

Consolidated Junior Class Gives Two One-Act Plays

The Junior Class of A&M Consolidated High School presented two one-act plays last night to raise money for the Junior Class fund.

The first play presented was entitled "Drums in the Night". In the play, the sound of Indian tom-toms led to the discovery of a dead man's fortune, which was found in the cellar of an old mansion.

The "villain," played by George Johnston, made an attempt to steal the money, but it finally found its way into the hands of the dead man's niece, the part of whom was played by Celeste Curran.

Jerry Leighton, Sara Puddy, Barbara Sims, Judy Oden and Glenda Brown also lent their talents to the play.

During the intermission, Sara Puddy and Jack Cockrum gave a record impersonation of "How Could You Believe Me When You Know I've Been A Liar All My Life." The voices actually heard were those of Fred Astaire and Jane Powell.

A change of mood was experienced when the curtain rose for the second play, which, as may be gathered from its title, "Whar's My Pants?", was a comedy.

The cast, which was made up in black face, consisted of Maxie Wilson, who longed for a rich husband; Billy Blakeley, who portrayed a "rich" suitor with patches on his clothes; Jimmy Tempin and Louise Street, who played charity collectors, and Wanda Goodwin, playing the part of the wife of the man who lost his pants.

Directing the plays were Lloyd Boze, high school principal, and Mrs. Louise Glenn, A&M CHS teacher.

Bob Barlow and Gayle Klipple worked out sound and lighting effects, and Janice Hildebrand and Martha Arnold handled make-up.

Other students aiding in the production of the plays were Frank Vaden, Dorothy Holick, Johnny Bonmskie, Sergio Trevino, Thomas Wade, Donald Royder and Audrey Nolan.

Twice during the evening Bob Barlow chased Lou Van Steen with a lawn mower and hedge clippers . . . he was intent on shortening her grass skirt.

Local OR Units Will Train In Camp Polk, La.

One hundred and seventy Army Organized Reserve units from Texas will train at Camp Polk, La., during June, July and August, Captain M. B. Findlay, local ORC Instructor, announced this morning.

All units will be assembled at their home stations and moved to Camp Polk as unit organizations under command of their own officers. Generally, travel will be by rail or commercial bus line, however, in some cases units may be moved by air in order to meet training schedules.

Local ORC units scheduled for training at Camp Polk are the 352d Armored Field Artillery Battalion and the 39th Armored Infantry Battalion, with units in Bryan, College Station, Caldwell, and Huntsville.

Col. Paul B. Malone, Jr., Senior Army Instructor for Texas, returned this week from an inspection of facilities for summer training at Camp Polk and classed them as "superior."

"Reserve units will be provided excellent billets, mess buildings and ample training areas that include the most modern firing ranges for all types of weapons," Col. Malone said.

This is the first time that the Organized Reserve has been ordered to move to summer camp in unit formations. This policy was adopted this year as a part of the training program to give reserve commanders practical experience in assembling and transporting their organizations under actual conditions. Commanders will get experience which will be of great value to them in case their units are ordered to active service, Col. Malone stated.

Army Probes Malfunctions Of Hospitals

A reported shortage of military hospital facilities is being investigated by the Army with hope of an agreement whereby military cases may be transferred to civilian hospitals, reported the Associated Press.

The probe was started, an Army official in Los Angeles said last night, after disclosure of the death of an infantry private and a sergeant's infant son. Both had been denied immediate medical attention, the Army said.

The Army's investigation followed the report from Chicago of a father smuggling his soldier-son from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., after the soldier complained he was not getting proper medical treatment. The army draftee, Pvt. Stanley Amborski, 21, was reported improving from virus pneumonia at the Great Lakes Naval Hospital.

At the same time, the commanding general of Ft. Leonard Wood said a Kansas City soldier was not smuggled from the camp by three buddies last December and had not been refused medical treatment. The soldier, Pvt. William Pettit, 23, is at an armed services hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., suffering arthritis.

Newcomers Plan Picnic Wednesday

Newcomers club members will entertain their families with a picnic supper Wednesday at 5:30 p. m. in Hensel Park.

In charge of arrangements for the picnic is Mrs. W. Armstrong Price.

All members have been urged to attend and to bring their families. Each member will provide a picnic lunch.

Entertainment will consist of music, games and softball. The committee in charge said that members, wishing to play softball should bring their own equipment.

Red Cross Nurses Asked to Register

Enrollment of all graduate Red Cross nurses is being urged by a local committee headed by Mrs. W. H. Richey, nurse service chairman, and Mrs. W. M. Dowell, in charge of the drive.

This roster of nurses will be utilized in any time of disaster or epidemic, Mrs. Dowell said. She stressed that the nurses will not be called upon for service at other times.

"Our purpose," she said, "is to have nurses we can call on in case we need them in a hurry."

Other graduate nurses who wish to become Red Cross nurses are also urged to contact Mrs. Dowell at 4-8159.

Mothers Sponsor Band Benefit Party

A benefit sponsored by the Band Mother's Club of Consolidated High School will given tomorrow from 5 to 9 p. m. at Playland Park on Highway 6 South in Bryan.

The purpose of the benefit is to raise funds to purchase additional equipment for the Consolidated High School Band.

Committees have planned a complete evening of food and fun for both the children and grown-ups of the area and a special invitation has been extended to all Bryanites.

The food committee, headed by Mrs. J. P. CoVan, will serve hot dogs, cookies, cupcakes, ice cream bars, candy and soft drinks.

A big feature for the kids will be the Playland rides, including the merry-go-round. Mrs. R. L. Donahue, ticket sales chairman, says that tickets are now being sold by the elementary school children of Consolidated, and that tickets will also be sold at the gate.

Walter Britten, local auctioneer, promises to be another big attraction with his white elephants auction. The circus touch will also be present with the appearance of clowns, fortune tellers, and various booths where one can test his "feats of skill."

Richardson Discusses District School Bonds

An open community meeting was held Monday night to inform the residents of the A&M Consolidated Independent School District of the action already taken for issuance of bonds for a larger school physical plant.

Stressing the importance of the new buildings, L. S. Richardson, superintendent of schools, told the group a preliminary survey indicates enrollment will double its present size within the next five years and present buildings will not be able to handle this increase.

Plans for the new cafeteria, eight classrooms, and a girls' dressing room, were presented at the meeting by the San Antonio architects commissioned to design the new structures.

Besides the work to be done at A&M Consolidated, a new shop building and science laboratory will be built on the Lincoln High School campus.

Three items will be on Saturday's ballot.

First of these selections will seek a "yes or no" answer as to whether the school district should issue new bonds. The second question to be voted upon is whether the district should assume all bonds which have previously been issued. The last item on the ballot concerns the re-voting of the present $1.50 per $1,000 value of property taxable for the schools.

The last two questions will be voted upon because of a legal technicality which demands that these problems be settled by vote.

Each person present at the meeting was asked to contact each voter in his area and make sure he goes to the polls in Saturday's election. Through this effort, it is hoped that everyone in the district will cast his ballot so that a good coverage of the district will be given, Richardson said.

"Construction should begin about July 15 on the new buildings should the bond issue be passed," he added.

The middle initial "B" in Enos Slaughter's name stands for Bradsher. The St. Louis Cardinal outfield great was born in Roxboro, N. C., in 1916.
