CofC Drive Sets Goal Of 500 Members

The Chamber of Commerce membership drive for 1951 is underway with its commercial memberships and will start the individual phase of the drive March 1, Ray Oden, drive co-chairman announced Saturday.
Last year there were approximately 255 subscriptions, both commercial and individual, and this year a goal of 500 members has been set. The individual drive includes husband-and-wife memberships.

Individual membership solicitations will be conducted by J. E. "Jocko" Robinson, who will probably work with sub-committees which will operate in different buildings, Oden said.
Marion Pugh and Oden are co-chairmen of the drive. In charge of the sub-committees for commercial memberships are H. E. Burgess, North Gate; Earl Cunningham, East Gate; and Marion Pugh, South Gate.

"Because all sub-committee workers have not made their reports no tabulations are available," Oden said. "We expect to have them by our next meeting." This meeting is scheduled for Monday, March 5 at 1:15 p. m. in the City Offices, he said.

Comparing the number of memberships received to date, Oden reported an approximate increase of 70 per cent over 1950 subscriptions.

Owls Close In, But Ags Hold

fying. Striking with accuracy which they had never displayed this season, the Aggies started shooting like Annie Oakley.

Through the first ten minutes, especially, A&M could not seem to miss, and the fans were left gasping.
There was a tie-up on the initial tipoff, but on the second try the Owls got the ball. Two minutes later Rice's great center Joe McDermott broke the ice with a tip-in to draw first blood.

Held 10-Point Lead
Guard Maurice Grawunder tallied a free toss, but Leroy Miksch and Walker answered with field goals. With 1:50 remaining, A&M lead again by 10 points, 22-12.

Two points by McDermott, one by Davis and one more by McDermott seemed to be all the scoring in the first period, but with only 30 seconds to go, Walker flashed by his defender for a score, as the half ended at 26-15.

The 11-point margin looked mighty big, but so did the four fouls on Martin and the three on Davis, Walker and DeWitt.

Frightening Second Half
The Aggies had had things their own way in the first half, but the second period all but turned white the hair of A&M partisans.

A charity by McDowell was the first tally opening the last lap, and after Gerhardt and Martin exchanged field goals, plus a liberty for the former, McDowell kept the 12-point margin in tact with a floor shot.

The marginal 12 was cut to only nine in less than a minute as McDermott made a field goal and Dickens added two from the line. McDowell and McDermott traded floor shots while Walker, Gerhardt, Dickens and OeWitt all made free throws to bring the score to 36-27.

Owls Get Hot
The Owls started piling on them as Dickens and Gerhardt haggled interrupted only by liberties from Davis and Walker.

Fouling finally caught up to the Aggies as, at 10:23, Davis fouled out. Rice outscored A&M six to four in the next three minutes as McDowell meshed all for the visitors.

A second catastrophe hit the Ags when Martin committed his fifth foul with seven and a half minutes to go. Rice trailed by only four as Gerhardt turned Martin's error into a point.

The last seven minutes of the game brought a torrid Rice pace, superb Aggie defensive play and comparatively little scoring.

McDowell, Gerhardt and McDermott all hit from the floor and McDowell grabbed a free throw for the remaining scoring, but the story laid in the Aggie defensive play.

And the Freeze Come
Bobby Farmer, DeWitt, Miksch, McDowell and Walker kept the ball going with such timing and teamwork that the Owls were completely helpless. McDowell controlled the ball for two minutes unassisted and Rice was able to stop him only by using two men to scramble him into a corner.
Don Heft had to replace the unlucky DeWitt who fouled out with a minute remaining. The Aggies kept that ball until only two seconds remained, but it was long enough to beat the Owls 45-42 and gain at least a piece of long-absent basketball title.

Over $250 in prizes will be awarded winners of the Assembly Doom of the Memorial Student Center. Entry blanks are printed in today's paper and are available in the MSC lobby.

gained while judging the contest last year. Known for his executive ability, Dr. Abbott should prove capable of controlling the "one-sided" (failure) grading of the prof judges.

College Station Fire Chief Clod Warren wanted to help officiate but said he was allergic to smoke, and besides, the contest falls on his night to polish the engine.

Rules for the contest are few and simple. It is open to all connected with the college with a special division being established for professors and instructors only. Women, who have always claimed to be as capable as men, are eligible to enter but thus far none have ventured forth.

Entry blanks appear in today's Battalion or may be secured in the lobby of the MSC.

Men entering pipe collections must have their collections in the MSC Assembly room by 4 p. m. Wednesday. This is to allow time in which to arrange their displays so it won't interfere with the operation of the contest.

Tobacco and even corn-cob pipes, which the contestants may keep, will be provided by the Memorial Student Center, co-sponsor of the contest, in the pipe-smoking division.

Cigars, cigarettes and rolling tobacco will also be provided for contestants entered in the cigar-smoking, smoke-ring blowing and cigarette-rolling contest.
For the convenience of those who wish to practice, the MSC has stocked a complete line of pipes and other tobacco needs.

Chess Tourney Entrees Open

Entries for the chess tournament to be held March 5 through the 9th are now being taken by Mrs. Ann Hilliard in the front office of the Memorial Student Center.

This tournament is open to anyone who enjoys a good quiet game of chess with equal competition, said Joe Riddle, manager of the contest.

An entry fee of 25 cents has been set for each applicant, and the money acquired through the entry fees will be used to purchase a prize for the winner.

Riddle added that the deadline for entries for the contest is March 3, and he urged everyone to enter as soon as possible.

The first two rounds of the tournament will be held Monday night, March 5. The first round will be at 7:30, and the second round will follow at 8:30.

Round three will be Tuesday night at 7:30, with the quarter finals being held Wednesday night at the same time.

Semi-finals will be Thursday night and the finals on Friday night. All the games will be played in the game room of the MSC. Players are requested to bring their own chess sets, since there will not be enough sets to go around, said Riddle.

Everyone entering is guaranteed to play at least three games. Those winning all three games will be finalists, and some of those winning two of their games will enter the finals.
