A&M, Texas Shorthorn Tilt Promises Fans Close Battle

By BOB SELLECK
Sports News Editor

The Cadet Fish and the Short-horns of Texas will meet in Austin Saturday both teams carrying almost identical records in the statistical department.

The Aggie Fish have a slight advantage in the running department due to the services of an ample supply of halfbacks and fullbacks. All previous contests between these two clubs have always proved to be full of spectacular play and all indications point to a repeat performance.

A big factor in favor of the TU fish is the comparison of the results of both elevens against the TCU Wogs.

The Shorthorns whipped the Wogs 34-14 while the Fish Cadets coked out a 27-26 win.

Billy Quinn, the 180-pound work horse from San Antonio on the Texas Shorthorn football team, will probably be the back the Aggie Fish will be watching in their Shrine Benefit game with the Texas freshmen Saturday in Memorial Stadium.

Quinn, a former Thomas Jefferson high school star, is the leading ground gainer on both teams.

Statistics show that in four games he has chalked up 378 yards rushing in 56 attempts and is far in the leading offensive punch.

Top Aggie Gainers

The Aggies Fish' two best ground-gainers, Edward Kachtik of Rio Hondo and James Self, the all-starter from Wichita Falls, have rushing records of 183 and 171 yards respectively in four games.

Kachtik, however, leads Quinn in points scored. He has tallied four times for the Aggie Fish compared with three for Quinn.

The longest run of the season for any member of either team was a 68-yard dash by Quinn.

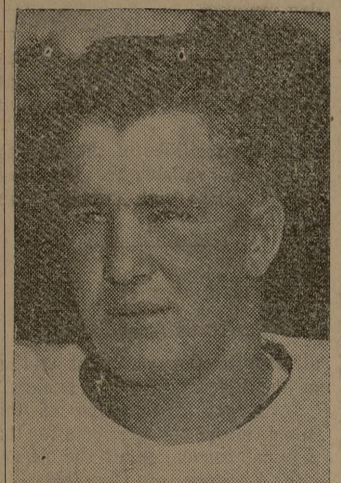

Records Even

The offensive-defensive records of the two teams in their four games are about even. Texas Fish have gained 1,219 yards rushing and passing compared to the Cadet Fish average of 1,195 yards. Defensively, the Shorthorns have allowed 1,088 yards rushing and passing by their four opponents, while the Aggie Fish have permitted 1,010 yards.

In passing, the Aggie Fish have completed 14 of 44. Three of them were for touchdowns. Total Aggie Fish yardage gained by passing has been 290. The Shorthorns have completed 13 of 50 for 215 yards. One went for a touchdown.

Hodge, Smith Named Aggie Offensive Players Of Week

By HUGH PHILIPPUS
Battalion Sports Writer

The offensive stars of the Aggie-Rice game last Saturday in Houston was chosen by The Battalion as Charlie Hodge and Bob Smith.

This was the second time Hodge was chosen for this honor, as he was picked after the UCLA game for the same reason—his pass catching. This glue-fingered boy from Dallas was the only Aggie to cross the Owls goal strip Saturday and he did it twice. His first score came on a six yard pass from Gardemal, and the second on a 24 yard pitch from Ray Graves. Charlie made a beautiful catch of the pass from Gardemal, as he had to dive for the ball while being hounded by defensive men.

Winning Touchdown

Many will remember it was Hodge who caught the winning touchdown pass in the game with UCLA, and was commented on by many California sports scribes. Charlie has caught 17 passes for a total ground coverage of 183 yards. By catching those two TD passes last Saturday, he brought his total of Touchdown Passes to 4. Also an addition to Hodge's scoring column is the extra point he kicked in the game with Trinity. This was his first try at this duty.

After Charlie snags a pass he knows how to get his 192 pound 6' 1" frame to moving down the field toward the opponent's goal stripe. Last year Charlie caught 10 passes for 109 yards and two touchdowns.

With a pass snatching receiver like Charlie Hodge at right end, there is a good answer to why the Aggie pass offense is better than pass receiving. Bennie Sinclair, Fish end from Mineola, has snag-

CHS Prepares For Bi-District Contest

A&M Consolidated High School football team by virtue of their trouncing of Lexington, 51-13, last week are preparing to battle Bremond in a Bi-District encounter Thursday.

The championship contest will be held in Hearne and kick-off time has been set for 8 o'clock that night on the first Thanksgiving holiday.

In addition to last week's contest, the CHS Tigers have rolled up a very impressive record for the season, despite an unusual slow start.

The Tigers hold wins over Somerville, Waller, Magnolia, Lexington, and a tie with Hempstead was won on first downs.

Lightnin' Jerry Leighton, sensational seatback for CHS added 24 more points to his already amazing total to jump his scoring leadership to 144 points. Leighton missed one game this year and that against Navasota, a non-conference game. He was sidelined with a charley horse but showed it didn't take much to put him back on his feet.

Backfield shows quarterback Anderson, fullback Klipple, Halfbacks Arnold and Leighton completing the first string.

Langford Thinks '50 Mustang Game Best

By ALVIN LANGFORD
As Told To PEPE LeBLANC

"We were ahead 12-7. There was little time left to play in the first half.

"SMU had the ball on our 20. Benners and Rote on passes and runs got the ball down to about the 6 yard line.

"Kyle Rote took the snap from center and headed around to the right. He was going and going. He looked like he was impossible to stop once he had started.

"But Charlie (McDonald) stopped him cold on the one-yard line.

"I felt relieved after that tackle. We really needed that tackle. We went on to hold them and keep SMU from scoring in the first half of that '50 game.

When asked to comment on the spirit of the players as a whole, Langford replied, "We were all fired up for SMU and everybody seemed to be working good together that day.

"I played on both defense and offense at tackle, alternating with Sam (Moses).

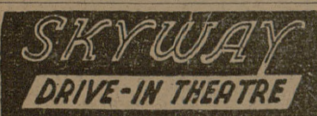

Alvin Langford Guard

"I bet Sam and I ran three miles in that game going back and forth from the bench to the field and then back to the sidelines.

"We went on to win that game, I think it was 25-20.

"This win sure made me feel good because we had really wanted to win against SMU. SMU was a strong team last year.

"In the locker room, there was nothing but confusion. Everybody went crazy. The coaches were shaking hands with us and patting us on our backs.

Blaine Paces Aggies In SWC Harrier Meet

James Blaine paced the A&M cross-country team to a second place finish in the Southwest Conference cross-country meet held at Fayetteville, Arkansas, Nov. 19. Blaine finished the 2.3 mile course first with a time of 12:27.5.

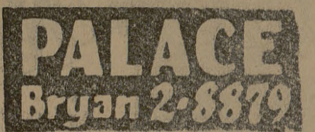

The Razorbacks compiled a winning low score of 31 points. A&M was second with 34, the University of Texas a weak third with 73, and SMU last with 83. The conference's other member schools, Baylor, TCU, and Rice, did not compete.

Others in the first ten finishers were: James Yarbrough, Arkansas, second; C. Hudgens, A&M, third; Temple Brown, Arkansas, fourth; L. Lowe, SMU, fifth; Rick Heber, Arkansas, sixth; James Bean, Arkansas, seventh; C. A. Randall, Texas, eighth; D. Deroven, A&M, ninth; and C. Gabriel, A&M, tenth.

Blaine's first place ribbon was added to one first, one second, and one third that he racked up in previous meets.

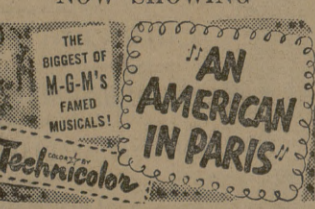

In a triangular meet with Arkansas and University of Texas held Nov. 3, Blaine placed first to give the Cadets a tie with Arkansas. He finished third to lead Aggie scorers in a meet with Oklahoma A&M and University of Texas and second in a two-mile meet with Oklahoma University.
