

Operation High School Pushed By Aggie Exes

If such organizations as the Beaumont A&M Club keep pushing so vigorously, the campus will be crowded with outstanding students from all over the state on High School Day, according to C. G. "Spike" White, assistant dean of men for activities.

The hometown club boasting a membership of approximately 108 students has already made arrangements for six presidents of high school student bodies and three presidents of high school senior classes to attend the day's activities.

The project, High School Day, as a combined effort of hometown organizations, various former student clubs, the Office of Student Activities, and the College, in general, is a program encouraging outstanding high school seniors to visit the campus and see what A&M has to offer.

White acquainted hometown club presidents of the event and the part they could play in its success a few weeks ago. Members of a steering committee, chosen that night, are Howard Karen, O. C. "Putter" Jarvis, Olin Brashers, John F. Ireland, and A. W. Siter.

The Beaumont A&M club has already turned in the nine names of the outstanding students from their hometown and from two nearby small towns who will be present March 3, according to Glenn Beadle, president.

Charles Babcock, Class of '20 and an insurance man in Beaumont, is handling transportation for the boys to the campus and back.

Club Reservations

Campus organizations are reminded that Feb. 6 is the last day to make club reservations for the Aggieband '51 according to Bibb Underwood, club editor. Reservations for pictures should be placed in Student Activities office, Goodwin Hall.

Officials of Texas colleges and universities meet on the campus to plan the National Registrars and Admissions Schools Convention to be held in Houston, April 15-19. It will be the first time the national association will have met in Texas. They met in the office of H. L. Heaton, registrar at A&M and convention chairman. They are, left to right, Dorothy Young, secretary to Heaton; Terrel Spencer, vice-president, University of Houston and former registrar; R. A. Vitulli, registrar, University of Houston; J. C. Sowers, registrar, Sam Houston State Teachers College, Huntsville; standing, Ray Perryman, associate and J. Y. Alexander, assistant, registrars' A&M.

Club Publicity Co-Ordination Planned by Student Activities

A club publicity co-ordination program is being set up by The Battalion, the co-editors announced this morning. The move will be taken under full cooperation with C. G. "Spike" White, assistant dean of men for activities, under whose office all clubs are now handled.

The program is aimed at improving publicity arrangements for meetings and special events sponsored by various clubs on the campus. To help in setting up the program, White says, all clubs on the campus are being asked to turn in the name and address of the president of the particular club to the receptionist in the Student Activities Office on the second floor of Goodwin Hall. Deadline for turning in names is Saturday at noon. Not in "What's Cooking" Clubs failing to comply with this request will no longer be able to have meetings and events publicized in The Battalion.

All emergency meetings will still be handled through the Dean of Men's office. Requests for announcement of such meetings over mess hall P. A. systems will be requested from the Dean of Men's office. Fair Coverage The club publicity co-ordination program will be aimed at facilitating fair and adequate publicity to clubs and their sponsors. Additional aims are to prevent mistakes in future notification of meetings, to facilitate the establishment of a record of all organizations thereby insuring prompt issuance of financial statements to clubs and to co-ordinate the activities of all organizations for smoother, more efficient operation with a minimum of time and effort for the officers of the clubs. The program will be handled by a club publicity coordinator who will be named later.

No Parade - Still Stock Show Opens

Houston, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Minus an opening parade, the Houston Fat Stock Show started yesterday with new champions named in three departments.

The parade was cancelled because of the big fire that blocked the proposed parade route on several downtown streets. The rodeo, with William (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd as the star, and judging got under way on schedule. The first champion was a Hereford of the boys' steer show. The winner belongs to Louis Reyes, San Antonio.

Livestock Judge John Burns picked a steer owned by Johnny Wigley, a 4-H boy from Goldthwaite, a Shorthorn champion of the boys' steer classes.

Champions of the four breeds of boys' steer class and similar winners in the open class, are to be judged tomorrow. Klownel Beggan, a future farmer of Elgin, showed up with the reserve champion boys' Hereford today. It was J. L. Stewardson, San Saba, a vice president of the State FFA, who exhibited the reserve steer in the boys' Shorthorn competition.

A&M Grad Studies At Mather AFB

Captain George H. Cunningham of Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. Cunningham of 738 West 3rd Avenue, Corsicana, Texas, has begun a course of training at the United States Air Force Bombardment School at Mather Air Force Base California.

This school, the only one of its type in the entire world, will train Cunningham in the skills of navigator, bombardier, and radar observer, utilizing modern electronic equipment. Entering the service in September 1941, three years after his graduation from A&M, Cunningham was commissioned the following year. During the war, he served in the European theater, and flew missions in both Africa and Italy as a bombardier. Since the war he has served at Lake Charles AFB, Louisiana and Walker AFB, New Mexico, prior to his assignment to Mather.

US Asks Quick Verdict On Red China Charge

Lake Success, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The United States strove last night for a quick verdict by the United Nations General Assembly on an American-backed resolution calling Red China the aggressor in Korea.

Once that approval is obtained, diplomats said, the United States would press for a two-point course of action. One would be immediate efforts by a high-calibre three-man good offices committee to seek a settlement. The second would be intensive consultations among members of a 14-nation collective measures committee on what to do about meeting the Chinese aggression. Informed circles said the American position on sanctions, if any, would depend finally on these consultations.

The assembly was called by President Nasrollah Entezam, Iran, to meet at 9:45 a. m. CST tomorrow.

Sir Genegal N. Rau, Indian delegate who lost a stubborn campaign to put off the American proposal and make instead another cease-fire appeal to Red China, was asked what India's position would be after the American resolution is passed.

"We shall continue to do our best for peace," Rau replied.

The Asian-Arab group was reported undecided whether to renew in the assembly the fight it made in the political committee against the American resolution and for another approach to Peiping.

The U. S. delegation hoped to pick up added votes in the general assembly for the resolution of the political committee, originally introduced by U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin.

those of the five members of the Soviet bloc plus India and Burma. Now that assembly approval is certain, the United States was reported shaping up plans for the two committees created under the resolution, the good offices group and the collective measures committee.

Because there has been a change this year in the Air Force ROTC summer camps, there naturally has been some doubt in the minds of some Army cadets whether or not there will be a camp for them this summer. The following information has just been received from Headquarters Fourth Army:

"Attendance at ROTC summer training camps for advanced course ROTC students scheduled to attend camps will take priority over any other army camp attendance." The above proves that as of now the Army does contemplate a summer ROTC camp.
