

Duff Causes GOP Row During Texas Visit

San Antonio, Nov. 9.—(P)—A Republican intraparty row in Texas has been touched off by the visit of Senator James H. Duff (R-Pa) to Texas, according to Mike Nolte of San Antonio, the state GOP treasurer.

Duff is the recognized leader of the Eisenhower "For-President" forces in the nation.

Duff's visit to Texas has taken on added significance.

In Houston, Duff said he talked with Eisenhower by telephone Tuesday. While silent about the conversation, the Republican leader made no attempt to conceal his optimism.

"If I had any abatement of interest," he said, "I wouldn't be down here."

Duff, who stopped over in Houston for the night, will come to San Antonio at 4:30 p. m. today with Jack Porter, oil man and member of the State Republican committee, who aspires to be national committeeman, a position now held by Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth.

Zweifel, who is in Houston to address the Republican Women's Organization, is expected to make an "important announcement." Speculation in GOP circles is to the effect that Zweifel will declare himself for Senator Robert A. Taft for the presidential nomination and that Taft will visit Texas after an appearance in Alabama and Louisiana.

After meeting party leaders in San Antonio, Duff is due to attend a dinner in his honor at Fredericksburg Thursday at the Nimitz Hotel, that has been described as "a harmony gathering." It is supposed to attract some of the Democratic political leaders who are anti-Truman to the point of party quitting. Duff plans then to go to Midland and McAllen for further conferences.

The Republican party leaders in Texas, who at first took no particular notice of Duff's visit to Texas, were stirred to action Wednesday when Nolte gave out a memorandum to the press.

Eisenhower Endorsement "Senator Duff's visit to Texas," said Nolte, "instead of producing harmony in the Republican ranks, is taking on the appearance of a personal endorsement by General Eisenhower of Jack Porter's candidacy for national committeeman from Texas. By taking part in an intraparty contest a long way from the homes of both the senator and the general, Senator Duff is rendering a great disservice to General Eisenhower. The state committee and officers have been ignored, and only the partisans of Jack Porter have been invited to meet Senator Duff. This may cause the leaders in this state to change from their present purpose to send an unrepresented delegation to the national convention, and virtually force them to climb back on the Taft bandwagon. Porter's man Stacy carried the list of the chosen few from Houston to Fredericksburg for mailing."

"State officials uninvited are: National Committeeman, Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth; National Committeewoman, Mrs. Carl Stearns of Houston; State Chairman Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls; State Vice Chairman Mrs. Buck West of San Antonio; State Secretary Carlos Watson of Brownsville; State Treasurer Nolte of San Antonio; National Committeeman Marris McLean of San Antonio, and about 50 more committeemen of the State Executive Committee."

to come out with something effective enough to put the skids under the cunning quarterback Isbell.

Staying on the ground most of the way, the Longhorns are a rough team to beat, and their "T" Jones isn't so bad at the passing game.

Texas is also rated slight favorite to cop the SWC title this year, so we nominate the Orange and White for the winners column tomorrow.

Aggie Freshmen 27—Owlets 7

The Aggie freshman team is now leading the SWC frosh teams in conference competition. They are undefeated, untied and have a good chance to stay that way tonight in Houston against the Owlets.

Future Cadet starters will be seen in action in this game, and making the trip for the tilt are four 200 pound guards and seven 200 pound tackles.

In the backfield will be a setup similar to the Lippman, Smith, Tidwell combination, with James Self, Virgil Patton, and George Sandusky rolling up the yards.

Edward Kachtik, another fullback for the representatives of the class of '55, will be absent from the lineup against Rice, due to an injury received in the freshmen's last game.

Thinking about the heavy line and powerful backfield of the Maroon and White Fish squad, we pick the Aggies over the Owlets in a spirited contest game, 27-7.

Crime Investigators Swing Into Action

Austin, Tex., Nov. 9.—(P)—The House Crime Investigating Committee, inactive since its June examination of the Maceo gambling empire and Galveston's attitude toward organized crime, swung attention today to the sale of narcotics to juveniles.

A dozen or more public officials were invited to tell the five-man committee what they know about the juvenile dope and white slave situation in Texas.

As late as Wednesday, committee chairman Fred Meredith of Terrell said citizens response on appeals for information concerning the dope traffic had been negligible.

Apparently nettled at lack of public interest, Rep. Meredith said his committee had not "obtained the cooperation we had hoped for." He was hopeful today's round-table conference would give the committee some leads to follow up at future hearings.

City, state and federal officials invited to speak at today's hearing included Chiefs of Police from Dallas, Austin and Houston; District Attorney Henry Wade of Dallas; Houston Vice Squad Capt. George Seber; the U. S. Narcotics Agent in San Antonio; a representative of San Antonio's vice squad on narcotics; the superintendent of the state school for boys at Gatesville; Mrs. Maxine Burlingham, superintendent of the state school for girls at Gainesville; State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar of Austin; Col. Homer Garrison Jr., head of the State Department of Public Safety; and Attorney General Price Daniel.

Created by the House last spring to investigate organized crime in Texas, the committee will continue its work through 1952 and submit recommendations to the 1953 legislature for strengthening of Texas' crime code.

McHaney Attends Agent's Meeting

John McHaney, country agricultural agent-at-large for the Agricultural Extension Service and a staff member of the department of agricultural economics and sociology, is attending the week-long National Agricultural Outlook Conference, which began Monday, October 29, in Washington.

For the past several years, McHaney has had a leading role in the preparation of outlook material for country agents and upon his return to the campus will prepare a general outlook leaflet based on farm prospects for 1952.

A-Bomb Shelters Could Become Disease Havens

Dallas, Nov. 9.—(P)—Havens of refuge from bomb attacks accidentally could become hotbeds of epidemic diseases unless preventive measures are planned, in Oklahoma doctor said today.

Addressing the 45th annual meeting of the Southern Medical Association, Dr. Kirk T. Mosley of the University of Oklahoma outlined the need for vigilance against "deliberate and wilful" use of germ warfare by an enemy.

But then he added: "Attention should also be given to one of the major problems to be faced as a consequence of atomic warfare or mass bombing attacks, and that is the problem of prevention and control of epidemics in the so-called non-strategic areas."

"Such areas will for obvious reasons become havens for refugees fleeing from the prime target areas of the country, either after or before an atomic or mass bombing attack has been made.

The hurried introduction of large numbers of individuals into new localities may lead to the establishment of the necessary circumstances for large outbreaks of disease.

"The refugees may or may not be immune to strains of organisms prevalent in their new location or the refugees may introduce new strains of (disease-causing) germs to which the local inhabitants are susceptible."

Dr. Mosley declared that overcrowding, overtaxing of sanitary facilities, neglect of personal hygiene and inadequacy of diet would be conditions favorable to the development of serious epidemics of diseases ordinarily at a "low-smoldering" level.

Discussing the possible pattern of any deliberate germ warfare, the doctor said an enemy might select a microbe against which the general population had little appreciable immunity—for example, the germs of plague, yellow fever, "rabbits" fever and "parrot" fever.

Ag Experiment To Receive Grant

A research grant of $7,250 will be made to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Dr. R. D. Lewis, director of the TAES, announced Monday. The money is from the U. S. Public Health Service, Bethesda, Maryland.

The grant will be used for the continuation of the research project entitled "The Nutritional Requirements for Embryonic Development and Growth." It is for the period of January 1, 1952 through Dec. 31, 1952 and payment will be made in two installments.

"This research is under the direction of Dr. J. R. Couch of our department of biochemistry and nutrition and poultry husbandry," Dr. Lewis says.

Truce Talks Come to Halt

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 9.—(AP) Truce negotiators cancelled their afternoon meeting today after an "inconclusive and unproductive" morning session.

A United Nations command communiqué, which described the talks as fruitless, said negotiators would meet tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Friday EST).

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. spokesman, said he got the impression Communist representatives might be stalling.

Allied sources suggested the Reds might be waiting for new instructions in view of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's proposal Thursday in Paris for a cease-fire within ten days. Vishinsky suggested all troops withdraw from the 38th parallel and foreign units leave Korea within three months.

Nuckols said neither Vishinsky nor the 38th parallel were mentioned during Friday's two hour and 45 minute meeting in a dirty yellow tent in Panmunjom.

Nuckols said he felt Vishinsky's remarks would not "tend to allay any of the fears that have arisen" about Communist intentions.
