

Blinn To Test Ag Fish Thursday on Kyle Field

By FRANK SCOTT
BATTALION SPORTS WRITER

Coach Klepto Holmes will send his A&M freshmen eleven against the Blinn College Buccaneers Thursday night on Kyle Field at 8.

"It will be the initial test for the power-laden freshmen," said Holmes.

Last week the Baylor Cubs overran Blinn 41-0, and Thursday's game should give the Cadets a yardstick by which to measure themselves to the other SWC freshmen squads.

Coach Holmes' eleven will send one All-American, 11 All Staters, and 28 All-District players to the Varsity squad next year to help replace 20 graduating seniors.

Probably the outstanding name on the squad is that of Paul Kennon, a Louisiana lad, who handled himself well enough to garner All-American honors last year.

One of Little River Academy's greatest players, Kyle Killough, will add the fresh roster. Killough was all-district for three reasons and led Academy to a pair of championships.

Stars on the roster include: Henry Arnett of Dallas, two years all-State end; Fred Broussard of De Quincy, La., three years all-District and all-State center; James Self of Wichita Falls, three years all-District and all-State halfback.

Others include Ed Hennig of Tyler, second-team All-State, National Scholarship Award quarterback; Sam Howard of New Braunfels, All-District quarterback; Marvin Tate of Abilene, two years All-

State guard; and Joe Boring of Dallas, All-City Conference, and second team All-State City Conference.

Blinn College was the producer of the great Joe Routh, Texas A&M All-American, and Ernie Key, one of the great athletes in the history of Texas University.

Blinn resumed football in 1948 after a lapse of 16 years. Head Coach Frank Butler has faced a re-building job.

Only four lettermen remain from the 1950 squad. Among these are: Douglas Thames, 155-pound halfback from Rumble; Wesley Davis, center from Waelder; Earl Gerstenberger, 236-pound tackle from Rockdale, a 60-minute player; and Olen Armstrong, end from Cameron.

Backing these veterans will be William Gaskamp, a half back from Brenham who won an All-State berth while playing there. Gaskamp also won a freshman numeral with Rice last year.

Bob Holick is the team's most unique player. Holick handles kickoff and points after touchdowns without the benefit of shoes, preferring to do his kicking barefooted.

Coach Butler came to Blinn as head mentor in 1949. Butler played college football with Texas University before the war, participating in the 1944 Cotton Bowl game against Randolph Field.

After serving with the Navy during World War II, he returned to college at Southwestern University at Georgetown, where he lettered in 1946 and 1947.

Here is a breakdown of the squad which began workouts last week and which also furnishes a stout defense for varsity offensive work:

Garmany Out of Race In OU Cross-Country

By CHUCK NEIGHBORS
Battalion Sports Writer

"Col. Andy" Anderson's cross-country team will be without the services of John Garmany Saturday night when they meet Oklahoma University in the annual two-mile race preceding the OU-A&M grid-iron clash.

Garmany was spiked in the knee last week and will not be able to hold down his spot on the squad.

James Blaine, sophomore number one man on the team, has run practice laps in near-record time. Dale DeRouen, also a sophomore, is running a close second to Blaine. Holding down the number three spot is Charles Hudgins, a junior.

Garmany, originally fourth man on the team, will be replaced by Charles Gabriel, whose number five position will be filled by Jody Zern.

Year of Experience

On the OU side of the ledger, a junior team with a full year's experience will take the track against the Cadets Saturday night at 7:35.

Last year in Norman, the Aggies were defeated by the Sooners, 23-32.

In cross-country, as in all track events, low score or low time wins.

OU Dumps Indians In Season Opener

BASED ON AP REPORTS

Oklahoma University, last year's "national champions," opened its 1951 season Saturday by coasting to a 49-7 victory over hapless William and Mary while 38,000 Norman fans watched.

Coach Bud Wilkinson then left Norman by plane for Dallas where he watched the Aggies edge Tech, 20-7. His only comment about the Aggies was, "The Aggies have a great team speed this year."

Wilkinson's Sooners ran up a 42-7 half-time lead and played out the last half with second and third stringers in a contest marked by frequent penalties.

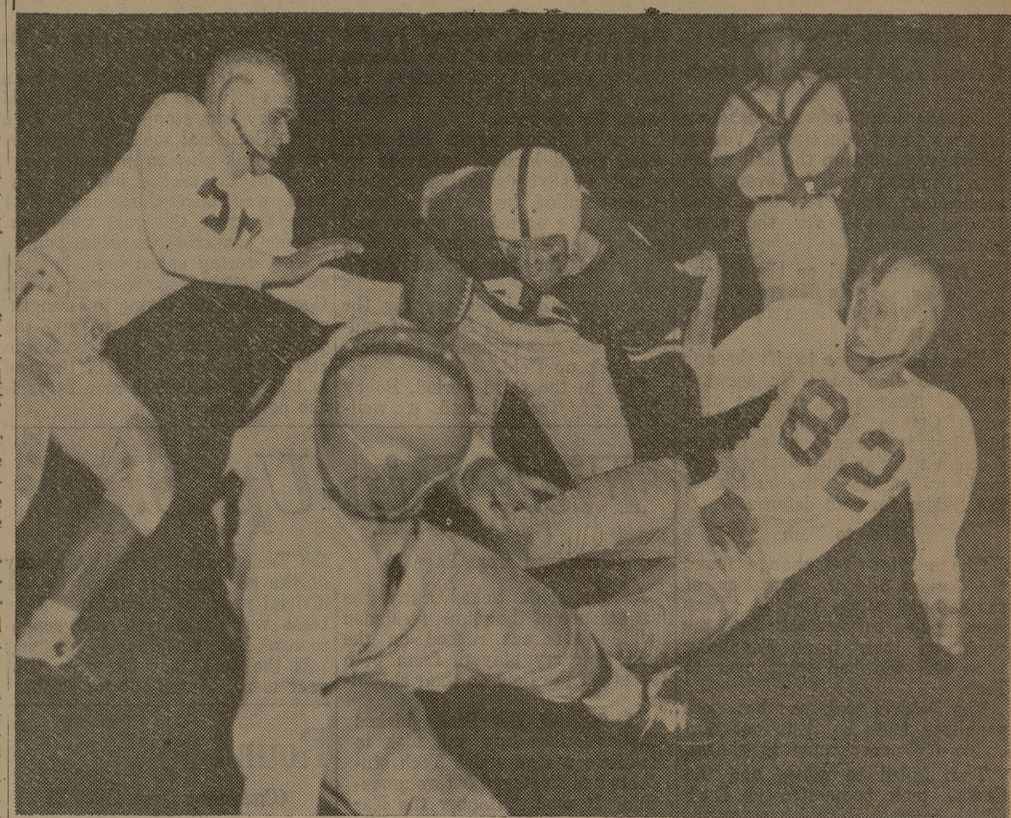

Rated No. 4 in Nation

The bitterly-fought contest ended with the OU substitutes failing on a fourth down try for a touchdown from the 5-yard line. Joe Megale of the Indians and Jerry Wilkes of Oklahoma were banished from the game for fighting a minute before the final gun.

The Sooners showed a dozen fast backs and a young but hard-charging line. The seven touchdowns were scored by six different players, with Right Halfback Frank Silva contributing two.

The Sooners scored in five plays from the William and Mary 15-yard line when the game was just two and a half minutes old, Silva going over from the three. Jim

A&M Halfback Augie Saxe (16) plows through defenders to pick up eight yards off his right tackle Saturday against Texas Tech. His collision with Tech Fullback Charles Welton (30) and End Dean White (32) brought Saxe to earth. A&M won its second game of the season, downing the Raiders, 20-7.—(Associated Press Wire-photo).

SWC Elevens Win 4, Drop 2

The Southwest Conference blasted the lid off another weekend of football. While winning four and dropping two, the Conference again survived with a better winning average, the same as last week.

A&M continued its winning ways with a 20-7 win over a stubborn Texas Tech squad. Texas looked good beating Purdue 14-0. Arkansas came through as expected but had to wait until the third quarter before they could beat Arizona State, 30-13. TCU easily over ran Nebraska 28-7.

SMU and Rice were the only losing teams during the weekend. Both clubs fell to inter-sectional foes. The Mustangs losing a close one to Ohio State 7-0. Clemson proved too much for the Rice Sophomores' 20-14.

Texas 14, Purdue 0

The Longhorns, sparked by their crushing half back Gib Dawson, scored twice in the first half to increase their grip on their high national rating. This was all the TU boys needed to win.

Gib Dawson, no bull in Texas' china closet, found it easier to go around a rugged Purdue line than through it Saturday.

So around he went to score all the points the Longhorns needed for a 14-0 inter-sectional victory over the Big Ten's Boilermakers before 31,000.

All the scoring came in the first half and never before has the passing Southwest sent out a representative so addicted to the ground. Texas ran for 215 yards but tried only three passes and completed not a one.

The Longhorn defense managed to snag four of Dale Samuels' tosses at opportune moments and helped along by six Purdue fumbles, three of them recovered by Paul Williams.

Purdue's opening-game mistakes didn't dull the battling performance of its line. Ray Pacer, Leo Sugar and a jaw breaking end named Jim Wojciehowski were constant thorns in the side of the Steers.

Texas went most of the way without three of its stoutest defenders—Jane Davis, Bill Milburn and Bill Georges. They were hurt early in the game and saw no more service. But the big Orange line stood the test well, giving up most of Purdue's 144 ground yardage between the 30s and leveling solidly once the Boilermakers' four minor and one major scoring threats became real.

TCU 28, Nebraska 7

The Frogs took advantage of all the breaks and made a few of their own as they crushed Nebraska 28-7. Malvin Fowler, sophomore sensation, again over shadowed the great Gil Bartosh, who saw action in only one series of downs.

A crowd of 38,000 saw the Texas club score twice in the first four and one-half minutes of the second quarter to wipe out a 7-0 Nebraska lead, gained in the opening period.

The Nebraska score had come largely through a Texas Christian pass interference penalty in the end zone. But this break was erased on the second play of the second quarter.

That was when Quarterback Johnny Bordogna fumbled the ball on the Nebraska 8, the ball rolling backward into the end zone where End Wayne Martin of TCU fell on it for the tying touchdown.

But the fourth Texas Christian touchdown in the last period was the one that really gave the crowd its biggest share of laughs and sobs. The events leading up to it started when Nebraska fumbled and TCU got the ball on the 28. TCU promptly fumbled it back to Nebraska, immediately fumbling it back once more to TCU on the 28. This time TCU went the distance.

Nebraska played without All-American Bob Reynolds, who was sidelined with a shoulder injury. However, Nebraska showed nothing in the way of the kind of an explosive offensive line that so constantly broke Reynolds into the open last year, and it is doubtful that Reynolds could have stayed off this kicking.

SMU 0, Ohio State 7

Despite the sensational efforts of passer Fred Benners, SMU quarterback, the Mustangs slipped before a highly-rated Ohio State Buckeye eleven.

Benners amassed a total of 21 completions out of 29 attempts for 211 passing yards. SMU had to be satisfied with 38 yards gained rushing.

The Ohio scoring play was a sensational one. The Bucks picked up the ball on a pass interception on their own 32½-yard line and aided by a roughness penalty, moved in six plays to the Mustang 21. All-America Vic Janowicz tossed. (See ROUND-UP, Page 4)
