

Six All-SWC Aggies Starting At Tucson

Pat Hubert

... is A&M's starting pitcher against the Arizona Wildcats today in Tucson, Arizona. Hubert, All-Southwest Conference hurler, boasts a record of six wins and one loss. His loss, to Baylor in the season's first game, was a five-hitter.

Al Ogletree

... is Hubert's battery mate on the Arizona diamond today. The All-SWC backstop has been catching Hubert all season, and Head Baseball Coach Beau Bell credits Ogletree as one of the reasons why A&M tied for the SWC title. His batting average is .349.

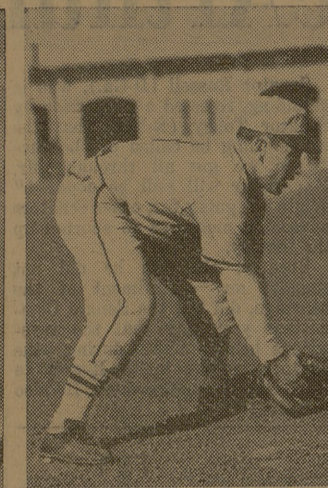

Yale Lary

... is an All-SWC outfielder for the Aggies. Always a potent home run hitter for A&M, Yale didn't really start hitting until he was shifted to the outfield. The current batting average for the swinging left fielder is .348. He batted in four runs against TU.

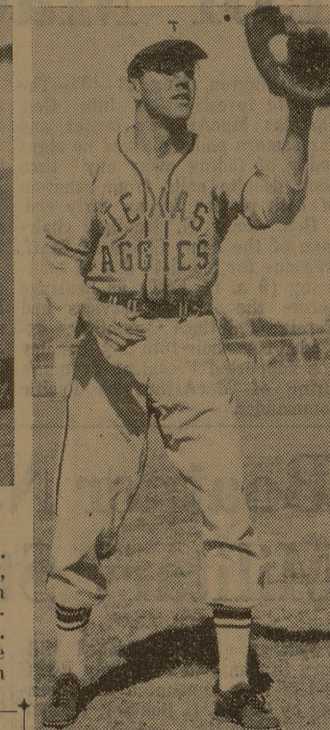

R. C. Beau Bell

... has brought a conference champion to A&M in his first year back at his Alma Mater. Bell first gained Aggie notoriety in 1931 when he won a SWC championship from Texas with a home run in the ninth. Bell guided his boys the hard way, after they trailed by three games.

Henry Candelari

... is another All-SWC Aggie. Better known as Hank or Yogi, the speedy little fellow has been playing just about the best defensive ball in the conference. Batted at 231, Candelari will be a sure-shot for his teammates in the NCAA District 6 playoff.

Guy Wallace

... made the All-SWC shortstop position for the second consecutive year. Wallace is currently leading the Aggie batters with a .386 average and has played a stellar defensive game at the deep place this season. The pro scouts have been looking him over.

John DeWitt

... made the All-SWC field position for the Aggies as picked by the coaches of the Southwest Conference. Batted at a .231 clip, Big John is always dangerous as a home run hitter and never fails to back the fielders up against the boards in left.

Farmer Nine Batted .2755 During Year

At the close of the season the team batting average for A&M, minus the pitcher, was .2755. In order is Guy Wallace (.386), Al Ogletree (.349), Yale Lary (.348), Joe Erette (.286), Shug McPherson (.245), John DeWitt (.231), and Henry Candelari (.231) and Bill Munnerlyn (.128). Pat Hubert and Bob Tankersley had .042 and .200 while their conference pitching records were 6-1 and 5-1. Hubert's seasonal record is 10-1. Mark Hamilton, who catches Tankersley, batted .393.

Ag Sports Viewed By Athlete's Wives

By VIVIAN CASTLEBERRY Battalion Women's Editor

Apparently a whole slew of red-blooded sports-minded American males have married an equal number of damsels who care not one whit about games—any kind of games.

Or, so it would seem if one is to take the gripes of College wives to heart.

It is one thing for a man to be really serious about his sport. It is quite another thing if he merely dabbles in it for pleasure.

Take such student wives as Margaret Davis, who is the wife of star basketball, Buddy Davis, or Darrow Hooper's wife, Jeanine, or Jewell Hodge, whose husband, Charlie is a mainstay on the football team, or Colleen Flowers, whose husband Jim excels at a number of sports.

You never hear a peep out of those girls. They married athletes. They knew it at the time and the only complaint you ever get from them comes when their husbands didn't win the pennant.

But it's quite another story when it comes to the game to determine the championship of the last half of C Row Even in the College View Tidewalks Tourney. For some reason the wives out there (and we understand the wives in Vet Village, the project houses and town wives) feel very strongly that such shenanigans are out of place while the roast beef cools to a leathery unpalatable mess.

While friend husband is trying to steal second, his wife is home where she has been all day wrangling with both the kids, while she has washed an even 1,296 dishes (not counting baby bottles and silverware), has put out two washings, made two beds, cooked three meals (the last one cooling on the table while both kids scream to eat) and has done numerous other tasks that come under the general heading of "housework."

And Then There Was One

One married student we know slipped out of the maternity ward of a local hospital long enough to help his team cop the championship. He got back just in time to hear his daughter's first cry.

Another fellow let his pretty wife—all dressed up, too—cool her heels for an hour and a half on their anniversary while he battled it out with his teammates on the local baseball diamond.

The wives in my neighborhood are mostly resigned. For two years Betty Drake sat home with small Cyndie, let the food grow cold and the temper grow short while Paschal played ball.

Now, on a sunny Spring afternoon, the three of them can be seen headed for the ball park. While Pop plays, Betty and Cyndie comprise his best cheering section.

Ida Munson has given up on Roy, too. And when Mary Ann Lester can't go along with Jimmy, she looks for him only when she sees him home again.

Hubert Versus Risher in First Dist. 6 Battle

Tucson, May 23—(AP)—Arizona and Texas Aggies collide in the first game of best of three series Wednesday to determine which team will represent District 6 in the NCAA baseball tournament.

The winner will get a crack at the national collegiate championship at Omaha next month.

The opening game will be played on the Arizona diamond. Seating capacity has been increased to 3,200.

Robin Risher, big righthander who has won seven straight this season, will start for Arizona. The Aggies will use Pat Hubert, righthander who has at 10-1 record.

A second game will be played Thursday night. If a third game is necessary it will be played Friday afternoon.

Arizona is champion of the Border Conference. A&M tied for the Southwest Conference title with the University of Texas. A&M was named to meet the Wildcats at Tucson for the district title.

Three-Time Loser Arraigned in Bribe

Los Angeles, Calif., May 23—(AP)—Albert R. Scroggins, ex-jockey's agent with a record of thirty arrests on bookmaking charges, was fined $3,500 Tuesday for trying to fix a championship basketball game between Southern California and UCLA.

He was convicted of attempting to bribe USC Forward Ken Flower to throw a Southern Division Pacific Coast Conference title game for $1,500 last March 3. Flower's team beat the University of California at Los Angeles, 43 to 41.

Tuesday Superior Judge Philip H. Richards said that although he wanted to crack down on fixed college games, no money passed between Scroggins, 31, ex-paratrooper, and Flower. So the jurist imposed only a fine. He could have been sentenced to five years in prison.

WTAU Brings

A&M vs Arizona in a battle for the Dist. 6 baseball title. Play will be by half innings starting at 4:30 p.m.

'Cats Bat .300

Vassey has hit .373 in 20 games while scoring 27 runs and batting in the same number.

Robin Risher will be the No. 1 pitcher in the absence of Tolson. Risher has won seven and not lost any this season, and has a remarkable earned run average of 1.82. He has walked only 22 and struck out 57.

The other top hurlers will be Dick Corrigan and John Tussey. Through twenty games, Corrigan had posted four wins and one loss while Tussey had won three and lost none.

Tussey had a fat earned run average of 5.0 and Corrigan possessed a much better 2.0.

Mark Delay, the Wildcat outfielder, is (This report is dated May 21.) the leading Arizona batter with a fat .377.

Here is the starting line-up for the Wildcats, plus batting averages through the first twenty games:
