Price Ceilings Due; Rollback Unlikely

New York, March 13.—(AP)—Food price ceilings are due this week. The rollback that housewives have been praying for seems most unlikely.

Meat prices are in a class by themselves these days. And the government is tackling that problem a little differently, since many livestock prices are above parity—the point where price controllers can legally step in.

US Non-Flying Air Guard Units To Receive Call

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—The Air Force announced yesterday it is calling to active duty in the next nine months 19 non-flying Air National Guard units composed of 10,000 officers and men.

The first of the guard units will be called into service within two months. The others will be brought in during the following seven months.

Architecture Wives Will Hear Moseley

Hal Moseley, design professor with the Architecture Department, will speak to members of the Architectural Wives Society at a program-meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Virgie Sellers, publicity director for the group, urged all wives of architecture students to attend this meeting.

TSPE Contest Prizes Announced

Senior engineering students at A&M will have an opportunity to win cash prizes by competing in the contest announced recently by the Brazos Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

Livestock growers met yesterday in Dallas. And strong protests are to be expected against government interference from the 4,000 ranchers at the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association meeting. They have contended that any price controls will lead only to cuts in production and the channeling of meat into black markets.

Most farm prices are still below parity—the price which the government says gives the farmer an even break price-wise between what he sells and what he buys.

Canners and freezers report that growers are bargaining hard to get 100 per cent of parity in contracts for 1951 crops.

Austin, Tex., March 12.—(AP)—The Teenage Weddings, boat safety and federal contracts were debated in the legislature today.

Last night interest centered in a public hearing of Rep. Callan Graham's compromise rural road finance bill.

The House approved a bill requiring one life preserver for each person aboard rented boats on rivers and lakes.

Also passed by the House and sent to the Senate was a bill increasing the fees of resident students in state-supported college from $25 to $35.

The Senate passed a bill requiring filing with the state of copies of all contracts entered into by political subdivisions, and the federal government. It goes to the House.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill by Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lubbock, permitting counties of less than 150,000 population to raise salaries of deputy sheriffs 25 per cent.

Dinner Scheduled For Purdue Exes

All Purdue alumni from the campus and surrounding towns will meet for a dinner Wednesday night at 6 p. m. in the MSC.

Aggie sprinter Bill Stalter reaches the finish tape first in the 440 yard relay at the Laredo Border Olympics held Friday and Saturday. Trailing throughout the race, Stalter's amazing burst of speed at the finish beat the Texas anchor man who was leading until after the final turn.

Teenage Wedding Curbs Proposed by Legislature

This call to non-flying units is in addition to the mobilization orders that have gone out to 22 fighter and light bomber wings of the Air National Guard.

The call up of the 19 units will complete the mobilization of the Air National Guard's aircraft control and warning groups. One such group was ordered into service several months ago.

Both the marriage license and boat bills now go to the Senate.

College Fees Raised

Also passed by the House and sent to the Senate was a bill increasing the fees of resident students in state-supported college from $25 to $35.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill by Senator Kilmer B. Corbin of Lubbock, permitting counties of less than 150,000 population to raise salaries of deputy sheriffs 25 per cent.

Graduated with a degree in Agronomy, Hart was recently with the Bryan Building Products Company and the Strauss-Frank Company.

During the war, he served with the 69th Infantry Division in the European Theater. He is now a first lieutenant in the National Guard, 386th Armored Combat Engineer Battalion of the 49th Armored Division.

Benefit Dance Nets $150 for Libraries

Approximately 250 persons turned out for the square dance, book review and card party the Campus Study club sponsored Saturday night at A&M Consolidated school as a climax to the observance of Texas Public Schools Week.

Receipts from the project amounted to nearly $150 with some tickets sales as yet unreported.

Proceeds will be divided among the Consolidated High school and elementary school libraries and the Lincoln school library.

Manning Smith served as master of ceremonies for the square dance which was held on the Patranella slab, and W. A. McBride and his Stampedeers furnished the music.

Oldest Caller

James Fuqua, said to be the oldest caller in Texas, was present for the dance along with a delegation of dancers from Piedmont.

In addition to the visitors from Piedmont there were dancers present from Madisonville, Anderson, Dime Box and Navasota as well as a group from the College Station area.

A pair of square dance plates, donated by Mrs. Ara Haswell of Bryan was presented to Mrs. Manning Smith as a door prize.

Exhibition Waltz

Highlights in the evening's entertainment were the exhibition of the "Tennessee Waltz" by Nita and Manning Smith, and a group of songs by a girl's sextet from Lincoln school under the direction of Argie M. Rayford.

While dancing was in progress on the slab, another group of patrons were being entertained in the high school library by Frank Coulter who gave a review of James Hilton's newest book, "Morning Journey." Mr. Coulter received as a door prize a gift certificate good for one of Mrs. Lynn Grasshoff's Italian spaghetti dinners.

A third group of patrons assembled in the music room to play bridge and canasta. More than twenty prizes, including home-made pastries, cakes, cookies and preserves donated by club members, were awarded to holders of high scores.

On behalf of the club, Mrs. Lynn L. Gee, president, extended thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Smith, Coulter, Miss Rayford and McBride for their contributions to the success of the project; to Fred Brison, president of the Mothers and Dads Club, L. S. Richardson and other members of the Consolidated school staff for their cooperation; and to Mrs. J. S. Mogford, Mrs. Royce LeRoy, Mrs. Louis Horn and Mrs. T. K. Chamberlain, project chairmen.
