Jersey Cattle Club Ends 61st Meeting

Ed Knolle of Sandia was elected president of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club during the final session of the sixty-first annual club meeting, which was held at A&M Jan. 9-10. Retiring president is Frank Tooke of Tyler.

Evans Reese of Waco is new vice president of the club, succeeding Knolle. Treasurer Arthur F. Dieterich of Dorchester and Secretary D. T. Simons of Fort Worth were reelected to their offices.

Seven members were named to the club's board of directors. New members include J. R. Gillham, Clarendon; Lloyd Henderson, Schulenburg; Emmett Brown, Cleburne;

Senior Class Meets Tuesday 7:15 in MSC

The senior class will meet Tuesday evening at 7:15 in the MSC Ballroom.

The class will hear reports from the Class Gift Committee, Campus Beautification Committee, Social Committee, Calendar Sales Committee, and Traditions Committee said J. W. "Doggie" Dalston, President.

The Traditions Committee will present proposals concerning limiting the wearing of Senior boots to two semesters; Silver Taps recommendations; and inter-outfit customs.

Following this the group will hear a report from its president. His report will concern the action that has been taken on issues previously decided upon by the class.

There are also two items of particular interest which fall under new business. They are the class officer's proposal concerning senior class support of changing the name of College Station to Aggieville; and preliminary discussion of selection of a class agent.

All seniors are strongly requested to attend. Also these are not closed meetings; any member of the faculty or of another class who so desires is invited to attend this meeting Dalston said.

Standard Oil Man Will Address Meet

Frank W. Pierce, a director of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, will be one of the speakers at the Fifth Annual Management Engineering Conference to be held at A&M Feb. 27-28.

R. F. Bruckhart of the Industrial Engineering Department of the college, sponsor of the conference, is conference director.

Pierce is one of a number of top-flight business executives who will fight an active part in the conference.

Frank Tooke, Tyler; and Ray Brown, Decatur. J. W. Ridgeway of San Antonio and W. L. Payton of Stephenville are hold-over members.

This meeting, which was the first annual convention held by the Texas Jersey Cattle Club at A&M in more than 20 years, was attended by approximately 100 persons.

Speakers on the Wednesday afternoon session of the program included C. N. Shepardson, dean, School of Agriculture, and Frank B. Astroth, breeder of St. Paul, Minn., and president of the American Jersey Cattle Club.

Dean Shepardson emphasized the need for giving more attention to markets for dairy products. He said appetizing appeal of a dairy product—flavor, appearance and keeping quality—is important to everyone connected with dairying.

"We are faced with a serious shortage of good dairy replacements," Dean Shepardson declared. "Never has there been a better outlook for the sale of good Jerseys than right now and in the foreseeable future."

Astroth said the loss of many smaller dairymen is a matter of evolution to a degree. Just as large an investment in equipment is required to milk eight cows as to milk 40 or more, he said.

He stressed the importance of a Brucellosis eradication program—importance from the standpoint of human health, from the standpoint of economics to the farmer, breeder and producer, and from the standpoint of economics to the nation.

A panel discussion of dairy problems was followed by a tour of the new A&M dairy center, which is under construction.

The relationship of the American Jersey Cattle Club to the Jersey breeder in Texas was discussed by President Astroth at a banquet held Thursday evening.

A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy man of A&M, presented 31 awards to winners in the official testing and junior production programs.

A luncheon Thursday, sponsored by the Texas Cotteens Crushers Association, completed the annual meeting. Mineral Wells was selected as the location for the 1953 convention.

A&M Dames Club Schedules Meet

You are eligible for membership in the Dames Club if you are the wife of a college or university student, said Mrs. Marge Dolan, president.

The A&M Dames Club will meet Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Cabinet Room of the YMCA.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Peggy Maness and Mrs. Essie Nelson.

Because of a conflict with the meeting date of another club, the Dames Club will meet the first and third Tuesdays of each month, according to Mrs. Dolan.

100 to Attend Plumbers Meet Here, Jan. 18

One hundred representatives of local apprentice committees of the plumbing and pipefitting industry will hold a one-day conference, Jan. 18, in the MSC. In conjunction with the conference, the industry state apprenticeship committee will hold its quarterly meeting preceding the conference.

The state committee in cooperation with the Engineering Extension Service and the Texas Education Agency sponsors a training program for apprentices of the plumbing and pipefitting industry. D. Bart Pippis, apprentice specialist for the Service and the program, prepares instructional material for use in the local training programs and acts as coordinator for the program.

The state committee is composed of equal membership from employers and employees of the plumbing and pipefitting industry.

The purpose of the conference is to discuss local training problems and to coordinate the efforts of all the cooperating agencies.

E. L. Williams, vice director of the Engineering Extension Service, will explain the training services offered by the Service that are available to the plumbing and pipefitting industry.

Other topics to be discussed are the functions of the Bureau of Apprenticeship, the function of the Texas Education Agency is carrying on an apprentice training program, and the draft status of apprentices. In addition to the discussion period, the representatives will be taken on a tour of the college.

Service Men Will Review Eco Course

E. L. Williams, L. K. Jonas and R. A. Downward of the Engineering Extension Service, will review a course in basic economics which has been adapted to the railroad industry for the top management of the Texas and Pacific Railroad in Dallas today.

Downward will conduct the course for Texas and Pacific supervisors with the first class beginning Jan. 21 in Dallas. He attended an economics institute in Chicago, Ill., as a preparatory step toward conducting the course, Jan. 7-9.

The course will run 20 hours with group discussion supplemented by visual aids. The Service will make the course available to other industries as the course is designed so that it can be adapted to any industry, Williams said.

The economics course marks the fifth group of conferences that the Service has conducted for Texas and Pacific supervisors as they have completed four units of the supervisor training course.

High School Day Set For March 15; Planning Begins

High School Day has been set for March 15. The presidents of all A&M clubs are requested to be present in Room 301 Goodwin Hall today at 7:30 p. m. to discuss and make plans for High School Day 1952.

The purpose of High School Day is to give high school seniors a look at A&M. The joint facilities of the Housing Office and Office of Student Activities are pooled in order to perform this task.

The athletic department also presents its Sports Day on the same date and the visiting high school students are given free admission to the event courtesy of Student Activities.

Freshman Drill Team Awarded Medals Friday

Members of last year's freshman drill team were awarded medals by President M. T. Harrington Friday afternoon. President Harrington said the medals were given for "The great ideal of recognition," brought to the college through the efforts of these men.

Other members of the presentation committee were Col. E. W. Napier, PAS&T; Col. Shelly P. Myers, PMS&T; Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant and coordinator of the school of military science; and Lt. Col. Taylor Wilkins, assistant commandant.

W. L. Penberthy, dean of men; Cadet Colonel of the Corps Eric Carlson; Cadet Colonel Grady Smallwood, commander of the Eighth Regiment; and Cadet Captain Warren Pierce, company commander, were other members of the presentation committee.

After the presentation, the '52 freshman drill team put on an exhibition drill with which the '51 drill team members were well pleased. Later, the '51 team was guest of the '52 team at a dinner in Sbisla Hall.

sank long set shots to take the lead at the end of the first quarter 15-9. In the second period, Davis scored 10 points as the Cadets pulled farther out in front 30 to 20 at the half.

The third stanza saw Davis score the rest of his 22 counters and he left after having scored half of the Farmers 44 points.

With most of the second stringers in the game in the final period the Aggies held their own with starter Walker and Farmer leading the team.

Miksch left the game via the personal foul route with seven minutes left in the last quarter and Ralph Gravunder, the Owls high point man of the evening leaving for the same reason with two and a half minutes left in the game.
