School Prexy's Talk Sports

Washington, Dec. 12—(AP)—Ten college presidents today renewed their search for the answers to these two questions:

- (1) What's wrong with intercollegiate sports?
- (2) What can be done about it?

The presidents are members of a special committee set up by the American Council on Education, a private body of educators, to study college sports. They laid the groundwork for their studies in a meeting here last month.

Today they were to hear from a football coach, Lloyd Johnson of Harvard, and two physical education experts, Thomas E. McDonough of Emory in Georgia and S. C. Staley of Illinois.

Jordan is president of the National Football Coaches Association. McDonough heads the college Physical Education Association, and Staley is president of the American Academy of Physical Education.

The hearings are behind closed doors. But Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College and chairman of the committee, fills in reporters after each session.

People Are Funny, Boyle Discovers

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Dec. 12—(AP)—Are your dinner invitations falling off?

Don't people ask you to their parties anymore? Maybe it's because you need to brush up on your raconteur-ing. Your twice-told tales have gone the rounds too often.

So today we offer you—free—two of the best stories we've heard lately, and you're welcome to them. (If you've already heard them, don't write and tell us they're old. Everything is getting older these days.)

The first concerns the Army colonel's wife, stationed in the Philippines in the years before the last war. She had the kind of cook women dream of—a Chinese named Mr. Ling, who could dish up a dream meal for one unexpected guest, or a dozen, on quick notice.

One evening, however, she was having a dinner party for 20 people, including a bishop.

"This has to be something really special," she told Mr. Ling that morning, and explained that the ecclesiastical guest was quite distinguished. The Chinese cook seemed deeply impressed.

That night he served up a splendid meal. As the guests leaned back, relaxing from the tremendous repast, in strode Mr. Ling carrying a huge and glittering cake. Beaming, he placed it on the table before the hostess.

Choice Lettering
 She and the bishop both leaned over to read some flowery lettering that Mr. Ling had inscribed with icing atop the cake. It said: "Hooray for Jesus!"

The second story is raising laughter in United Nations circles here. It concerns a mythical future meeting of "the Big Three"—Truman, Stalin and Churchill.

The trio of world leaders were quarreling bitterly about the problems of East and West when suddenly a beautiful little fairy appeared in the conference room. She wore a trailing gown of white and had a twinkling star on her forehead.

Waving her small wand, she said gently:

No Harsh Words, Please
 "Gentlemen, gentlemen, please do not use any more harsh words. I can help you out of your difficulties. Each of you make a wish, and if I grant it perhaps that will solve your problems."

First, she asked Truman his wish.

"I want you to take the biggest H-bomb that can be built, set it down in the heart of Russia, and explode it," he said. "That'll be a big help."

Turning to Stalin, the fairy said: "And your wish?"

Big Tidal Wave
 "I'd like you to raise the greatest tidal wave in history," he said, "and send it clear across the United States, and wash every American into the sea. You'll see how quickly peace will follow."

The little fairy sighed, and turned to Churchill, and said: "And your request?"

"Oh, just give me a long cigar and a double brandy and soda," he said cheerfully.

"That'll be quite easy," said the little fairy, brightening. "I can do that right away."

"No hurry, no hurry," replied Churchill, waving his hand airily. "Serve the other two gentlemen first!"

The 1924 Quantico Marine football team rolled up 183 points to 13 for its opponents. Vanderbilt scored all 13 of the points.
