

Cadet Nine to Fly To NCAA Tourney

Eighteen members of the Texas Aggie baseball team, District 6 NCAA champions, and Coach Beau Bell and manager Ted Mohle leave by chartered plane Tuesday morning at 8 for the College World Series in Omaha, Neb.

By virtue of beating the University of Texas the best two out of three regular season games and defeating the University of Arizona by the same method, the Aggies go into the NCAA finals for the first time in their history. Their first opponent will be Springfield, the District 1 NCAA champion.

The game, which is No. 4 in the 14 game series, will be played at Omaha Municipal Stadium beginning at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday. The champion and runnerup will be determined probably in the fourteenth game played Sunday evening.

A&M's must win a minimum of four straight games to take the championship. Since each entry must lose twice before being eliminated, the Cadets can lose their first game and then drop into the "lower bracket" and work themselves up to meet the winner of the "upper bracket" games.

The Farmers will be led in the grinding series by four all District 6 NCAA players—team captain and short stop Guy Wallace, pitcher Pat Hubert, left fielder Yale Lary and third baseman Henry Candelari, Hubert, who has won 12 of the Aggies 29 games this season and lost one, will be the starting hurler for the Ags.

Here are the probable starters, in batting order in the first game with their fielding and batting averages for the season.

SS, Guy Wallace	.896	.348
2nd B, Joe Ecrette	.917	.306
LF, Yale Lary	.985	.307
RF, B. McPherson	.983	.300
CF, John DeWitt	.927	.238
3rd B, H. Candelari	.938	.158
C, Al Ogletree	.981	.313
1st B, B. Munnerlyn	.983	.146
P, Pat Hubert	.833	.139

Right hander Bob Tankersley will probably pitch the second game for the Aggies. Outfielder Hollis Baker and catcher Martin Hamilton may see action in the first game.

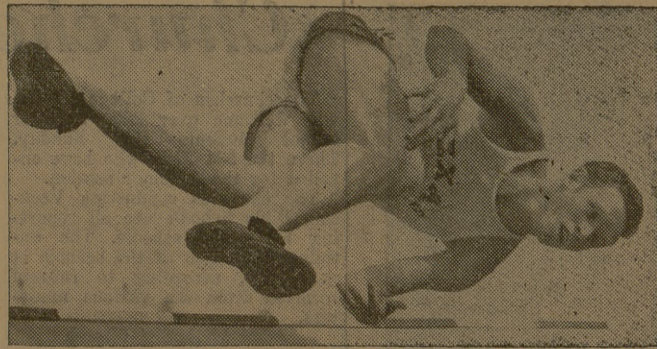

Other Aggies going to Omaha include pitchers Sam Blanton, Sid Goodloe, Blanton Taylor and George Brown and infielders James Dishman and Jerry Lastelick.

Coach . . . and . . . Competitors

Col. Frank Anderson

. . . has been the guiding hand, that in the past seasons has developed the Aggies into the top track team in the Southwest Conference. He will keep his eyes on the men he has trained this season at the AAU meet now going on at San Antonio.

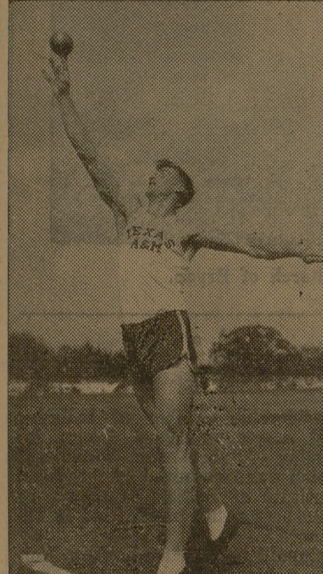

Don Graves in a well known position, clearing the cross bar on the high jump, will be another of the many Aggies favored to take top places in the San Antonio meet, that started today. Graves will also be entered in the hop-skip-and-jump.

Bobby Ragsdale

. . . will be one of the favorites in the broad jump event at the meet that is drawing stars from all over the Southwest. He will also enter the hop-skip-and-jump, something that is not offered as part of the SWC track order.

Darrow Hooper

. . . is naturally, favored to cop the shot and discus at the AAU meet. He'll probably set a new record. If not, he'll come close.

Softballers Clash Tonight At 8 on Lighted Diamond

Bryan Beard will be on the mound at 8 tonight when the Aggie softball team clashes with the Neddalek Service Station nine on the lighted diamond South of the Grove.

Beard will go into the game with a 2-1 record. His only loss was to Madisonville last month. He pitched a no-hit game but was beaten by a 1-0 score as his teammates erred to allow the only run to score.

The Aggies will be going after their first win from the Ned-daleks as they have dropped two games to them in earlier meetings this year.

Last year, Beard pitched for the Austin Fire Department, finalists in the state softball tournament.

In the Southwest Conference Softball Tournament in Austin, earlier this Spring, the Aggies were defeated in the first game and as a result, dropped into the consolation bracket.

They won third place in the tournament by virtue of winning two games in the consolation flight. Beard pitched both games.

Failure to Comply Draws $100 Outlay

New York, June 8—(AP)—Ford Frick, president of the National Baseball League, fined Charles (Chuck) Dressen, Brooklyn manager, $100 for "failure to leave the bench Wednesday when ejected by an umpire."

Dressen was tossed out of the game and later discovered in the alley which connects the Dodger dugout with the dressing room, wearing a grounds-keeper's cap and helping direct the team.

23 Aggies Competing In Southwest AAU

Walter "Buddy" Davis, Darrow Hooper and Bill Stalter are leading 23 members of the undefeated A&M varsity and freshman track teams into the South Texas AAU meet at San Antonio today.

Davis who won the conference high jump event this year and unofficially broke the record when he jumped 6'9" at the Texas Relays, will be entering the hop-skip-and-jump as well as the high jump. The second time he attempted this event in practice, Davis broke the existing AAU record, set at San Antonio two years ago.

Hooper will be the leading competitor in both the shot and discus events on the strength of his showing in several national meets besides a clean sweep of all Southwest Conference meets in the past two years, both as a freshman and as a sophomore sensation.

Another double winner, Stalter will compete in the 100 and 200 meter dashes. Teaming with Stalter will be teammate James Baker.

Bob Hall, SWC record holder in the 220-yard low hurdles with 22.8

and the top collegiate performer in the same event last year, will also enter the meet. He will run the 200 meter lows, as will Bill Bless, SWC champ and the Nations Number two low hurdler.

Conference champion pole vaulter Jack Simpson will be competing in this event at the AAU as will Don Graves, the 1950 SWC pole vault champ. Graves will also enter the high jump.

Other entries in the meet and the event they will run include Charles Gabriel, 5000 meter run; Bernard Place, 400 meter dash; Bill Henry, broad jump and hop-skip-and-jump; Glenn Spradlin, pole vault; Bobby Ragsdale, broad jump and the hop-skip-and-jump.

John Garmany, 1500 meter run; Bob Mays, 400 meter dash; Jim Dimmitt, high jump; Dan Pratt, shot put and discus; Joseph Zern, 1500 meter run; Richard Hampton, high jump; Jim Blaine, 800 meter run; Jerry Stull, 400 meter dash; Don Mitchell, 400 meter dash; and, John Henry, broad jump.

Giants Tounce Cubs 9-8 In Little League Contest

The first triple-play of the young season featured yesterday's game between the Marion Pugh Lumber Co. Cubs and the Conway and Co. Giants in Little League play.

The Giants eked out a 9-8 win from the Cubs when in the fifth inning, hits by Dyal and Giesi and a Cub error brought in three runs to break a 6-6 tie.

Poor base running on the part of Cub players was responsible for the triple-play. In the third inning, with men on second and third base as a result of base hits, Crawford caught a fly in center field, fired to the plate to catch the runner attempting to score from third and Willman rifled a throw to third to catch the runner advancing from second.

The Cubs made a strong bid to pull the game out of the fire in the bottom of the fifth. After the Giants had gone ahead 9-6 and with Hickerson on first via a single, Stuart Helvey blasted a terrific home run, far over the left field fence, to drive in two runs and raise the score to 9-8 where it finally ended.

The umpire permitted Bravencio to score, Willman to move to third and Couger to advance to second. Both teams filed protests on this decision and if either protest is allowed, it may be necessary to replay the game from that point.

The Cubs tallied six runs in the second inning, bunching six bases on balls in combination with hits by Martinez and Hickerson to produce the six runs.

Army, Notre Dame Hint TV Defiance

New York, June 8—(AP)—The crisis in college ranks caused by Pennsylvania's defiance of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's football television ban deepened with indications that Army and Notre Dame may join Penn in following telecasts.

Notre Dame, the school now considered the key to the situation, probably will decide to televise its home games, it was said. It has done so for two years.

Col. Orrin C. Krueger, graduate manager of athletics for Army, said Army may put its own games on the air "if everything breaks wide open."

because its athletes were not expected to figure prominently in the NCAA events this month.

Prof. Hugh C. Willett of the University of Southern California, NCAA president and Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, Western Conference commissioner of athletics, who made the Penn announcement jointly, added that the 17-man policy making council of the NCAA would move to terminate Penn's membership in January.

A member not in good standing may not take part in any National event sponsored by the NCAA.

Of Penn's 1951 opponents, all members of the NCAA and all supposedly bound by regulation not to play football games if televised, only Columbia has indicated it might balk at playing before Franklin Field's cameras.

Goldwater, the laughing man from Phoenix, Ariz., who was finalist in the western amateur last year was ushered out by Herb Durham of Dallas, a little-known tournament player, 6 and 4.

Morey had little trouble trouncing Ralph Miller of Unconia City, Okla., 6 and 5, and Maxwell breezed along to a 4 and 3 triumph over John (Buddy) Weaver of Houston, the Southwest Conference champion.

Don addington, SMU player who felled Don January of Dallas, the tournament medalist, Wednesday had trouble but eked out a win over Newton Burnet of Corsicana, 1 up.

Davis (Spec) Goldman of Dallas, one of the oldest tournament players in the country and a sentimental favorite in this tournament, was carried to 19 holes before he could beat Raleigh Selby of Kilgore.

In another match, Buster Reed, North Texas State College, defeated Dr. H. B. White, Jr., Wichita Falls, 6 and 5.

NCAA Deal Blow

With such gridiron behemoths as Penn, Army and Notre Dame making their games available to television—and assuming their opponents do not refuse to play—the whole NCAA structure will be dealt a powerful blow.

The NCAA acted quickly to put down the uprising by declaring Penn "a member not in good standing."

No Effect on Penn Athletes

At Philadelphia a spokesman for Penn said the ruling actually will have small effect on the University

Softball League Opens Season Today at 5:45

This afternoon at 5:45, the first two games of the College Station Softball League will be unreeled.

One game will pit K. A. Manning's Pirates against the Yankees, led by Bill Hensel. This game will be played at the College Hills diamond, located on Puryear between Walton and Francis streets.

The other game, which will be played on the College Park diamond on Park Place at the end of the Fairview, will match the Giants, against the Cubs.

Les Richardson is in charge of the Giants in the absence of regular pilot, Lucian Morgan and the Cubs are headed by Aden Magee, Jr.

Hensel has named Thomas King as his starting hurler. He will be opposed by Homer Adams.

The Cubs pitcher will be Thomas Wade and the Giants moundsman will be Curtis Gray.

Arbiters for the contests have not been named as yet but umpire-in-chief Joe Correll will have a wide number of choices as 13 men have been named to act as "Blind Toms" for the summer league.

Among those "robbers" are such stalwarts as O. M. Holt, O. F. Allen, A. R. (Pop) Orr, John Q. Hays, Clinton Walker, H. A. Luther, R. L. Hunt, Gordon Gay, "Jersey Joe" Woollett, Charles Leighton, Wendell Horsley, Joe Motheral and Frank Anderson.

These teams may not rival any major league organization but all managers have assured they will field as strong a team as possible.

Trans-Miss Favorites Win Matches

Dallas, June 8—(AP)—Favorites Dale Morey of Dallas and Billy Maxwell of North Texas State College sailed through the second round of the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament yesterday. Such well-ranked shot-makers as Bob Goldwater and Don Schumacher bit the dust.

Schumacher, the Dallas veteran and the only former champion in the field, went down before Capt. Fred Moseley of San Antonio, the national air forces kingpin, 1 up in 21 holes.

Goldwater, the laughing man from Phoenix, Ariz., who was finalist in the western amateur last year was ushered out by Herb Durham of Dallas, a little-known tournament player, 6 and 4.

Morey had little trouble trouncing Ralph Miller of Unconia City, Okla., 6 and 5, and Maxwell breezed along to a 4 and 3 triumph over John (Buddy) Weaver of Houston, the Southwest Conference champion.

Penn's TV Policy Won't Affect SWC

Dallas, June 8—(AP)—The Southwest Conference's television plans will not be affected by any decision made by other schools, Executive Secretary Howard Grubbs said yesterday.

He was asked if Penn's decision to go ahead and televise its football games in defiance of the NCAA would have any bearing on the Southwest Conference's plans.

"The conference adopted the same plan as last year," Grubbs said, "of televising only sell-out games."

Under the NCAA plan, each school would be allowed to televise one home game, regardless of whether it was a sellout.

Locke Fires 68 To Grab Lead

New Rochelle, N.Y., June 8—(AP)—It was just as though Bobby Locke had never been away as the jowled South African clicked off a methodical 68 yesterday to grab the lead at the 18-hole mark in the Palm Beach Round Robin Tournament.

Bobby's 35-33-68 was four under par for the 6,569-yard layout. It gave him a "plus" score of 16, four better than that of his closest pursuers, Chick Harbert and Roberto De Vicenzo.

Jim Ferrier, like Locke, made it around in 68, but he stood no better than fourth tonight at plus 11, because this tournament is not played under any rules recognized by the Royal and Ancient.

Locke, by the luck of draw, found Chandler Harper, the current American PGA champion, playing in his foursome. Chandler had a horrible day. He shot a whopping 41-39-80, and on him alone, the South African picked up 12 of his plus points. Harper stood at minus 32 as play began today.

Tied with Lloyd Mangrum at plus 4 were Fred Haas Jr., of New Orleans, who had a 70; Ed Oliver, also a 70 and Jimmy DeMaret, 71.

Richards Has Private Rooting Section Now

Chicago, June 8—(AP)—Paul Rapier Richards, manager of the Phenomenal Chicago White Sox, had his personal rooting section with him yesterday. His wife and their daughters, Paula, 12, and Lorethide, 6, arrived from Waxahouche to spend the rest of the summer with Richards.
