

Parliamentary Course Last Session Tonight

Instructions on how to organize a club from start to finish will be given at the third and final meeting of the parliamentary procedure course sponsored by the Student Activities Office and the English Department.

The meeting will be Thursday after yell practice in room 301 Goodwin Hall. It will be conducted by K. F. Pierce of the English Department, who conducted the first two meetings. Refreshments will be served.

Basic procedure and parliamentary details were discussed at the first two meetings. The course has had an average attendance of 25 people a meeting. If sufficient interest is indicated, the course will be repeated each year, said Pete Hardesty of Student Activities.

"All student senators, club presidents, and anyone else interested in learning how to organize a club is cordially invited to this meeting," Hardesty said.

Mrs. Belcher Heads Church Ladies Group

Mrs. D. L. Belcher was elected president of the College Station Council of Church Women at a recent meeting of the group at the A&M Christian Church.

Other officers elected at that meeting were as follows: first vice-president, Mrs. Lee Thompson; second vice-president, Mrs. Robert Sneed; secretary, Mrs. Harvey Oakley; treasurer, Mrs. W. E. Briles; reporter - historian, Mrs. Vernon Young.

A change in time of the weekly broadcast sponsored by the Council was announced at the meeting. It is now to be at 9:30 each Thursday morning over WTAW.

Mrs. E. G. Smith, retiring president, introduced Mrs. D. Scoates who was program chairman for the day. Mrs. Scoates explained that this day had been designated as World Community Day and called attention to the warm clothing and blankets that had been collected for Korea. She then introduced Dr. S. R. Gammon, head of the History Department.

In keeping with the spirit of World Community Day, Dr. Gammon used as his topic, "Live Thy Faith", as he spoke about the history of the United Nations. Following his address, Mrs. E. E. Vezy gave an appropriate devotional. The Rev. C. W. Ketch, pastor of the A&M Christian Church, gave the benediction.

Amendment

They anticipate lower fire insurance and better protection. Opponents declare the amendment is undesirable because it does not place a limit on the size of the districts. They believe commissioners courts already have power to buy county fire fighting equipment.

4-To permit the total amount of bonds that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to be increased from $25,000,000 to $100,000,000. Proponents say the long-term, low-interest loans to veterans for farm and ranch purchases benefit the state as well as the veterans by putting idle land into production without costing the state any money. Opponents answer that a depression period might cause defaults in payments on the notes, leaving the state burdened with the problem of paying off the bonds from other sources.

January Draft Call Biggest Since April--1,471 Slated

Austin, Nov. 6—(AP)—The biggest draft call since April was relayed yesterday by the state selective service officer from Washington.

Texas was called on to deliver 1,471 men in January. That's more than four times greater than December's call for 362.

"We expected this and it finds us ready," said Brig. Gen. Paul Wakefield, state selective service director. "We believe the calls will get bigger before they get smaller again."

The January quota brings to 31,903 the number of men called for from Texas since fighting began in Korea.

Hospital Committee Announces Plans

The Hospital Committee of the Student Senate held their first meeting of the year last Friday, in the MSC.

Chairman Fred Brison has announced that members voted to accept the plan originated by the committee last year for submitting student complaints to the hospital staff. This policy functions through a typical A&M chain of command.

Any student having a hospital complaint should report the facts to either his company commander or housemaster. The commander will inform the dormitory senator who in turn presents the case to the Student Senate members of the Hospital Committee.

Members of the committee and the hospital staff will work out a solution to the problem disturbing the student. Then, down the chain of command, through the Student Senate and the commander, the student will be informed of the investigation results. Brison urged all students to submit their grievances against the hospital in the described manner.

"Emergency cases requiring immediate action by a doctor should be brought to the attention of the cadet officer of the day who with the tactical officer on call will secure a doctor," said Col. Joe E. Davis, one of the committeemen.

"When such an emergency occurs after 11 p. m., a cadet officer or non-commissioned officer should immediately contact the assistant commandant, Lt. Col. M. P. Bowden. If none of the aforementioned are available, contact me or Benny A. Zimm, assistant dean of men," said Col. Davis.

Rodeo Team Picked; Schedules Meet

A rodeo team consisting of Bobby Rankin, Don Tabb, Lowie Rice, Jack Willingham, George Garretson, and Jim Smith was chosen Monday night to represent A&M in the Sul Ross Intercollegiate Rodeo Nov. 15-17 at Alpine.

Each member will be competing in three or more events. The students were chosen by the Rodeo Club on the basis of ability and past experience.

The Sul Ross show will be held in nearby Marfa. It is the first intercollegiate rodeo for the A&M team this season. In team standings for this year, A&M is fourth in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

The team will leave for Marfa after classes Wednesday, Nov. 14, and return Sunday, Nov. 18.

Alpha Zeta Group Hears Elliott Talk

Fred Elliott, former county agent in Gonzales, Wilson, and Guadalupe Counties and now cotton specialist for the Extension Service gave an illustrated talk on "Latest Methods and Equipment in Cotton" at the Alpha Zeta meeting last night in the MSC. Alton Enloe was in charge of the program and introduced Elliott.

New members of the Texas Alpha Chapter will be selected at the next meeting, announced Jim Anderson, chapter president. Outstanding seniors and juniors in the School of Agriculture are only considered in this selection.

Divisional DAR Meet Opens Here

Mrs. Frank Garland Trau, State Regent of the Texas Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, president at the DAR divisional meeting at the MSC at 10 a. m. today.

The meeting, in the form of a work clinic, included reports from state officers on the various projects and interests of the organization. Among the state officers attending, in addition to Mrs. Trau from Sherman, was Mrs. Edward Rowland Barrow of Houston, who is also Vice President General of the National Society of the DAR.

Representatives of District 4 came from Athens, Brenham, Bryan, Cameron, College Station, Conroe, Corsicana, Huntsville, Lufkin, Mexia, Nacogdoches, Navasota, Palestine, Tyler, and Waso. La Villita, of College Station, was the hostess chapter.

Students Apply For Rhodes Awards

Marvin Atwins, a senior architecture major, and Roddy B. Walton, a senior physics major, have applied for Rhodes Scholarships to England's Oxford University.

Dr. T. F. Mayo, head of the English department, will be on the six-man committee to choose the two men that will represent Texas in the district competition for the scholarships. This committee will meet in Houston Dec. 12.

For the purpose of awarding scholarships, the United States is divided into eight districts of six states each. Each district awards four scholarships.

A meeting will be held later in New Orleans to determine the four winners in the district which Texas is in.

Dr. Trotter III In Bryan Hospital

Dr. Ide P. Trotter, dean of the graduate school, is in St. Joseph's Hospital in Bryan with an acute digestive disorder.

A consultant from Galveston was called in to assist Trotter's doctor. They believe that the disorder will clear up with rest and time. Four nurses are in attendance.

'God of Creation' Movie Set for 'Y'

The Aggie Christian Fellowship will present a movie entitled "God of Creation" in the YMCA Assembly Room Wednesday night at 7:30, announced Bill Munnerlyn, vice-president.

"The picture will show the astounding way in which God develops the things he creates," Munnerlyn said. "Photographed in beautiful natural color, this picture contains awe-inspiring scenes that disclose the size and number of the heavenly bodies, and explains in easy-to-understand language the marvels of the 'unseen' world—the realm beneath the microscope," the vice-president added.
