 thinking of the industrial East with its great pools of skilled workers. He replied, "Listen, these Iowa farm boys are smart, and they work hard. I guess they learned both by working on the farms. No manpower problem yet."
 The area around St. Louis and southern Illinois is a tremendous center of defense activity today. A partial list of defense contracts there shows nearly 200 factories working on 418 different orders.

Still Below Peak
 Their total dollar volume, since last June, has gone well over $3 million and manufacturers in those parts are pretty blasé about it: "It's about one-tenth of what we did during the peak periods of the last war," they say.
 This list is partial because it enumerates only the "unclassified" orders in the area, meaning those that are not secret. A qualified informant said the "classified" list is almost as large, in terms of factories and larger in dollar expenditure.

Spectacular Variety
 Even so, the publishable data shows a spectacular range of production—shoes, weapons, precision instruments, chemicals, food, machine tools, bullets, mortar conversion kits, ammunition containers, soap, brake-linings, rotating bands for shells, clothing, ovens, oxygen cylinders, gun turrets, airplanes—and stencil cutting machines.
 Stencil-cutters are a big item in any government office!

Extension Course Gets National Publicity
 "The Effect of Industrial Waste on Aquatic Life," a course prepared and taught by A. J. Krell, a field instructor for the Texas Engineering Extension Service, is highlighted in the February issue of the Industrial and Engineering Chemistry magazine.

Tubbs Addresses State AVMA

Dr. C. R. Tubbs spoke of three important phases in the field of veterinary medicine—the State Association, poultry practice and general practice—as he addressed the AVMA at their meeting recently.

In speaking of the State Association, he urged all graduating seniors to become members and emphasized a few of the numerous benefits which are derived from its membership.
 He warned against the possibility of the graduating veterinarian overlooking the advantages presented by poultry practice. Although poultry practice is considered to be of minor importance in many localities, it is nevertheless very important and essential to the poultry raiser and warrants more attention than it has received in the past, Dr. Tubbs said.

Concerning general practice, Dr. Tubbs discussed many of the perplexing problems encountered by the inexperienced veterinarian attempting to start a general practice in a new locality.

"Three little kittens lost their mittens . . . Bobby is thoroughly absorbed in the antics of the kittens. He will be pleased to discover that at the end of the story they find their mittens again. Like all children, he wants his stories to have happy endings.

But soon Bobby is going to find out that life's stories don't all have happy endings. Bobby is growing up, out of the land of fairies and elves, into the world of reality. Bobby must learn to meet sorrow with understanding, pain with courage, prosperity with thankfulness, defeat with hope, success with humility—he must learn to face life.

The Church School is waiting with open doors for Bobby, your Bobby. The Church School is prepared to show your children the best ways to make life a success. The Church School is ready to teach your children—in the language of children—the eternal truths of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
