

Sam Houston Press Capades Offer Aggie Version in Guion

By BERT WELLER
Battalion Staff Writer

Quizzes will be forgotten tonight as Aggies take time off to watch the tune-filled Press Capades from Sam Houston State College in Guion Hall at 7:30. The fun-packed show will feature 12 top variety acts from the Huntsville campus. All of the numbers in the two hour show were chosen by audition from the Sam Houston student body.

Talent Galore

The entertaining show features some of the more talented guys and lovelier gals in the state in what has been called one of the best student variety shows in the area.

Opening the show will be the unusual musical stylings of Charles Lee Hill's popular Houstonians. This progressive musical aggregation will feature everything from "pops" to semi-classical to boogie.

Comedy will be provided throughout the show by Jack Lienfelder and Neal Allen. Both are guaranteed to keep Aggie audience rolling in the aisles with their zany impressions of famous show people. Lienfelder bases his act on the antics of movie and radio star Bob Hope. Allen impersonates Jimmie Durante, Al Jolson, and Peter Lorre.

Mountain Dew Boys

For lovers of music in the hill-billy vein, The Mountain Dew Boys, Beverly Conn, and Elizabeth Maddox should make the Press Capades worth the 50 cents admission. The Mountain Dew Boys provide music while Misses Conn and Maddox team up in a mountain style comic routine.

Ralph Bolls shows his versatility by combining his ability on the marimba with talented work on the drums, providing a musical novelty act that is both entertaining and unusual. The popular drummer was a feature of the 1950 version of the Press Capades and is one of the stars of this year's edition.

Frances Sanders and Wilton Robinson will give variety to the star-studded show with their vocal renditions. Each is new to the annual variety show on the Sam Houston campus. Their numbers were features of the Huntsville version of the show this year.

"Miss Desire"

Torch singer for the Sam Houston group which brings its Aggie version of the Press Capades here tonight is Miss Rosalind Beane. She is known around the Huntsville campus as "The Desire Gal."

The local audience will be taken "South of the Border" by the tropical rhythms of Jose Colom and his Puerto Ricans. The Latin combo will feature the dancing of Gregory Toledo and lovely Flor Del Liz Ramirez.

Rosalind Beane will conclude the program with her sultry versions of popular torch songs. Known as the "Desire Girl" because of her renditions of "That's My Desire" and "As You Desire Me", Miss Beane made her television debut recently on KPRC-TV. The attractive singer will give Aggie audiences a sample of the song technique that made her such a success on video.

Certain time for the Aggie land version of the Press Capades is 7:30 tonight in Guion Hall. Admission is 50 cents.

Council Meets

Charter Adopted

The home rule charter for College Station was declared to be officially adopted yesterday afternoon at a special meeting of the city council at City Hall.

A resolution passed by the group said in part, "The people of the City of College Station having voted 220 for and 11 against the adoption of the city charter at the election of Jan. 8, the charter is declared the law of the city from this day hence."

Councilmen Attend

The meeting was attended by Ernest Langford, mayor; Joe Orr, Howard Badgett, Harry Boyer, R. B. Halpin, and A. P. Boyett, all councilmen.

Following the charter's adoption, Langford remarked he would now be able to vote at council meetings. This power is given the mayor under a provision of the charter.

"During the time I have served as mayor, I have voted on only one occasion," Langford added. Under the general law provisions a city mayor can vote only in the case of a tie.

New Powers

Two new powers the charter gives the city are as follows:

• The power to annex property lying adjacent to the city lines, with or without the consent of the property owners, by city ordinance.

• The power to declare and prohibit nuisances both within and without the city limits for a distance of 5000 feet.

"College Station's adoption of the home rule charter is a milestone in the city's history, and the most significant thing the city has done to date," declared Gibb Gilchrist, chancellor for the A&M System.

Air Force Camp Plans Announced by PAS&T

Cool Winds Continue Over Texas

By Associated Press

Hat-blowing winds were to continue in Texas Thursday after lashing the whole state Wednesday. The gusty blow was due to diminish in the upper portion of the state as it picked up speed in the Southern part.

The Weather Bureau in New Orleans ordered small craft warnings hoisted late Wednesday from Brownsville to Morgan City, La. The weather bureau directive said winds would shift to northwesterly and increase to as much as 34 miles per hour.

Wednesday's north wind which harried pedestrians and made driving perilous on some windswept stretches of highway accompanied a mild cold front that blew speedily across Texas.

High winds at Port Neches, in the Beaumont area, Wednesday night put most of that city in darkness for about two hours. Utilities officials said power lines blew together and caused a "primary burn-down."

No rain was reported during the 24 hours and maximum temperatures ranged from a low of 43 at Dalhart and Amarillo to 85 at Corpus Christi.

Dalhart was the coldest spot in Texas all day with an early morning low of 26 degrees.

Fair skies and cooler temperatures were predicted for Thursday with a little warmer weather due again by Friday.

Tentative plans for Air Force ROTC students to attend summer camp were received today from Headquarters, Continental Command, by Col. E. W. Napier, PAS&T.

The notice was the first official information received here concerning summer camp plans for the Air Force students. Last summer no AFROTC summer camps were held.

Colonel Napier was told that 13,000 AFROTC students will encamp during the summer of 1952. Students included in this 13,000 are those who will be qualified for commissions, except for summer camp, between May 1, 1952 and May 1, 1953.

Senate Meet Set Tonight

The Student Senate meets tonight in the Senate Chamber for its last meeting of the semester.

On the agenda for this meeting is committee reports and discussions on such matters as the opening of the freshman area to sophomores, and election of delegates to the March convention of the Texas Intercollegiate Students Association.

Committee reports will be heard from the Campus Chest Committee, Mascot Committee, Campus Beautification Committee, Hospital Committee, and Mess Hall Committee, said Don Young, executive chairman.

Seniors to Lackland

Consequently it is thought, said the PAS&T, that those A&M Air Force seniors who will not graduate until after June 1, 1952, will be sent to Lackland or possibly Sampson.

Seniors who will graduate in June 1952, he said, will probably be sent to the base at which they will be stationed upon the receipt of their commission.

Colonel Napier emphasized that this information is for tentative planning purposes only.

He added that definite information will be received during the month of February and will be published at that time.

Informal Dance In MSC Saturday

An informal dance will be held Saturday night, Jan. 12 in the MSC Ballroom honoring athletes and their dates.

The dance will start immediately after the Athletic Banquet at approximately 9 p.m. and will last until 12 p.m.

Juke box music will be furnished.

Game Wardens School Opens At A&M Feb. 4

The seventh annual Game Warden's School will be held here beginning Feb. 4.

The course is four months of instruction for all Texas game warden candidates, and is offered cooperatively by A&M College and the Texas Game and Fish Commission.

This course parallels the regular spring semester, and the candidates will carry approximately 20 hours.

All men taking the instruction are specially selected by the Austin office of the Game Commission. The candidates include men previously on the game commission payroll, and men just starting with the commission. They are selected from districts all over the state, and will return to their respective areas upon satisfactorily completing the course.

This school is designed to improve the standards of law enforcement, to place emphasis on public relations and respect for the law, and to raise the standards and pay of the division, said Dr. William B. Davis, head of the A&M Wildlife Management Department.

Junior Sweetheart Pictures Accepted

All pictures to nominate girls for Sweetheart of the Junior Prom should be turned into the Office of Student Activities beginning immediately, announced Joe Blanchette, sweetheart committee chairman.

Each picture submitted should have attached to it a sheet of paper containing the name, address and vital statistics of the girl and the name of the person submitting the picture.

Veterans Urged To Get Waivers

Veteran students attending school under the G I Bill should report to the office of the Veteran Advisor and secure a fee waiver slip as soon as possible, according to Bennie A. Zinn, veteran advisor.

Veterans should take the waiver slip to the Fiscal Office and reserve a dormitory room. The rooms may be reserved at the Housing Office before the rush at registration time. This will eliminate delays during registration, Zinn said.

Harrington Comments:

'Hospital Was Closed'

By JOHN WHITMORE
Battalion Editor

The College Hospital follows the same schedule as the college and was closed during the Christmas Holidays, M. T. Harrington, president of the college, said last night.

According to precedent the hospital is closed, except for emergencies, during the holidays and does not have an obligation to take care of the students, the president said.

In an interview Tuesday, Miss Irene Claghorn, superintendent of the hospital, said she had set up a special work schedule for the nurses over the holidays. The nurses on duty were asked to work a 12 hour day so each could have a few days off.

These statements were made in connection with the Dr. Donald Demke case. Dr. Demke, a graduate student, had a mild cerebral hemorrhage over the Christmas holidays and was refused admittance to the hospital. A nurse on duty told Dr. Demke the hospital was closed and he should see Dr. J. E. Marsh, college physician, the next morning.

See Local Doctor

The next morning Dr. Demke went to the hospital and was told he just missed seeing the physician. After talking to the nurse, she called Dr. Marsh and told him of the case. The doctor told the nurse to tell Dr. Demke to see a local doctor.

In telling The Battalion of the story, Miss Alice Burke, a friend of Dr. Demke, said:

"Don was in his room about 10:30 p. m. studying and drinking a Coke. He had a sudden pain in the base of his skull and felt nauseated so he reached for the bottle with his right hand so he picked it up with his left. After taking a drink he found he could not swallow. He went from his room to the hospital immediately and met the nurse.

Contact Friends

"He went back to his room and tried to sleep, but was unable to do so. The next morning about 8:30 a. m. Don went back to the hospital and was told the doctor had just left. The nurse called the doctor and told him of the case. Dr. Marsh suggested the man contact a local physician."

In an interview, Miss Burke told The Battalion Dr. Demke came to see her after spending a short time at the hospital the second time. The young lady said she called her doctor to look at the 32 year old graduate student. He is doing research work in the school of veterinary medicine where he received his DVM in 1941.

When presented with a notarized statement of what happened, Dr. Marsh gave his side of the question. He said the nurse called him Sunday morning (Dec. 23) and told him the patient (Dr. Demke) had a slight paralysis in the right side of his face. She said she felt the grip in his right hand it seemed normal.

Denies Examination

By telephone Dr. Demke was contacted while in a VA Hospital (See DEMKE, Page 4)

Fate of Safety Inspection Law in Texas Still Unknown

By Associated Press

A new Texas automobile safety inspection law remained tangled in the hair of Texas officialdom, motorists and testing stations Thursday.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., State Department of Public Safety Director, asked Atty. Gen. Price Daniel to rule if it would be legal to extend the safety-check deadline.

Testing by Deadline Impossible Garrison had decided Wednesday that completion of the testing job by the April 1 deadline was impossible.

Meanwhile, an injunction suit aimed at testing the inspection law was being readied in Fort Worth by State Rep. H. A. Hull. It was expected to be filed Thursday.

Under the measure, all cars must pass a safety inspection test on such things as lights, brakes, windshield wipers, wheel alignment, etc., before the owner can re-license his vehicle.

Rep. Hull told newsmen he would not file his proposed injunction suit if he didn't think he had a case. He and Attorney Guy Buell were retained by the Fort Worth Used Car Dealers Association to prepare a case which would enjoin Garrison's Safety Department from administering the law.

Jan. 25, Friday, 8-11 a. m. Classes meeting MWF1.

Jan. 25, Friday, 1-4 p. m. Classes meeting MWF2.

Final examinations in courses with only one theory hour per week as shown in the catalogue of courses will be given, at the discretion of the department head concerned, at the last meeting of either the theory or practice period before the close of the semester.

Red Cross Mobile Blood Unit to Re-visit Area

The Red Cross Mobile Blood Unit will return to College Station in February and to Bryan in March to collect donations for servicemen, announced County Chairman W. L. Penberthy.

His announcement came after a monthly meeting of the Brazos County Red Cross chapter executive board and committee chairman.

The unit from the Southeast Texas Blood center at Beaumont visited in both communities and Bryan Air Force Base a few months ago.

Mrs. T. R. Spence reported that home nursing courses lasting three days will begin Monday, Jan. 14, on the A&M campus.

The classes, comprised of 12

each, have already been formed. Members of the Travis school Parent-Teachers Association comprise two of the classes, while wives of Bryan Air Force Base personnel are members of the other class.

New Artificial Respiration

John W. Hill, chairman of safety services, and W. M. Dowell, first aid chairman, told of a trip they made to Houston recently to attend a demonstration of the Red Cross' new method of artificial respiration.

They told of such a demonstration which was held in DeWare Field House at A&M Tuesday night.

TISA District To Meet at A&M

A district meeting of the Texas Intercollegiate Students Association will be held at A&M Friday, announced Don Young, A&M Student Senate member.

Young said students from A&M, Baylor University, and Southwestern University are included in this district. Representatives from Clifton Junior College, Hillsboro Junior College, and Mary-Hardin Baylor College have been invited to attend the meeting.

It will be the first meeting of students from this district, Young said.

The TISA group will organize and consider a project to undertake in the near future. Time and place for the next meeting will also be discussed.
