

'Bruisin' Bob' Gets National Mag Publicity

By ANDY ANDERSON
Battalion Sports Editor

Generally recognized as the greatest running back the Southwest Conference has ever produced, "Bruisin' Bob" Smith is becoming one of the nations "pin-up boys."

Pie's Football Quarterly will feature Smith on its cover with a color picture and further add to this, a writeup on the inside in their magazine which is for release August 3 but don't be surprised to see it on the stands a little earlier in this section.

Billed As "Masked Marvel"

In an advance copy received by the College Information Office yesterday, Smith is billed as the "Masked Marvel" because of the grotesque mask he wore after breaking his nose in the Baylor contest last year.

The magazine gives him credit for winning every honor which the Southwest can give him. It goes into his remarkable record set last year, his performance as a sophomore and the honors bestowed upon him by the various sports associations around the nation. Statistics on Smith and the color picture were furnished by the Information Office.

In the section on the Southwest Conference, Elan Hall, sports editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, lists him as the "nations No. 1 boy."

Delving into the article about the SWC, we found that Hall predicts the outcome of the conference like this: A&M, Texas and Baylor in a tie for first; TCU fourth, SMU, fifth and Arkansas and Rice sixth and seventh respectively.

Hall Summarizes

Looking still deeper into the article, Hall summarizes the Aggie football situation like this: "The Maroon and White Jerseys of the Aggies adorn the finest set of running backs in the conference. 'Rapid Robert' Smith is a true All-America fullback.

"Halfback Glen Lippman and Billy Tidwell are capable of going all the way on any play. Yale Lary, a two-year letterman and Connie Magourik, flash from New London who did not play last year, make the ground threat immense."

Rounding out the backfield, Dick Gardemal, a cool two-year letterman who possesses the necessary capabilities of a quarterback but is handicapped by height, will be understudied by senior Delmar Sikes, Roy Dollar, a junior college transfer and Ray Graves.

Hooper May Quarterback

Darrow Hooper, listed this year as an end, may be called on to perform at quarterback, a position he played a little last year when he was not kicking extra points or making kickoffs.

On the defensive backfield, Lary and Charley McDonald look like the best prospects to carry the burden of the safety position duties, getting help in the defensive backfield from several returning lettermen from last year's team and men up from the B and freshman teams.

Line Averages 204

The offensive line will average about 204 pounds and about 206 on defense. Charlie Hodges and Walter Hill are the standout ends with Sam Moses and Jack Little expected to furnish the bulk of the duty at tackles.

Elo Nohavitsa and W. T. Rush at guard will team with one of the best centers in the conference, Hugh Meyer, to plug up the center of the line.

A semi-platoon system will be employed by the Aggies this year as a lack of first line reserves will require almost the entire line to play both offense and defense.

This system might be changed as the season progresses and more of the men up from the B and freshman teams acquire game experience.

In any event, look for the Aggies to set records in the scoring column and the Aggie backs to rack up sectional and possibly endanger national rushing records. And most assuredly, look for Smith to make not just a few, but all of the All-America teams in the nation.

Red Sox Trip Yanks 19-17; Cubs Dropped by Phillies 6-5

A dramatic finish was the feature of both games in Little League play yesterday as the Conway Phillies scored two runs in the bottom of the sixth to defeat the Marion Pugh Cubs 6-5 while the Southside Food Market Red Sox snuffed a Lilly Yankee rally to outlast them 19-17.

Stuart Helvey, Cub hurler, started the last inning off well enough as he struck out the first man to face him, David Phipps, Yank center fielder. Fernando Quintero, third baseman rolled one toward second that Buddy Hollick bobbled.

Helvey struck out Johnny Niederauer for the second out but winning pitcher, Joe Brooks Thompson greeted him with a three-bagger that tied the affair at 5-5. Thompson scored as Edgar Feldman let Anastacio Herrera's slow roller get through his legs.

Sox Get 15 Run Lead

In the Sox-Yankee contest, the Red Hose built up a 19-4 lead in three innings but six run rallies by the Yanks in the fourth and sixth and one run in the fifth gave the Red Sox anxious moments.

The Cubs started off the scoring with one in the first, tallied three in the third and went ahead 5-4 in the top of the sixth while the Phillies scored twice in the second, once in the third, again in the fifth to take a 4-3 lead and set up the stage for the winning runs in the bottom of the sixth.

Niederauer started for the Phils, was relieved by Roy Carpenter and Thompson finished and received credit for the win. Thompson's triple and Carpenter's single were the only hits off Helvey but wildness was the big difference as he walked 11.

For the Cubs, Feldman, Dick Hickerson, Helvey and Richard Miller collected hits off the deliveries of the three Phil hurlers.

Sixteen men strolled to the plate in the Red Sox first as five hits, eight walks and one Yank error accounted for 12 Sox markers.

The Sox racked up four more in the second on three hits and two Yankee errors and in the third scored three more as the Sox' bats continued booming with two hits, one a triple by Bobby Potts.

Butch Sheffield, starting hurler for the Yanks greeted Potts with a double in the first inning as the first hitter. He went to third as Jimmy Simpson let one of Potts' pitches get by him and when Simpson tried to throw Sheffield out at third, he threw wild to allow Sheffield to score.

In the third, the Yanks tallied three runs on two hits and three walks, with the big blow being Louis Andrus' double to center field that rattled the boards.

28 Walks in Game

Potts and Alton Arnold, who relieved Potts in the fifth, gave up 18 bases on balls while Sheffield, Willie Mac Tate and Andrus doled out 10 free tickets.

The Yankees committed six errors and the Red Sox were guilty of five bobbles afield.

The win for the Sox was their eighth straight in the second half of Little League play. They have one more contest to play Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 against the Seve-up Tigers. Potts will probably start the contest with either Arnold or Wayne Thompson available for relief if the occasion arises.

Continuation Of Golf Clinic Slated

There will be a golf clinic each Monday and Wednesday afternoon at 5 at the A&M Golf Course, Joe Fagan said this morning.

This clinic is a continuation of the one sponsored last semester for the benefit of those students and faculty members who wish to either learn the game or improve their score.

In conjunction with the other summer activities sponsored by the College Station Recreation Council, Fagan is again sponsoring a clinic for school age youngsters every morning at 8, Fagan said.

Recent reseeding of the greens and continuous watering has improved the greens tremendously. Fagan added. Poisoning for three weeks with 10 per cent chloridene solution has killed the sod web worms which had eaten the greens until they were beginning to be almost unplayable but that has been remedied through special care, Fagan commented.

Touring Tankers

Gail Edge. Front: Dave Bonnen, Dick Weick, Gayle Klipple, Tom Barlow, Tommy Butler, Van Adamson and James Baker. Nancy Terrell, Wally Penberthy, Billy Hale, Billy Karow, Van Herford and Bob Karow will also make the two-day trip to East Texas but were not present when the picture was made.

Beard's One-Hitter Wins 3-0

Bryan Beard, ace Aggie moundsmen, authored his second one-hit ball game in as many nights as the Aggie Softballers blanked the Nedbalek Service Station 3-0 under the lights last night.

Beard set the Nedbalek batters down in order for three innings, striking out four. In the fourth frame Henry Wilson, rightfielder for Nedbalek, hit a single into center but was forced to die on first base as Beard made Gene Byers, centerfielder and George Stuart, second baseman, fly out to end the inning.

A Nedbalek seventh inning rally was nipped in the bud when Jewell McDowell, Aggie shortstop, speared a line drive off the bat of Stuart and threw to Bill Campbell, first baseman, to double off Byers who had reached there on an error. Shortstop Mat Williams popped out to Aggie's second baseman Al Rollins to end the game.

The Aggies collected a hit in every inning except the first, but couldn't score until the sixth when they pushed three runs across. Mack Howell, Aggie catcher, led off in the sixth with a single to center and Dick Lentzen, third baseman, drew a walk to advance Howell to second. Beard flew out to right field and Campbell struck out, then Harry Williams, playing rightfield, knocked a single into rightfield to score Howell with the winning run. Bill Shulman, Nedbalek catcher, threw into centerfield trying to catch Lentzen which allowed Lentzen and Williams to score two insurance runs.

Beard set six men down swinging and walked one while allowing one hit, to receive credit for the victory. The Aggies collected six hits off the delivery of M. Luedke, Nedbalek hurler, with Howell, Beard, Campbell and Williams getting one apiece. Buddy Denton, Aggie's centerfielder, knocked out a single and a double to receive the leading hitter honors. Luedke struck out eight men and walked two while being charged with the loss.
