The Association of governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions unanimously approved a resolution pledging its firm support to a 12-point program of the National Collegiate Athletic Association designed to cure problems connected with the conduct and administration of intercollegiate athletics.

Walter Byers, Executive Director of the NCAA, spoke at the Association's 28th annual meeting here and outlined in detail the NCAA's efforts to bring soundness and soundness to the nation's intercollegiate athletic program.

The Association unanimously endorsed Byer's presentation of the proposals of the NCAA Council, a 17-man policy-making body.

Exhibition Ends BAFB Open House

A nine minute exhibition of tactical air maneuvers by Capt. Frank C. Snyder topped off the ceremonies of the open house held at the Bryan Air Force Base yesterday.

"Capt. Snyder did nearly every stunt in the manual plus several of his own origination," said Capt. J. W. Smith, public information officer of BAFB.

The ceremonies began at 2 p. m. with the invocation read by Air Chaplain Cornelius H. Henninger, air chaplain for the flying training air force.

Col. James C. McGehee, BAFB commander, gave the initial address of the ceremonies, welcoming the people to the base and emphasizing the importance of the base to the community.

Stunt Flying

"The climax of the one-man air show was the landing of his T-6 training plane from a full loop," continued Smith. "Never very high from the ground, Snyder put the plane in a full loop and at the approximate point from which the loop began, leveled off the plane for a perfect landing."

AF General Speaks

From Scott Air Force Base in Illinois came Lt. Gen. R. W. Harper, commanding general of the air training command, to give a brief survey of the history of BAFB, tell of its role in the national defense program, and thank the citizens of the Brazos area for their cooperation with the people of the base in its re-opening.

Five Accused Newspapermen To Face Judge

Lake Charles, La., Oct. 15—(AP)—Five newspapermen accused of defaming 16 public officials and a trio of gamblers during an anti-gambling crusade will be arraigned today before a special judge.

"About the only problem at present is that of inadequate housing facilities," however I'm sure that such a problem can be alleviated shortly," said the general.

Bryan Boosters

Following the general's talk, Travis Bryan Sr. president of the First National Bank in Bryan, presented Gen. Harper with a 14 carat gold lifetime membership card in the Earl Graham Post of the American Legion.

The newsmen were indicted on charges of defaming the character of the district attorney, assistant district attorney, sheriff, the 13 members of the Parish (county) police jury — parish governing body—and three admitted gamblers.

Next, Colonel McGehee presented a scroll, honoring the first class of aviation cadets since the reactivation of BAFB, to Air Cadet Menster, a cadet selected as a class representative. Next spring, when the first class graduates, the same scroll will be re-presented to the base commander with the signatures of all the cadets.

Bryan Girl Feted

An all-metal scale model of the Air Force's F-80 jet fighter was presented to Miss Linda Lynch, a student of Lamar Junior High School in Bryan, Miss Lynch was given the award for writing the best essay in her class on the topic "Welcome Men of Bryan Air Force Base."

To give a graphic demonstration of the relation of the speeds between the propeller-driven trainers and the T-33 jet trainers, a flight of the slower planes flew over the crowd. At the time the planes were overhead, the jet, at a lower altitude, zoomed over, providing a "now you see it, now you don't" sensation.

When the indictments were returned Aug. 27 the controversy that followed split this southwest Louisiana port city of 50,000 into two camps.

The Justice Department sent agents to investigate the indictments to see "if any civil rights had been violated." No report has been made public.

Approximately 10,000 people witnessed the two and a half hour ceremonies.

Against this backdrop of high feeling and heated controversy, the Louisiana Supreme Court appointed a New Orleans criminal district court judge, J. Bernard Cooke, to try the cases.

Atty. Gen. Bolivar Kemp appointed an assistant, M. E. (Mike) Culligan, also of New Orleans, to prosecute. Dist. Atty. Griffin Hawkins, one of the allegedly defamed officials, asked for the outside appointments saying, "I think the general public all over the country will have a better reaction if impartial outsiders come in."

Pfirmer Winner QB Score Contest

Theodore R. Pfirmer, department entomology, won last week's Quarterback Club contest. Pfirmer narrowly edged J. D. Hinton for the TCU-A&M tickets by more accurately picking the scores.

Of the 1,211 entries, only two other contestants picked all six winners. These were Kenneth Baker, who placed third, and James Starling, fourth place. Pfirmer will receive two tickets to the Oct. 20 TCU-Texas A&M game at the Wednesday meeting.

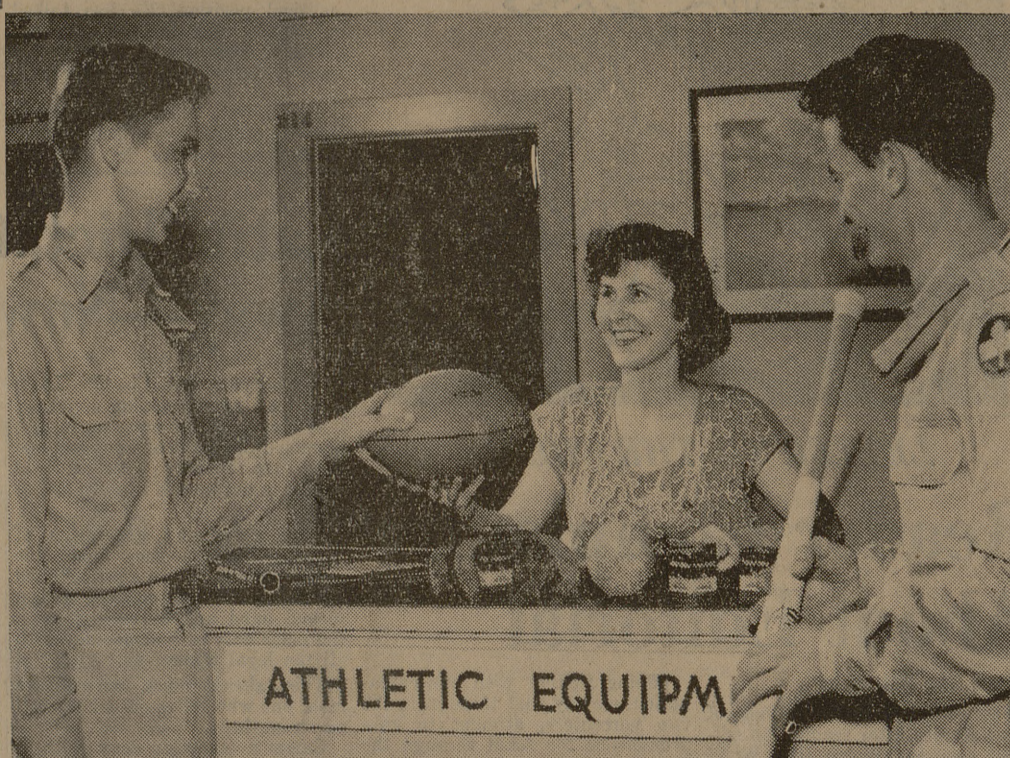

Clark Nealon, sports editor of the Houston Post, will address the pre-TCU game meeting. Nealon is well known for his colorful sports columns and his accurate football predictions.

Met Star in Guion Passes Contract with Met For Experience in Europe

"College Athletics have developed so rapidly that our administration of the program has not been able to keep pace. But after all, this tremendous enthusiasm and growth is, in a sense an evaluation and now it is our problem to harness it for constructive purposes."

Met Star in Guion

Passes Contract with Met
For Experience in Europe

Rise Stevens, the woman who refused her first Metropolitan Opera contract to gain operative experience in Europe, will present the second Town Hall program Tuesday night, 8 p. m., at Guion Hall.

Miss Stevens, who is said to have a pair of the world's ten most beautiful eyes, is scheduled to present a recital of 16 songs; she is assisted by Brooks Smith at the piano.

Among the better known of these songs are the Negro Spirituals: "Oh, What a Beautiful City," "We're You There," and "My Good Lord Done Been Here". She will also sing the excerpts from "Carmen," "Habavera," "Seguidilla," and "Gypsy Song." Handel's "The Messiah" will be the first number on the program.

one of the 10 best dressed women, she cherishes most that of being named one of the country's outstanding career-women and mothers.

Acclaimed as the glamorous star of six fields, opera, concerts, screen, radio, television, and records, she has titian colored hair, hazel-brown eyes. Miss Stevens is married to Walter Surovy, former matinee idol of the Prague Theater. They have a son, Nicky, age six.

She collects stamps which are in some way connected with music, also collects modern paintings, knits sweaters, socks and scarves for husband and son. She likes to swim, bicycle and go for long walks.

Her first debut was in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in "Mignon." She also made her debut later with the Met as "Mignon."

She has appeared with most of the world's leading opera companies—such as The Metropolitan Opera Co., The Paris Grand Opera, The Vienna State Opera, the opera companies of Prague, urich, Cairo and many others.

Egypt Reports On Verge Of Rejecting Proposal

London, Oct. 15—(AP)—Egypt yesterday was reported on the verge of rejecting the Western Big Three and Turkish proposal to make the Suez an international defense bastion for the Middle East.

Newspapers in Cairo predicted Egypt would say no to yesterday's invitation for taking Egypt into full partnership in the defense plans of the U.S., Britain, France and Turkey. South Africa, Australia and New Zealand also would be partners.

Her first debut was in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in "Mignon." She also made her debut later with the Met as "Mignon."

She has appeared with most of the world's leading opera companies—such as The Metropolitan Opera Co., The Paris Grand Opera, The Vienna State Opera, the opera companies of Prague, urich, Cairo and many others.

On the same basis, Egypt boycotted an All-Africa defense conference held in Nairobi, Kenya Colony, last summer.

Threats of clashes between the British and Egyptians spread from the Suez to the Sudan. The British already had said any effort to throw British forces out of the Suez would be countered with armed force.

At Khartoum, capital of the million-square-mile Sudan, the British governor-general, Sir Robert Howe, told his executive council he would resist any attempt to change the administration.

Armed forces in the Sudan are small and all nominally under British command, 1,500 British troops with several thousand Sudanese and about 1,500 Egyptians.

The Egyptian parliament was scheduled tomorrow night to junk the 1899 and 1936 treaties covering those phases of the so-called British-Egyptian alliances.

A British note Egypt on the Sudan and the Western Power plan for the Suez were made public tonight by the British foreign office.

On the Suez, the British proposed to give up their 1936 treaty rights "on the understanding that it would simultaneously become an Allied base."

Miss Stevens started in such pictures as "The Chocolate Soldier," the Academy Award winning "Going My Way," "Carnegie Hall." She refused long-term movie contracts because he work and time in opera comes first.

She records for RCA Victor and Columbia Records. Her recording buses accord her with being the highest selling recording artist in the classical field.

Some of the honors she holds are having sung greatest number of starring roles at the Met in one season in entire Met Opera box-office today. Chosen

Camera Club Starts Basic Photog Lessons

With a little basic knowledge, the amateur photographer can develop quite a lot of ability and turn it into a satisfying hobby.

With this assumption, Gerald Ottinger, vice-president of the Camera Club, is starting a series of 10-12 lectures. This course, he said, was designed to give the most inexperienced amateur a sound basic knowledge of photography.

Her first debut was in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in "Mignon." She also made her debut later with the Met as "Mignon."

She has appeared with most of the world's leading opera companies—such as The Metropolitan Opera Co., The Paris Grand Opera, The Vienna State Opera, the opera companies of Prague, urich, Cairo and many others.

At the present time there are not enough lockers for every one, nor are there keys available so that more than one person can use the same locker.

However, the darkroom will have shelves on which the members may keep their various photographic solutions.

The first lesson will consist of a short outline of the history of photography with a discussion of camera in general. The rest of the meeting will be devoted to a discussion of pictorial composition and a film strip on the uses of Varigam, DuPont's variable contrast photographic paper.

Enough research has been put into these lectures to make them comparable to any commercially offered course in photography.

Parents Cling To Hope For Child's Return

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 15 (AP)—A bewildered father and a pain-wracked mother clung today to the hope that their plea to "take good care of our baby and bring him back" would be heeded.

James Lyons, 37-year-old service station operator, and his wife, Francis, waited in hope and fear as police searched garbage cans and sewers and questioned countless persons.

At the present time there are not enough lockers for every one, nor are there keys available so that more than one person can use the same locker.

However, the darkroom will have shelves on which the members may keep their various photographic solutions.

Police said they are virtually without clues.

They discounted the possibility that the Lyons baby was taken by someone who just wanted a baby —any baby. The boy was in a row of cribs with others on both sides in the nursery.

Police said a nurses' aid, Marlene Lubs, told them someone asked her "which baby was the Lyons' baby." That was less than two hours before another nurses' aid noticed the empty crib.

"It looks like whoever did this wanted that baby alone," police chief Arthur Menke said.

GOP Head Not to Follow Boyle's Action of Resigning

Washington, Oct. 15—(AP)—The resignation of William M. Boyle, Jr., as chairman of the Democratic National Committee isn't going to be followed by that of his Republican counterpart, GOP Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson says.

Boyle announced his resignation Saturday night, giving health as his reason, and indicated he would issue shortly—perhaps today—a call for the Democratic National Committee to act on it.

At the present time there are not enough lockers for every one, nor are there keys available so that more than one person can use the same locker.

However, the darkroom will have shelves on which the members may keep their various photographic solutions.

Police said a nurses' aid, Marlene Lubs, told them someone asked her "which baby was the Lyons' baby." That was less than two hours before another nurses' aid noticed the empty crib.

"It looks like whoever did this wanted that baby alone," police chief Arthur Menke said.

"It looks like whoever did this wanted that baby alone," police chief Arthur Menke said.

Gabrielson, who like Boyle has been under attack from some quarters in Congress, was emphatic in saying he does not intend to step down.

"I'm not resigning," he told reporters in Seattle. "I'm not going to resign. Is that plain enough? ... I'm not resigning."

"I'm not resigning. You can put that in just as big letters as you want."

Boyle's resignation came in the form of a letter to President Truman. As head of the party Mr. Truman bears the burden of selecting Boyle's successor.

Among those mentioned most prominently as possibilities were John L. Sullivan, former Secretary of the Navy, and Francis J. Myers, former senator from Pennsylvania who was defeated last year. Both now practice law here.

Also figuring in speculation were Senators Clements of Kentucky and Anderson of New Mexico. Secretary of the Interior Chapman and Secretary of Labor Tobin.

One advance rejection came from James A. Farley, former party head and Postmaster General under President Franklin Roosevelt. "The post has not been offered to me, and I doubt if it would be," Farley said in New York. "In the event that it was offered to me, I could not possibly accept it under any circumstances."

QUOTE of the week: "For a while," started a prof who teaches freshman courses, "I thought that quite a few of you were nincompoops. After yesterday's exam, I'm sorry to say all of you are nincompoops."

Powerful Ags Blast By Trinity

By ED HOLDER
Battalion Sports Writer

The penetrating power of the Aggies was brilliantly displayed Saturday night as Coach Ray George cleared the bench of its 41 players and rolled over the Trinity Tigers 53-14.

Starters for the Cadets racked up two easy touchdowns early in the first quarter and then turned things over to the replacements.

Fourth string Aggies proved to be a match for the Tigers as Trinity scored their two touchdowns of the game in the later part of the second quarter and during the early minutes of the second half.

rolling when he took a pass from quarterback Dick Gardemal on the Aggie 27 and covered the remaining 73 yards for the opening touchdown of the one-sided tilt.

Augie Saxe was next to cross the chalk line as he covered 61 yards on an end-around. Then Connie Magourik added another touchdown on a play covering 70 yards.

Pete Mayeaux drew blood next on a 63-yard sprint, and Haas followed with his first marker of the night.

Roy Dollar furnished the sixth Cadet touchdown as he went over from the one-foot line on a quarterback sneak.

Haas added his second six-point and Ray Graves threw to Jerry Crossman from the 9-yard line for the last score of the game.

First Downs for Tigers

Trinity outclassed the Cadets in one respect. They racked up 13 first downs while the Aggies only tallied three. The first of these didn't come until late in the third quarter when the score stood at 46-14.

Aggie blockers connected time and time again as they cleared paths for the runners. The blocking was so effective the ball carriers felt slighted if they failed to score.

Outstanding on Defense

Johnny Salyer was a standout with his defensive work as he set a promising record of six unassisted tackles for the night. Salyer is a sophomore fullback from Austin where he was coached by John Kitchens.

Durwood Scott, a junior from Munday, also showed well as a defensive stalwart when he nailed four tackles without aid and went on to assist in four others.

Jaro Netardus set a similar showing with four unassisted tackles and helping in four others. Netardus is a senior end from El Campo.

Standout for the Tigers

Tommy Majors who scored both the Trinity counters. His first crossing was made mid-way in the second period on a three-yard dash.

The second tally was recorded in the third quarter as Majors put the finishing touches on an 83-yard drive by the Tigers, and scored from 7 yards out on a fake reverse through the center.

Others who made impressive defensive plays were Van Heatherly, with 1 unaided tackle and helping on four; Robert Shaeffer, three unassisted and helping on three; and Bobby Morgan, three unaided and helping on three others.

Bob Smith, Billy Tidwell, and Cary Anderson were benched throughout the game with injuries. (See BLAST, Page 4)

Educators Discuss Medical Teaching

The Association of Governing Boards of State Universities and Allied Institutions at their closing session today were told that "there is no way to increase medical teaching facilities without a heavy outlay of money," by Dr. Franklin D. Murphy, chancellor-elect and dean of the college of medicine, University of Kansas.

There are not enough medical doctors, he said and pointed out that the demand for teachers is increasing, even though the salary may be $12,000 to $18,000 year.
