

Revenge Seeking Freshmen Clash With Rice In Houston

By GUS BECKER
Battalion Sports Writer

The Aggie Fish will be out to avenge a 52-6 licking by the Rice Owlets Friday night at 7:30 p.m. at the new Rice Stadium in Houston.

The game is played under the sponsorship of the Athletic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce with the proceeds going to the United Fund.

This is the last game of the season for the Owlets who have won only one game out of four. The A&M Freshman are undefeated this season, having played three games.

Last week the Owlets came out on the short end of a 13-7 game with the Texas University Short-horns. The Fish eleven were idle last week preparing for the Friday night contest.

Although the Owlets are not going to be an easy touch the freshman Maroon and White squad will enter the game as heavy favorites to add another victory to their string.

Comparing scores against the same opponent the Owlets have an edge as they won their opener against the TCU Polliwogs 21 to 13 and the Fish just edge out the Wogs 20-9.

Morris Stone of Kerrville and Mac Taylor of Lubbock, two of the owlets top running backs were injured in the Shorthorn game, but are expected to see limited service against the Fish.

Roach-Proctor

Quarterback duties for the "little Owlets" will be shared by Claude Roach of Houston and Achley Proctor of DeKalb, while Don Costa will start at the fullback slot.

Sparking the Owlet forward wall will be Kenny Paul of Houston, Layton Goleman of Kerrville, Bob Pacharzina and Larry Lundstedt of Austin.

The Aggie Fish have several players who are not expected to play in the Owlet game. Ben Talbert, a 190-pound center, Guards Billy Roberts, Henry Arnett and Marvin Tate, and ends Dickie Dowell and Paul Kennon, are definitely not going to be ready for the Owlet tilt.

In the A&M Freshman backfield Edward Kachtik hasn't worked out this week because of an injured ankle and will probably not be able to play Friday. Kachtik is the leading Fish scorer with four touchdowns and has carried the ball 15 times for 184 yards.

Powerhouse Patton

Virgil Patton, a powerhouse fullback, has scored two TD's for the Freshman, has carried the pigskin 25 times for 152 yards this season and is expected to start against the Rice Freshman.

Another fullback Gerald Sandusky has crossed the goal line once this year for the Fish eleven and James Self, a scabback from Wichita Falls, has made two touchdowns for the Freshman.

Sandusky has punted four times for a 36.8 yards per kick average and Patton has booted the ball five times for a 33.2 average.

Dick Frey

Frey Selected As Top Defensive Man

Dick Frey, Cadet tackle, has been chosen as one of the outstanding Defensive Linemen of the Week by the Battalion.

Frey was picked for his aggressive and quick action in the Aggie battle with Arkansas. He spent most of his time bottling up the Razorback offense.

Many times he appeared as the unwanted fifth man in the middle of the Hog backfield stopping some plays before they could really get started.

Frey is 6 ft. 2 in., 212 pound junior who was originally from California but now lives in Houston.

Being only a junior it is likely that Frey will play a big role in shaping the Aggie forward wall next year. He has already seen enough action in the last two years to be labeled a veteran.

Last year he played at guard and lettered. This year he has been switched to tackle and so far has turned in a job well done.

Frey transferred from Pasadena Junior College. He is especially noted for his fast charging and hard hitting.

He is also one of those rare boys that can play both on offense and defense. Frey is equally talented in both roles, always performing more than his share.

This very powerful letterman tackle takes football seriously and is always ready to give everything he can win, lose, or draw.

Frey has seen lots of action this year and the Arkansas tilt is only an example of what he is capable of doing and what he will still have the chance to do in the remaining games for the Cadets.

If Frey continues to play the way he has in the past he is definitely due for Southwest Conference recognition by the time the end of his senior year rolls around (Alvin Langford, another outstanding lineman for the Arkansas game will follow in tomorrow's paper).

SMU Head Coach

Russell Creates Sting Of Mustangs

H. N. Russell is the man behind the deadly sting of the SMU passing attack.

Russell, head football coach at Southern Methodist University, started his sport career at Howard Payne Academy in Brownwood where he was a basketball player.

Russell played football for Howard Payne College in 1915, 1917, 1920 and 1921. In those days athletic scholarships were unknown and he had to drop out of school from time to time to make money to pay for his education.

During World War I, Russell served in the Army seeing action in France.

In 1922, after receiving his degree, Russell became coach at Granger, Texas, where he developed a strong team. The next four years were spent coaching at Temple High School where he was assistant coach for two years and head coach for two seasons.

In 1927 Russell became head coach at Masonic Home, Fort Worth, where he and his Mighty Mites gained national recognition for their gridiron achievements.

Working with small squads, Russell developed teams that grasped the imagination of the public by their aggressive, smart, alert play.

In the sixteen years that he coached them, the Mites won 132 games, tied nine and lost thirty.

For four seasons the Mites were unbeaten in high school competition, while the 1931 squad set a record for high school scoring, making 425 points.

During the years that coach Russell was at the Masonic Home, which was in the highest bracket of the interscholastic league, his eleven won six district titles, tied for another, lost in bi-district twice, went to the semi-finals three occasions, and to the finals once where they lost to Corsicana on penetrations.

Highland Park High School was the next stop in Coach Russell's career. There his teams won 27 games, lost four and tied two. The 1943 squad lost to San Angelo 20 to 21 in the semi-finals and the 1944 club was beaten 20 to 7 in the finals by Port Arthur.

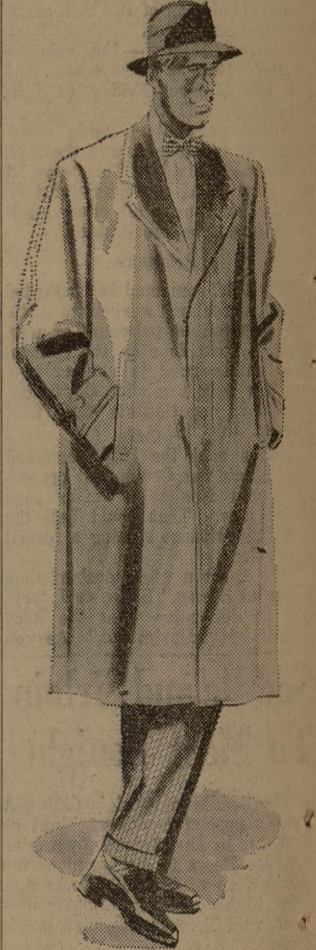

In February, 1945, Russell became acting head coach at SMU, with the understanding that he would be the first assistant coach when Commander Matty Bell returned from duty with the USNR. Coach Bell returned to his duties with the Mustangs in September of 1945 and the Ponies finished second in the Conference, using the offensive that was taught by coach Russell.

Head coach Bell voluntarily retired at the end of the 1949 season and Russell now became head coach. His 1950 team was at the top of the national standings after winning the first four games of the season, then three-point losses to Texas and Baylor and a five-point loss to A&M reduced them from this position. The club end-

Joey Maxim won the American light-heavyweight championship from Gus Lesnevich on May 23, 1949.
