

HST Seeks Truce With Labor Group

Key West, Fla., March 20—(AP)—President Truman called in Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston today to survey prospects for a truce in labor's war on the administration.

Mr. Truman's concern with the union leaders' walkout on defense agencies, his associates say, is greater than he had indicated in news conferences.

In these conferences, Mr. Truman has expressed belief that the labor people will cooperate with the mobilization program and that he is not worried by their disagreement with defense mobilization director Wilson.

Nevertheless, Johnston has been working with administration leaders and spokesmen for organized labor in an effort to straighten out the disagreement on a wage formula.

Johnston, second man to Wilson, flew into Miami last night. He will fly over to Key West during the day to talk with the President at the Little White House.

Representatives Withdraw

The united labor policy committee withdrew its representatives from the wage stabilization board when it voted down labor's representatives, 6 to 3, to adopt a formula limiting wage increases to 10 percent.

A subsequent modification of the formula failed to appease labor. Later it withdrew its representatives from all defense agencies on the charge they are dominated by big business.

Johnston's latest attempt to compromise the dispute by doubling the membership of the wage stabilization board and giving it greater voice in policy has been rejected by both labor and management. Industry claims it would give the board too much authority.

'Went According to Script' First Graders Give Show

First grade pupils of Miss Juanita Clemens and Mrs. Paul W. Landrum Jr. at A&M Consolidated Elementary School presented a program Friday in the school gym.

The program, composed of folk dances, songs, and choral readings, was given to provide the children with the opportunity to make an appearance before a large audience and to demonstrate their development in rhythmical coordination and speech activities, the teachers said.

Attending the 40 minute program were approximately 425 parents and friends of the students. "Everything went according to the script and everyone attending voiced their approval of the program," said Mrs. Landrum.

The children offered their renditions of two folk dances "I See You" and "Kinderpolka." The dancers were Betty Ivy and David Bailey, Patty Howard and Bobby Medlen, Virginia McAfee and Russell Welch, Carla Denison and Johnny Williams, Melanie Clark and John Stark, and Alyn Roth and Jody Rush.

Performance of "Shoemakers Dance" and "Dance of Greetings." These young people were Sherry Thompson and Joan Hager, Janice Yeager and Lane Coulter, Jene Adams and Buzz Loveless, Beryl Ann Burchart and Jimmy Anderson, Susan Elam and Marcia Chalk, and Sue Baggett and Crawford Holt.

Participating also were Marieta Corley and Lyn Roy LaMotte, Jeanette Junek and Mike Christian, Annette Robertson, and Lani Presswood, Barbara Jean Dierking and Julian Rainwater, and Ellen Stubblefield and Tony Ramirez.

The choral readings were divided among the two rooms with Melanie Clark and Mike Christian representing Miss Clemens room with "Whisky, Wacky, Weedle" and "Nibblety, Nibblety, Nib." Mrs. Landrum's room was represented by Russell Welch and Crawford Holt leading the group in the choral reading of "John Cook."

The group was led in the song, "America," by Carla Denison and Lyn Roy LaMotte.

Dr. Holt Challenges Sen. Moore To Show Reasons for Favoring Bill

Dr. E. E. Holt, president of the Bryan-College Station Tuberculosis Association, challenged State Senator William T. Moore of Bryan to tell his constituents why he had reversed his decision and agreed to vote for the bill now in the state legislature which would create a new three-man state TB board.

The speaker addressed the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the College Station Lion's Club in the Memorial Student Center yesterday.

Dr. Holt pointed out how Senator Richard B. Grant, '29, practicing physician in Bryan, will address the Pre-Medical Dental Society at 7:30 p. m. tonight in room 107 of the Biological Sciences Building.

tor Moore had first opposed the measure and pledged his support to the local people who were fighting the issue, but after a conference with the governor, Sen. Moore had completely changed his mind.

In issuing his challenge to the member of the state senate, Dr. Holt told the Lions that their letters to Sen. Moore and to the governor may be the necessary difference in keeping this bill from being passed.

Can Hide His Head In the Sand

If Things Don't Go Right

A&M students aren't built that way. They accept a challenge and fling it back in the teeth of the challenger.

So the threat of a reduced enrollment next Fall at A&M has the Aggies workin' mad! They're going to tell their friends at home about the advantages at A&M, and sell those graduating high school seniors on the idea of coming here for their college education.

All Aggies want A&M to grow, thus benefitting the school, the state, and the students.

EACH ONE REACH ONE FOR A & M
