

16 Trips 15 To Regain Top Rung

By TOM ROUNTREE
Battalion Sports Staff

Dorm 16 still shares a portion of the first place laurels by virtue of downing Dorm 15 yesterday afternoon 5-4.

Dorm 15 drew first blood in the game as Bruce Miller came across in the first to score. Miller got on base with a fielder's choice and then came on in when Cody Millican got a solid single.

First tally for 16 came in their portion of the second when they managed to get a man over the plate. Alex Pergues went to first after getting a bingle. Pergues scored when Bill Groff hit a fly into deep right. He touched the base and then streaked on in to pay dirt after Carol McCoy had snagged Groff's fly.

The third inning saw 16 scoring again. Will Hovel made the tally after Millican. 15 short bobbled a ball that was hit by Bob Nance. Hovel scored for the men from 16 again in the fifth. Miller, 15 pitcher, threw a big fat one over the plate and Hovel got a piece of it big enough to stretch into a home run.

Dorm 15 made a mark in the score book again in the sixth. Bruce Pruett, Dorm 16 pitcher, got credit for two RWI's as Lynn Hiller and Irwin Engle were forced on home as he walked three men in a row.

Two more runs were gained by Dorm 16 in their portion of the seventh. Hovel got on base when Carey Deckard, 15 third, mishandled the ball. The hit of the game was Jerry Chapman's little single. After Hovel crossed the plate, Chapman came home to score what proved to be the winning run.

Dorm 15 just couldn't seem to get a rally started in their portion of the seventh. They managed to get three men on base with walks and Miller even came in to score but again it was too little too late.

Final standings after the dust cleared was Dorm 16 six hits, five runs and two errors while Dorm 15 got two hits, four runs and three errors.

Pruett got credit for the win while the loss was chalked against Miller.

B Sdn. outpointed A Sdn. yesterday afternoon in freshman volleyball to take the set 2-1. The games went 15-17, 18-16 and 15-3.

D Co. also won their match with C Co. by a split decision as they out scored them 2-1. C Co. got off to a good start by stopping the D Men 15-7 in the first game but the D Doggies came bouncing back to take the last two games 15-13 and 15-6.

On the Gridiron

TCU Will Depend On Bartosh For Offensive Punch

By ANDY ANDERSON
Battalion Sports Editor

In a column in yesterday's Battalion, we discussed the possibilities of the Aggie gridiron forces for the coming season. In today's article, we would like to present prospects of TCU, furnished by Amos Melton of the TCU publicity department.

Anderson

Leo R. "Dutch" Meyer, TCU's head coach will start the season with 63 players, barring late losses via draft or last minute withdrawals. There are five quarterbacks, eight fullbacks, 11 halfbacks, five centers, 11 guards, 12 tackles and 11 ends on the roster. The team will not be a "big" one—the line will average about 200 pounds and the backfield around 180.

Twenty one experienced men who have earned 29 letters will comprise the bulk of the team. Four of last year's key posts were manned by sophomores on the offensive team who will return with a year's added experience. Those positions are quarterbacks, fullbacks, one end and a center. This fact should give the club more poise. One non-veteran is slated to crash the starting offensive team. He is Jack Ramsay at left guard. Ramsay was a squadman last season.

The Frogs definitely will operate as offensive and defensive units this Fall. The defensive men will know only enough offensive signals to fill in on attack if badly needed. Two formations are planned for this Fall. They are the "Meyer Spread" and a modified double-wing. Last Fall's trial at a T-Wing will be abandoned for the time being. The Spread, which gained much popularity in the Southwest last season, is run from a balanced line with guards and tackles in normal position or split slightly out as the defense demands. The ends are split out several yards from the tackles. The halfbacks are stationed in the split between tackle and end a yard back. The fullback takes position in line with the halfback (to either the right or left) and the tailback is in normal position.

In the double-wing, the position of the fullback may be varied. From both formations, the Frogs can get their pass receivers out quickly and into many patterns. The passing game will be stressed although the club will also be able to run fairly well.

Bartosh Will Again Lead the TCU Team

Gilbert Bartosh, the "Granger Ghost" will lead the Frogs in their quest for the SWC title. He will lead both the ground and air attacks. The veteran Dan Wilde (pronounced will' dee) will back him up with Danny Powell, up from the freshman squad, as the number three man. Bartosh completed 77 of 150 tries last Fall and ranks among the top threats to set new offensive yardage marks combining his rushing ability with the passing.

Bartosh will have top flight receivers in veterans Wilson George and Teddy Vaught at ends; Bobby Jack Floyd, John Harville, Malvin Fowler, Glen Jones and Johny Medanich (med' uh nik), backs.

The ground game looks pretty good with Bartosh, Floyd and a few others carrying the mail. Bartosh and Floyd carried the brunt of the plunging last season and it appears they will do so again this Fall. Floyd is a 200-pounder from Paris who will be remembered for his hurdling ability, per the A&M-TCU game last Fall on Kyle Field.

Defensive Backfield Mostly Sophomores

The defensive backfield will more than likely be an all-sophomore group with Senior Flowers serving as defensive signal-caller and linebacker. "If" is the big word around Horned Frog land this season. It's all based on knee operations since last Fall. The big "if" is Bartosh. "If" the "one-legged" man can produce on two like he did the latter stages of the 1950 season, he will undoubtedly be a standout.

Other "ifs" are Fowler, Flowers and Bobby Harding. Fowler was cut down in the first three minutes of the opening game last year. His and Flower's knees were given special attention this Summer, for a great deal depends on the outcome of the key men in the offensive and defensive lineups.

In summarizing, the Frogs should have adequate manpower with fair experience for the starting team and fairly good replacements. The quarterbacking, passing and running will be "excellent" if Bartosh stands up. Otherwise it will be "fair." Prospects point to a slightly stronger squad than the 1950 outfit.

Consolidated Plays Six Home Games
A&M Consolidated High School Tigers will play six home football games this year out of ten games scheduled. The Tigers had a fairly unsuccessful season last year as they won three, lost five and tied one. Four of the six conference games will be played here which will give the Consolidated squad an advantage.

Ags Beat Gause With Eighth Inning Marker

The Aggie Softballers pulled one out of the fire last night as they tallied a run in the bottom of the eighth inning to score a hard-earned 2-1 victory over Gause.

A single by Bill Campbell sent Will Hovel scampering home with the winning marker after two men were out.

Gause touched Bryan Beard for only one hit, a single that drove in their only run in the third inning. Stratta had walked to start the frame, moved to second on a passed ball and scored when Brooks, Gause centerfielder, drilled one into the big field.

That lone run loomed big to the Aggies as they failed to score until the fourth frame. Campbell also figured in this scoring as he led off with a single and moved on around the base path on an infield out, a fielder's choice and a single by Mack Howell.

The Ags threatened in the fifth frame as Hovel tripled after two were out but he was left stranded as Jewell McDowell grounded out to end the inning.

The game rocked along all knotted up until the bottom of the eighth when the Aggies decided it was getting late enough and time to go home.

Beard had the Gause players baffled as he sent 15 of them down swinging and allowed only four men to get past first base.

The Aggies nicked Abbott for nine hits including a double by Lenzen that was wasted when he tried to stretch it into a triple and was thrown out at the hot corner.

McDowell rapped out two singles as did Campbell. Hovel also collected a single to go with his triple.

Al Rollins was the only man to bite the air but the Cadets were unable to score as the Gause team played air-tight defensive ball.

Last night's game marked the end of the season for the Aggies. Barney Welch, team manager, said this morning. The season record of 11 wins and a like number of losses doesn't appear, on the surface, to be very successful but the Aggies were matched against some of the top outfits in the country.
