

George Explains TCU Kick-Off; No Protest Decision

By BOB SELLECK
Sports News Editor

Since Tuesday's issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram hit College Station, questions have been asked by many people many times. "Why doesn't A&M protest the on-kick used by TCU last Saturday? Why don't the school officials do something?"

has to be placed on or inside the "hash lines" which denote the in-bounds position. They are 17 yards in from the sidelines, and are the outside limits of the free kick. George also believed the way the play finally ended it would have worked anywhere.

That didn't beat us; after viewing the pictures we're more inclined to blame missed tackles. I believe that the best thing to do is forget the matter and let it be accepted that although we never like to lose, we did, and it is now history."

Company 6 Again Wins Sign Honors

Senior Class Calls Special Meeting

Committee reports and a discussion of speaking on the campus prior to football games will be on the agenda at a special meeting of the Senior class Thursday night. The meeting will be held in the MSC Ballroom immediately after yell practice, J. W. "Doggy" Dalton, class president, said.

Britain modified her clampdown on traffic to let 250 oil trucks go through from Suez to Cairo, Egyptian officials said. Most rail traffic in the canal area still was banned and road traffic moved under tight restrictions.

Strong forces of Egyptian police, kept on the alert against mobs for days, fired on unruly crowds in Alexandria yesterday. They flung tear gas to break up demonstrators who paraded before the Russian legation in Cairo and shouted "give us arms" to fight the British.

Interior Minister Faud Serag El Din Pasha, whose job is to maintain order in the tense and angry country, sternly declared the government will "take the strongest measures against these trouble-makers."

He said he gave orders to the police to shoot into crowds they couldn't break up otherwise. The government had banned demonstrations after rioting broke out two weeks ago in the wake of Egypt's denunciation of its treaties with Britain.

Russ Morgan Concert, Dance Saturday Night

Featuring "Music in the Morgan Manner," the Russ Morgan Orchestra will play for two performances, a concert and all-college dance, after the Baylor-A&M game Saturday.

Following the afternoon game, the orchestra with a troupe of entertainers will present a concert in Guion Hall at 7:30 p. m. Beginning at 9, the orchestra will be on hand to play for the dance in Sbis Hall until 12.

Tickets for the two events are now on sale in the Student Activities office. All seats to the concert are 70 cents and tickets to the dance are $2.50, stag or drag.

In addition to instrumental numbers by the orchestra, the two performances will feature entertainers such as "The Morganaires," a vocal quartet; Eduardo Aguilera, a Spanish cancionero; "Manon," female vocalist; Pete Fylling, known as the "Puppet Trumpeter," and the "Satin String Sextette."

Musical arrangements included in the two programs will be some of Morgan's own hit tunes, such as "So Tired," "You're Nobody Till Somebody Loves You," "So Long," and "Somebody Else Is Taking My Place."

"Music in the Morgan Manner" has been credited by musical critics as weathering all fads, styles, and crazes of musical forms. Throughout the years of the conflicts between the passions of "sweet" music versus "swing" music, the Russ Morgan Orchestra has always kept the rhythmic and melodic tie of song stylings.

Born in the coal fields of Pennsylvania, Morgan first became interested in music when he bought a trombone at the age of 12. When he was 14 he played the piano for and his student activity card. Other non-corps students will sit in a section 10 rows deep from the top of the stadium. It will extend from the goal line to the middle of the end zone. Tanner said the pass to the regular non-corps section will be the student's ID card plus his student activity card. Students can buy only one guest ticket and all guests must have tickets, sit in the student section. There will be signs at the bottom of each ramp in order to guide students to their assigned sections.

Senior Rings Not to Hard To Obtain

Those prized senior rings may be easier to obtain than many think. The much desired "nuggets" are available to any student who lacks not more than eight hours of having completed the required number of hours through the junior year of his curriculum. Students desiring rings must also have an equal number of hours and grade points.

Rings may be ordered from the ring clerk in the Registrar's Office as soon as the grades have been officially posted. The ring clerk's window is open daily from 8 a. m. until 12 a. m.

Russians 'Fools' Truman Tells D of C Group

Oct. 24—(AP)—President Truman told the Russians today they are "utterly foolish" to oppose nations banded together to seek "peace and justice."

Speaking on the anniversary of the birth of the United Nations, the President declared: "I hope the time will not be far distant when the leaders of the Soviet Union and their satellites will come to see that it is utterly foolish to oppose the united efforts of all the other peoples of the world for peace and justice."

"But so long as the forces of aggression are attacking the United Nations, there must be no weakening of our efforts to check aggression and to build up the defense of the free world."

He said advances being made toward a system of international peace and justice "will prove to be worth all the sacrifice and effort which they are costing us and other nations."

Negotiations Open Thursday

Munsan, Korea, Oct. 24—(AP)—Allied and Communist negotiators will re-open Korean armistice talks tomorrow. They will tackle first the knotty problem of where to establish a buffer zone.

The five-man delegations will meet at Panmunjom, a roadside village six miles east of Red held Kaesong where the search for a cease-fire agreement was suspended Aug. 23 by the Reds.

Tomorrow's meeting is scheduled to begin at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Wednesday, EST). Panmunjom is accessible to each side without having to travel through enemy territory. The tiny town now has the appearance of an American carnival. Armistice activities are housed in circus-like tents. Huge colored balloons and searchlights ring the conference area to warn warplanes away from the neutral zone.

Rifle Team Gets Trophy

The A&M Army Rifle Team will be presented the 1951 Fourth Army area ROTC Team Match championship trophy Saturday at Kyle Field before the A&M-Baylor football game.

Brig. Gen. F. T. Dodd, Fourth Army chief of staff, will make the presentation. He will be accompanied to midfield by President M. T. Harrington and Col. S. P. Meyers, PMS&T General Dadd will give the mahogany and silver award to Team Captain Duane C. Urue.

Other members of the championship team who will be here for the award presentation are Russell G. Durhill, William R. Green, Hugh J. Mangum, Carly Schlinke Jr., William R. Swan, Bruce H. Vanzura, and Lyle A. Wulfskill. Faculty manager Captain Paul M. Bennett, and team coach, M/Sgt. William R. Reese will also accompany the team to midfield.

Amassing 7,991 points of a possible 8,000, the Aggie marksmen outscored all other Army, Navy, and Air Force ROTC small bore competitors in the Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, and Oklahoma area. This year's second and third place contestants were the A&M Air Force team with 7586 points and the University of Oklahoma's Navy team with 7283.

The trophy, which is awarded annually by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, will remain on the campus for one year. It will be displayed in the MSC following the Baylor game.

MSC Crafts Committee Holds Meet

Other demonstrations scheduled include plastic carving, molding and forming. In these classes students learn how book ends, paper weights, ear rings, medallions and other useful articles are created from plastic.

A ceramics demonstration will show how to turn attractive bowls, mugs, and dishes on the potter's wheel. Building pottery pieces by freehand methods and molding plates, cups, and bookends along with methods of mold making.

Instructions in all phases of woodworking and care of hand tools will be offered for those interested in wood crafts. Students interested in metal craft will have the opportunity of learning to tool copper pictures, form bowls and make trays.

The latest craft to be offered is gem cutting. The Craft Committee has purchased lapidary equipment and it is now prepared to give instructions in this art.

Sound and color movies are to be shown in connection with most of the demonstrations, such as plastics, pottery, metal craft and caring for woodworking hand tools.

All students, student's wives and associate members of the Craft Committee are invited to attend the demonstrations.

RV Juniors Try Out Thursday

A competitive drill for all Ross Volunteer Junior applicants will be held Thursday on the Infantry Drill Field behind Dorm 12 from 5 until 6 p. m. Dick Ingles, RV commander, said Tuesday.

All juniors who have applied for membership in the RV's must attend, Ingles said. Uniform for the drill period will be khaki with ties. Decisions will be based on military bearing, appearance, posture, and drill proficiency, Ingles said. No rifles will be used in this drill period. Drill will be graded by officers of the company.

Reds OK Rules

Resumption of the conference talks was made possible when the Communists Wednesday ratified security ground rules drafted by U. N. and Communist liaison officers in 12 meetings at Panmunjom since Oct. 10.

The U. N. had approved the ground rules Monday. An Allied liaison officer said a new dispute cropped up Wednesday. The Communists objected to Allied military policemen at the entrance of the negotiations tent. The Communists insisted that the MPs be stationed on the road about 110 yards away. The liaison officer said the guards would be posted at the tent door unless Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. negotiator yields to the Red demand.

Joy and Gen. Nam Il, 38-year-old North Korean, again head the delegations. There will be two new men on each.

Tough Issues

If and when the negotiators agree on a line of demarcation between the U. N. and Communist armies, they still face three tough issues:

- How the truce is to be supervised.
- How to exchange prisoners.
- What recommendations to make to their respective governments. This includes the Red demand that foreign troops be withdrawn from Korea.

Those issues must be settled before there can be an end to the fighting. No one in official position at the U. N. advance headquarters would risk a prediction on how long it might take to reach an armistice. But the general feeling here was that the new effort would be "this time or never."

The Reds broke off negotiations 63 days ago, charging Allied planes strafed Kaesong. The charge was denied. It was followed by a series of Red accusations. All but three were rejected by U. N. investigators.

Broke Talks

When talks broke down, negotiators were deadlocked on the matter of where the line of demarcation should be established between the opposing forces. The Reds wanted it along Parallel 38, prewar boundary between North and South Korea.

The United Nations will demand a cease-fire line along the current battlefield. The front runs 50 miles into North Korea in the east, 30 miles north in the center and seven miles south of the 38th Parallel in the west.

Senior Class Group Discusses 'Traditions'

The Senior Class Traditions Committee met Monday night to discuss what constitutes an A&M tradition. After much discussion, several recommendations were referred to the entire Senior class for further debate.

The flying of the 52 flags around Kyle Field is one of the questions which will be taken before the class at its special meeting Thursday night. Another motion considered the number of semesters a student must have attended A&M before he may be eligible to wear senior boots.

A motion was made to refer to the Student Senate the possible seating arrangements at future home football games. Committee members also discussed the possibility of issuing passes to seniors so they may be admitted to the Senior section. The use of eight Regimental Duty Officers at all out of town football games was also recommended.

Bob Langford, chairman of the committee, said he would talk to the commanding officer of Squadron 13 and determine reasons why freshmen in that organization were violating uniform privileges during the recent Fort Worth Corps Trip.

The committee agreed that a ruling on wearing caps when approaching the site of a yell practice or athletic contest should be made. Members recommended that all corps members take off their caps when nearing yell practice and leave them off afterwards until a reasonable distance away. Langford appointed a committee to investigate records of former classes at A&M to determine the tradition of placing flags on bonfires. This committee will report their findings to the next meeting of the Traditions Committee, which will be held Monday night.

Col. Davis Talks At UN Day Meeting

United Nations Day in College Station will be commemorated by a reorganizational meeting of the United Nations Club tonight at 7:30 in the YMCA Chapel. Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant, will be the principal speaker on the program.

The club, originally organized in September, 1950 is designed for the benefit of foreign students attending A&M. Colonel Davis will speak on "The Accomplishments of the United Nations" at the meeting tonight. He also spoke at an assembly this morning at Consolidated High School observing the occasion.

By POGO

CONTRARY to tradition committee reports, we do attend yell practice. While there, a yell leader exclaimed, "... well, ole aaaaarmy ... in Fort Worth last weekend I saw something I didn't like. While that Fightin' Texas Aggie—rest, rest—team was out there, fightin' and sweatin' and giving their all for Aggieland—rest, rest—the Twelfth Man, especially you freshmen, weren't behind them. Instead of yelling, you were in stands making LOVE. Gotta Go gotta go." All we can say, "will this become a tradition?" Gotta go.

EAVESDROPPING: Two sophs who evidently didn't attend last night's yell practice (E Battery Juniors take note) were questioning a fish as to what happened. "What came up at yell practice last night, Fish Smurkle?" Replied the freshman in a sickly tone, "Chow, sir."
