the U.N. forces to stay in Korea. He is not optimistic, as the article reveals.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

New York, Jan. 15—(AP)—American troops and their United Nations Allies are heading toward a mass evacuation from the Korean cockpit of war.

Overwhelming numbers of Chinese and North Korean Red troops are driving them into the southeast corner of the peninsula. And the bleak, bloody story of Korea is approach-

These are the hard facts of a situation now clouded in lents who have followed the army for the past five months It is surprising to one just returned from Korea to find Department requests for power to draft 18 a great debate in Washington over whether we should or should not stay in Korea. The defense department says no policy has been changed and that the army intends to stay. This debate is academic. The only question is whether

Lynch Addresses Collegiate 4-H Club

Campus News Editor ghbors,
BlanJimmy
Jilis. Sports News Staff

The possibility of the Collegiate
4-H Club helping its members obtain jobs was discussed by Floyd
Lynch of the Extension Service at Lynch also gave the members ome ideas about raising funds for he club during the 4-H Club the club during the 4-H Club Round-Up held on the campus durInterpreting the News . . .

Ourselves, Not Russians Is Real Problem of West

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

A speech by an American business man in Paris the other day might be required reading for all our domestic cassandras.

Philip D. Reed, president of the International Chamber of Commerce, put his finger on a weak spot. He said the real problem of the West is "not with Russia, but with ourselves—our fears, our confusion and our lack of faith." He went on to say:

"It is ludicrous, it is pathetic and it is getting dangerously close to being tragic that we, the free nations of the world, should be frightened, confused and running around in circles, although we have all that it takes both to frighten and confuse those evilly ridiculous characters in the Kremlin.

Many will say amen to that. It is one thing to know our weaknesses and face them honestly. It is quite another to permit ourselves to beat our breasts, crying woe and

They May Be Frightened

They May Be Frightened

Reed is on firm ground when he says we have plenty to frighten and confuse the Kremlin. We have, and they have given a number of indications that they are frightened.

Stalin and his obedient parrots insist system contains in itself the seeds of its own.

ened.

The average Soviet "Grazhdanin"—citizen, man-of-the-street — the fellow at the bottom of the ladder in the curious Communist caste system, has heard the Communist drum-beaters day after day shouting about the American "atomshiks." He is told the Soviet Union is mastering the atom bomb, too, but it makes him no happier to be told that if he is vaporized, perhaps the same will happen to Americans. He has gone through the privations and sufferings of a disastrous war only a few years back, and he knows the next will be even more horrible.

They Are Confused

The Grazhdanin is confused. He remembers that a few years ago the atomshiks were the Russians' respected allies. But today Pravda tells him it was all a dream and that the Americans were no help at all in beating the Axis to its knees. He must walk in fear, not only of what may come from the outside, but of his own government and its all-powerful, all-knowing secret police. A word out of turn, an ill-advised joke could bring the dreaded tap on the shoulder that is a summons to Siber-

The press which keeps him constantly misinformed and confused did not dare tel him of President Truman's remark that if the necessity arose for the defense of America, the atom bomb would be used.

Just Too Official

If it were a lesser American, Pravda would have told the Grazhdanin all about it, screaming "war criminal." But from the President of the United States, such a statement looked ominously official, a strong dose ' destruction, that all they must do is wait and prod and aggravate, and we will topple

Tired of Prodding

Well, we're tired of the prodding. We're fed to the ears with short-of-war grabs. By mobilizing, we are warning: "Go ahead and march if you dare, but look out." It's a good bet they won't. And each day that goes by their chances for success will be

As for a state having the seeds of its own destruction, this in an historic ailment of the totalitarians. A police state feeds on itself. It is a monster with an insatiable appetite. It usually dies of indigestion.

Many military men in Korea and most war correspon- Builder Still Optomistic . . .

'A' Bomb Shelter Business The continue of the series of Off to Rather Slow Start

