

Red Cross Begins Fund Raising Drive

By ALLEN PENGELLY
Asst City Editor

The American Red Cross' annual fund raising campaign began yesterday in College Station with three organized groups backing the local drive.

Heading the first group is Mrs. Fred E. Smith, chairman of the business district committee. Mrs. Smith and her committee are contacting the College Station businessmen in an effort to reach the goal of $1800.

On the business district committee are Marion Pugh, L. E. McCall, Louis Maes, Henry A. Miller, Charles Smith, S. A. "Doc" Lipscomb, and Ran Boswell.

The residential district committee is headed by Mrs. Spencer J. Buchanan, whose goal is to collect $800 during the drive.

Mrs. Buchanan is assisted in her duties by Mrs. J. P. Abbott, Mrs. Art Adamson, Mrs. Orin Helvy, Mrs. Paul Andrews, Mrs. Garland Brown, Mrs. Robert Fletcher, and Mrs. Robert Wilson.

No Solicitations

Although no solicitations will be made on the campus, W. L. Penberthy, dean of men, is in charge of the Red Cross donations on the campus. Contributions by the students will be handled through the first sergeants or their representatives in the corps area and by the dorm masters in the non-corps area.

Said Dean Penberthy, "Placing a representative in each dorm is merely for the convenience of the student who wishes to contribute to the Red Cross. There will be no organized solicitation within the dorm, although representatives will have the equipment necessary to handle student donations."

Faculty members who want to contribute may send their donations to the Brazos County Chapter of the American Red Cross in Bryan.

Funds Through Drive

The Red Cross receives its operating funds only through the yearly drive during March. The Red Cross receives no subsidy from the U. S. Government although on request of the government, the Red Cross will help to distribute relief supplies purchased by the government.

Approximately one million college and university students across the nation are active members of the Red Cross. These students, working through the local civil defense director, recruit teacher-trainers for first-aid courses; recruit blood donors for the "Blood Mobile," a portable unit that visits communities collecting blood for the blood bank; and entertain in the Veteran's Hospitals across the nation.

A total of 399,935 certificates were awarded to policemen, firemen; federal, state, and city government employees; industries; civic clubs; sportsmen; members of the armed forces both here and abroad; businessmen and women; housewives; and students.

Need of First Aiders

The need for qualified first-aiders is important because each year, nearly 100,000 people die and 10 million are injured because of accidents. It is at the scene of accident that the first-aiders are of the most use because he will be able to care for the patient until the doctor arrives.

The 1951 fund goal is higher because of existing plans for the expansion of our services for the armed forces and also because of the new civil defense programs being inaugurated throughout the nation.

The local fund raising drive ends on March 31 with the Brazos County goal approximately $12,631. The College Station fund goal is $2600 plus the contributions donated by students of the college and faculty members.

Bible Verse
HAVE WE not all one father? Hath not one God created us? Why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers? —Malachi 2:10.

High School Plays in Review

A butterfly collector who grows orchids, and a maid who runs through the audience screaming "ghosts" were parts of the A&M Consolidated senior plays presented last night before a crowd of 250.

In "Junior Prom," the first of two one-act plays, Helen, played by Dorothy Spriggs, decides to "fight fire with fire," she conspires with her friend Joan, played by Mary Frances Bond to get Peg, Liz Miller, a date with Ted, Dick Weick, who is the girlish-intellectual type.

Determined to make the date a success, Peg with the help of her two friends, makes a list of the do's and don'ts for the night unaware Ted, equally minded has also made a list.

The time for the Prom arrives and Ted, when he calls, accidentally finds Peg's list of do's and don'ts. After a tense moment Ted decides to reveal his secret to Peg. Meanwhile the girls, Peg, Helen and Joan enters, as do Kenny (Jack Burchard) and Fred (Eddie Ray Guthrie), Helen and Joan's dates.

Just before the curtain falls, Ted and Peg, alone for a brief moment, tear up their lists of do's and don'ts, determined to make this night one to remember. Peg, the only one of the three girls to receive a corsage, wears an orchid which Ted has grown himself.

A stormy March night, ghosts and murder all find their places in the second play, "Ghost Farm."

The scene is the living room of Ghost Farm, situated on the outskirts of a swamp in a river valley near the Ozarks.

Belle Winthrop, played by Helene Boatner, a possessive woman who owns Ghost Farm, has picked tonight to visit her property in an attempt to dispel the current rumors that the place is haunted.

Surrounded by her staff, Belle Winthrop arrives at Ghost Farm via a path through the audience. The staff includes her nephew, Beaumont Winthrop; her maid, Lovetta Wattles, played by Dorothy Bates; her secretary Violet Ashe, played by Reba McDermott; and her lawyer Leslie McAndrews, played by Cedie Wells.

The Grubbs, acted by Roland Jones and Marie Cobb, are going to be forced to leave Ghost Farm, just as soon as Belle can catch them trying to scare people. The last character in the intrigue is Nance O'Malley, Grubbs' Irish hired girl, played by Ann Southern. To make a long story short, (See SENIOR PLAYS, Page 6)

Everyone enjoys a good story—children, young people, adults—there are no exceptions. The better the story is told, the more thrilling the action, the more appealing the characters, so much greater is the enjoyment. And if the story is true, then new lustre is added.

Parents are continually looking for stories to tell their children. And wise parents look for stories that also teach everlasting truths about life, and how it can best be lived.

The stories in the Bible are the cherished stories of generations. They are told by masters in the art of story telling. Their characters are interesting, their plots exciting. They are stories of real people, containing timeless truths.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
