What to Serve for Dinner?

One-Dish-Dinner Answers Quest of Good, Cheap Food

By VIVIAN CASTLEBERRY
Battalion Women's Editor

Food is always an interesting subject. To many housewives, it is a puzzling one as well. The old refrain "What can I fix for dinner?" happens with variations all over the country, at some time or other. The best and happiest choice, of course, is for the housewife to sit down weekly, semi-weekly or monthly and jot down her menus before she does her grocery shopping. But most of us falter on this. We start out with good intentions and for a couple of weeks the interest burns high. Then we lose the spark and end up with the same old headache: a meal to prepare and a cupboard bare.

Red Cross Volunteers Plan Luncheon in MSC

Volunteer Red Cross workers from 12 counties will assemble for a combined luncheon and meeting in the Assembly Room of the Memorial Student Center Thursday at noon.

Col. H. L. Boatner, PMS&T and Commandant, will be the principal speaker. His subject will be "Service."

Reports from county chairmen within the area will be heard, and plans for services for the Bryan Air Force Base, now being reactivated, will be discussed, according to Mrs. Armstrong Price, chairman of the Brazos County volunteer services.

At present, Mrs. Price said, the area is providing special services in the form of entertainment, Nurse's Aid and Gray Ladies for McCloskey Hospital in Temple and Fort Hood Hospital.

Gifts Sent Monthly
The Brazos County Chapter

sends 25 bingo prizes and nine birthday gifts to McCloskey Hospital every month, the county chairman said. Feb. 25 a delegation from the Bryan Woman's Club and the Bryan Rotary Club will furnish refreshments and entertainment for 200 patients and visitors at McCloskey Hospital.

The purpose of the Nurse's Aid is to relieve the shortage of nurses in hospitals. The Gray Ladies, although not trained nurses, aid in caring for people in hospitals.

This is the first time the area council has met in College Station, and approximately 65 people are expected to attend, Mrs. Price said. The meetings are held monthly.

Public Invited

The public is invited to attend, the county chairman said. Reservations may be secured at the MSC for $1.50 up until noon Wednesday, she added.

Local guests invited to the meeting include Chancellor and Mrs. Gibb Gilchrist, Mayor Ernest Langford of College Station, and Mayor Roland Dansby of Bryan.

three-fifths historical background of the college, another fifth on the college at the present time and the remaining part on the future of the college.

Perry expects to finish his manuscript in June. It will go to the publisher soon thereafter.

In speaking of the book, a Former Student's Association pamphlet says, "It will be a unique book; not a conventional history, not a novel; but rather an earnest effort to breathe life into a 'Story' of an educational institution."

"Author Perry insisted upon, and has been given by the Committee, full editorial independence. The 'Story of Texas A&M' will be HIS story, written in complete freedom by an author whose work has brought to him wide recognition and appreciation."

Complimentary, personalized copies of the book will be sent to each contributor to the 1951 Development Fund.

Under the other change Grayson County gets one representative and then shares one with Cooke County. In the original bill Grayson and Cook Counties shared two representatives at large.

Representatives from El Paso argued the longest that El Paso County with 198,000, was entitled to five representatives. Under the measure El Paso has four representatives. The El Pasoans said Bowie County (Texarkana), with 61,000, had two representatives. They wanted one of those.

"This is a rotten bill; it stinks," said Puckett. "It was a complete swagout in northeast Texas. These people weren't thinking about the State of Texas."

Rep. Vernon McDaniel of Wichita Falls offered a complete substitute. The House defeated it 84-31.

Style Show Planned by Social Club

The A&M Women's Social Club will have a style show-luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Friday in the Ballroom of the MSC. Mrs. C. W. Crawford is in charge of the show and models will be members of the Social Club.

Lester's Smart Shop in Bryan is sponsoring the show, which will follow the theme, "The Inside Story of Fashion." Spring and summer clothes and accessories for all occasions will be shown.

Tickets for the event must be purchased in the MSC lobby before noon Wednesday, Mrs. Crawford said.

Billy Carr Parish Entertains Lion's

Billy Carr Parish, sixth grade student from Bryan, entertained members of the College Station Lion's Club yesterday with three accordion selections.

The accordion student of only six months played "Anchors Away," "Tennessee Waltz," and "Golden Dreams."

President E. B. Halpin announced the Board of Directors had made plans for a Ladies Night to be scheduled sometime in April. He also said the governor of the immediate Lion's district is to be here for the April 9 meeting.

The club members discussed possibilities of holding Ladies Night the same day the District Governor will be in College Station. No definite decision was made.

Songs ---

by Wilson in 1930.

Spike White was presented a picture of the Aggie Band for his cooperation in making the "Songs of A&M" album possible. Student Activities financed the production of the album.

A complimentary copy of the album was also presented to Richard Webb, manager of WTAW.

The program was concluded by several numbers rendered by the Aggieband Orchestra and the Singing Cadets, under the direction of Bill Turner. This session included "Beaumont Breakdown," an original composition by Turner; "Dry Bones," and the "Twelfth Man" and was concluded with "The Spirit of Aggieland."

Albums were sold, and composers autographed copies after the program ended. Student Activities, the Aggieband Orchestra and the Aggie Band receive a share of the profits from each album sold.

Insurance Group Holds Breakfast

Members of the Central Texas Agency of American General Life Insurance Company were honored at a breakfast Monday morning in the Memorial Student Center.

Host for the breakfast was Sid Loveless, College Station agency head. W. L. Penberthy, dean of men at A&M, was principal speaker.

Dean Penberthy told the group of student life on the A&M campus, how activities were coordinated by his office, and how A&M student life was "keeping up with the times."

Attending the breakfast were H. E. Burgess, John Longley, Loveless, Harry Hooker, K. A. Manning, Charles Hart, Lucian Morgan, Sam White of Cameron, and Alma Kasper.

'Frustrated' Musicians Top Show Talent

The Bryan-College Station Variety Show scheduled for Thursday and Friday evenings at the Stephen F. Austin High School Auditorium in Bryan will present two groups of "frustrated" musicians who are better known in other fields.

These are the members of Ed Harrington's Hillbilly Orchestra and Bud Barlow's Dixieland Band.

"Each individual draws out the other just enough to make the result pleasing to the ear," a spectator remarked at a recent rehearsal.

With Ed Harrington are Francis Bishop, Ralph Lee, Steve Stephenson, Newt Hielscher and Virgil Fair.

Dean Barlow's Dixielanders include Doc Kirk, Woody Gandy, Sid Carr, Bob Fletcher, Newt Hielscher and Ralph Lee.

The whole program is so loaded with talent that the most A&M's president, M. T. Harrington, could do was to make head usher, pointed out Dr. W. H. Ritchey, boss of the show.

Tickets for the Rotary Club's 1951 Variety Show are on sale at five business houses in Bryan and at the MSC in College Station.

Handling ticket sales in Bryan are Waldrops, WSD, Jones Pharmacy, First State Bank and Trust Company, and Coronet Furniture Company.
