

What About My Name?

This is the young man that's getting all the publicity about what his name should be. He was named Reveille II a week ago when the Student Senate accepted him as A&M's official mascot. The senior class voted Wednesday night that the Senate be asked to change his name because there could be only one "Reveille." The dog was given recently as a gift to the student body by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wienert of Seguin.

Semester-End Rush, Brings Confusion, Last Minute Work

By HARI BAKER
Battalion Staff Writer

The rush and confusion of semester-end, semester-begin, activities is well under way, with students' hopes alternately dimmed by visions of the nightmares of examination and the dreams of the holidays.

Baylor's Relic 'Clasped Hands' Are Recovered

Waco, Jan. 17—(AP)—The "Clasped Hands," valuable art relic, stolen from Baylor University Monday night, was recovered at 8:45 p.m. last night.

The bronze sculpture was of the hands of Robert and Elizabeth Browning, 19th century English poets.

The discovery was made by Dr. W. T. Gooch, vice-president of the university, on the front seat of his automobile which was sitting in the driveway of his home. The car had been setting there since about 3:45 p.m.

The hands were covered with mud, as if the relic had been hidden in a creek or other wet place.

Park Here?

The steps which many Aggies gathered around for yell practices in years past are coming down now. This workman is busy with an air hammer knocking down the cement banister. Although no announcement has been made yet, it is rumored that the space between the new Administration Building and Goodwin Hall will be used for automobile parking.

Reds Charge US Plane Bombed Neutral Zone

Munsan, Korea, Jan. 17—(AP)—The Communists charged today that an Allied plane bombed the Kaesong neutral zone, just six miles from the truce talk site, Panmunjom.

The accusation was made during Thursday's "no progress" armistice negotiations.

It followed by two days a Red charge that Allied planes attacked North Korean prison camps, killing 15 U. N. prisoners and injuring 64 others. Monday the Communists complained that Allied planes flew over cities in northeast China.

future attacks on North Korean prison camps.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho said he would think it over.

An official U. N. release quoted Lee as saying that since the alleged attack Monday on a camp near Kaesong occurred at night it would have made no difference if the camp were marked.

Lee also was quoted as saying the Communists tried marking the camp, but Allied planes attacked it anyway so the identification marks were not replaced.

Allied headquarters said planes were bombing military targets in the Kaesong area Monday night, but it had no way of knowing whether the prison camps were accidentally attacked since the Reds never have disclosed the location of their camps.

Two representatives of the international Red Cross apparently abandoned their attempt to enter North Korea, Thursday they handed an envelope to General Lee and received assurances it would be delivered to top Communist military commanders.

Jackson to Speak At Junior Banquet

R. E. "Prof" Jackson, associate professor of history at Texas State College for Women, will be principal speaker at the Junior Banquet Feb. 16, it was announced by Junior Class officers and committeemen in a special meeting yesterday.

"Prof" Jackson is a humorist and lecturer known widely throughout the Southwest for his ability as an after dinner speaker. He has a reputation for cleverly tying in anecdotes and jokes with his general subject.

possible, a formal portrait, informal pose (preferably in bathing suit) and another in formal dress, Blanchette added. Accompanying the pictures, there should be such vital statistics as height, weight, bust, hips, and waist measurement, of the girl entered in the contest.

Each Junior entering a photo should include his own name, dorm, and room number on a separate sheet of paper attached to the pictures, said Blanchette. Deadline for turning in pictures will be Feb. 9.

American Alumni Council Opens Meeting Here Today

By FRANK HINES
Battalion Staff Writer

American Alumni Council members of District IV are convening in the MSC today, Friday, and Saturday to hear addresses and to discuss matters on alumni organization relations.

The members, including some 50 secretaries and officers of alumni organizations in Texas, Arkansas, and Louisiana, heard Dr. M. T. Harrington, A&M president, give the welcoming address at the opening luncheon today.

Vahle to Speak

Of special interest to the conference delegates will be a talk by H. Kurt Vahle, advertising and sales manager of Cuppies-House Corporation of St. Louis, Mo.

Vahle, well known in the national field of advertising as a program headliner and magazine writer, will discuss "Direct Mail Techniques" at the Friday morning session.

In addition to being a member of the Board of Directors of both the Associated Third Class Mail Users and the Color Analysis and Evaluation Institute of Chicago, Vahle is also the author of newspaper and magazine articles for such publications as the Advertising Digest, Best Insurance News, and the American Paper Converter.

Addressed Clubs

During the past five years, he has addressed many of the Advertising Clubs and Service Clubs throughout the country, and has recently spoke before a national convention of the Caterers Association.

Among the other speakers on the program are Charles P. McCurdy, Jr., alumni secretary of William and Mary College, and International President of the American Alumni Council this year.

Other Speakers

Also speaking are Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University and John Hamilton, editor of the Oklahoma A&M College magazine, who will lead the discussion on alumni publications.

The Oklahoma A&M College magazine which Hamilton edits has been recognized nationally as one of the best alumni magazines published at this time.

Range, Forestry Club Elects Moore

The Range and Forestry Club elected Jim Moore to head the club for 1952 at a meeting Tuesday night.

Other officers elected were Sam Murrah, vice-president; Bob Bell, secretary-treasurer; Douglas Shanks, reporter; Floyd Pound, parliamentarian; and John Welch, social chairman.

Investigators to Check

A team of U. N. investigators headed by Col. James C. Murray was ordered to Kaesong to check on the alleged Kaesong bombing. The city where the truce talks began last July is guaranteed from attack by joint agreement.

Communist correspondents at Panmunjom said propeller-driven planes were heard circling over the Red truce camp this morning, at about the time of the alleged bombing.

Both subcommittees working on armistice terms spent the day wrangling over issues which have deadlocked the talks for weeks.

Discuss Prisoner Exchange

An Allied briefing officer said that for the delegates discussing prisoner exchange "it was merely a matter of ploughing over the same old ground with the same results—no results."

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby asked Chinese Col. Tsai Cheng-Wan for whom he was speaking Wednesday when he declared angrily that Red China will "fight to the end" if any Chinese soldiers in Allied hands are repatriated to Chinese nationalist Formosa.

Tsai, in firm control of his temper, gave no direct answer.

Libby accused the Communists of violating the Geneva convention by failing to mark their prisoner of war camps. He suggested that safeguards be set up to avoid any

Diploma, Orders--All in One

By PAUL CROSSLAND
Battalion Staff Writer

Over 350 Aggies were affected by the army's press release yesterday, which stated that all ROTC students receiving commissions in the United States Army Reserve during the spring and summer of 1952 would also receive active duty orders at the time the individual is commissioned.

Although many of them will not have to report immediately, one-third of the graduates will report by July 31, two-thirds by Aug. 31, and the remainder by Sept. 30. The army intends to give the officers an opportunity to select the month they wish to report should the above procedure be fulfilled.

Topic of Discussion

Throughout the dormitories the topic of discussions among the army seniors is this newly released plan to call them to active duty immediately after graduation. Some of the students have a negative attitude and some have a positive outlook. Cadet Lt. J. H. Winn, A Transportation, commented after reading the first few lines, "No Bull, so that's what they say. But I guess with the new pay raise it might be all right if they let us report when we want to."

Cadet Major Kelly Anderson, Infantry regimental staff, said, "Not too much of a shock, expected something like that." Cadet John Wallace, C Artillery, replied, "I expected it—didn't think it would be any other way." Cadet Major Teddy J. Hirsh, B Engineers, commented, "That's a blow and nothing we can do about it, but it will eliminate confusion and uncertainty."

Revelers' On Town Hall Program in Guion Tonight

Tonight the fourth Town Hall program this year will feature the Revelers male quartet. Their concert of popular and art songs begins at 8 p. m. in Guion Hall.

The Revelers will present a program of vocal music designed to have something for everybody, including selections from "South Pacific," barber shop melodies, The Dance of the Skeletons, and classical pieces.

Long prominent in the concert, radio, and recording fields, the Revelers have made five European tours and have appeared on many radio programs in the United States. The group was first organized in 1916.

Members of the organization are as follows: Thomas Edwards, tenor; Wilfred Glenn, bass; William Gifford Hogue, tenor; Calvin Marsh; baritone; and Paul Sargent, piano accompanist.

Tickets Sold Soon

Tickets will soon be on sale in Student Activities Office for all non-corps members of the Junior Class and through the first sergeants in the Corps area, Joe Wallace, ticket committee chairman said.

Bruce Vanzura will handle ticket sales in the Basic Division area. Tickets will probably be on sale beginning sometime next week and ending on Feb. 9.

The Banquet tickets will be $3 per couple or $1.50 stag and tickets for the Prom will be $2 stag or drag.

UMT Training Camps Listed, Should it Begin

Washington, Jan. 17—(AP) Seventeen military camps were listed today as tentative sites for universal military training (UMT), when and if it begins.

They are:

Army—Camp Chaffee, Ark., Ft. Ord, Calif., Ft. Riley, Kans., Ft. Knox, Ky., Ft. Dix, N.J., Ft. Jackson, S.C.

Navy—Camp Elliott, Calif., U.S. Naval Submarine Station, New London, Conn., and Norman, Okla., (for air).

Marines—Camp Pendleton, Calif., El Toro, Calif., San Diego, Calif., U. S. Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va., Camp Lejeune, N.C., Cherry Point, N.C.

Air Force—Scott Air Base, Belleville, Ill., Sheppard Air Base, Wichita Falls, Tex.

The listing was given by Dr. Karl T. Compton during testimony on UMT before the House Armed Service Committee. He is a member of a five-man commission established to work out the details of a UMT program, which the committee now is considering.

Dr. Compton said the list was supplied by the armed forces. He said present plans were to set aside certain areas of these camps for UMT, with the remainder of camp facilities being used as presently.

Alumni Council Speaker

Dr. Shrode Back From Costa Rica

Dr. R. R. Shrode of the Genetics Department, has returned to A&M after spending six months in Costa Rica as head of the Department of Animal Industries.

The Department of Animal Industries is a division of the International Institute of Agricultural Sciences located in Costa Rica.

Dr. Shrode, voted most popular agriculture school professor last year, took on active part in helping to improve the program for grading up the native beef cattle of Costa Rica. He definitely recommends the introduction of Brahman blood to the native cattle.

Committeemen Meet

Plans for the 1952 Military Day at A&M were mapped this week in a special meeting of committee chairmen in the office of Col. Joe E. Davis, commandant.

More than 30 students and members of the Military Science Department attended the meeting to plan a schedule of events for the March 22 affair.

Jurgens May Play

The group tentatively agreed to sign Dick Jurgens and his orchestra for the dance. Jurgens will be asked to play a one hour concert before the dance.

The Military Day observance will include visits to A&M by high ranking military authorities
