

Cadets Down UofH Easily to Win 55-46

with Fromme. Although not a big gun in their scoring column, Reynolds picked up seven points in the last meeting of the two teams.

Miksch or Martin
Either Leroy Miksch or Marvin Martin will work against Reynolds, and either should be capable of doing the job.

At 6' 4" Miksch has turned in his best performances of the year in the last two Aggie games and may find a starting berth over the usual starter Martin. The latter is the No. 4 scorer for the Cadets with 65 points.

Sharing guard duties for the Frogs will be John Swain and John Etheridge, while Floyd will call on All-SWC guard Jewell McDowell and Woody Walker to work these positions for the Aggies.

Swain, at 6' 0", should be matched with McDowell, who at 5' 10", has netted 275 points in season play, while grossing 129 against his conference adversaries. Walker, who is the smallest member of the Cadet squad, will meet his match in Etheridge, who measures the same 5' 8" that Walker does.

Win Over Cougars

Fresh from a 55 to 46 triumph over the University of Houston Cougars Friday night, the Aggies will be ready and raring for their first obstacle in their march to the NCAA tournament.

Against the Cougars, the Cadets showed the cool confidence that they had displayed many times earlier in the season and laxed but four times during the game before catching their second breath midway of the first period.

Floyd's tri-champion Aggies showed very little of the slow, methodical ball-control at any time during Friday night's melee, but seemed to run and jump in sheer merriment—at no time showing that they were in doubt about who would be the victor when the final gun had sounded.

The lead changed 10 times in the first half and was tied twice to find the home team in front at the halftime 29-28.

In that rambles scramble first period, a meager throng of DeWare Field House fans saw the Cougar ace, Royce Ray, 6' 6" center, mesh the nets for 11 points to lead the scorers, while his teammate, Lloyd Hendrix counted for seven.

Davis Leads Way
In the Aggie camp, the scoring was about even, with Davis leading the way with seven, while Walker, McDowell, and DeWitt got six apiece.

The final period was a different story, as the scoring talents of Davis, McDowell, DeWitt, Miksch and Walker ran the Aggie point total up to 45 in the first 12 minutes. At the same time, the Cadets were displaying their best in defense to keep the Cougars without a field goal in this same 12 minutes, as they garnered five charities to total 33 points.

Widest Margin
With 4:05 showing on the clock for time remaining, the Aggies widened their margin to 14 points, 51-37—probably their largest margin this season.

Floyd emptied the benches to play everyone who was suited, while the Cougars made a desperate attempt at the game of catch-up as the time faded out. Cougar Al Benta counted for four points in the final minute, while Don Heft tossed in a charity as the gun sounded with the Aggies ahead, 55 to 46.

Davis and McDowell were high point makers for the hosts, with 14 points apiece, while Houston's Ray netted 15 for high scorer in the game.

Dahoney Leads A&M Linksmen To Blank UofH

In its first taste of links competition, A&M's golf team came through with flying colors to blank the University of Houston Cougar linksmen, 6 and 0, on the Aggie golf course Saturday.

Bob Dahoney, who recently qualified as the No. 1 man for the Cadet golfers led A&M's linksters to their first full win in two seasons. Dahoney dropped Cougar Tom Tyson with a 6 and 5 count.

Guerrero Wins
Tony Guerrero, playing the No. 2 slot for the home team, downed Sid Pink, U of H, with another 6 and 5; while Johnnie Barrett took a 5 and 4 singles victory over Cougar Brizzolara. In the other singles contest, A&M's Bill Baker scored a 4 and 3 win against Bill Skinner.

The doubles division went the same route with the Cadets showing 5 and 4 wins both times. Dahoney and Barrett topped Tyson and Brizzolara, while Guerrero and Baker humbled Skinner and Fink.

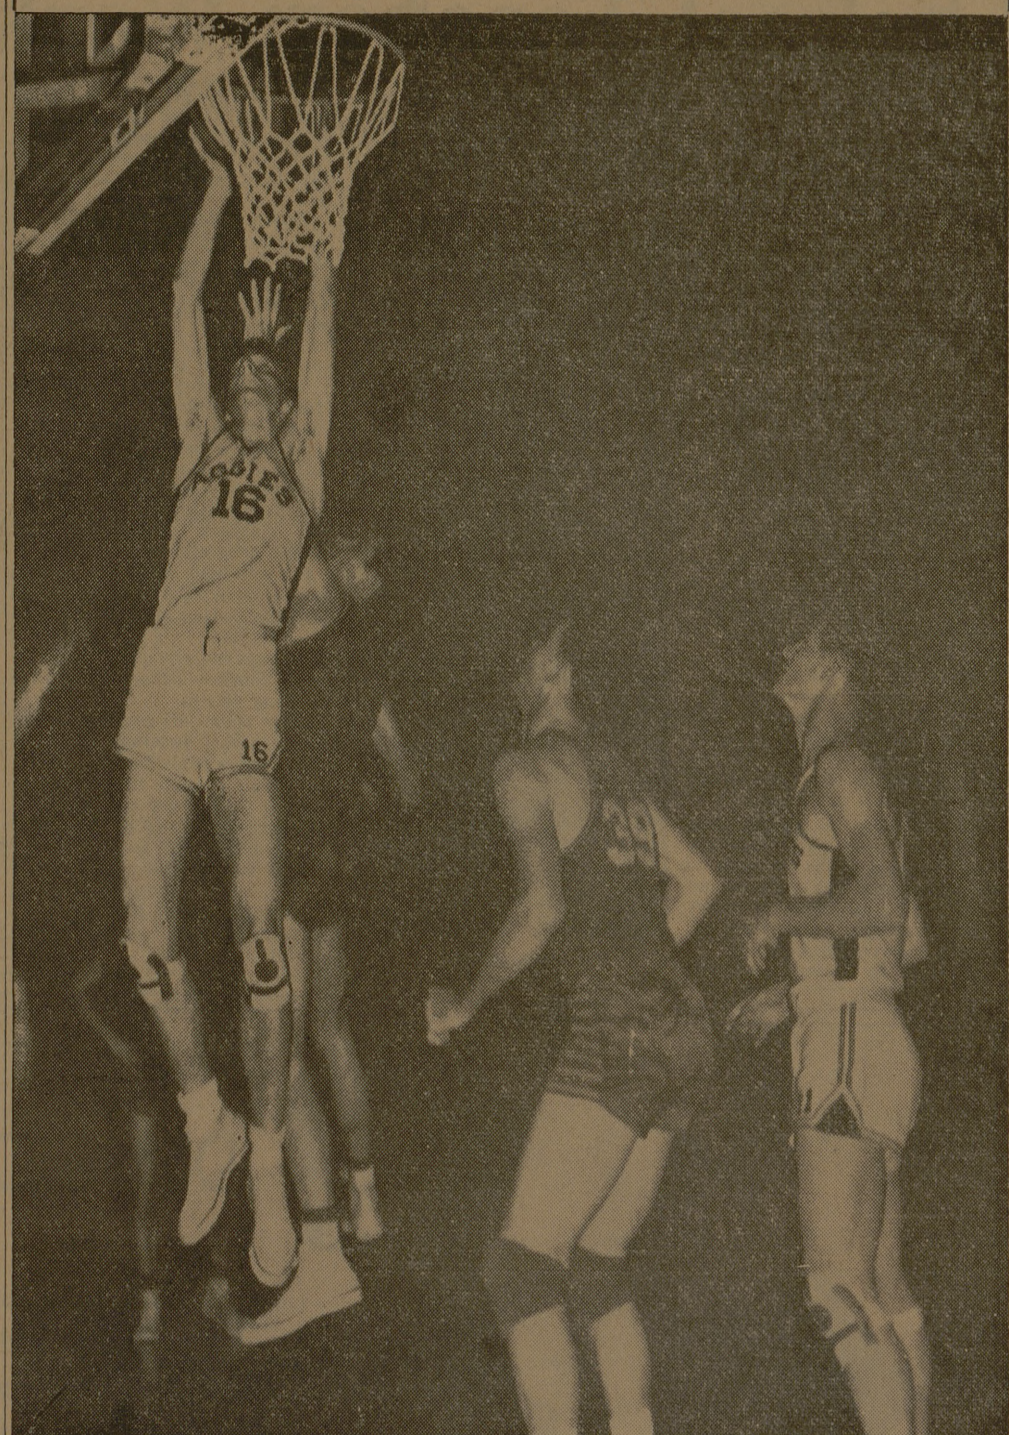

Dahoney Newcomer
Guerrero is the only returning letterman on this year's Aggie golf team, while Barrett and Baker are up from the ranks of last year's freshman team. Dahoney is a newcomer to A&M Golf Coach Gayther Nowell's aggregation.

Dampness and high winds prevailed throughout the Sports Day meeting of these two golf teams, yet better than average playing was displayed by the winners.

The next match on the Cadet schedule will be the returning golfing duel with the Cougars in Houston April 2.

Higher 'n' Higher

All-Southwest Conference pivot man Buddy Davis adds another two points for the home team, as Gilbert Luton, Cougar center tries vainly to quell the Aggies' No. 1 scorer, Royce Ray UofH high point man, joins Cadet John DeWitt in awaiting a possible rebound that never came, as the SWC-Tri-champs tamed the Cougars here Friday night, 55-46.

Cadet Baseballers Shine; Split Series With Brooke

By JOE HOLLIS
Batt Sports Staff

With but 15 days of practice behind them, A&M's baseball team showed better than expected form, both in the field and on the mound, to split a two game series with the Brooke Army Medicals of San Antonio, 8-7, and 1-2.

Before the first game Friday afternoon, Aggie Coach Beau Bell had little hope for his charges against a team that was laden with talent from the pro leagues.

But the Comets' star studded lineup of such names as Owen Friend and Dick Kokos, of St. Louis Browns fame, and Rooko Ippolito, home run hitter in the Texas League for the San Antonio Missions, failed to show that the college amateurs are just punks.

In the first game Friday the Comets clicked the scoreboard for five runs on three hits in the first three innings off George Brown, before he was relieved by Sam Blanton in the fourth. Blanton held the visitors to one hit and one run in the following four innings, while Shug McPherson collected three singles and a home run to lead the Aggies in their game of catchup.

McPherson Scores Two

McPherson's over-the-fence-clout with two men on brought the Cadets within two runs of the Comets' six. McPherson and Hank Candelari binged again in the eighth to force the visitors behind, 6-7.

Sid Goodloe entered the game in the eighth to replace Blanton and whiffed four of the nine adversaries he faced, while allowing Friend a home run to tie the game.

Ogletree Wraps It Up
The Aggie catcher, Al Ogletree, was the first man up for the Cadets to face Bill Kodis, and Ogletree wrote a story book finish with a 340 foot drive over the left field fence to give A&M an 8-7 win in their first game of the 1951 season.

Losing pitcher was Blyzka, who was relieved in the eighth. Goodloe was credited with the win.

White Swimmers Sink Maroon Mermen, 70-53

In another of the many attractions for the recent Sports Day, Swimming Coach Art Adamson split his tankmen into two teams for intrasquad competition with time as their only opponent. The Whites amassed a total of 70 points to humble the Maroons with 53.

The first event of the day saw Carl Maynard, Tommy Comstock, and Ralph Ellis of the White team take first place in the 300 yard medley relay. Following close behind were Bill Sargent, Ricky Black, and Van Adamson of the Maroons. No time was recorded.

Blundell Wins
Don Blundell cut the water at a fast pace for the Whites to win the 220 yard freestyle event, as John Noyes of the Maroons, and John Parnell of the Whites came in second and third respectively. Winning time was 2:25.4.

Led by Tommy Gilbert, the Maroons garnered a first place in the springboard event with Bob Johnson of the Whites coming in second. Maroon John Cameron and White Robert Meyer followed.

Ellis Scores
Ellis tallied more first place points for the Whites as he copied the honors in the 100 yard freestyle event. Adamson and Jim Flowers were second and third for the Maroons, while Tommy Butler placed fourth for the Whites. Time was 0:53.9.

With a winning 200 yard backstroke time of 2:28.3, Maynard left the Maroons' Sherwin Rubin in the shade to give the Whites another first place. Maroon Don

Aggie Gridders Look Good; Whites Top Maroons, 21-20

Three points-after-touchdown by End Charley Hodge proved to be too much for the Maroons Saturday night, as the White Aggie squad edged their Maroon teammates, 21-20 on Kyle Field.

As the concluding feature of the event-laden Sports Day festivities at A&M, Gallopin' Glenn Lippman scampered across with two touchdowns and Raymond Haas added another to assure the Whites of a narrow victory.

Almost 4,000 people faced a brisk North wind to see what A&M will field during the 1951 pigskin parade.

Through the first half, the Whites ruled the freshly-sodded playing field as they roared for two scores and thwarted all but one Maroon drive.

Maroons March

Billy Tidwell received the opening kickoff on the Maroon 18 and brought the ball back to the 45. With sophomore quarterback Ray Graves pitching and Tidwell, Bernie Lemmons and Charlie McDonald carrying, the Maroon eleven marched unhindered to the White five yard line.

It took only a few incomplete passes and two ample losses and the White's took over on their 14.

Saxe Scampers

On the first White play of the game, halfback Aggie Saxe danced 36 yards to midfield, but a Maroon forward wall as impregnable as the White line, held on their own 45.

First blood was drawn by the Whites when they took over on their own 42 and moved unimpeded for a score.

Two passes from quarterback Dandy Dick Gardemaal—one to halfback Pete Mayeaux and one to end Clinton Gwin—moved the Whites to the Maroon 47. Lippman then broke away for 20 yards to the 27 for another first.

Lippman Scores

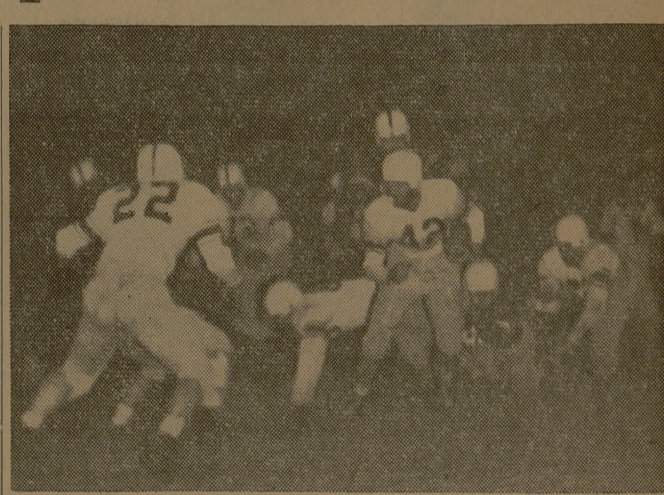

Gardemaal's pass to Gwin moved the Whites to the 11 and a pitch to Raymond Haas set up the scoring play on the 3. Lippman went over on the second try and Hodge added the extra point.

The first quarter ended 7-0, Whites leading.

McDonald Intercepts

Another Maroon push was halted and the Whites appeared to be headed for pay dirt again, when Maroon defensive halfback McDonald intercepted Roy Dollar's pass on the Maroon 45 and scampered 52 yards to the White three. Fullback Johnny Salyer went over and Robert Shaeffer's PAT was blocked.

That Maroon score only added fire to the White's as they took the kickoff on their eight and went for a score in 14 plays.

Wearing white jersey No. 42, Pete Mayeaux starts one of the end sweeps that netted winning yardage in Saturday night's Maroon and White intra-squad gridiron tussle on Kyle Field. The Whites emerged victorious in the second official spring training head-knocking exercises, downing the Maroons, 21-20.

After Lippman got 19 yards on the punt return, he made 3 to the 30 and Mayeaux went to the 32. Dollar passed to Gwin on the 46 and Lippman moved to the Maroon 45.

Again Lippman carried from the fullback position; this time to the 39. Dollar hit Gwin on the 36 after Mayeaux had moved to the 36.

From there it was a Dollar-to-Gwin to the 17, Haas to the 14, Mayeaux to the nine, Lippman to the five and Haas over for the score.

Hodge Converts Again

Hodge again added the PAT and the first half scoring was halted at 14-6, Whites.

The Maroons were riding Graves, Delmer Sikes, Bernie Lemmons and a hustling line at the start of the second half to what seemed a sure fire score, but Gwin intercepted a Sikes' toss at mid-field and returned it to the Maroon 37.

Taking advantage of strong White blocking, Lippman shot through the middle, switched off to his left and went the remaining distance for the third White TD. Again Hodge's toe was sure and the Whites led 20-6.

Last year's freshmen showed their stuff then as the Maroon's ate up 75 yards for the next score. Shaeffer returned the punt to the Maroon 25. Buck Gibson moved 18 yards to the 43 and Donald Criswell went to the 49.

Lemmons got a first down on the White 45 and was followed by Graves' jaunt to the 39. Graves then hit Jaro Netardus on the 30 and Chiswell sliced through to the 28.

After Graves raced to the 10, Salyer scored and Shaeffer kicked the point. The Maroons still trailed 13-21.

It was a seesaw battle until at the waning minutes the ball changed hands three times in successive fumbles on the White's 33.

Gibson went to the 25 on Graves' pass and Salyer inched to the 23. After Graves hit Criswell on the 15, he connected again with the freshman flash; this time for a score. Shaeffer added the point to make the scoreboard read 20-21, Whites.

The game ended 30 seconds later.

1951 Looks Good.

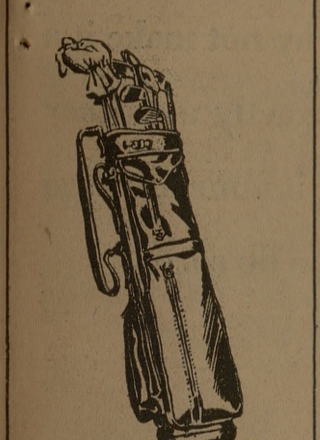

With the exception of some intersquad prestige, not too much was at stake, and the boys seemed to be enjoying themselves.

Sikes and Dollar punted long all night with Dollar kicking the longest of the game, a 53-yarder.

The passing and rushing looked good, but the hard blocking and tackling by the men up front looked as good, if not better than last year's eleven. The backs, too, must be credited for the excellent pass protection they afforded their quarterbacks.

At half-time, the famous Kilgore Rangelettes entertained the fans with their precision leg work.

IT'S GOLFING TIME

It's always golfing time around Texas A&M. Don't be left out just because you don't know how to play golf. With the various Healthways Golf accessories that we have in stock you can practice in your own back yard. The portable golf range is just the thing to learn how to hit the ball and make the perfect drive. The practice putt will help you where you need it most. The automatic score card, the "pro" ball marker and many other aids are on display to help you play a better game.
