

Points Tell the Story, as A&M Sweeps Triangular Meet for Sixth Win

Bobby Ragsdale Bill Bless

... show strained expressions as they vault the low hurdles in Saturday's three-way meet in smooth stride to place second and third, respectively, behind Texas' Ralph Persons, who turned a 22.8 time to win in this event.

James Baker

... finished strong as anchor man in the mile relay event with the team of Bernard Place, Bob Mays, and Cecil Ingelhart, who ran a time 3:25 to cop top honors.

Bobby Ragsdale

... leaps high in the air and sinks into the sand (upper right) in the broad jump event at Saturday's triangular meet in which the Aggie thinly clad, smothered Rice and Texas for the sixth consecutive win. Ragsdale placed second in the broad jump, as his mark was scant inches behind that of TU's Charlie Meeks, who showed a distance of 23' 8 1/2".

Ags Take Rice; Prep for 'Kats

All-Southwest Conference pitcher in 1950, Pat Hubert proved that he is definitely a contender to repeat at that post again this season after he hurled a neat three-hitter Saturday afternoon on Kyle Field and turned back the Rice Owls 7 to 2.

With another conference game to their credit, the Aggies are in readiness for their journey to Huntsville tomorrow afternoon when they will again meet the Sam Houston Bearkats. In the first meeting of the two teams the Kats bowed before the unmerciful hitting of the Cadets, 16-8.

Hubert's most recent three hit hurling chore is backed up strongly by the no hit game that he tossed against Minnesota two weeks ago.

Starting on the mound for the Owls was Richard Leeder, who suffered from wildness in the first three innings and walked four, allowed three hits and four runs before being relieved by steady Roger Edwards.

In the batting division Bill "Shug" McPherson was the big gun for the Cadets, as he drove a Leeder pitch beyond the 360 foot mark to get an uncontested trip around the diamond with Yale Lary on base. For the Owls it was Bill Edwards who clobbered one over the fence to score with the sacks empty.

Baylor Gains Tie With Aggie Golfers

A&M's golf team continued in undefeated fashion Friday in Waco, when they held the Baylor Bear linksmen to a 3-3 tie and marked the scorebook with a deadlocked match for the second time in the current season. Rice was the other SWC opponent to garner a tie with the Cadets.

The Aggie-Bear tie set Texas out in front for another year of golfing, as the Longhorns show wins over both Rice, and the Mustangs.

Texas won the SWC golf crown a year ago with an undefeated team.

On Waco's Ridgewood course Friday afternoon the Cadet and the Bruins captured two singles matches and one doubles match apiece to gain the tie on a smooth, but windy course.

Low man on the match was Baylor's George Wagner, who shaved one stroke off the par 70 to trim A&M's Johnny Barrett, 7 and 6. Wagner came back later to team with Bear Frank Barksdale and down the Aggie team of Barrett and Tony Guerrero, 5 and 4.

Guerrero was credited with low score for the visitors, as he stroked a 72, followed by teammate Bob Dahoney, who shot a 74.

Texas Next Aggie Opponent

In the other singles events Guerrero topped Barksdale, one-up and Dahoney beat Bill Burkhardt, 5 and 4 for the two Aggie wins. Baylor's Hartford Jenkins stopped A&M's Bill Baker 2 and 1 and Wagner copped one from Barrett.

In team play in the doubles division Barksdale and Wagner trimmed Guerrero and Barrett, while Dahoney and Baker downed Burkhardt and Jenkins, 3 and 2.

The next match for the Aggies will be April 20, when the Cadets journey to Austin to meet the Texas University, the defending champions and 1951 favorites.

Hooper Again High Performer

By RAY HOLBROOK
Battalion Sports Staff

Bucking a 20 mile wind much of the time, the overpowering Aggie thinly clad completely outclassed both Texas and Rice in a triangular meet on Kyle Field track Saturday afternoon as the Cadets piled up 88 points as compared with 54 for the Longhorns and 28 for the Owls.

The Cadets won 11 of the 16 events and placed in the remaining five while Texas scored four first places and Rice one.

Again leading the war for the Farmers and high point performer for the day was dynamic Darrow Hooper, the sophomore weight star, who won the shot with a 51' 3/4" put and hurled the discus a distance of 147' 5" to score a total of 10 points.

Davis, Simpson Shine

Ag high jump star Buddy Davis was close to his championship form of last week as he won the event with a leap of 6' 6".

Jack Simpson, Cadet cinder captain, continued his undefeated string of victories in the pole vault, as he cleared 13' 5" and just barely missed a 14 foot vault.

The Aggie 440 relay team found themselves again and won easily in 42.5 seconds. The team is composed of Bernie Place, Bill Bless, Bobby Ragsdale, and Bill Stalter. Stalter also won the 220 dash in 21.5.

Baker Finishes Fast

In one of the day's most exciting races, the Aggie mile relay team used only two regular members in Place and Bob Mays and substituted Cecil Ingelhart and James Baker to fight off a determined bid from Rice and win in 3:25.

Don Mitchell, top Aggie and SWC quartermiler, ran a fine 49.4 fourth of a mile despite the strong wind and outclassed the field.

SWC champion Paul Leming of A&M got sweet revenge over Rice's Bill Howton when he beat the Owl star over the last hurdle in the low hurdle event and won going away in the excellent time of 14.4. This is the best time turned in in the conference so far this year.

Gabriel Spectacular

Displaying another 220 sprint on the end of the two mile run, A&M's spectacular Charley Gabriel overtook Longhorn C. A. Rundell and won easily in 10:03.1.

John Garmany, Aggie junior, also had to come from behind to beat Owl Joe Franks in the mile run, traveling the four laps in 4:29.0.

Cadet sophomore 880 star Ed Wilmsen fought the home stretch with Rice's Bill Graf, but lost out in the final 20 yards, as the adept Graf won for the Owls only first place in 1:57.1.

Meet Owls Again Saturday

Texas Floyd Rogers won the 100 yard dash in 9.8, as teammate Ralph Person took second and won the low hurdles for runner-up high point honors. His low hurdles time of 22.8 ties the SWC record held by Bob Hall of A&M.

Charlie Meeks and Ray Marek continued their winning ways in the broad jump and javelin for the Steers' remaining first places of day.

The next track and field competitive performance on the agenda for Cadets will be Saturday when they journey to Houston where they will engage the Rice Owls in a dual conference meet.

Harry Opens Major League Ball Today

New York, April 15—(AP)—Throw out the exhibition standings. They start playing for keeps tomorrow in both major leagues.

Two games tomorrow and a full eight-game schedule Tuesday provide a fidgety nation with a whiff of cheer. Some 300,000 are expected to attend with millions watching or listening on television and radio.

Down the long 153-game stretch to Sept. 30 will come the answers to baseball's jigsaw. How good are the New York Giants? Will the Red Sox finally win? Can Casey Stengel make it three straight? Is Mickey Mantle a new DiMaggio?

Harry Tosses First One
You start getting the first hints tomorrow in games at Washington and Cincinnati, designed to get the jubilee season off to a rush.

Corps Handballers Tell Champ Tonite

The championship of the Corps Handball League will be determined tonight at 8 in the "little gym."

ASA and A Athletics are the finalists to do battle. In the semifinals, A Athletics was pressed hard but came out on top of their adversary, E AF, by the score of 2-1.

The ASA crew advanced to the finals by subduing F AF, 3-0. Dick Gardemal, John Centilli, Burns, Bernie Lemmons and Cox will compose the A Ath team while the ASA squad consists of Fred Sommers, Hub Horton, Bert Gorrod, Jewell McDowell, Bo Hoskins and Jack Wood.

Southpaw Harry Truman turns from the military to the sports world to throw out the first ball at Griffith Stadium tomorrow for the New York-Washington opener. After the President gets through, Bob Kuzava (9-10), a faster southpaw, will take up the job of facing Yank rookie Tom Morgan, a surprise choice over Ed Lopat. Morgan had a 17-8 record with Birmingham last season.

Clark Griffith expects 33,000 fans to greet the Senators who have first division hopes after their surprise fifth-place finish of last year. The game launches the league's 51st season.

Mantle On Hand
Mantle, the most highly-publicized rookie since Cline Hartung, is expected to be in the Yankee outfield for his first big league start.

Cincinnati, given special dispensation for an early opener in the league's 76th year, beats the gun on the rest of the national by taking on Pittsburgh at Crosley Field. The usual sellout crowd of 32,000 is due.

Ewell Blackwell (17-15), back in good health after a siege of ailments, will go for the improved Reds against Cliff Chambers (12-15). Much is expected of the Reds after their fine last half season in '50. Nobody knows what to expect from Branch Rickey at Pittsburgh except Ralph Kiner at first base and maybe a lefthand catcher.

Once the special openers are over, the leagues go into a full schedule Tuesday featured by a Yankee-Boston Red Sox series at Yankee stadium and a Phillies-Brooklyn series at Ebbets Field.
