

Cubs Dropped By Cardinals, 15-13

By GUS BECKER
Battalion Sports Staff

With the score tied 13-13 in the bottom of the sixth inning Bully Batten slammed his second two run homer of the game as the Cardinals outstaged the Cubs 15-13 in their game at Little League park yesterday afternoon.

The Cards committed six errors which gave the Cubs five unearned runs while the Bruins had a tight defense and made only one miscue. The Cubs went into the lead in the top of the first inning scoring three runs off three Redbird errors and a single by Dick Hickerson, Bruin first baseman.

Cangelosi Starts It

Veto Cangelosi, Cardinal leftfielder and leadoff man, started off the first inning with a walk and scored a few pitches later when Batten knocked his first home run of the day over the left-centerfield wall. The Cards combined successful singles by first baseman Rossland Harrison and shortstop Sammy Dwyer, walks to pitcher Gene Cheatham and right fielder Bill Carmichael, a single by Billy Pike, catcher and Batten's second hit of the inning to score four more runs and take the lead six to three.

With John Martinez, shortstop for the Cubs on base via an error and pitcher Edgar Feldman on board via a hit, leftfielder Michael McGuire poled a three-two pitch over the leftfield fence to tie the score six to six in the top of the second.

Dwyer walked to start the second inning for the Cardinals then Bill Conbusier, Redbird second baseman walked and both scored on an error and a sacrifice to go into the lead once again eight to six.

Both teams failed to score in the third frame but the Cubs came up with one run in the fourth on a double by Stuart Helvy and a single by Dan Keown, Bruin third sacker and catcher respectively.

Cards Take Lead

The Cardinals went into the lead 12 to 7 by scoring four runs in the bottom of the fourth on walks to Cheatham, Carmichael, Cangelosi, Batten's third hit and a double by Ronnie Allen, Card third baseman.

The Cubs tied the score in the fifth 12-12 on doubles by Martinez, Helvy and Richard Miller and a single by Keown. The Redbirds took the lead again in their half of the fifth.

Two walks and a double by McGuire tied the score in top of the sixth as the Cubs left three men stranded on base.

Cangelosi got on base on the sixth inning for the Cardinals because of interference by the Cubs (See CUBS DROPPED, Page 4)

Aggie Football Staff

A Pigskin Preview of Aggie Coaching Staff for '51

By ANDY ANDERSON
Battalion Sports Editor

A&M will have one of the largest football coaching staffs in the conference for the coming year—not necessarily in numbers but in size.

Head Coach Ray George and newly appointed Line Coach Paul McMurtry both tip the scales at about 260 pounds. Henry Foldberg, also newly appointed as end coach will tip the scales at about 235 and the rest of the staff, Gil Steinke, backfield coach; James (Klepto) Holmes, freshman coach; Dalton Faircloth, assistant backfield coach; and Trainer Bill Dayton will all weigh close to the 200 mark.

Besides the aggregate weight of the septet, the combined ages of the group is approximately 250 years with the average about 33 or so making them one of the youngest, if not the youngest staffs in the coaching profession at a major school.

Looks Big As Battleship

George looks more like the "Mighty Mo" going through the Panama Canal than he does a Southwest Conference grid coach. Standing six feet tall and tipping the scales at 263 after a handball match, George still possesses the hard muscles and yard-wide shoulders he had as a star tackle with the Southern California Trojans.

George is a believer in demonstration rather than just telling the boys how he wants it done. He never hesitates to get down with a shoulder into one of his boys to show the proper way to feint and block.

Born in St. Louis

The massive giant was born in St. Louis, Mo. but attended Loyola (Calif.) High School where he lettered four years as a football tackle, three years as a weight man on the track team and three years as a baseball catcher.

He lettered three years as a tackle at the University of Southern California where he made all-Pacific Coast in 1938 and received honorable mention for all-America. This was the year the Trojans defeated national champions Notre Dame 13-0 and Duke 7-3 in the Rose Bowl.

George played pro football one year before joining the USC coaching staff as a line coach. During the five years George was line coach, USC won the Pacific Coast title twice and ranked high three times. He was chief assistant to head coach Jeff Cravath the last two years at Southern Cal.

Foldberg—All-American

Foldberg, an ex-Aggie of the class of 1945, received all-America honors in 1945 and 1946 while performing end duties for the Cadets at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. He played basketball and lacrosse, gaining all-America honors in lacrosse in 1947.

A resident of Dallas, Foldberg played pro football with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1948 and the Chicago Hornets in 1949. He was end coach for the University of Miami during spring practice in 1948 and Baylor during the spring drills of 1949. He went to Purdue for the remainder of the spring drills in 1949 and was given full time status in January, 1950.

The other giant of the coaching staff, McMurtry, was graduated from Southern Cal in February, 1951 after lettering as guard for the Trojans three years. The 31-year-old Navy veteran was team captain last season and blocked the punt which gave the Trojans a 9-6 victory over Notre Dame. He was named all-Pacific Coast last year.

Native Texan

A native of Rio Hondo, Paul entered the Navy and was on duty eight years. As a physical education major, he entered Long Beach (Calif.) Junior College and entered USC the following year.

"All of us coaches at Southern Cal said we'd hire Paul as a line coach if we ever become head coach somewhere," Head Coach George said. "Well, I'm the first one to get the head job and I'm getting Paul."

Both McMurtry and Foldberg are frequenters of Joe Fagan's contribution to A&M entertainment—the A&M Golf Course. When questioned about their scores recently, they were very discreet about divulging their totals but rather said "we're improving a little bit at a time."

Steinke—Little All-American

Steinke, who has been on the coaching staff since January 1950, is a former little all-America backfield ace. He played his college football at Texas A&I at Kingsville and graduated to the pro ranks where he performed for the Philadelphia Eagles for three years. He led the National League in punt returns in 1946.

Later he was backfield coach at Trinity University in San Antonio and freshman coach at Oklahoma A&M in the Fall of 1949.

AMERICAN LAUNDRY & DRY CLEANERS

Faircloth earned nine letters while in high school in Bolton High, Alexandria, La. After graduating with letters in football, basketball and track in 1929, he entered college in Louisiana College, Pineville.

Three Frosh Letters

He earned three freshman numerals in football, baseball and track. When he advanced to varsity standing he won 12 letters in four sports—football, track, basketball and baseball. He was named to the all-Louisiana Intercollegiate Athletic Association teams for both football and basketball in 1931.

In 1933 and 1934, Faircloth coached the freshman teams at Louisiana College and guided them to freshman titles both years. This was a beginning of 13 years coaching.

He mentored the New Albany, Miss. High School to a Northeast Mississippi Class A title in 1941 prior to entering the service in 1942 for 52 months duty. He was placed on inactive duty in 1946 as a captain. While in the service, he served as a Physical Training instructor for the Army Air Forces.

Returned to Gridiron

After he was mustered out, he returned to coaching—this time at DeQuincy, La. High School from 1946-50 where he led the team to the semi-finals in 1948 and to the State Class A finals in 1949. For this achievement, Faircloth was selected as Coach of the Year.

Other than his coaching duties, he managed to find time to play a little semi-pro baseball in 1929 and 1936. He also played one year of pro basketball in 1938.

During the 1950 football season, Faircloth acted as B team coach and also did some scouting duties for the varsity which was directed by Harry Stifeler.

Holmes, who is "Klepto" to his many friends, played as a guard on the 1926 and 1927 Aggie grid teams. He gained all-SWC recognition his last year.

He coached football at LaFeria

High School for one year and then returned to A&M as line coach under the then head coach Matty Bell, now director of athletics for SMU.

He left A&M to take a coaching position at Cuero High School in 1933 and in 1934 moved to Alamo Heights in San Antonio. After these coaching positions, Holmes moved to Arlington where he fielded championship teams in 1935, 1936, 1938 and 1943. His teams finished second in the old Texas Junior College conference in 1940 and 1941.

The man who keeps the players (and sometimes the coaches) in shape is one Bill Dayton. He was named as A&M's trainer on August 1, 1949. He is known for his remarkable record of keeping Aggie athletes "ready to play."

Rated Tops in Field

Outsiders who have followed his work over the years rate Dayton one of the top trainers in the country and Aggie athletes and coaches second the motion.

Bill was trainer for Tulane University at New Orleans for two years before coming to A&M. Earlier he was trainer at the University of Miami from 1938-42 and again in 1945-46 and part of 1947.

Born in New York City in 1914, Dayton was at Georgia Pre-Flight in Athens, Ga. as part of training for the Navy for three years. He graduated from high school in 1933 and graduated from the Swedish Institute of Physiotherapy in 1937.

As further training in his life's work, Dayton furthered his education upon graduation from the Eastern School of Physiotherapy in 1938.

Ags Schedule 2 Ball Games Under Lights

A&M's softball representatives will meet the College View All-Stars in a rematch tonight on the lighted diamond at 8:15.

College View fell before the onslaughts of the Ags two weeks ago by an 8-1 score.

Bryan Beard will pitch for the Aggies while it will be L. E. Winder for the All-Stars. Winder has been pitching for both Nedbaeks Service Station nine from Bryan and also the Madisonville All-Stars.

Thursday it will be the same two pitchers facing each other as the Ags engage the Nedbaek team at 8:15 p. m. on the lighted diamond.

Title Defenders Open Season This Afternoon

By TOM ROUNTREE
Battalion Sports Staff

Bizzell Bears, defending non-military softball champions, will start their defense of the title this afternoon when they meet Dorm 15 in the opening game of the second six weeks tourney.

The Bears capped the title when they downed Milner in a two out of three game series. Milner dropped the first game in the series but bounced back to take the second. Bizzell then stormed back when the blue chips were on the table and took the title in the final game.

Milner and Bizzell will be slight favorites in the league but it can go any of a number of ways as the league was relatively tight during the last six weeks. There will be almost twice as many games played in this six weeks. To work all the games scheduled into the time available, six Fridays and one Saturday games had to be scheduled. All the teams in the league will have one game on Friday and Walton and Texas will have to play one game on Saturday.

Fish Start Monday

Freshman softball will not start until July 23 but once the tourney gets under way, all four teams will play every day until the tournament is over. At the end of the softball league, the freshman will start their volleyball league. Freshman ball will be especially interesting to watch as it is not determinable as yet whether they lose enough players at the end of this last semester to hurt their teams.

Non-military volleyball will get underway next Monday with Vet Village defending their volleyball championship against Bizzell. The city clad lads will play only one game a day in their volleyball league.

Texas Questionable

Biggest question being discussed this semester among the teams is what type of ball club will Texas field. The Texas lads were something of a disappointment last semester as they just couldn't seem to get rolling in softball. They managed to get through the season without winning a game. All of their athletic glory came on the volleyball court as they were barely nosed out of the championship by Vet Village.

Texas will give a preview of their second semester team Thursday when they meet Milner.

Lou Brissie, new pitching acquisition of the Cleveland Indians, has never pitched less than 200 innings in any one of his three full years in the majors.

Indians, Giants Tangle With Tigers, Pirates

The second half of the College Station Softball League will begin today, rather than yesterday, as reported in yesterday's Battalion.

There will be two games in the four-team league, reorganized early this week from the former six-team loop, with the Indians squaring off against the Tigers and the Giants meeting the Pirates.

Hank Mills, manager of the Indians will probably start Barney Welch against New Williamson, one of the co-managers of the Tigers who are ably guided by both Williamson and John Rogers.

In the Giant-Pirate fracas, Bill Hensel has named Sarg. White to face Homer Adams of the Pirates, directed by K. A. Manning. The four teams will play each Wednesday and Friday on the two diamonds used in the first-half, College Hills and College Park.

The semester schedule:

5 DIFFERENT GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

sent me 5 different answers!

Now you can join in a nation-wide movement to stop this kind of waste—a movement that's already saving us billions in tax dollars annually!

When a certain farmer wrote for information on fertilizer, he received 5 different and conflicting replies from 5 different agencies.

The bipartisan Hoover Commission uncovered many such examples of confusion and waste. It found that the government was borrowing money from itself and paying interest on it... that two agencies had run $250,000 surveys for a natural resources project at sites two miles apart and come up with estimates that varied by $75 million!

Today, 50% of the Hoover Report recommendations have been enacted into law. The result? Federal costs have been reduced by billions of dollars and federal machinery has been streamlined and strengthened to face any crisis.

But there's still more to be done. The rest of the Report recommendations are now before Congress. If passed, they can save us additional billions of dollars each year and make our government still stronger.

Here's what you can do. Send today for the FREE booklet, "Will We Be Ready?" This booklet gives the rousing story behind the Hoover Report—the startling facts it disclosed—the wonderful progress it has made. With it you'll be well prepared to work for better government—to help finish a job on which our National Security may well depend.

The Hoover Commission and The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report

The Hoover Commission was created unanimously by Congress in 1947 on a bipartisan basis—6 Democrats, 6 Republicans. The Citizens Committee is a bipartisan, nonprofit group to encourage enactment of Hoover Report recommendations for greater efficiency in the Federal Government.
