

Tidwell, Busy Man Texas Newspapers Have All-SWC Day

By GUS BECKER
Battalion Sports Writer

Yesterday was All Southwest Conference day for Texas newspapers, it seemed, as four—The Dallas Morning News, The Houston Post, the Waco Tribune-Herald and the Fort Worth Star Telegram—picked their All-SWC teams.

For the first string offensive unit, all four newspapers picked seven players alike with a few differences in the other four.

The seven unanimous were ends, Stanley Williams of Baylor and Bill Howton of Rice; Tackle Jack Little of the Aggies; center, Dick Hightower of SMU; quarterback Lary Isbell of Baylor; and halfbacks Glenn Lippman of the Aggies and Gib Dawson of Texas.

Offensive tackle slot was between Steve Dowden of Baylor and Jim Lansford of Texas. The disputed guard position found five players contesting for the two disputed position—Harley Sewell of Texas, Walter Bates of Baylor, Alton Taylor of TCU, Dave Hanner of Arkansas, and Herschel Forester of SMU.

In the backfield three players were in the running for the other backfield slot—Billy Tidwell of the Aggies, Ray McKown of TCU and Billy Burkhalter of Rice.

Only five players were picked by all four papers on the defensive platoon—Guards, which were no problem this time, were Bill Athey of Baylor and Herbert Zimmerman of TCU; linebacker Keith Flowers of TCU; halfback Yale Lary of A&M and safetyman Bobby Dillon of Texas.

Contesting for the two defensive end positions were Bill Howton of Rice, Paul Williams of Texas, Tom Stolhanske of Texas, Frank Fischel of Arkansas, and Wayne Martin of TCU.

Tackles Ken Casner of Baylor, Bob Griffin of Arkansas, and Doug Conaway of TCU were mentioned for the two defensive tackle slots.

The other linebacker position was between June Davis of Texas and Dick Hightower of SMU while the other halfback slot was between Billy Burkhalter of Rice and Val Joe Walker of SMU.

As a result of the recent cage scandals it seems only natural that the SWC coaches in their winter season changed the basketball limits more than anything else.

Spring practice in basketball was set at 18 days within a 21 calendar day period. Spring practice in basketball had not had any previous limits.

The committee also limited the basketball schedule to 20 games instead of 24 and banned fall practice before November 10 instead of October 15 as in the past.

No games can be scheduled prior to December 10, giving SWC schools a month to hold fall practice.

No action was taken on bowl games, but spring football practice was lowered to 18 days instead of 25 within a 25-day span instead of a 35-day span.

Walter Hill, A&M end, who was put out of action for the season after four minutes in the Aggies first game of the year with U.C.L.A. has to consider that a whole season the Committee decided.

Melvin Fowler of TCU was granted permission not to have a year of eligibility taken from him last year after he was put out for the season in TCU's first game last season.

A comparison between the TCU cage team sparked by George McLeod and the Aggie quintet can be made after the Aggies meet Manhattan College in Madison Square Garden, Thursday night.

The New York Cagers were victorious over the SWC team 65-52, but McLeod was the high point man in the game with 21 points.

Players from all over the country sent in votes to the Chicago Tribune for its all-player selection for All-American. More than 18,000 votes were received.

Four players from the SWC were represented on the offensive and defensive platoons with two on each platoon.

Bill Howton of Rice and Dick Hightower of SMU were chosen for the offensive unit while Keith Flowers of SMU and Bobby Dillon of Texas were on the defensive unit.

The players must think Vito Parilli of Kentucky a better quarterback than Larry Isbell or the Baylor team didn't send in enough votes for their fair haired boy.

A&M players will play in three bowl games which is more than the TCU or Baylor players can say.

Glenn Lippman will play in the East West Shrine game and Billy Tidwell will be a busy man playing in the North and South Bowl game in Miami, Florida on Christmas night and the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Alabama on January 5.

Somebody's gonna have trouble when these two boys start running through the line, we bet.

Why doesn't somebody start a freshman bowl game for freshmen? The seniors have their bowl game and only seniors play in the East-West Shrine game and Blue-Grey battle.

Since there are so many bowls why not go all the way and have a Junior Bowl and a Sophomore Bowl. The way it is now, there is class discrimination. The two platoon system is designed to give more players a chance to play—why not give more players a chance to play in a bowl game?

Texas teams won two out of three bowl games this weekend as the Tyler Junior College Apaches lost to Pasadena City College in the Little Rose Bowl, Delmar Junior College won its game with the Pearl River Junior College (Mississippi) in the Memorial Bowl, and the Thorndale Red Raiders defeated Sequoyah of Oklahoma in the Milk Bowl.

Prairie View Sets Bowl Game

Prairie View A&M College Panthers will tangle with Arkansas State College in the Prairie View Bowl game on New Year's Day in Houston.

The announcement was made by the Prairie View Athletic officials and came after problems arose concerning several top ranking Negro eleven in the nation.

Prairie View found the Arkansas team one of its toughest opponents when it defeated them 20-6 in an earlier regular season game.

The host team, the Panthers of Prairie View, will enter the bowl contest with an 8 won and 1 lost record as compared to the 4-2-1 record for Arkansas.

The Prairie View Bowl is the second oldest New Year's Day classic in the nation. It is second only to the Rose Bowl in California. In its 24th year, this annual classic has brought to the Southwest many of the nation's leading colored football teams.

The Panther's record in these games has been 13 wins, eight losses and two ties. Their game with Bishop College last year ended in a 6-6 deadlock. Coach James Stevens' Panthers are rated third among the Negro College eleven in the nation.

Thirty Report For Varsity Swim Team

Varsity swimming coach, Art Adamson, had thirty prospects on hand Tuesday, December 4, as the varsity swimming team began regular workouts preparing for its swimming meets this spring.

Several members of last year's varsity team, which came out second behind the Longhorns in the SWC, were among the group.

Coach Adamson said the boys reported with an enthusiasm which indicates fine spirit and that he expects to rank near the top in conference competition this year.

The dam then overflowed as the Gators rolled up 27 points while holding the Tigers scoreless.

The Tigers were playing without the services of their key back, Jerry Leighton who has scored over 120 points for the Consolidated High School eleven this year.

Leighton, who for several weeks now has been suffering from a Charlie-horse, was ineffective against the inspired Sugarland squad.

Willie Arnold, the team's second leading ground gainer and scorer, was injured and did not return to action.

Consolidated had their best scoring opportunity early in the first quarter. The Tigers drove inside the Gator 20 before losing the ball in downs.

This was the last football game for seven seniors on the Tiger team. They are Jerry Leighton, Gayle Klipple, Thomas Wade, Donald Royder, Bobby Smith, George Royder, Bobby Smith, George Johnston, and Bob Barlow.

Aggie Cagers Head East For Three Game Tour

The A&M basketball squad left last night for a three game eastern road trip, featuring a game with Manhattan College in Madison Square Garden, Thursday night.

The Aggies embarked by train to Houston, where they spent the night and took a plane from there to Huntington, West Virginia, this morning.

Tonight the Cadets tangle with Marshall College there which has a very good team and will give the Farmers a real test.

On the Swing back to A&M the quintet will tangle with the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, Tennessee, Saturday night.

11-Man Traveling Squad

Coach John Floyd will take 11 men on the trip along with Bill Dayton, Aggie trainer.

On last year's eastern swing, the A&M cagers played four games with the highlight being a 45-44 victory over Canisius, one of the perennial powers in eastern basketball.

They lost the other three to Oklahoma City University 39-44, Siena 42-56, and Duquesne 36-73. The Aggie quintet is still looking for their first victory of 1951 basketball season as they suffered their second straight setback at DeWare Field House, Saturday night, dropping a 38 to 29 decision to the University of Houston Cougars.

None of the Cadet five could find the range during the first quarter as the Cougars led 10 to 4 at the end of this period.

Big Walt Davis, Aggie center scored three of these points to keep the Maroon and White hopes alive.

The halftime score was 18 to 8 with Davis having more than half of the Aggies count with five points.

During the second half the Cadets accuracy increased with the Aggies coming within five points of the Cougars at one time.

With two minutes and 33 seconds left to play in the third period LeRoy Miksch, Farmer forward fouled out, and with the loss of his six foot four inches, the Aggies lost ground again.

Six Aggies Placed On Rice All-Opponent 11

Six Aggies made Rice Institute's All-Opponent team at the conclusion of the 1951 football season except for the traditional bowl games.

Bob Smith, Jack Little, Marshall Rush, and Glenn Lippman all placed on the Owls opponents offensive eleven. Cadet Yale Lary, selected for the defensive unit, was the only Aggie unanimous choice.

Baylor's Larry Isbell, TCU's Keith Flowers, and Bobby Dillon of Texas were the only other unanimous choices.

Bruis'n' Bob Smith, Aggie fullback, lacked only one vote of being a unanimous selection on the offensive team, likewise Baylor's Bill Athey at defensive guard.

Texas placed the most players, seven, and A&M followed with six. The other SWC schools each got two.
