

A&M '51-52 Calendar

Representatives from all organizations, departments, and clubs on the campus were invited to a meeting last Spring to plan the 1951-52 activity calendar by G. C. "Spike" White, assistant dean of men for activities.

From that meeting, the following list has been prepared and approved by the Student Life Committee. It may be changed only with the consent of that Committee.

White said that additions will be made—if the need arises—by the Office of Student Activities. In order to minimize conflicts, he said, dates for events concerning more than 2 percent of the student body should be cleared with the Office of Student Activities.

If you checked them all "True" except number 4, then you are one of the SMART Aggies, one of those who shops for his books at the Exchange Store. Because if you use the Exchange Store's Lay-A-Way Book Plan you NEVER wait in line for your books; you simply go in and pick them up when you are ready for them.

If you are not already using the Exchange Store's Lay-A-Way Book Plan, look in the next panel for an explanation of the plan. Then, PUT IT INTO OPERATION!

With The Exchange Store's
Lay-A-Way Book Plan •

LAST SUMMER we offered this Lay-A-Way plan to 5500 Aggies. Over 1100 responded with Lay-A-Way orders.

WHEN these 1100 arrived on the campus for the Fall Semester we had their books and equipment needs packaged and labeled and laid away for them. Without fuss or fury—and more important—without sweating the waiting lines, they received their supplies in short order.

THIS YEAR we are offering the same service to you. Here's how it works. All you need to do is come by and pick up one of the Lay-A-Way book forms. After you are sure of the books you need either bring or mail the form to us. WE do the rest.

WHEN you return to school you can present your claim check at one of the east windows of the Exchange Store, and your package will be delivered. At the time of delivery you will have the privilege of inspecting the selection and may accept or reject any or all items.

THERE IS no obligation on your part to accept our selection and no deposit to be made. All you do is fill out the request and we do the rest.

THIS YEAR, as in the past five years, surplus profits from the Exchange Store will be returned to Student Recreation and Welfare. In the past five years the Memorial Student Center, and dozens of other student activities have received over $300,000 in Exchange Store profits.

WHEN YOU buy it at the Exchange Store you are providing many things for all present and future Aggies.
