

Aggies Take To Air Lanes For 21-14 Win

Students Slow In Filing For Elective Posts

Student response was generally light as filing opened for the first big election of the school year. Only 8 had applied for places on the Student Senate while an equally small number, one, had filed for non-corps posts on the Student Life Committee as of 11 this morning.

Deadline for filing in these races is set for Friday at 5 p. m. Candidates must file in the Student Activities office on the second floor of Goodwin Hall before that time to be eligible for election.

Of the 39 seats to be filled on the Student Senate, 28 will be chosen by elections in each dormitory and other college housing areas. The remaining 11 seats on the Senate will be filled by students elected at large. Areas entitled to elect representatives in addition to the dormitories are Vet Village and College View. Day students will also choose representatives.

Besides these places on the Senate, there are four others which are automatically filled by vice-presidents of each of the four classes.

Three other places which will be filled following the year's first elections are those of non-corps representative on the Student Life Committee.

Qualifications Same

Qualifications are the same for both elections except that student elected to the Senate must live in the area which he represents. If he should change his residence after election, he will be forced to resign and a special election will be held to determine his successor.

A student elected to the Student Life Committee does not have to live in a specific location.

Other necessary qualifications common to both Senate and Student Life elections are:

- A student must have at least a grade point ratio of 1.0.
- He must be a classified sophomore.
- He must have attended A&M for at least two consecutive semesters prior to his election and must express his intention to remain in school for the time he is elected to hold office.

Election Oct. 3

Elections will be held following supper Oct. 3. Cadet first sergeants will pick up ballots and distribute them in their organization. In non-corps dormitories, it will be the responsibility of the house master to distribute ballots.

A special representative in areas such as Vet Village and College View will be designated to pick up, distribute and turn in ballots.

Following voting in their areas, representatives will return ballots to the Student Activities office in Goodwin Hall where they will be counted by members of the election committee.

Allied Officers Veto Kaesong For Confab

Tokyo, Sept. 24—(AP)—Allied liaison officers went to Kaesong today and told the Reds that city was not suitable as a site for a Korean war cease-fire conference.

The meeting with Communist liaison officers was held in an effort to restart the negotiations, which stalled at Kaesong Korean a month ago.

There was no indication of the Red reaction.

The liaison officers will meet Tuesday at 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Monday, EST).

Allied headquarters here said the Reds were told:

"It is plain that partisan groups, responsible to neither command, are active in the Kaesong area. These uncontrolled elements may at any time take action which could compel a suspension of the conference."

Headquarters said also the basic instruction given the Allied liaison officers was to try to arrange conditions under which the armistice talks could make the most rapid progress.

The Reds were reminded that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway suggested:

BULLETIN

Beaumont, Texas, Sept. 24—(AP)—Four A&M students were injured, none seriously, Saturday afternoon in a three-car collision on U. S. highway 90 near Nome.

Injured were H. L. Lewis, Adams, Jr., 20, W. I. James, 20, and Jerry Drake, 20, all of Port Arthur, and T. H. Parish, 19, Beaumont.

All are expected to be released from Baptist Hospital here some time this week.

Seniors Discuss Organizational Projects Tonite

Tonight at 7:30 the Senior Class will hold its first meeting of the year to discuss and approve a new type of class organization. The meeting will be held in the lecture room of the New Science Building.

The new plan, if accepted, will provide for the immediate section of committees to work out details of all projects, programs and other activities which might be undertaken by the Class of 1952.

Class President Bill (Doggy) Dalston will preside at the meeting and will introduce other class officers, C. R. Dunn, vice-president; Robert Dobbins, secretary; Ted M. Stephens, treasurer; and Bernard Lemmons, Senior class representative to the athletic council.

Other business on the program for tonight's meeting includes discussion of an orchestra for the Ring Dance, and reading of the class financial report.

C. G. (Spike) White, assistant to the dean of men, will lead the discussion on selection of an orchestra.

"It is hoped that some famous orchestra can be secured to play for the Ring Dance next Spring," A. C. Burkhalter, class reporter-historian, said.

Stephens will discuss the financial report with members of the class and explain how it will affect Senior class projects this year.

"Since this is an especially important meeting, I urge every senior to attend," Dalston said. "I promise to keep the meeting as short as possible and discuss necessary business in a minimum of time."

Gooding to Head Aggie Players

Harry Gooding was elected president of The Aggie Players at an organizational meeting Wednesday night.

Other officers elected for the 1951-52 year were Alice Burke, vice president; Wanda Rohr, secretary; M. C. Carson, Jr., business manager; and Mary Eleanor Vaden, assistant business manager.

Tryouts for "Command Decision," the Players first production, were started. Readings for the parts will continue through Monday.

Col. Napier Talks To AFDM Students

This afternoon at 5 p. m. in the chapel of the YMCA, Col. E. W. Napier, PAS&T, will talk to all air force distinguished military students on the prospects of an air force career.

Writing Vets Get Chance for Money

Student Veterinary Medicine students have a chance to take home $150 in prize money for writing up interesting case history notes.

The Dallas County Veterinary Association has put the money up to be awarded to students of veterinary medicine for their contributions to the literature.

The primary reason for the contest, the Dallas Association said, was to stimulate the student's interest in veterinary literature and to improve his writing ability.

Unique case histories from the veterinary hospitals at Texas A&M, Colorado A&M, Oklahoma A&M, and Kansas State College will be published in The Southwestern Veterinarian, Bill Ellsworth, editor announced.

Associate Officers

Current officers of the Dallas Association are Dr. R. E. Starnes, president; and Dr. F. W. Brundrett, secretary. Both of these men are former students of Texas A&M.

The prizes will be broken down into $75 for first place, $50 for second, and $25 for third place.

The official set of rules listed by Editor Ellsworth says the awards will be made to the three best clinical case reports published in the Southwestern Veterinarian during the 1951-52 school year.

Subject matter in the articles is limited to the cases involving only the domesticated animals.

The award-winning case reports will be selected on the basis of their form, style, manner of presentation, content and literary significance. An article has to be published before it is a contest entry.

Selected In April

Winners will be selected during the month of April, 1952, and the contest winner will be announced at the first meeting of the Junior Chapter of the American Veterinary Medicine Association at A&M following their selection.

Judges for the selection will be five graduate veterinarians who are faculty members of the veterinary school at A&M. These five men will be named by Ellsworth.

Three other judges will be the editors of the clinical case report section of the Southwestern Veterinarian, the associate editor of the magazine and Ellsworth.

All manuscripts must be typewritten and double spaced, with a one-inch margin on side and a two inch margin at top and bottom.

When the hour-long meeting ended, a Red officer left the conference room with a wide grin. U. N. officers were poker-faced.

Later an Allied spokesman in Munsan, the U. N. advance base, said he did not know whether any progress had been made.

During the meeting the U. N. delegation handed the Reds a memorandum. Its contents were not divulged.

Earlier Monday the Reds said they wanted to discuss only a time and date for resuming negotiations.

Lone Aggie Gets Greeting Intended for Ball Players

An estimated 250 Aggie supporters sat in their cars keeping out of the rain yesterday awaiting the return of the A&M football team from California.

Finally about 4:15 p. m. a plane was seen in the distance and the men and women poured out of their cars into the rain and stood along the fence waiting for the plane to land.

When the DC-3 came to a halt the group got ready to run out on the air strip and carry the players to the waiting busses.

The door opened and out stepped one uniformed Aggie. The plane door closed and the ship was off.

One spectator said the man remarked as he got off "All of this for me."

St. Joseph Fund Drive Contributions $50,000

The St. Joseph Hospital fund campaign opened with a bang last week when Dr. F. C. Bolton, general chairman for the fund drive, announced that $50,000 of the $200,000 goal had been pledged.

During the following two years the committee investigated every possible solution. They found that only half the minimum number of hospital beds that it needed.

In an interview yesterday, Dr. Bolton said several contributions had been made since the drive opened. The chairman was not certain of the exact figure, but said it exceeded $500. The campaign is scheduled to continue for four weeks.

Idea for the $800,000 St. Joseph addition did not originate overnight. Several years ago the Inter-

City Committee of Bryan and College Station made a survey which showed that the community had only half the minimum number of hospital beds that it needed.

During the following two years the committee investigated every possible solution. They found that only half the minimum number of hospital beds that it needed.

Finally an appeal was made to the Sisters of St. Francis, who (See ST. JOSEPH, Page 2)

13 Schools Represented Large Crowd Attends First Scholastic Press Meeting

Nearly 115 teachers and students from 13 high schools attended the first annual Texas Scholastic Press Clinic, sponsored by the Journalism department, Saturday in the MSC.

Featured speaker for the affair was Andy Anderson, columnist and special writer for the Houston Press, who spoke at the noon luncheon. Anderson, noted for his work in behalf of the needy, unfortunate and handicapped people of Texas, told the guests about some of the work he has done in the human side of news reporting.

Commenting on the large number of girls in the group, Anderson said there will always be room in the newspaper field for people who want to write and are willing to develop a good writing style.

The day's program officially opened with an address of welcome by Dr. C. Clement French, dean of the college.

Graves, Gardemal Lead A&M Attack

By BOB SELLECK
BATTALION SPORTS NEWS EDITOR

The Cadet football machine, it's famous running game stopped cold, unfolded a passing attack with such velocity that they snowed under the UCLA Bruins, 21-14, last Friday night in Los Angeles.

The warm California night air proved inspiring to the never faltering passing arms of A&M quarterbacks Ray Graves and Dick Gardemal.

Aggie passers struck so quickly that the Bruin defense was knocked on its heels, never to fully recover the shock of the first half.

Two of the Cadet touchdowns came in the fading seconds of the second period. Quarterback Ray Graves flipped a 15-yard pass to Halfback Billy Tidwell who then performed a "circus tightrope act" while scampering down the side lines 70-yards to the UCLA 10 yard line.

Darrow Hooper, end, kicked the extra point and the Aggies had a 7-0 lead with 55 seconds remaining of the first half.

A&M kicked off to the Bruins and immediately stopped them on their own 19-yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Pete Dailey, who ran into a wrecking tackle by Augie Saxe, fumbled the ball. Quick and alert Robert Shaeffer recovered for the Aggies, who were again on their way with disturbing suddenness.

Tokyo, Sept. 24—(AP)—The United Nations command today told the Communists that Kaesong is unsuitable as a site for any future Korean armistice negotiations.

Allied liaison officers gave these reasons in a note handed Red liaison officers at Kaesong:

- Kaesong is too close to the main Red supply line, under attack by Allied warplanes.
- Red and Allied ground forces are in constant maneuver around the five-mile neutral zone.
- Uncontrolled partisan groups, responsible to neither command, are active in the area and could take action at any time which would again cause a breakup of talks.

Reds Call Off Talks

The Reds called off the talks Aug. 23, charging an Allied plane tried to "murder" the Red cease-fire delegation with a bomb the day before.

"It is regrettable," the Allies said, that the Reds didn't accept the original suggestion of Gen. Matthew D. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, that the negotiations be held aboard the Danish hospital ship Jutulandia.

Ridgway proposed some other, more incident-proof site for the conference in a note to the Communists Sept. 6. He since has made clear that he wants better working conditions established for negotiators before he agrees to resumption of the conference.

Met Monday

U. N. and Red liaison officers met in Kaesong Monday morning to set up arrangements under which talks, if resumed, could make the most rapid progress possible.

About six hours later the Reds sent the Allies a memorandum, contents of which were not disclosed by Allied headquarters.

The liaison groups are scheduled to meet again Tuesday at 10 a. m. (8 p. m. Monday EST).

A total of 454 were enrolled in elementary school. One hundred and seventy-three students are in Junior High School, and 128 in High School. Lincoln school registered 261.

Enrollment is expected to reach 1100 to 1150 before the end of the year since normal enrollment at Lincoln is over 300, Richardson said.

Of the total only 57 students come from districts other than the Consolidated Independent District. Bryan District has sent 4 first graders, 5 second graders, 6 third graders, 5 fourth graders, 2 fifth graders, 10 in Junior High School, and 12 in High School.

The Providence School District has sent 13 students.

Tech Tickets

Student Football Tickets and Guest Tickets to the Texas Tech game went on sale this morning at the Athletic Department. They will remain on sale Monday and Tuesday from 8 to 5.

They will also be on sale Wednesday until 6 p. m. All tickets not purchased by Wednesday will be returned to Dallas.

The Athletic Department still has a few tickets on or about the 50-yard line. These tickets were released by bond holders of The Cotton Bowl.
