

Ag Frosh-Baylor Battle Thursday

By ED HOLDER
BATTALION SPORTS NEWS EDITOR

The Cadet footballers representing the class of '55 will play their second game of the year Thursday night against the Baylor Cubs. Kyle Field will be the scene of what promises to be one of the toughest tilts of the season for the freshman club.

In last week's victory over Blinn Junior College, the freshmen unveiled one of the greatest potential teams ever to set foot on Kyle Field.

erhoused his way again and again through the center, off tackle, and over guard to pick up yard after yard for the freshmen.

Patton reminded many of the on-lookers of "another Bob Smith" as they watched him show his power by running through linemen and dodging the secondary.

Fullbacks were plentiful and each one making an appearance showed promise. Ed Kachtik was another of these power men who ran in and out alternating with Patton.

Self of Wichita Falls

James Self of Wichita Falls showed speed and deception in last week's clash when he continually hit the line for any number of yards and ran circles around the secondary defense when he broke into the open. Another talent he showed was his uncanny blocking power so unusual for a light-weight 150 pounder.

People sat up and took notice of Self's instant speed, when in the first minutes of the second half he sprinted around end and met three Blinn tacklers.

As the would-be-tacklers lunged for Self, they found themselves alone and the all-state halfback crossing the goal 50 yards away.

"Self is another Glenn Lippman," was the general comment after the shifty left halfback showed his heels to the Blinn eleven time after time.

Patton—Powerhouse

Another freshman showing great power was Virgil Patton. He pow-

Smith and Henning

Joel Smith and Ed Henning were two more ever hustling backs who showed dual talents in passing and running.

Ken Langford of Houston seems to be the punt returning expert for the fish eleven, as he also showed he could deceive tacklers with his broken field running.

In the line is Marvin Tate, a guard from Abilene, who continually set the Blinn backfield for a loss and stopped plays long before they developed.

This group of freshmen, along with the others who make up the class of '55 fish team, are going to make it rough for any club they play to bring home a victory.

However, the two toughest teams on their schedule seem to be the Baylor Cubs and the Rice Owlets. The Cubs will be met here tomorrow night and the Owlets will play host to the Aggie Fish in Houston on Nov. 9.

A&M Holds Big Edge Over Trinity In Past Battles

When the Aggies line up against the Trinity Tigers Saturday night at 8 p. m., it will be the 17th time the two teams have met on the gridiron.

The first meeting between A&M and Trinity occurred back in 1902, with the game ending in a 0-0 deadlock. Since that time, the Aggies have come back to win 13 of the 16 games played with Trinity.

The highest score that the Cadets have ever been able to muster against the San Antonio boys was a 62-0 count back in 1915.

The only win ever registered by the Tigers was an 18-0 triumph in 1903, a year in which the teams played twice. The Aggies had won the first game that year 16-0. A complete series record between A&M and Trinity is as follows:

Year	A&M	Trinity
	0	18
1905	24	0
1908	6	0
1912	59	0
1913	7	0
1914	0	0
1915	62	0
1919	42	0
1925	20	10
1926	26	0
1927	45	0
1928	21	0

Scoring Lippman UP Back Of Week

By HUGH PHILLIPS
Battalion Sports Writer

Not only in the eyes of every Aggie follower did Glenn Lippman shine, but in the eyes of a great many sports writers for United Press Association in yesterday's release of its "Player of the Week," and the Aggie's top ground gainer was the boy.

"There's a player on the A&M varsity this year who can do a little of everything—not the least of which is scoring touchdowns," voiced the United Press radio report.

The 5' 8" El Campo flash left quite an impression on the minds of the Oklahoma Sooners, since it was he that crossed the pay-dirt stripe both times in the game that knocked the 1950 National Champions from 4th to 11th in the sports writer's poll.

Small For A Big Conference

Even though he only weighs about 168 pounds, Glenn is all football player and showed it Saturday night in the Aggie-Sooner game with a nifty run of 25 yards for the cadets first score through the OU team and then rammed his way over from the 1 yard line for the second counter.

But not only these two times did he show his stuff, for continuously through the night the fans were brought to their feet by knife jabbing thrusts by the UP player of the week.

Everyone was surprised last Saturday night to find the brown-haired flash to be starting at full-back instead of his usual half-back spot. Yet, it was not too surprising for last year in the Southern Methodist battle, Glenn played defensive guard and did well at it.

A Good Blocker

Also Lippman is considered the best quick-kicker on the Aggie team, and a fine blocker who has thrown many a key block.

Glenn, a senior at A&M, is taking a rough Mechanical Engineering course and does right well with his studies. Glenn was married last June 6th to a home town girl and they are at present making their home at College Station.

Glenn used to get nervous before a big game, but he's now found the answer to that in his years with the Aggies.

Bill Bellamy Speaks For QB Meeting

"Texas A&M should have beaten Oklahoma by 20 points", said Bill Bellamy, San Antonio Express and Evening News sportswriter. "Ray Graves looks every bit as good as Baylor's Isbell", continued Bellamy, in his address to The Battalion Quarterback Club last night.

Bellamy believes Trinity will give the Aggies a good fight for the first half in San Antonio, Saturday night, but that the Cadets will trample the Tigers in the final half.

Films of the Texas Tech-A&M game were viewed by the armchair quarterbacks. A Humble film, "Highlights of 1950 Football," was also shown.

Dick Frey, Varsity tackle, was present to receive his tickets to the Trinity-A&M game. Dick, winner of last week's Quarterback Contest, also commented on the Tech film as it was unreel.

Next week's speaker will be Abh Curtis, popular Southwestern football official. Curtis will give some data concerning the new rules governing this year's play, as well as some interesting anecdotes concerning the hectic life of a football official.

A&M Tumblers Set To Reorganize

The Tumbling Team will have a reorganization meeting Wednesday Oct. 10 in room 3-C of the MSC at 7:30 p. m.

Plans for gym meets will be discussed as well as the National and Gulf AAU meets of the coming season, which will include the highbar, parallel bar, horse-rings, trampoline, mats, and hand balancing.

All freshmen and upperclassmen who are interested will be welcome. Medals and sweaters are given to the lettermen.

Matches Shot Through Air By Ag Rifle Team

By PAT LeBLANC
Battalion Sports Writer

Odd as it might seem, the A&M Rifle Team does the majority of its firing "through the mail."

"Postal matches" as they are called, are regular rifle matches with other teams, except the teams do not stand "shoulder to shoulder" in competition, as one might expect.

Each member of the Postal Teams fires a game at his college rifle range. Score is kept and rules are observed as if the teams were actually in a tournament.

A&M's team score is compared with those of other high-ranking rifle shooting colleges in the nation.

"We have beaten West Point at least once," said letterman and Treasurer Lyle Wolfskill.

Took Two First Places

Last year, the crack A&M squad took first place in both the Fourth Army Intercollegiate Tourney and the Fourteenth Air Force Tournament.

The "sharpshooters" placed in the top three of the annual William Randolph Hearst Tourney and fifth place was gathered by the team in the Southwestern Invitational Meet at El Paso.

The Rifle Team is made up of two divisions—the Army Branch and the Air Force branch. The best marksmen, proven by their "postal scores", are entitled to fire on the College Team.

In the past the College Team has consisted of ten men, but this year there is a possibility that fifteen men may compose the College Team.

John Rowe—President

The officers of the Rifle team as elected at the last meeting are John Rowe, president; "Dusty" Durrill, executive; Wayne Unrue,

Kicker Lary Tops In SWC

Yale Lary, Aggie safety, is the leading punt returner in the Southwest Conference. He has returned nine punts for 170 yards and has compiled an 18.8 yard average per try.

An excellent job of punting under adverse weather conditions was also turned in by the Cadet halfback, Lary kicked 7 times for a 39.5 average which continued to place him among the leading punters in the conference.

The hobby of Detroit Lions' tackle Floyd Jaszewski is stamp collecting.

Tessies Beat Aggies

The Tessie Team eked out a win over Aggies last year in prone position firing.

The suspicious part about the Tessie win is that the Aggie Team had already bought the trophy and medals before the match to be given to the winners.

"This Ag-Tessie match is considered by all to be a good time match," commented Lyle Wolfskill.

Following the match, there is usually a big party.

Returning lettermen of the College Team include John Rowe, Bill Swan, Owen Hill, Lyle Wolfskill, "Dusty" Durrill, Bruce Vanzura, Jim Blackaller and Wayne Unrue.

Trinity Tigers Ready For Aggie Power Team

By BOB SELLECK
BATTALION SPORTS NEWS EDITOR

Trinity Tigers, with one of their biggest and fastest teams in history, are preparing for their home battle with the Aggies.

The Cadets, flush over their Oklahoma victory but shaky over their fourth-place national ranking have not been allowed to take it easy, and are already going under full blast . . .

W. N. James, better known to the football world as "Uncle Bill", a veteran of 25 years coaching experience in the SWC is again the top man in the Trinity coaching staff. He has coached there for 5 consecutive years.

James first gained fame at North Side High School, Fort Worth, and in 1918 to 1921 he played tackle on the noted "Praying Colonels" of Center College, Kentucky the "Wonder Team" of that era.

Among his teammates were Matty Bell, athletic director at Southern Methodist University, and Bo McMillin currently head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, member of the National Professional League.

The Tiger head mentor will not be a stranger to the ways of A&M. He served as line coach for the Cadets for 13 years before resigning in June 1947 in order to devote his time to his private business interests, which included Camp Stewart, a large summer camp for boys near Kerrville, Texas. Shortly thereafter he went to Trinity.

James also coaches Chester Weidman, Houston Wheeler, Hert Turley, and Bill Mahan on his staff to help get his Trinity Tigers ready for the Aggies this coming Saturday night.

Sixteen returning lettermen form the basic foundation of the Trinity eleven. Nine of these lettermen compose the unusually big Tiger line.

The remaining seven give the squad experience in each of the backfield positions.

Returning Lettermen

Heading the list of returning linemen is end Noel Caldeira, Mercedes, Texas. Caldeira is a 5' 10" 175 pound defensive star. He is a fast, smashing type and a nifty pass catcher.

Tommy Majors, another end, plays mostly defense and is famous for his pass intercepting ability.

A 6' 2 1/2 pound junior from Rio Hondo, Texas fits the description of Dan Manix, who last year caught 19 passes for a total of 385 yards. Manix is one of the best blockers on the team.

Tackle Campbell Hardin, the real "workhorse" is 5' 11", they call him "Tiny", and tips the scales at 240 pounds. For his size he is an exceptionally quick charger and a powerful blocker.

Two other lettermen tackles are Johnny Knoff and Jim Thomas, a Jefferson High School star. Holding down the guard positions are Glenn James, Howard Johnson, Wally Robinson and Tommy Reeves.

The center slot is being manned by Ed Thomas, last year's regular linebacker. The loss of their offensive center, Don Hood, will be felt.

Dalton Klaus is Leading Back

The backs will be sparked by "Daring" Dalton Klaus, who is really burning up the Gulf Coast area. Dalton had one of the best records for gains per try average last year in the conference.

He carried the ball 121 times for 772 yards and a 5.9 average. He also passed for 409 yards, leading the conference in that department.

This 6' 195 pound tailback will be the man for the Aggies to stop when they take their jaunt to San Antonio.

Alternate Tailback Position

The alternate tailback position will be played by A. T. Timm, junior weighing 195. Timm is the most elusive ball carrier on the team. With his passing improved he should make an ideal offense tailback.

Fullback Francis Meyer returning to his same position as in 1950. He caught 19 passes for 259 yards.

One of the hardest boys on the team to stop will be Claude Schott, last year's regular wingback.

The last, but not in importance, is their blocking back specialist, Glenn Scallorn, former Brackenridge High School star. He is also the signal-caller, general field man and rated by the coaching staff as most dependable boy on the squad.

S. A. Club Sets Dance

The San Antonio Club will again sponsor a dance at Seven Oaks Club, Saturday night in San Antonio following the Trinity-A&M game.

An annual affair, the dance will have an admission charge of $1.25 per person. The club has been reserved for the Aggies.
