

NT Golfer Leads Way At NCAA

Columbus, Ohio, June 29—(AP)—Buster Reed of North Texas State emerged a 1-up victory yesterday over Curtis Jacobs of Wisconsin in the most sensational match of the 1951 intercollegiate golf championships.

Reed was four under par and Jacobs three under on the 6,915-yard par-72 scarlet course at the Ohio State University golf layout.

The two collegians matched eagle 3's and the 515 yard, par 5 No. 4 hole in their heated race to enter the quarter-finals for the individual championship today.

Jacobs Evens Match

Reed stood 1-up over Jacobs at the turn with a 33 to Jacobs' 34. They halved the tenth and Jacobs evened the match on the eleventh. Reed, however, won the 13th to regain his margin of one—and kept that edge the rest of the way.

Jacobs' final bid to even matters came on the par-3 No. 17 where he sank a three-foot putt for a deuce. But Reed matched the birdie and Jacobs' last chance for victory evaporated.

Reed will meet another Texan—Wesley Ellis of the University of Texas—in the quarter-finals. Ellis took SMU's Ross Mitchell 2 and 1 in yesterday's play.

Tom Neipporte, Ohio State hot-shot, stayed well in the running with a 2 and 1 victory over Notre Dame's Tom Veech while Rice's John Weaver was trimming Iowa's Tom Crabbe 5 and 4 and Georgia's John Carson was getting by Ohio State's Bob Rankin 3 and 2.

Reed's Round Second Best

Reed's 68 was the second lowest round of the week. Sam Kocsis of Detroit turned in a 67 in Monday's qualifying round, but Kocsis lost out in the first tournament round to Mitchell.

Two upsets featured yesterday morning's second-round play.

John Dymowski of Temple University, captain of his team, downed Dow Finsterwald of Ohio University, a Walker cup alternate, one up in 20 holes.

Don Johnson of Ohio State defeated Bill Ragland of Princeton, one up on 22 holes. Ragland is the Tennessee amateur champ.

League Leaders

K. A. Manning, right, back row is giving out with a big smile after a recent game the Pirates won. On Manager Manning's right are Marion Pugh, Homer Adams, Ed Garner, Charles Orr and Andy Salis. Front row, right to left are Jake Baird, Johnnie Lyon, Sonny Prewitt, and Jake Magee.

Tigers, Bucs Meet Tribe, Cubs Today

There are two softball games scheduled for the College Station Softball League this afternoon at 5:45.

On the College Hills diamond the Tigers will try to scalp the Indians while at College Park field, the Pirates and Cubs get together for one-game setto.

For the Tigers it will probably be Newt Williamson on the mound facing Barney Welch.

Monday afternoon on the same fields, the Yanks clash with the Bengals and the Indians take on the Giants. The Yank-Tiger game will be at College Park and the Indian-Giants game at College Hills.

College View All-Stars Whip Walton in Exhibition Game

By TOM ROUNTREE
Battalion Sports Staff

College View All-Stars took the Walton Wasp over the hurdles last night 10-4 on the lighted softball diamond.

The game opened with All-Star Third Baseman Harry Williams hitting a grounder to Wasp Short, Rawlings who scooped it up and pegged it into first for the first out. The next All-Star up, Gil Bailey, got on first on a fielder's choice. Wasp hurler Sonny Holloway then gave three big ones to both Lindy Nelson and Richard Arnold who both went down swinging to retire the side.

Wasps Fail Also

The Wasps fared little better than the All-Stars had in their portion of the first. All-Star Pitcher Bailey struck out the Wasp lead-off man, Charlie Lucas, Lucas was followed at the plate by Bob Fox who sizzled one to Bailey who raked it in and flipped it over to First Baseman Al Furnace for the second out. Bailey then took Wasp batter Jib Stevens for the full count to retire Walton in the first.

College View got off to a slow start in the top of the second as Catcher Scotty Davis grounded out and the next man up, Mac McCurdy, swung at air three times to give the All-Stars their first two outs. The ball game blew wide open as Lester Smith got on base with a hit and the next five men in a row all crossed the plate to give the All-Stars first blood.

All-Star Third Baseman Williams stepped up to the plate with three men on and blasted out the only earned homer of the game to sweep the bases clean. Bailey was the next man up for the All-Stars and got on with a base hit but later died on second as Scotty Davis grounded out for the third out.

The second inning was relatively uneventful for the Wasps as they managed to get only one man on base and that was on a walk. First batter was Marion Porter who hit a ground ball to first base.

where Furnace picked it up and made the out unassisted.

Rawlings was the next man up and popped one up that was hauled down by Pitcher Bailey. The third out came when Wasp Catcher Ted Ritchey whammed a grounder to short that was shoveled up and pegged to first in plenty of time for the out.

All-Stars McCurdy and Smith were the only men to get on base in the third. McCurdy got a hit but Smith got hit by a pitched ball to take his base.

Walton tried to stage a comeback in the bottom of the third with Dean Blackwell getting on base with a walk; Holloway with a hit; and Charlie Lucas with a fielder's choice. Bob Fox slugged one into center field where it was bobbled by Center Fielder Arnold. Holloway came on around the bases and into home to score Walton's first run on the error. Stevens and Porter then flew out to short and second respectively to retire the side.

Slow Fielding Hurt

Arnold was the first man up for the All-Stars in the fourth and laid a slow grounder almost down the third base line which Wasp player Quoyser was a little slow picking up. As a result, Arnold beat the peg by just a hair to take first.

Williams was the next man at the plate and he slugged the ball into a double to score C V's only score of the inning and get credit for knocking Arnold in. The next three men went down to retire the side.

Rawlings made the first out for Walton in the fourth as he went down for the count. A one-base hit got Quoyser on base with plenty of time to spare. The second out went down the drain when Ritchey popped out to short. Blackwell then got on as a result of a bobbled ball and thereby forced Quoyser into scoring position. A hit by Holloway gave him an RBI as Quoyser slid under All-Star Davis' mitt to give Walton another run. Lucas then popped out to short and Walton had to go back to work.

Red Sox Stomp Yanks 11-2; Cubs Tie Phils In LL Games

By ANDY ANDERSON
Battalion Sports Editor

Southside Food Market's Red Sox blasted the Lilly Ice Cream Yankees 11-2 while the Marion Pugh Lumber Company Cubs gained a 7-7 tie with Conway Phillies as two College Station Little League teams won one and a half games in yesterday's play.

In the Red Sox-Yankee game it was a case of too much Sox and too many Yankee errors.

Playing a regulation six-inning game, the Red Sox managed to tally in every inning but the third when after Lyle Broemling gained life on an error by Hardy Weedon, Yank third baseman, the next three batters failed to deliver.

James Couch and Wayne Thompson both struck out while George Carroll grounded out, short to first.

Initial Score In First

The Sox tallied their first run in the initial inning when Carroll, Red Hose first baseman was hit by a pitched ball and pushed on around on a combination of two walks and a fielder's choice—the second walk forcing in the run.

In the second canto, Yankee pitcher Butch Sheffield walked two men, struck out one and then passed two more. The fourth free ticket forced Couch in for the second run of the game and then Sox hurler, Bob Potts drove in what eventually proved to be the winning runs with a double to left field. Thompson and Paul Hildebrand scored on the solid smash.

Yanks Break Drouth

Sheffield scored the first Yank run in the third when he singled to right field, moved to second when Thompson was slow in playing the ball, to third on a wild pitch and came home on another wild pitch by Potts.

The fourth inning was a nightmare for the Yankees as nine Red Sox players came to the plate. With one out, Jimmy Simpson, Sox catcher, beat out an infield hit and was moved to second when Potts blasted out another hit, this one a single to center field.

Alton Arnold, Sox short stop gained life on an error and Jerry Smith rapped one off Sheffield's shins for a single. Simpson scored on the hit and Potts came in when Broemling grounded out, pitcher to first.

Sox Score on Error

Arnold scored on a miscue by Charles Andrus, Yank right fielder on a dropped fly off the bat of Couch. With two men on, Carroll whiffed to end the inning.

The Yanks retaliated with one run in the fifth on four walks by Simpson and Broemling, and three errors by the Yankees.

The line score:
Yankees 001 010—2 1 8
Red Sox 130 43x—11 7 2

Phils Start With Bang

In the other contest, the Phillies started out like they were going to make a runaway out of it as they scored four runs the first time they were at bat.

Fernando Quintero, third base, waited out a walk, Gary Woodard, second baseman lined a single to left field, Johnny Niederauer, first baseman who later pitched, walked and Joe Brooks Thompson, short stop looped a long double to center field to plate two men. Niederauer and Thompson later scored on miscues by second baseman David McNeely and Dicky Hickerson, first baseman.

The Cubs lowered the margin by two runs as they broke the ice in the top of the second. Stuart Helvey, playing left field at the time, lashed a single to right and the Cubs plucky catcher, Dan Keown, was given a free ticket to first.

Edgar Feldman, Cub right fielder also walked but the next two men, McNeely and Buddy Holick looked at third strikes. The Cubs grounding short stop, John Martinez blasted a double to score both men.

Martinez Produces Again

In the fourth inning, Feldman singled and after McNeely and Holick fanned for their second straight time, Martinez delivered again, this time with a single to left field and Micky McGuire, center fielder, followed suit with a double to left scoring both runners.

It was a tie game after the top half of the fifth as Hickerson, Cub first baseman walked. Helvey doubled to center, Hickerson stopping at third, Keown walked and Hickerson scored when Feldman grounded to second.

Things looked bad for the Cubs as the Phils broke the tie in the bottom of the fifth. Helvey had moved in from left field to take over the pitching chores and was promptly greeted by a single to right field by Anastacio Herrera, Phil catcher.

Herrera moved around on a walk and scored on two wild pitches by Helvey. Leo Grimalto who had replaced Frank McCoy in left field for the Phils was issued a walk and he too, scored on a wild pitch after being pushed around to third by two walks, given to Jerry Doherty, pinch hitting for right fielder Don Griffin, and David Phipps.

The score was knotted once again as Martinez blooped a drive to left field that went for a three-base error. McGuire grounded out, third to first and Richard Miller, starting pitcher but later shifted to left field when Helvey took over the mound, walked.

Hickerson hit an easy roller to second that was fumbled by Woodard and as Martinez scored, Miller went to third. Helvey laced out his third hit of the day, this time a single to left, to score Miller with the tying run.

Hickerson moved to third and with one out, Keown lined to Quintero who made a leaping catch of the ball and fell on third base to complete an unassisted double play that throttled the Cubs and robbed them of a chance to break up the ball game.

Helvey Holds Phils

With shadows falling over the field, Helvey got the first two Phil hitters to strike out and the third to ground out, short to first, to end the ball game.

The line score:

Cubs 020 212—7 9 4
Phils 410 020—7 5 2

The tie will count as a half game won and a half game lost in league standings.

If you, John Q. Public, want to see some mighty good baseball, make a trip out to the Little League park. It is located just off College Avenue, adjacent to the Bryan Country Club and almost within rock-throwing distance of a park where some, if not most of the youngsters will be playing before too many years go by.

Youngsters Show Promise

The young ballplayers range in age from eight to 12 and some of them show ability to turn into great ballplayers with a little more heft and added experience gained through growing up.

Another thing that is always noticeable is the fact the boys seldom beef about any decision any of the officials make. There were several occasions yesterday when they had legitimate squawks coming but rather than raise a question, they would take it "like a man."

Activity in the Little League today finds the Giants and Cardinals of the National and the Tigers and Athletics of the American clashing at 3:30 p. m. and 5:30 p. m.

The next game for either of the College Station teams is Monday when the Red Sox tangle with the Tigers. Tuesday action finds the Cubs meeting the Giants of Lester's Smart Shop.

Cards Door Shut By Hiller's Neat Hurling

By Associated Press

Frank Hiller, a Yankee who got away, is the new glamor boy pitcher of the majors after his brilliant one-hitter for the Chicago Cubs.

Hiller faced only 27 St. Louis Cardinals last night, walking lead-off man Tommy Glaviano in the first and allowing a single to Enos Slaughter in the fifth. Both were erased on double plays.

Cubs Hit For Hiller

The Cubs backed up Frankie boy with a generous 12-hit attack off Gerry Staley and Al Brazle for an 8-0 win.

Hiller's sparkler, however, did not have as much effect on the National League race as Monte Irvin's two home runs for New York's 5-4 edge over the leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Irvin hit Nos. 11 and 12 off Ralph Branca to clip the Dodgers' lead to five games. Branca took a 4-2 edge into the eighth, thanks to a leaky four-error defense by the Giant infield. Don Mueller's single and a bunt single by Whitey Lockman set it up for Irvin to blast Branca's first pitch deep into the upper left field seats for his second homer of the game.

The National League staged another of its "dawn" games, due to rain interruptions at Cincinnati where the Pittsburgh Pirates finally edged the Reds, 7-5, in a game ending at 12:39 a.m. (EST).

The Pirates got away on top and had a 7-1 lead after six innings. It barely lasted. Rain held up the game three times—for 44 minutes in the first inning, 52 minutes in the third and 25 minutes in the ninth.

Rain Possibly Hurt Chances

Cincy had the tying runs on base with two out and 3-2 on Johnny Wryostek when time was called in the last inning. When they resumed, Wryostek fouled out to end the game.

Eddie Sawyer's efforts to shake the Phillies out of their day-dreams by banishing Mike Goliat to Baltimore apparently worked in a 3-2 win over Boston in 10 innings. Tommy Brown, Goliat's replacement, scored from second on a force out when Roy Hartsfield threw wild to the plate in the 10th.

Casey Stengel needed two pitchers—Tom Morgan and Joe Ostrowski—to shut out Washington, 3-0, as the Yankees reduced idle Chicago's American League lead to one half game. The White Sox's scheduled day game with Detroit was washed out after half an inning.

Pinch hitter Cliff Mapes came through with three runs double off Sid Hudson in a typical Yankee explosion in the eighth inning.

Hudson wilted in 90 degree heat after allowing only three hits through the first seven innings. He faced only 22 batters over that stretch.
