

SWC Round-up

A&M Tramples Trinity; Upsets Spoil Records

Based on AP Reports

Upsets marked the spotlight of the Southwest Conference week-end clashes.

TCU, rated among the top teams in the Conference, fell before a spirited Texas Tech eleven 19-33, it was Texas Tech that lost to the Aggies 7-20.

Baylor caused some eyebrow lifting by having to fight to squeeze by Arkansas 9-7 in a conference game. This didn't look like the Baylor team favored by many as the winner of the SWC.

The Aggies continued to roll like thunder as they completely overpowered the Trinity Tigers 53-14. Every man on the Aggie bench saw action.

SMU 27, NOTRE DAME 20

Fred Benners, a human windmill, hit on 22 passes in 41 attempts for 326 yards and four touchdowns Saturday to pilot Southern Methodist over bewildered Notre Dame, 27-20.

The 6 foot, 3-inch senior, who lives only several blocks from the Dallas school's campus, shattered all of his own aerial records in unharassing the most furious passing game ever fired at a Notre Dame team.

The Irish, unable to pierce the SMU defense that shielded Benners like he was a hunk of uranium, bowed to their first defeat in three starts this season.

Reverse 1949 Score

The Mustangs were up in the air from the start and did not call more than a dozen actual runs.

ning plays in winging to their first victory in four games with the Irish. The score was identical, only reversed, of the great Notre Dame 1949 triumph, the last time the two intersectional rivals met.

But the young Irish made a battle of it with a last quarter touchdown on a passing attack of their own. It kept the crowd of 58,240 on its feet and added more thrills for the millions of television fans watching on a coast to coast hookup.

In all 89 passes were tried by both teams.

SMU wheeled into a 13-6 first quarter lead, was ahead 20-13 at the half and then boosted it to 27-13 in the third period.

Previous Records

Benners' previous single game records were 39 attempts against Texas last year, 20 completions against Texas and Ohio State in 1950 and 306 yards gained against Ohio State last year.

In the first half, SMU called only one play for an actual run as Benners struck on 12 tosses out of 23 for 224 yards.

He spiraled 11 passes in the first 10 minutes and his fifth connection in that span resulted in a 57-yard touchdown to Benton Musselwhite. Sam Stollenwerk placed kicked the first of his three extra points.

Later Notre Dame, ranking fifth nationally, pulled up 7-6 when freshman Paul Reynolds of Springfield, Ill., rocketed 29 yards yards off the novel "I" formation which the Irish used nearly as much as the "T".

Then before the first quarter ended, Benners made his ninth completion in 18 heaves good for a 38-yard payoff to Rusty Russell.

Cadets Stay 4th

Based on AP Reports

The Aggies were ranked fourth in the nation Sunday in the Associated Press sports writers poll. This followed the Aggies win over Trinity.

Taking the first place show in the nation is Michigan State. This Saturday they will go to State College Pa. to meet Penn State, 15-7 winner over Nebraska.

Third in the nation honors go to power-packed California, which has 38 straight regular season victories. They will be host to Southern California at Berkeley in a game that will go far toward deciding the Pacific Coast Conference Championship. Southern Cal, loser only to Camp Pendleton, beat Oregon State Saturday 16-14.

It's been a turbulent football season so far, with upsets plentiful, but if you rummage through the debris you can find 15 teams still strongly in the running for national honors.

With every section of the country represented, these outstanding contenders are:
East—Princeton (3-0), Villanova (3-0), Cornell (3-0).
Midwest—Michigan State (4-0), Illinois (3-0), Northwestern (3-0).
Southwest—Texas A&M (4-0), Baylor (3-0), Texas (4-0).

Saxe Out For Year With Injured Arm

time last year in the A&M-Baylor tilt, and proved their coordination together time after time as they worked as a combination the remainder of the season and for the first four games of the present year.

His spot on the trio was at right defensive halfback.

"It hurt us bad—defensively," said Coach George, "and Saxe was just beginning to show possibilities as an offensive halfback."

Saxe received a fractured arm in the second quarter of play as the Cadets were making their way toward the north goal. It has been reported that the injury was below the wrist of left arm.

Coach Ray George now has the task of finding a replacement for the spot vacated by Saxe. The combination Saxe was a part of has been rated as the sixth pass defensive power in the nation.

This trio, Saxe-McDonald-Lary, hit it off together for the first ground as Francis Davidson fumbled the snapback.

Brocato kicked the three-pointer hard and high from a slight angle at the six, in the final period without knowing it would provide the margin of victory. Arkansas had not come near touchdown land at the time.

A Baylor fumble, recovered by Arkansas End Bob Linebarier on Baylor's 37 started the Razorbacks goalward in the waning minutes. Sophomore Lamar McHan shot a 17-yarder to End Pat Summerall and hit the end end, Bill Jurney for 18 more.

Left Half Dean Pryor raced through his right guard from the two, standing up, and George Thomson kicked the extra point to pull Arkansas within two points of the Bears.

Three minutes remained in the game, and the Baylor crowd of 25,000 sat paralyzed when Arkansas got the ball again and surged from its 43 to the Baylor 34 on the passing of McHan.

An interception in the end zone by Baylor's Red Donaldson saved the day and Baylor had won its Southwest Conference opener and three in a row.

Ed Price, Texas' undefeated head coach in four games, said, "It was another game where we leaned more than we should have, possibly, on our defense."

Wilkinson declined to compare Texas with the Texas Aggie team that defeated Oklahoma, 14-7, at College Station last week.

"They're different types of teams," he explained.

The Longhorns again stuck to the ground in advancing 212 yards rushing and only 29 yards passing on two completions in three aerial efforts.

Ed Price, Texas' undefeated head coach in four games, said, "It was another game where we leaned more than we should have, possibly, on our defense."

Other top ten teams, in order of their ranking, play like this:
Texas A&M vs. Texas Christian; Notre Dame vs. Pittsburgh; Texas vs. Arkansas; Illinois vs. Washington; Georgia Tech vs. Auburn; Ohio State vs. Indiana and Maryland vs. North Carolina.

The Southwest flexed its muscles more than the other sections Saturday, winning three major intersectional games.

With every section of the country represented, these outstanding contenders are:
East—Princeton (3-0), Villanova (3-0), Cornell (3-0).
Midwest—Michigan State (4-0), Illinois (3-0), Northwestern (3-0).
Southwest—Texas A&M (4-0), Baylor (3-0), Texas (4-0).

Blaine Leads Aggie Team In CC Meet

James Blaine sparked the A&M distance team to a second place finish in the cross country meet between A&M, Oklahoma and Texas University at Kyle Field Saturday afternoon.

First place went to the Aggies from Oklahoma, who scored 53 points. Breathing down Oklahoma A&M's neck with 51 points was the Maroon and White tracksters.

Blaine, a 19 year old junior from Imperial, Texas, placed third to lead the Aggie scorers. In last weeks dual meet with Oklahoma Blaine came in second to lead the A&M squad in points, while dropping the meet 27-28.

A transfer student from Norway, Frederick Eckoff, paced the Oklahoma Aggies, taking first place with a fast time of 9:47.1.

Charles Hudgins, 19 year old junior from Dallas, Texas, and John Garmany 21 year old junior from Richmond, Texas, were in the bunch behind the leaders.

Charlie Gabriel, junior from Houston and Dale DeRouen, freshman from Port Arthur, rounded out the Maroon and White point makers.

The Cadet cross country team will match strides with the Texas University squad Friday, Oct. 26 in a dual meet at Austin.

The 1950 Longhorn team, which finished third in the Southwest Conference behind Arkansas and A&M is back intact. Leaders for the squad are C. A. Rundell, Pat Odell, Otis Budd and Bobby Riess.

Tigers Slip By Bulldogs With Late Rally, 20-19

By BOB SELLECK
BATTALION SPORTS NEWS EDITOR

The A&M Consolidated Tigers, coming from behind with a brilliant second half showing, squeezed past the Magnolia Bulldogs, 20-19 in Magnolia.

Their sensational second half completely over-shadowed the loosely played efforts of the Tigers in the initial half.

Magnolia opened rapidly after receiving the opening kick-off. They drove deep inside the Tigers ten yard line, however this time the Consolidated line held.

The Tigers escaped from the shadows of their own goal posts but could go no farther. They were forced to punt.

Magnolia failed to score in the first period but completely bottled up the Tigers deep in their own territory.

On the first play of the second quarter, Bulldog back, Don Buckalew, turned in a fine 62 yard touchdown jaunt. Mann Rickett's try for the extra point was wide.

Later in the same period Mann Rickett scored again for the Bulldogs on a one yard plunge. This time Dave Peabody attempted the extra point but ran head on into Tiger linbacker, George Johnston on the one yard line. This try for the extra proved to be the winning point of the game.

As the teams left the field for the half, the A&M Consolidated Tigers were trailing Magnolia 12-0.

After their half time rest, the Tigers showed a new determined spirit as they drove 65 yards in 12 plays to score their first tally.

The drive was climaxed by Arnold's 26 yard run. Pinky Cooner booted the good extra point.

The Tigers started off the final period in the same style. Again it was a 23-yard dash by Arnold that climaxed another lengthy touchdown drive. This time Cooner failed in the point after touchdown attempt.

This put the Tigers ahead 13-12, but they were not satisfied. Their third and final tally followed almost immediately.

Leighton Dashes 55 yards

Jerry Leighton, Consolidated's high scoring back, raced 55 yards and Cooner added the all important extra point to give the Tigers a 20-12 lead.

Magnolia took to the air lanes to set up a final one yard plunge by Mann Rickett who also ran over the good but futile extra point.

Consolidated was again knocking at the Magnolia goal posts when time ran out. The Tigers had driven to the Bulldogs nine yard line when the gun sounded ending the game.

The Tigers came through the game in fine condition except for George Johnston, who bumped heads with Bulldog David Peacock and injured his head. However, it is expected that he will be in shape in time for next Friday's home game against Waller.
