"Without a doubt, this reception is the greatest and warmest welcome we have thus far received on our tour," exclaimed Jeff Chandler, movie star and member of the "Movietime USA" troupe which visited A&M yesterday.

"I still can't get over how enthusiastic all the boys were on our arrival. Of course, I'm sure the cadets were more interested in the girls of the cast but they still extended the traditional A&M hospitality and friendliness that all Texans are noted for."

"That was how Chandler, star of "Broken Arrow" and "Iron Man" and his wife expressed their thanks to the A&M Cadet Corps.

THURSDAY afternoon C. G. "Spike" White, assistant to the Dean of Men for activities, was insisting to over-anxious students reporting the arrival of a movie star group that the buses had not had sufficient time to come all the way from Houston.

At their insistence, Spike investigated. He saw two of the large vehicles and hastened over to welcome them. With gestures and words, he directed the drivers to park that-a-way.

Mildly, one driver said after much effort to get in the parking space, "Pardon me, sir, but do you mean these buses? They're going to Prairie View."

Governing Boards Meeting Moves to Austin Tomorrow

Members of the Association of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions wind up their meetings on the A&M campus today and move on to Austin and Texas University tomorrow where sessions will continue.

Dr. E. R. Guthrie, executive officer in charge of academic personnel at the University of Washington, spoke during the meetings here yesterday.

"There is no successful teaching without active participation by students," said Dr. Guthrie.

Speaking on the "Evaluation of Counseling and Teaching," Dr. Guthrie said that teaching is a cooperative project between the students and teacher.

"Students are definitely able to evaluate certain aspects of teaching and students are perfectly capable of judging whether or not they have been led or driven to the active participation which teaching must produce," Dr. Guthrie explained.

Teaching Is Principal Function

Although teaching is the principal function of nearly all institutions of learning, Dr. Guthrie explained that few institutions make any systematic effort to evaluate their performance.

"Almost no colleges or universities select their teachers in the first place for the ability to teach and beginning instructors are selected for their training and capacity for research instead," Dr. Guthrie said.

The eighth official session opened today's meeting of the association with a panel discussion on "The Problems of Medical Education."

Speakers for the morning program were Dr. Francis R. Manlove, associate secretary of the American Medical Association; and Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, dean and chancellor-elect of the University of Kansas.

Eberwine Presides

"The Good News from Foggy Bottom" by Professor Gale W. Massee, University of Wyoming highlighted today's luncheon for 75 educators and governing board members. Executive Committee member Vernon G. Eberwine of Virginia Polytechnic Institute presided over the luncheon.

The final business meeting at 2 p. m. today will end the association's activities on the campus.

Milward L. Simpson, the association's newly elected president, will preside over the meeting, which will consist of an election of officers, adoption of resolutions, and other business matters.

Motheral Attends World Land Meeting

Dr. Joe R. Motheral, department of agricultural economics and sociology, left Wednesday for Madison, Wis., where he will participate in the World Conference on Land Tenure Problems.

The conference, regarded as a counter-punch to Communist propaganda efforts among the farm people of the world, began Oct. 7 and will continue for six weeks. As one of the seven members of the planning committee for the US, Dr. Motheral will direct a workshop session on research meth-

"We play one game at a time and we play that game to win it," said Coach Ray George of the nationally rated fourth place Aggies.

He was referring to the tilt tomorrow night when the Tigers of Trinity University play host to the Cadets in Alamo Stadium in San Antonio.

"The team is in good shape and will be ready to go with the exception of Billy Tidwell," reported Bill Dayton, head trainer.

Tidwell was injured in the Oklahoma University game last Saturday night when the Aggie eleven upset the powerful 1950 championship team, 14-7. He will be absent from his halfback spot against Trinity but is expected to see action again next week in the TCU game.

With a one win and two loss, the Tigers will be the underdogs to the Aggies who have a three win and no loss record.

However, outside predictions, such as the Houston Aggie News, have asserted that the Trinity clash will be nothing short of a catastrophe. The reliability of this statement is backed by the fact that predictions coming from this paper have a perfect record so far.

Familiar Powerhouse Backfield

The familiar powerhouse backfield of the Aggies will once more line up for the Maroon and White. Dick Gardinal and Ray Graves will call the signals tomorrow night and do the passing for the aerial attack of the Cadets.

Glenn Lippman, leading ground gainer of the SWC and UP back of the week will handle the ball carrying chores for the Aggies along with All-American Bob Smith.

Rounding out the backfield will probably be Charlie McDonald replacing Tidwell. McDonald has been a stand-out on defensive as well as offensive work.

Jack Little, recently named line-man of the week by the Associated Press, will throw his 220 pounds of grid-dynamite into the right tackle spot for the Aggies.

Little is one of the iron men of football. He opens the holes on offense and closes them up on defense.

Moses Is Stalwart

At the other offensive tackle will be Sam Moses, a 220 pound stalwart from Lockhart, Texas.

Sam is another of the double duty men, as he sees a lot of action on the defensive eleven.

Hugh "Gar" Meyer places his 200 pounds in as a 60-minute man, centering on offense and linebacking on defense.

At the left guard will be Eloy Nohavita and at right guard, W. T. Rush. On the defensive lineup is Alvin Langford at right guard and W. T. Rush at left guard.

Sam Sanchez, San Antonio junior who stands 6 ft. 2 inches tall and weighs in at an even 200 pounds, will carry a large majority of the Tiger's burdens tomorrow night at his end spot.

Setting a record of 385 yards for 19 snatches, Sanchez is rated the "best blocker on the team," and will be relied on to set an even better record this year.

Senior Powerhouse

A 22 year old Senior will fill in the backfield power with 210 pounds and a frame of 6 ft. 2 inches. It will be Francis Meyer at fullback to lend his driving weight to the Tiger backfield.

Glenn Scallorn, another Trinity Senior, will be running at blocking back and calling signals for the Tigers. Scallorn is 5 ft. 11 inches tall and weighs in at 182 pounds.

Yanks Capture Important Hill From Chinese

U. S. 8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 12 — (AP) — Bloody bayonets of American and French infantrymen today cleared the Reds off the last peak of Heartbreak Ridge, climaxing the longest and most costly hill battle of the Korean war.

Pierce fighting continued on the northern slope below the crest. U. S. 8th Army officers referred to it as "mopping up."

The Allies captured two other nearby peaks in the Eastern Korean mountains.

Along the western front Chinese Reds hurled three attacks at the United Nations line. Two were beaten back.

The third forced elements of the withdrawal. The pullback was in the Yonchon sector, roughly 25 miles northeast of Panmunjom where Red and U.N. liaison officers were reported near agreement on reopening truce talks.

Allied war planes were out in force Friday. Land-based planes mounted 1,045 sorties Thursday, the highest number in four months. Four carriers sent their planes aloft, including 90 sorties off the Australian escort carrier Sydney. The Navy said this was possibly a record for an escort carrier.

All battle action was overshadowed by the capture of the northernmost peak of Heartbreak Ridge.

A little band of haggard Frenchmen and Americans seized it in a night long attack. At 8 a.m. they stood looking across the crest at the climax of 31 days of incredible fighting for Heartbreak Ridge.

MSC Council OKs Funds for Activities

The Memorial Student Center Council last night approved a budget of $4,379.47 for the use of the social and educational activities of the center.

This money was appropriated to the council by the MSC Governing Board. The board during the summer gave the council $6,000 to allocate to the members committees of the directorate.

The largest single amount approved was to the Browning Library Committee. After an explanation of the committee's plans for the coming year the council approved their budget of $787. This money will be spent to buy books, magazines, and periodicals.

To provide money for such things as Student-Faculty coffees, the House committee was given $785 by the council. Money from this fund will also go toward buying decorations for the center for use during the holidays. During the explanation of the activities, Dan Davis, president of the MSC Council, told of the planned open house activities.

Approval of the money to the 13 groups took two council meetings. Each item in the proposed budget, drawn up by Davis and J. Wayne Stark, director, with the help of the committee members, was explained.

A general allotment of $651 was given to the Directorate. This money will go to such MSC sponsored activities as banquets, awards, committee handbooks, etiquette lessons, marriage relation lectures and the like.
