

St. Joseph Hospital's Fund Drive To Run Into November

The St. Joseph Hospital fund drive will run over into November, F. C. Bolton, general chairman for the drive, said yesterday.

Many pledges involve a large amount of money, and people want more time to think about pledging, Bolton explained. The chairman felt the drive started at a bad time when many people were away from home.

These reasons were given for extending the drive past Oct. 31, the originally planned date. Both Catholics and non-Catholics have recognized the need for the hospital addition, Bolton said.

"The population factor is in favor of non-Catholic residents," the chairman said, "and more contributions for the addition have come from non-Catholic than from Catholics."

Approximately half the funds requested from people in the county have been pledged, Bolton said. The addition planned would cost in the neighborhood of $800,000. Of this amount, the Sisters of St. Francis have pledged $200,000, and it is hoped $400,000 can be received from the state.

Bolton said he was confident the goal of $200,000 would be reached.

Several years ago an inter-city committee, composed of representatives from Bryan and College Station, conducted a survey of the county which revealed there were only half the minimum number of hospital beds needed in Brazos County.

Accept Proposal
The Sisters of St. Francis accepted the proposal offered by the inter-city group to furnish the land and accept a sizable part of the financial obligations toward the erection of a 65 bed hospital addition.

In the meantime, other action has been taken in the county to increase a total number of available hospital beds. The governing body for Bryan Hospital launched a concurrent campaign to raise funds for the erection of an addition to Bryan Hospital. The addition planned will be financed through the sale of second mortgage bonds.

UN Experts Puzzled Over Russian Armistice Refusal

Washington, Oct. 19—(AP)—One of the puzzling things about the latest diplomatic exchange with Moscow is why the Kremlin turned aside so brusquely the American proposal that Russia act to bring about a Korean armistice agreement.

Indications are that United Nations forces are getting the Communists over a barrel in Korea. The Eighth Army has won the initiative all along the front, and U.N. planes can still bomb all the way north to Manchuria despite the increased number of Russian-made jet fighters.

With a second bitter winter coming on, the North Koreans and Chinese are believed to be short of food and clothing. Communist morale apparently is at its lowest point and there have been repeated reports of unrest among North Korean civilians.

On the face of it, an end to the fighting is just what the Communists need. Yet Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky fairly growled a Soviet rejection of the Oct. 5 proposal by Ambassador G. Kirk that Russia help promote a settlement of the long dispute over armistice terms. Vishinsky blamed General Matthew B. Ridgway's negotiators for creating obstacles, and clinched his rebuff by noting that Russia is "not a party to these negotiations."

A possible explanation being discussed here is that the Soviet adventure in Korea has about reached the end of the road and Moscow may not know which way to turn. The Communists know now they can get an armistice only on U.N. terms, some diplomatic sources contend. This means setting the truce line where the U.N. troops have reached.

Fish Begin Scoring

dusky carried for six and Hennig pulled a quarterback sneak for a first down.

Patton lost eight yards, then Hennig passed to Sinclair who was tackled on the Wog 4 yard marker. Patton then bulldozed his way over for the second Fish score. Smith made the first of his two conversions to bring the Aggies within five points of the Wogs—14 to 19.

Recover Fumble

After recovering a T.C.U. fumble on the Wog 43 yard line, Hennig had another pass intercepted, this time by Herrmann who raced down to the A&M 35. Clinkscale then proceeded to run through the Fish defense and cross the goal stripe for the final Wog score of the evening. The extra point try was good and the little Horned Frogs were in the lead 26 to 14.

The Aggies still playing catch-up moved down to the Wog 6 but lost the ball on downs when the T.C.U. line held. Sinclair recovered a fumble on the Wog 6 the next play and two downs later Kachtik went over for the score. The try for point was wide and the Wogs were ahead 26 to 20.

Wogs Forced

The Fish defensive team forced the Wogs to kick and then the offensive platoon started another drive. Taking the ball on their own 17 yard line the Fish sent Sandusky around left end for a first down on the A&M 29.

Kachtik took the ball over his left guard for another first down on the A&M 40. Sandusky again took the ball, this time through center for the third first down of this series on the Wog 38.

Taking the ball around his own right end on a sweep, Kachtik picked up another first on the Wog 28. Patton then took the ball around right end again all the way for the final touchdown to tie the score at 26-26.

Smith Kicks

Coach Holmes sent in Smith to do the kicking and he came through splitting the goalposts and making the winning point.

As the gun sounded the end of the hard fought contest the Aggie freshmen were on the march again.

Next game for the fish will be against the Rice Owlets on November 9 at 2 p.m. in Houston. The Owlets defeated the Wogs 21 to 13.

ON THE RIGHT TRACK

In railroad parlance "turning an engine" means a great deal more than reversing the engine and putting it on the right track. It means preparing the locomotive for its scheduled run. "Religious education" is another term which means more than it implies.

Our Church Schools do far more than teach religious truth. They give children the opportunity to practice Christianity in worship, service, and fellowship. Consecrated leaders provide a Christian example, helping their pupils to see and feel the happiness which our faith instills. Adult classes enable parents to deepen their own spiritual lives, and thus strengthen the Christian influence of the home.

The Church is never content merely to put a child on "the right track." It seeks to mold the character of the child, to prepare him for a noble, happy, and useful life.

In the many aspects of this vital work the Church needs your help and support.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
