

SWC Predictions

Rice To Edge TCU In Decisive Game

By ED HOLDER
Battalion Sports Writer

Two games are scheduled in SWC play tomorrow, one of which will probably decide the conference championship. The game between TCU and Rice has received recognition as the top clash of the week in the nation.

Each team has won three and lost one. Rice's loss went to Texas University and TCU dropped a thriller last week to the same powerful Longhorn eleven.

It could be anyone's game. Rice steps on the field boasting a record of allowing only five touchdowns to their four opponents.

And the Owls might be recalling a game they played on the same field in Ft. Worth two years ago when they came out on top. The way things are stacking up now, although TCU is a favorite by one TD, we are going to back the Owls in a repeat performance.

TCU has a sharp running attack, but the Owls have shown they can put the skids under such powerhouses. One of their displays proved very costly to the top ranking backfield of the Aggies last week in Houston.

It will be a close fight all the way both teams realizing the championship goal they are shooting for. The score? Rice should upset the Horned Frogs 20-13.

Isbell Versus Benners

The other SWC tilt tomorrow will feature two of the greatest passing stars in the nation.

Lary Isbell and Fred Benners will battle it out. Isbell leads the Bears' attack while Benners sparks the Mustangs.

But Baylor can sing their praise that passing isn't the only thing quarterback Isbell is good at. He can run, punt, call plays, and bootleg a football like it was glued to his leg.

And he has something else which every quarterback treasures. Isbell is liked by his teammates, coaches, and fans, and to top it all off, he has the undying confidence of all these.

Benners of the Musangs is great. He has one weakness though which often causes sorrow for the Ponies' fans. Like all great passing stars, he has his off days.

He hasn't seen much duty as a ground gainer this year, and appears to be too little to take on such a chore.

Isbell leads the conference in passing, rates high in running and punting, and holds the advantage over Benners as far as we can see. The advantage is when Benners has an off day with his passing the Mustangs have an off day all the way around.

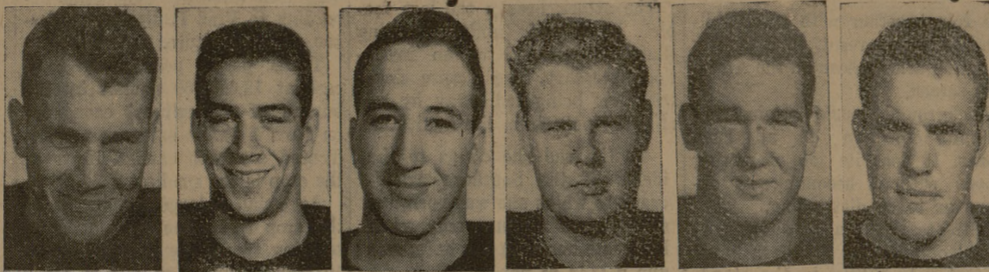

Both teams are relying largely on their two stars, and since we favor Isbell over Benners, we will give the nod to Baylor, 27-14.

Fish Against Shorthorns

Down at Austin in the big freshman game of the year, the Shorthorns of TU play host to the Fish of A&M.

We will point out another upset in tomorrow's games. The Aggie Fish should win in a very close one, 14-13.

Aggie Freshmen Stalwarts

These six Aggie stalwarts have been the backbone of the Fish squad throughout the season. They have opened the holes for the powerful and fast backfield of the class of '55, and they show great promise for making a good line for

Aggies Start Hard Workouts In Preparation for Big Game

Heavy practice started again on the A&M gridiron, as Coach Ray George prepared the Aggies for their last game of the season.

In the Southwest Conference play, the Cadet eleven has failed to score a clean win, yet have tied both Baylor, 21-21, and Southern Methodist, 14-14. The annual "Turkey Day" clash against Texas University will be the Farmers' last chance for a conference victory.

Plagued by multi semi-permanent and permanent injuries throughout the season, the Maroon and White will claim the greater majority of the team which started the season. Defending this year's Kyle Field record where the Aggies have yet to lose a game, will be the order of the day against the Steers Thursday.

Walter Hill, W. T. Rush, Augie Saxe, and Bill Ballard are the big permanent losses from the Aggie squad.

Hill, 220-pound defensive end who played a bang-up game against Texas last fall, has missed most of the season because of knee operation.

A broken arm gained in the Trinity game has kept Saxe, defensive backfield regular, out of the line-up for all of the conference tilts, while Ballard, who replaced Saxe in the line-up, is still recovering from kidney injuries. Rush, stalwart starting guard, was absent from a number of games with a bruised hip after the start of league play.

Injured during the season, but expected to be in top shape for "the game" include All-American Bruisin' Bob Smith, who suffered numerous roughings in most of the games.

Marshall Rush—guard and younger brother of W. T. Rush, James Fowler—linebacker, Charles Hodge—offensive end, and Halfback Billy Tidwell are others who were missed at times because of injuries.

At Texas, injuries have also kept Coach Ed Price shifting his material to suit his needs. Byron Townsend, TU's top fullback at the start of the season, has been held back from starting and spending a greater part of his time in a whirlpool.

Yet, the Longhorns are expected to field their better squads, and hold the favored role.

In the last meeting between the two teams on Kyle Field, Townsend showed the way for the Steers in TU's 42-14 victory. Halfback Gib Dawson paced the way for the Orange and White's win of 17-0 in Memorial Stadium last fall.

Only a 14-14 tie in 1948 has marred the Steers' win-list over the Cadets in the past 12 years, and no one can safely say what will happen Thursday.

Humble To Carry Games

This coming Saturday Humble Oil Co. will offer its weekly football program to the followers of the Southwest Conference.

Two grid battles are scheduled this weekend and are expected to be crammed with excitement from beginning to end.

Humble announcers Kern Tips and Alec Chesser will be at Ft. Worth to describe the Owl-Horned Frogs battle direct from TCU stadium. The broadcasting time is 1:50, and the game will be carried by many stations throughout the state.

Some of them are WFAA-WBAP-820, Dallas-Ft. Worth; KPRC, Houston; WOAI, San Antonio; KGNC, Amarillo.

Meanwhile from the Baylor Stadium in Waco the Humble casters, Charlie Jordan and John Ferguson, will go on the air at 1:50 to broadcast the action between the Bears and Mustangs. The stations carrying this game to sections of the state are WACO, Waco; KRLL, Dallas; KTRH, Houston.

Sports Thrill

Alvin Langford

Alvin Langford's picture is above for sure. We have run Bobby Dixon's picture with Langford's name under it. It was a case of a miss-marked picture and everything is now straight. It was Langford's thrill, now here is his picture.

Arkansas Chooses All-Opponent '11'

Fayetteville, Ark., Nov. 23—(AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks, first team to complete its 1951 Southwest Conference football schedule, selected a league all-opponent team today.

Texas was given seven of the 22 positions on the offensive and defensive platoons, and three players, tackle Jim Lansford of Texas, guard Bill Athey of Baylor and back Bill Burkhalter of Rice, were named to both platoons.

Here are the players the Razorbacks rate as the best they have faced in the conference:

Offense

Ends—Bill Howton, Rice, and Stan Williams, Baylor; tackles—Jack Little, Texas A&M, and Jim Lansford, Texas; guards—Bill Athey, Baylor, and Hershel Forester, Southern Methodist; center—Jack Barton, Texas; backs—Larry Isbell of Baylor, Gib Dawson of Texas, Glenn Lippman of Texas A&M and Burkhalter.

Defense

Ends—Don Menasco, Texas, and Sonny McCurry, Rice; tackles—Lansford and Dick Calhoun, Baylor; guard—Athey; linebackers—Dick Hightower of Southern Methodist, Keith Flowers of Texas Christian and June Davis of Texas; halfbacks—Burkhalter and Bobby

Browns Turn Trick

When the St. Louis Browns dumped the New York Yankees in both ends of a double header in Yankee Stadium recently it marked the first time the Browns turned the trick since Sept. 19, 1945.

Dick June, halfback on the Colgate football squad, is also a member of the hockey team.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 27... THE LYNX

What's par for the course?

This sporty student really teed off on a long tirade when he found himself stymied on the "single puff" and "one sniff" cigarette tests. "They're strictly for the birdies!" said he. He realized that cigarette mildness requires more deliberation than a cursory inhale or exhale. Millions of smokers concur — there's only one true test of mildness and flavor in a cigarette.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...
