

TCU To Seek Revenge Over Unbeaten A&M

Texas Christian University settle down for workouts this week, is seeking revenge after its surprising loss to the surging Texas Tech Raiders.

The game will mark the first SWC test for the Cadets who will bring a perfect record against non-title foes into the game.

The Frogs after an opening game defeat, bounced back to win their only Conference tussle by whipping Arkansas 17-7. Last week, disaster struck the Frog camp as they lost to Tech 33-19.

Despite this over-whelming setback, it can be assumed that the Frogs just had a bad day for which the cause can never exactly be determined.

Head TCU Coach Dutch Meyer will have his Frog grid eleven shaped to provide the Aggies with the usual rough and tumble and unpredictable conference clashes of the Southwest.

Gilbert Bartosh sparks the TCU star-studded backfield. Bartosh stands 5' 10" and weighs around 170 pounds. In 1950 he completed 77 out of 150 passes for 1023 yards, carried the ball 171 times for 862 yards.

He led the SWC with a total offense yardage of 1733. He figured in 321 plays—100 more than any other player in the conference. He was fourth in the United States.

Frogs Have Knee Trouble
TCU has been hard hit by "knee trouble." After last year's season no less than four Frogs underwent knee operations. They were Gilbert Bartosh, Malvin Fowler, Keith Flowers, and Bobby Harding.

So far this year Malvin Fowler and Keith Flowers have re-injured themselves. Fowler to the extent that he might be out for the rest of the season.

Bobby Jack Floyd is the Frog number one fullback. He is a fast powerful runner despite his 200 pounds. Floyd led the team last year scoring 48 points. He is a doubtful starter because of a hand injury received in practice.

The Frogs possess two of the best linebackers in the south. Keith Flowers, 200 pound 6' 1" senior, is great on the defensive team and with his helper Doug Conway, 220 pound, 6' 2", promises to give the Cadet ball-carriers plenty of trouble.

The Horned Frogs will have a huge team, the line averages 200 pounds and the backs around 180. They have 21 returning letter-men which includes four key post-manned by juniors. They are quarterback, fullback, one end, and center.

Frogs will definitely have a two-platoon system. Coach Meyer goes to the extent of teaching his defensive players only enough signals to fill in on the attack if badly needed.

The team will operate from two formations. They are the "Meyer Spread" and a modified double-wing.

"Meyer Spread"
Their "spread", which gained much popularity in the Southwest last season, is run from a balanced line with guards and tackles in normal positions or split slightly out as the defense demands.

The ends are split out several yards from the tackles, with the halfbacks stationed in the split between tackle and end, a yard back. The fullback takes position in line with the halfback and the tailback is in normal position.

In 1950, the Frog offense was much more potent than the defense. Ten opponents gained an average of 279.3 yards against the Frogs. Coach Meyer has had extensive work with his "stop 'em" unit this fall in an effort to cut down the excessive damage.

Departing sharply from the custom of many years, the team does not have regular, full-season captains. Game captains for offensive and defensive units will be appointed each week.

This game will be the 47th meeting of the old rivals which began in 1897. Over the long years, the Aggies have won 25 games, the Frogs 17, and four were ties.

Kittens Meet St. Joseph's Eagles Here

A&M Consolidated's Kittens will tangle with St. Joseph's Eagles Wednesday night at 8:30 on Tiger field.

For the second time in 3 years, the Kittens will not be outweighed. St. Joseph's team weight average is 115 while the Kittens average 118.

The Kittens' previous record this year shows a win over Allen Academy 20-6, a win over Madisonville 33-7, and a loss to Huntsville 21-18.

Expected to start in the Kitten backfield will be J. Carroll at quarterback; T. Barker at left half; T. Engelbrecht at right half; and E. Wade at fullback.

Coach Jim Bevin reports that his Kittens are in good shape and that he is expecting an exciting contest with the Eagles.

Tigers Prepare To Greet Waller High

The A&M Consolidated Tigers will play their third district game against Waller High School on Friday night. Game time is scheduled for 8 p. m. on Tiger Field.

Both teams are undefeated in district play and a hard-fought contest is expected.

The Waller eleven outweighs the Tigers almost 20 pounds per man, but the Tiger's spirit is high and the game is expected to be a tight battle.

In last week's battle, the Tigers took a close one from the Magnolia Bulldogs 20-19 on Thursday night.

Trailing at the half 12-0, the Tigers came back in the second half with revived spirit and scored six points immediately. Pinky Cooner converted the extra point.

The next tally came on a 23 yard dash by Arnold with Cooner missing the extra point.

Jerry Leighton dashed 55 yards for the Tiger's final score with Cooner kicking the extra point, which proved to be the game-winning factor.

George Johnson was the only Tiger injured during the game. However, he reported for Monday practice in good shape and will be ready for Friday night's game.

Elizabeth, Duke Visiting in Canada

Windsor, Ont., Oct. 16—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh thrilled Canadians and Americans in this border city yesterday before flying into Canada's gold-mining back country.

And what impressed them most was the friendly relations between the two countries separated here only by the Detroit River.

Estimates of the crowd that lined the 21-mile procession route to see the next ruler of the British Empire and her husband ranged from 200,000 to 500,000.

Highlight of the three-hour-plus Windsor tour was an international ceremony on the river front, only a few thousand feet from Detroit.

With Detroit's skyline providing a backdrop on a brilliantly clear day, the Princess and Duke met the first American officials. In fact, Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams presented the Duke a bow tie from his own big collection.

Fish Tangle With Heavy Wog Lineup

By GUS BECKER
Battalion Sports Writer

Two of the strongest SWC freshman eleven will tangle on Kyle Field, Thursday night at 7:30, when the TCU Wogs meet the Aggie Fish.

The Wogs, who lost to the Rice Owlets in Houston, 21-13, have been preparing extra hard for their game here.

The forward wall of the Wogs averages 211 pounds and will probably be the largest the Fish will face all season.

Small But Big
Coach Walter Roach describes his freshman team as the "Smallest in numbers; biggest in size!" Only 36 Wogs reported for practices but most of these were huge linemen who weigh over 220 pounds.

Claude Roach, 248, and Billy Joe Stephenson, 238, who were stars for Fort Worth's Arlington Heights High team of last year are the starting tackles and the mainstays of the monstrous Wog line.

Maclin at Guard
At right guard will be the cat-quick 180 pounder from Fort Worth's Carter-Aiverside, Roland Maclin. Maclin is the lightest starting lineman.

Leon Moore, 210, from Slaton will be in the left guard post and Dale Brakehill, 190, from Abilene will be at center.

Wingmen for the Wogs will be Weldon Dacus of Brady and John Nickens of Sikeston, Missouri, both weighing 205 pounds.

The backfield will have Ronald Clinkscale also from the Fort Worth Arlington Heights team, starting at quarterback.

E. Mack Watson of Temple will be at left half and his running mate at right half will be Waylon Buchanan of Naples. Jimmy Rodgers of San Juan or Gene Garner of Colorado City will be in the fullback slot.

Dacus Against Owlets
Dacus scored for the Wogs against the Owlets on a 41-yard pass from Clinkscale. Clinkscale connected with Dacus twice more for yardage totaling 35 yards in the Wogs second touchdown surge.

Jack Graf of Mercedes who scored the second TCU touchdown is also the place kicker of the team.

The Wogs have been ironing out flaws and practicing blocking in preparation for Thursday's tilt.

The Aggie Fish have been undefeated thus far this season, and will be out to avenge the 60-0 licking they suffered last season at the hands of the Wogs.

The Maroon and White Fish have scored victories over Blinn Memorial College, 28-13, and the Bay-Los Cubs last week 40-20.

Fish line play looked very impressive last week against the Cubs and should be able to hold their own against the huge Wog front wall.

Sparking the Fish line will be Marvin Tate, 185 pound guard from Abilene; Sidney Theriot, 185, from Gibson, Louisiana; Leo Marquette, 225, from Marrero, Louisiana; Lawrence Winkler, 200 pounder from Temple; and Lyman Preston, 215, from Austin.

End Joe Schero
Ends will be Joe Schero, 165, from San Antonio; Paul Kenmon, 177, from Shreveport, Louisiana; Bernie Sinclair, 180, from Mineola; and Henry Clark, 202, from Mesquite.

The strong Fish ground attack features James Self, All State lad from Wichita Falls, Gerald Sandusky, smashing fullback from Bronte, Warren Anderson, 170 pound seat-back from San Antonio, Bernie Cook from Clyde, and Edward Kaektik, a powerful fullback from Rio Hondo.

Quarterbacks who will see action are Charles Killough, a Little River product, Joel Smith of Lockhart, Elwood Kettler from Brenham, Charles Leverman from McAllen and Charles Howard who engineered a 65-yard pass play against the Cubs.

The outlook for Thursday night seems to be that a hard-fought battle will develop, with the two forward walls giving little ground.
