Cadets Surprised By TCU; Arkansas Stuns Longhorns

Based On AP Report

What a week-end! If anyone still had any doubts about the "sureness to win" of the Southwest Conference, they were all erased during the past football week.

Top-ranked A&M fell before TCU, Arkansas upset Texas University, and the SMU Mustangs were more than surprised, they were stunned, by the Rice Owls.

Only Baylor managed to come through as expected or predicted. The Bruins of Waco had little trouble in stopping the futile but ambitious efforts of Texas Tech.

Here's what happened:

Arkansas 16, Texas 14

The Arkansas Razorbacks, led by their brigade of giant linemen and their sophomore quarterback, Lamar McHan, toppled the Texas Longhorns in Fayetteville, Ark., last Saturday afternoon.

With one smashing blow, the Razorbacks knocked Texas from its fourth place national ranking and gave it a trimming in the Longhorn's opening game in defense of their SWC championship.

When the final whistle blew after some hectic final moments of the epic affair, McHan, the 190-pound, 18-year-old flash from Lake Village, Ark., was lifted to shoulders of his mates and carried off the field in the midst of the celebration.

After fumbling the first snapback of the game and giving Texas an opportunity to score, the Razorback line stiffened and held. From that point on, Arkansas dominated the contest.

Dawson Breaks Loose

Arkansas recovered a Texas fumble and moved 15 yards for its first touchdown in the opening period; Gib Dawson, Longhorn halfback, broke loose on a 78-yard scoring run early in the second quarter and June Davis' extra-point try put Texas ahead.

But Summerall kicked a 20-yard field goal in the same period to put Arkansas in the lead again, 9 to 7 and the Razorbacks couldn't be halted after that.

Sophomore Jack Troxell's 10-yard burst around right end scored another touchdown for Arkansas in the third, and salted away the victory.

Throughout the second half, Texas could make only two first downs and 36 yards rushing.

For Arkansas, Quarterback McHan called a smooth game, exploiting the few weak spots he found in the big Longhorn line. The Razorbacks responded sharply to his leadership.

On the other hand, Quarterback T. Jones never could seem to get his mates going. In the final period, his job was turned over to Dan Page, who could do no better. It is doubtful whether a Johnny Luck or a Larry Isbell could have mastered the situation; the Razorback line simply was tremendous.

Texas was finally able to take advantage of a break halfway along in the fourth quarter, turning a fumble recovery on the Arkansas 16 into a touchdown.

McHan and Murray Elton got in a handoff mixup at that point and June Davis crashed in to cover the free ball. Dick Ochoa pulled for three, then Don Barton took a jitchout and went over left end for seven to the Porker 6, good for a first down.

Dawson slipped down on a pitch-out try and lost one, then Dan Page, who had subbed in for Jones, took to the air. Williams couldn't hold onto his first pitch into the end zone, but on third down Stolhandske made a great leaping catch deep in the corner for a score. Davis kicked point and Texas pulled up to 16-14 with 7:30 left.

Rice 28, SMU 7

Rice Institute's hustling Owls

upended Southern Methodist, the conqueror of Notre Dame, in their opening Southwest Conference game in the Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

The Owls completed a cycle of three upsets in three SWC games during the hectic week-end. Amazed spectators, 53,000 of them, saw the Owls score three times on Quarterback Dan Drake's leaping catch deep in the corner end, and once on a 27-yard run by Halback David (Kossee) Johnson.

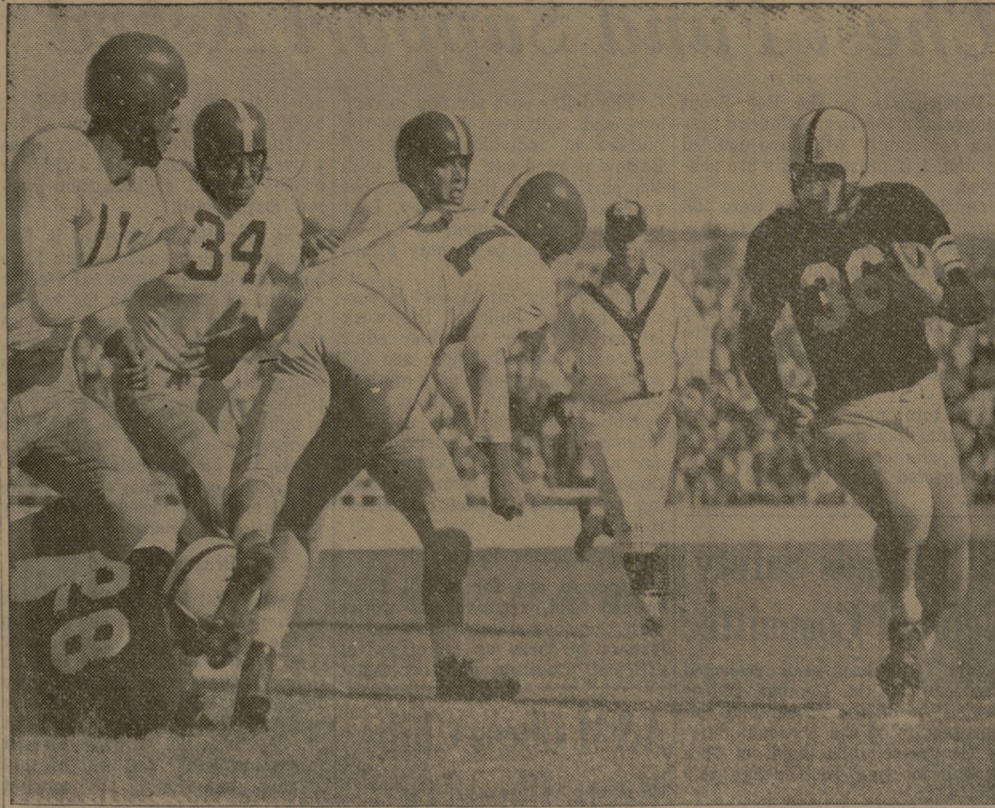

The Mustangs marched 72 yards to make the night's first score, Sophomore Jerry Norton making the touchdown on a 12-yard run. But after that, it was all Rice.

Benners Hurt

Fred Benners, the brilliant Mustang passer, was stunned early in the game in a pile-up and Rice drew a 15-yard penalty for unnecessary roughness. He stayed in the game for a few moments, later took a long rest on the bench before again taking the field, but he was ineffective.

Benners was injured again late in the contest as his head struck (See BAYLOR, Page 4)

Smith Romps For Six Yards

Fullback Bob Smith (36) moves for a six-yard, 32-inch gain against TCU in the first period. Waiting for the tackle are Charles Rogers (81), and Keith Flowers (34). Yale Lary (28) blocking in the lower left hand corner.

Tigers Beat Waller 34-0 District Win

By CHUCK NEIGHBORS
Battalion Sports Writer

A&M Consolidated's Tigers, in their third straight district victory, conquered the Waller Bulldogs 34-0 last Friday night on Tiger Field.

Speedster Jerry Leighton, fleet half back for the Tigers, scored two of their five tallies, with Willie Arnold, Gayle Klipple, and Bobby Jackson crossing the double stripe for the rest.

Leighton and Arnold, 1-2 in District 24-B scoring, have compiled 78 and 54 points respectively so far this season.

Other Tigers on the high-scoring list in the district are: George Johnston, with 20 points; David Bonnen, 18; Gayle Klipple, and Bobby Jackson with 12 markers apiece.

With an over-all season's record of four and two, Coach Othel Chafin, Tiger mentor, should be well pleased with the showing made by a team that was reportedly weak and inexperienced.

Consolidated opened their attack against Waller early in the second quarter when Willie Arnold, Leighton's running mate, scooted 37-yards to put the ball on the Waller 10, two plays later, Arnold scored on a line plunge.

The next two TD's were a result of sparkling play by scabback Leighton. First on a 21-yard run through most of the Bulldog team, and the second on a 46-yard aerial from Tiger quarterback Fred Anderson.

George Johnston kicked two out of three extra points to give the Tigers a 20-0 lead at half-time.

The third quarter saw the Tigers' Arnold race 35 yards to begin a march which ended when Gayle Klipple tore through the Waller line for touchdown number four. Bobby Jackson hauled down a pass from Anderson to make the final score for the Tigers.

A total of 370 yards was made by the Tigers on the ground and in the air against the unfortunate Waller team.

Tiger defense played an important part in the win with Bobby Smith, Don Burchard, Melvin Free, Bob Barlow, George Johnson, and Dave Bonnen all making a good showing.

So far this season, including their 34-0 win over Waller, the Tigers 134 points while their opponents have tallied only 19 against them.

Losing two heartbreaking games by only one point in each instance didn't discourage the Tigers, for in each case they came right back to win the next weekend.

Consolidated's record for the year includes wins over Kosse, Milano, Magnolia and Waller, and losses to Madisonville and Cypress-Fairbanks.

As a result of their two losses, the Tigers are tied for third place in District 24-B season standings.

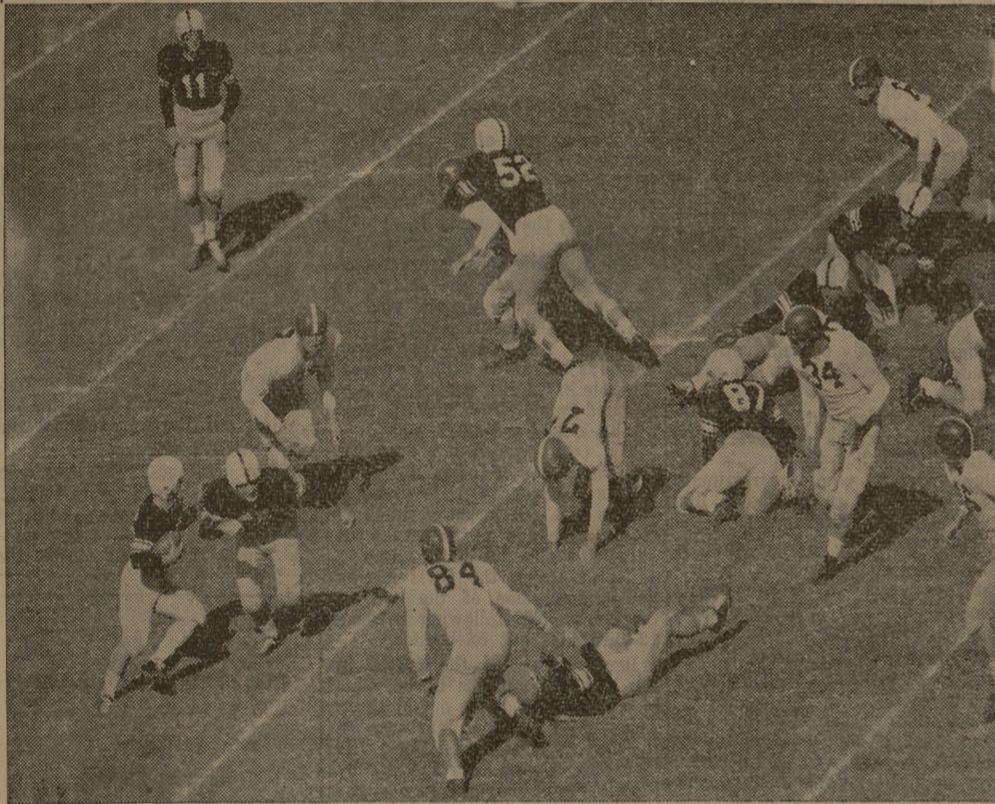

Starting out with fairly young and inexperienced material, Coach Chafin whipped what he had into a ball team that anyone will have a tough time beating.

Next week, the Tigers will travel to Hempstead where they play a strong Hempstead team that is tied for first-place honors in District competition.

Heroes Kicked-off '50 Razorback Team

Fayetteville, Ark., Oct. 22—(AP)—Two linemen who were kicked off the 1950 Arkansas football squad for cutting classes were heroes in the Razorbacks' 15-14 upset of previously undefeated Texas.

Center Bob Griffin and Guard Fred Williams, a pair of rare double-duty men in this day of platoon football, were towers of strength in the Arkansas line which opened big holes on offense when opportunity knocked and held the mighty Longhorns to four first downs.

Before yesterday's downfall, Texas was ranked fourth best team in the nation in the Associated Press poll.

Last year about this time Arkansas Coach Otis Douglas startled football followers across the country by dismissing Griffin and Williams—not for failure on the gridiron but for falling behind in their studies.

"Education is the primary purpose of the university and if a boy doesn't go to his classes he can't play football for me," Douglas declared at the time.

Williams and Griffin began hitting the books; attended all their classes and improved their grades. Douglas reinstated them in spring practice and they have been playing the best football of their careers this fall.

Griffin Great

After the conquest of Texas, Douglas commented: "All of the boys were great, but if any two linemen ever played terrific football, Bob and Fred did it."

"Griffin had the finest reactions I have ever seen in a college lineman."

The 230-pound center from Frederick, Okla., took part in innumerable tackles. And three or four times he broke through so fast that he nailed Texas quarterback T. Jones for losses before he could hand off the ball.

Williams Sets Up Touchdown

Williams set up an Arkansas touchdown in the first quarterback by pouncing on a Longhorn fumble at the Texas 16. Two plays later he and Griffin opened the hole at left guard that permitted halfback Buddy Sutton to score from the 13.

All the way he made crashing tackles.

So effective was Arkansas' defensive line that only on one play—a 79-yard touchdown run by Gib Dawson—was Texas able to make more than five yards. And the Longhorns have a rushing attack which had rolled over Kentucky, Purdue, North Carolina and Oklahoma.

This little gee-gee was all at sea. It was enough to upset his equine-imity. He'd been reading about those rush-rush cigarette tests—the quick sniff, the fast puff. "Hardly the scientific approach," he said in his confusion. But then he realized that one test is an equine of a different pigmentation—a thorough, conclusive test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke—on a day-after-day basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

Shaeffer Is Tops On Defense Play

run and almost as quickly started the TCU rally.

Even after TCU's second touchdown, the Cadets felt secure with their 14-13 lead and less than 6 minutes left to play.

Highlights for the Aggies was the defensive play of Buddy Shaeffer, Jim Fowler, W. T. Rush, Dick Frey, Jack Little, and Alvin Langford.

Shaeffer was nothing short of sensational as he intercepted passes, recovered fumbles, and tackled furiously during the entire fracas.

The Cadet "middlemen" yielded very few yards while turning in an outstanding job.

All-American Bob Smith stepped into the limelight for the first time this year by scoring one touchdown and carrying the ball 15 times for 76 yards.

Gallopin' Glenn Lippman, the conference's leading ground gainer and playing at left halfback, right halfback, and fullback, gained 80 yards on 18 carries for a 4.4 yard

The Aggies had a 320-280 advantage in total yardage, made 14 first downs to 10 for TCU.

The Frogs gained 212 yards on the ground to 199 for the Cadets but A&M got 118 yards on passes to TCU's 68.
