

Alexander Is Speaker for BSU Seminar

David K. Alexander, director of the Baptist Student Union, will lead tonight's discussion, "How to Pray." The seminar will begin at 7:15 p. m. at the Baptist Student Center.

Such a seminar is sponsored each Monday night by the BSU of A&M for the enjoyment and spiritual up-building of the Aggies.

Aggie Vespers is held each weekday night except Wednesday at this time.

Eddie Apel is the devotional vice-president of the Baptist Student Union.

Library Benefit Is Poster Topic For Students

Posters advertising the library benefit project to be held on the evening of March 10 at A&M, Consolidated school under sponsorship of the Campus Study club are being constructed this week by elementary pupils of both Consolidated and Lincoln school.

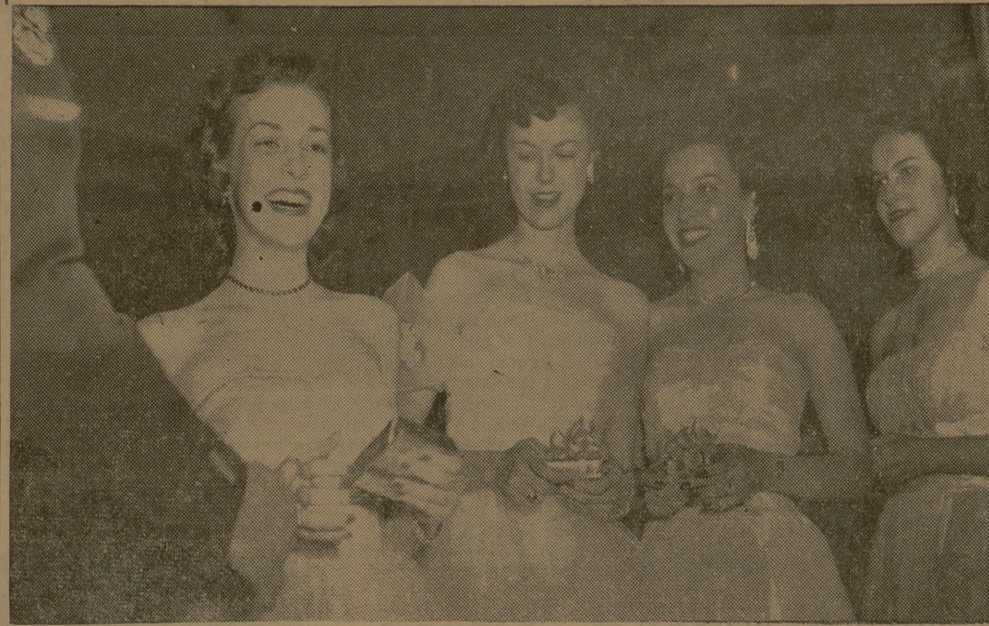

First and second cash prizes will be awarded to pupils of both schools whose posters are judged the most attractive by Mrs. E. R. Alexander and Mrs. J. S. Mogford. All posters receiving honorable mention will be exhibited throughout the College Station community.

Posters are being designed at Consolidated school under the direction of art instructor Margaret Henderson while Lincoln pupils are working under the supervision of Mrs. C. R. Mosley. The posters will be displayed to members of the club when they meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday, February 20, at the MSC.

The benefit project, which will include a square dance, card party, and book review, will be held in observance of National Public School week and all proceeds will be divided among the Consolidated High and elementary school libraries and the Lincoln library.

Since 1910, more than 17,750,000 American boys and men were active in the Boy Scouts of America.

that committee will make all necessary arrangements.

To some students the arrangement sounds rather silly. Why should anyone want to join something just to give parties and things for someone else? The best answer could probably come from a member of the House Committee.

He would tell you that he was getting invaluable experience in social correctness and manners in general. He would probably explain that he intends to someday make use of that in whatever job he happens to wind up at.

And he would continue by explaining that the use would not be just as a knowledge of how to arrange social functions, but as a guide toward proper conduct at such functions.

This member of the House Committee would be one of the students who was reaping real benefits from the MSC. He will have found the deeper and lasting things the building offers.

There are other examples of these intangible offerings. They are open to all those who care to avail themselves.

Perhaps, though, you the justified in not knowing what the building offers these other benefits. There have not been many efforts made to point them out.

And you are partially justified. I say "partially," since the laxity and a little questioning would have provided the unknown facts.

Interest, however, requires activeness. The majority of students—and citizens—are a notoriously passive lot. They won't generate interest themselves.

To combat this wide human failing, the MSC is going to launch out on a publicity program that will answer a lot of questions that students have been too lazy to ask.

Every opportunity is going to be made to acquaint you with the true intent and purpose of "A&M's Living Room." If you have any appreciation at all, you will learn what the MSC offers and then proceed to earn what you get.

Your living room at home is one of pleasant associations and happenings because your family and friends have shared it with you. It was probably the first "classroom" in your life.

A&M's Living Room can offer you as much if you will join into the family spirit of mutual cooperation it needs so much.

Three Appointed Notaries Public

Miss Lucy Boothe, 300 Munson Dr., and Mrs. Marguerite and H. W. Newton, 1304 E. 30th St., Bryan, were recently appointed notary publics in Brazos County, announced the office of the Secretary of State.

Miss Boothe is connected with the Oceanography Department.

The notaries were qualified by County Clerk A. B. Syptak, 508 Pease, Bryan.

Both the appointing and qualifying of all notaries in the State must be approved by the Secretary of State according to statute.

Spencer Heads Local RC Drive

This year's Red Cross drive, scheduled for March 1 through 31, will be a door-to-door canvass. This year's quota of $800, is the same as it was last year, according to Mrs. Spencer J. Buchanan, chairman of residential collections.

Mrs. Fred Smith was named chairman of collections for the business district. The chairman of collections on the A&M Campus has not yet been named.

At a meeting of the division chairmen for Brazos County on Friday, supplies were distributed and plans for the drive were discussed.

An overall county quota was set at $12,631, of which Bryan is asked to raise $4,500, and College Station $800, Mrs. Buchanan said.

The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light. —Romans 13:12.

German Films Set For Tuesday Meet

Two early films depicting German influence on movie development will be featured at the Tuesday night meeting of the A&M Film Society in the YMCA Chapel at 7:30 p. m. Herman Gollob, president of the group said this morning.

Movies to be shown at this meeting are "The Sunrise" and "Hands".

The meeting date has been changed this time to Tuesday because of a conflicting program on Monday night, Gollob added.

"The Sunrise" is an early movie scandal, in which the city girl is shown luring her farmer husband back to the city, Gollob continued.

Other features of the Society to be presented later this semester are "Moroca," "The Good Earth," and "The Thin Man."

Music Minded

Minus Banjo

The Aggie Ramblers, a group of local "music" minded students are looking for a new member for their aggregation. A banjo player—with his own banjo—is needed desperately by the group.

Talented and interested persons have been asked to see Rufus R. Peoples, Jr. in 11-424.
