

Still, Crime Hasn't Stopped

SENATOR Estes Kefauver's crime committee seems destined for an early death.

But let's not stop crime investigations now, just as we were beginning to scratch deeper than the surface.

We like what J. Edgar Hoover had to say about the committee's cease-fire action.

"We are in a state of moral depression," the FBI chief said. And how true his words are.

Perhaps the senators were hitting too close to home base for the Washington bigwigs.

When Bill O'Dwyer, former New York City mayor and now ambassador to Mexico, was raked over the coals, we doubt that top Democrats in Washington rejoiced.

If the "high sign" was given the committee by the powers-that-be in the nation's capital, it is tragic.

Yet the battle seems to be dying altogether too soon.

On Castor Oil And the Dollar

Onward, Onward, Cries the WCTU

PROHIBITION has been dealt a hard right to the jaw.

And the WCTU and other Texas dries claim it was a foul.

"Unreasonable, undemocratic," moaned Mrs. Claude de Van Watts, Texas president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

But Mrs. de Van Watts and her cohorts aren't too dismayed. "On with the battle," she says.

When the House solons in Austin didn't let the proposed prohibition amendment get out of committee, they accomplished one of their more rational acts of this year's session.

Good try, Mrs. W., but such narrow-mindedness has no place in Texas today.

The Battalion

Entered as second-class matter at Post Office at College Station, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Member of The Associated Press. Represented nationally by National Advertising Service Inc., at New York City, Chicago, Los Angeles, and San Francisco.

Today's Issue: John Whitmore, Managing Editor; Bob Hughson, Campus News Editor; Allen Pengelly, City News Editor.

Editorialists: T. M. Fontaine, Carter Phillips, Allen Pengelly, Assistant City Editor; Leon McClellan, Jack Fontaine, Ed Holder, Bryan Spencer, Bob Venable, Dale Walston, Bee Landrum, Frank Davis, Phil Snyder, Art Giese, Cristy Orth, James Fuller, Leo Wallace, W. H. Dickens, Fig Newton, Joe Price, Pete Hermann, Wesley Mason, B. F. Roland, Ivan Xantis, Sid Ragdale, Bill Aaberg, Ide Trotter, John Hildebrand, Chuck Neighbors, Bob Seltick, Bill Streich, Curtis Edwards, Howard Heard, Staff Writers; Jimmy Ashlock, Joe Blanchette, Ray Holbrook, Joe Hollis, Sports Staff Writers; Pat LeBlanc, Staff Photographers; Sam Molinary, Bob Alderice, Staff Photographers; Sid Abernathy, Page Make-up; Joe Gray, Photo Engraving Shop Manager; Tom Fontaine, Johnny Lancaster, Charles McCullough, R. R. Peoples, Photo Engravers; R. D. Witter, Photo Engravers; Autrey Frederick, Advertising Manager; Russell Hagena, Bob Haynie, Advertising Representatives; Dick Kelly, Club Publicity Co-ordinator.

L'L ABNER Cheaper By The Dozen. Comic strip panel with dialogue about family size and cost.

L'L ABNER Begin The Begatsbys. Comic strip panel with dialogue about a family and children.

Poultrymen Name Junior Judges

The Junior Poultry Judging Team will represent A&M at a southern contest held in Memphis, Tennessee, Monday.

The team has four members; James Newman of Rockdale, an Agronomy major; Harlem Vaught of Fort Worth, majoring in Poultry Husbandry; Charley Mailhos from Jasper, a poultry husbandry major; and Bill Boardman from Bluff Dale, also a poultry husbandry major.

The team is sponsored by the Poultry Science Club and is under the instructorship of Cecil Ryan of Poultry Husbandry department.

The team will leave for Memphis March 31, and return in four days.

Phi Eta Sigma Sets Meeting Monday Night

A short meeting of the active members of Phi Eta Sigma will be held Monday night at 7 p. m. in the assembly room of the MSC to select a Cotton Ball Duchess to represent the society and to make plans for the spring initiation and banquet.

From the City Desk

Who Is Qualified For Council Vote?

... By Joel Austin

WHAT ARE THE qualifications necessary for a candidate of the city council? A good question and a hard one when you're put on the spot to answer it.

During the past few months, we have seen these men in action, doing their job as civic leaders and receiving no monetary compensation for their work.

A reader wrote us the other day about the attendance record of councilmen at the meetings held each month. His inquiry definitely proves that some people are interested enough to investigate the qualifications of the men running in an election before voting for any of them.

Do you know who the candidates are? When the election will be and where the polling place is? Here are the few necessary facts; now it's up to the voters to make use of them.

Candidates and the wards they are from: Ward I: Homer Adams, H. W. Badgett, J. W. O'Brien. Ward II: L. G. Berryman, G. W. Black and Harry Boyer. Ward III: W. D. Fitch. Polling Place: City Hall at the corner of Church Street and Old Highway 6. Time: From 8 a. m. until 6 p. m.

Postal Delivery for College Station

Postal delivery for residents of College Station may be something to look forward to in the months to come. Post Office authorities have inspected local postal facilities and asked Chamber of Commerce officials to poll College Station people to see if they want house-to-house delivery.

With only the facilities at the North Gate and MSC to serve all the people of College Station (including A&M students) city postal delivery would alleviate post office congestion at the beginning of each term when new students are forced to receive mail through General Delivery because of the limited number of boxes available.

The new house-numbering system adopted by the College Station City Council will contribute a great deal to the success of a decision by the Post Office Department to establish this mail service here.

In their initial survey, postal inspectors asked that street markers be replaced at all intersections not now having them. Forms have been purchased by the city to make concrete street signs for all intersections in town.

News About the City

The Consolidated High School Band will offer its first concert of the year Sunday evening in the high school gymnasium. Col. R. J. Dunn's bandmen promise a colorful program beginning at 3 p. m. The program will also include numbers by the Junior and Senior Orchestras.

The Bryan Lion's Club members combined wit, good acting, and a fine cast to present their mirthful minstrel show last night. If you were one of those who missed this laugh-packed program during the first performance last night, you'll certainly want to be at Stephen F. Austin High School in Bryan at 8 p. m. tonight when the curtain rises on the civic club's 1951 edition of this blackface extravaganza.

The Methodists laid the cornerstone of their new sanctuary yesterday. It won't be long before they will have the entire $500,000 building program completed, adding much to the looks of the North Gate area and, of course, also adding to their own comfort and convenience.

TU Medical Professor Schedules Friday Talk

Dr. Ira Jackson, assistant professor of Neurological Surgery at the University of Texas Medical School, Galveston, will speak to the Veterinary students on Surgical Techniques at the Veterinary Hospital at 7:30 p. m. tonight.

This announcement was made today by Dean I. B. Boughton of the School of Veterinary Medicine.

Japanese Peace Treaty Under 15-Nation Study

WASHINGTON, March 30—(AP)—The State Department is distributing to 15 nations this week a completed American draft of a Japanese peace treaty.

These nations are being invited to state their reaction and propose, as soon as possible, any changes they may want.

State Department officials hope that within about three months an agreed treaty draft may result from the formal negotiations now getting underway.

Some difficulties are foreseen, however, since Australia and New Zealand are worried about possible future Japanese rearming, the Philippines have insisted on preparations and Britain would like to curtail the Japanese shipping industry.

Russia Gets Copy, Too. Russia is one of the countries receiving a copy of the U. S. treaty draft but is not expected to accept it as a basis for negotiation. The Soviets have strongly indicated they do not intend to cooperate with the other World War II allies on an early peace treaty for Japan.

Ambassador John Foster Dulles, it was learned, has been distributing the tentative treaty text in a series of talks with Ambassadors of the countries directly concerned with shaping Japan's future.

The draft treaty was described by authorities here as conforming in all major respects to a set of principles which Dulles circulated among 15 nations last fall and on the basis of which he has since been negotiating with them. He recently returned from a visit to Japan, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

In substance what the U. S. is proposing is a treaty which would end the state of war with Japan, give that nation full control over its own affairs, and impose no barriers in the way of Japanese rearmament or economic development.

Japan would, however, be bound to accept the principles laid down in Article Two of the U. N. Charter. These include the basic requirement that all U. N. members settle international disputes by peaceful means and refrain from the threat or use of force.

State Department officials note that nations which are not U. N. members may also be covered because the article provides that the U. N. shall insure that non-members "act in accordance with these principles so far as may be necessary for the maintenance of international peace and security."

Would End U. S. Occupation. The treaty would end the occupation of Japan by American forces but the U. S. and Japan plan to negotiate simultaneously a separate security agreement. This would provide for stationing American forces in and about the Japanese islands.

The U. S. favors Japanese membership in the U. N. but without Russian cooperation on the peace treaty authorities see little chance of such membership for a long time.

DANCE!

TO THE MUSIC OF Glenn Dewey and his COMBO

8:30 - 12:00 p.m., Friday NAVLES Hiway 6 & 21

(Reservations Requested) $1.20 Per Couple—Tax Included

TALK OF THE TOWN

Where Everyone Meets

To Enjoy Good Food at Popular Prices

Air Conditioned

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 16...THE HARLEQUIN DUCK

"I may be a clown—but I'm no fool!"

He might be the merry-andrew of the marshlands, but lately he's been downright glum about these trick cigarette mildness tests. Never one to duck facts, he holds nothing much can be proved by a sniff of one brand or a quick puff from another.

The sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke -- on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels -- and only Camels -- for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

PALACE Bryan 2-8879. TONITE PREVUE 11 P. M. THIS IS MONKEY BUSINESS... BEDTIME FOR BONZO. NOW SHOWING STORM WARNING. SAT. NITE PREV. 11 P. M. THE AIR FORCE SECRET STORY. TARGET UNKNOWN.

QUEEN FRIDAY & SATURDAY. ROARING UP FROM THE OCEAN FLOOR TO A HIGH MARK IN TORPEDO-PACKED THRILLS. John WAYNE OPERATION PACIFIC. PATRICIA NEAL WARD ROND.

By Al Capp. Comic strip panel with dialogue about family and children.

By Al Capp. Comic strip panel with dialogue about family and children.