

Profs Become Students In Ag Eco Experiment

Teachers will become students in an experimental course to be offered this semester by the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology, according to an announcement by Dean C. N. Shepardson of the School of Agriculture.

Organized on a voluntary basis, the seminar will cover four main phases of scientific investigation and presentation. First discussions will center upon the use of workshop methods for developing research data. These will be followed by a consideration of the basic theory of systematic inquiry, of the mechanics of sound research methods and, finally, the preparation of specific project plans.

Research Administration, Washington, D. C.

"This seminar is a pioneer training effort aimed chiefly at providing the agricultural staff with an opportunity for self-improvement," Dean Shepardson said.

"Its continuation will be determined by the degree of success achieved this semester," he says.

Agricultural Economics 623, a graduate seminar in research methodology, will be open only to staff members in agricultural teaching, research and extension divisions of the college, Dean Shepardson said.

Workshop Methods

Workshop methods of instruction will be used in order to encourage maximum participation in the training process by all members of the seminar.

"College staffs have long recognized the need of training in systematic methods of study and analysis," Dean Shepardson said. "Recognition of this need is not confined to the professional research man or woman," he explained. "Classroom teachers, extension workers and others recognize the need of guidance in the orderly preparation of theses, lectures and other written material."

Personnel from a number of departments will be represented in the seminar, headed by a steering committee of agricultural economists. The steering committee is composed of Dr. Joe R. Motheral, chairman, L. P. Gabbard, Dr. W. E. Paulson and Warren LeBourveau.

Outstanding Visitors

Arrangements are being made for several outstanding scientists to visit the seminar as discussion leaders. The first of these visitors will be Dr. Joseph Ackerman, associate managing director of the Farm Foundation, followed by Dr. Kenneth H. Parsons, authority on research methodology at the University of Wisconsin, and Dr. Harry Trelogan of the Agricultural

Jewish Music Program Set

The Hillel Foundation will present a program of Jewish music in the YMCA chapel on Wednesday, Feb. 13 at 7:15 p. m. Morris Chotin of Bryan Air Force Base will present the program.

Chotin was formerly Cantor for Temple Israel in Alton, Ill. He studied voice with Marie Veta Karsht, who also taught Helen Traubel. Before entering the Air Force, he toured with the Chicago Civic Opera Company and appeared as leading tenor of the St. Louis Opera Company.

The program will consist of three song groups. The groups consist of songs of Israel, and America, and songs in Yiddish. The final number will be an Aria from Pagliacchi.

The meeting is open to the public and all those interested in Israeli music are cordially welcome, according to Bennett Kalmans, president of the Hillel Foundation.

Watt Hour Meter Given to EE Dept.

A precision standard watt hour meter has been given to the Electrical Engineering Department, M. C. Hughes, head of the department, announced today. The meter is valued at $6,000 and is from the Westinghouse Electric Corp.

"We received this gift through the efforts of W. C. Roland of the A&M class of '28," Hughes says. Roland is manager of the manufacturing and repair department, instrument and meter division of the Westinghouse Electric Corp., of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Masons Schedule Dinner Feb. 22

Bryan-College Station Masons will observe Washington's birthday on Feb. 22 with a dinner to be held in Sbsia Hall. Albert DeLane, Past Grand Master of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Texas, will be the keynote speaker.

G. B. Vance and Joe Sorrels, worshipful masters of the local lodges, have announced committee chairmen to plan the event.

Committee members are Chester Higgs, general chairman; Ed Rollins, arrangements; A. B. Nelson, program; H. P. Murray, reception, John Rogers and E. D. Smith, ticket sales; and D. A. Anderson, publicity.

All Masons and their wives have been invited to attend the dinner.

Book Reviewed At Dames Meeting

Mrs. G. W. Schlesselman reviewed the book, "Melvin Goodwin USA" at the Dames meeting Tuesday in the YMCA.

Hostesses were Mesdames Shirley Mohan, Jackie DeArma, and Marilyn Dieckert.

The bridge and canasta party scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 19, will not be held because of Religious Emphasis Week forums that are being held for married couples at that time.

Film Society

Joan Fontaine, Orson Welles, and Margaret O'Brien are the leading actors.

All the films will be shown in the YMCA Chapel and start at 7:30 p. m. The other six films scheduled for the remainder of the year are: "How Green Was My Valley," March 17; "Alexander's Ragtime Band," March 31; "Of Mice and Men," April 9; "Life of Emile Zola," April 23; "Grapes of Wrath," April 28; "Ox Bow Incident," May 8.

Ready to Move

Ray Perryman, assistant and H. L. Heaton, registrar, go over material in their offices in the A&M System Administration Building. The registrar's office is being moved to the new College Administration Building. The office has been located in the System Building since 1933. Heaton became registrar in 1941 and Perryman became assistant the same year.

for use in the Center, operates the Record Room and record collection, and sponsors musical entertainment.

For the student interested in books, the Browning Library Committee offers an opportunity to help select books and determine policies for the Browning Library.

Among hobby groups, the Crafts Committee is one of the most popular. Students joining this Committee have access to the completely outfitted MSC Crafts Shop for doing leather and metal works, ceramics and other handicraft.

If you are interested in art, particularly in learning to appreciate fine art, the Art Gallery Committee sponsors art classes and lectures for students. This group is also responsible for the numerous exhibits of paintings displayed in the Student Center.

Camera Club

For camera enthusiasts the MSC Camera Club operates for its members the modern darkroom facilities found on the MSC third floor. The club holds regular meetings twice monthly and sponsors exhibits and lectures for benefit of students.

Bowling comes in for its share of attention in the MSC Bowling Club. Sponsored by the club is the Aggie Bowling Team which gives top student bowlers an opportunity to compete with bowlers from other Texas colleges.

Students interested in other games may be interested in the Bridge Club, Chess Club, or Table Tennis Club, which compose the Games Committee. These groups meet regularly for individual student play and also compete with players from other colleges.

Amateur radio enthusiasts on the campus get on the air regularly through the Student Center Amateur Radio Club. Besides its broadcasting activities, the Radio Club sponsors code and other broadcasting instruction for "hams."

Public Relations Committee

To be sure that all these groups get sufficient publicity on their various activities the MSC Public Relations Committee operates a five-minute WTAW broadcast twice each week, and helps with newspaper and poster publicity.

Both student and student wives are eligible for membership and participation in any of the MSC sponsored organizations. President Davis has issued a special invitation to all interested students and student wives to attend the Round-Up.

Those interested in a brief outline of how Student Center activities are administered, in knowing what student heads a particular group, may find this information in the series of posters now on display inside the MSC East Entrance.

Speakers

Williams, Adam In Washington

D. W. Williams, vice chancellor for agriculture of the Texas A&M System and D. A. Adam, staff assistant for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, left Saturday for Washington, D. C.

Williams is making this trip to Washington in connection with the cooperative program being set by the United States and Mexico for the improvement of Mexico's agricultural industry. Special emphasis will be placed on agricultural education and research work.

Adam will confer with officials in Washington on the foreign agricultural technical assistance programs. These include the Point IV Program and the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations.

As part of this work, 45 agriculturists from Turkey are coming to A&M March 15 for a three-month institute, said Adam. The Turks will study agricultural teaching, research, and extension. Adam and D. T. Killough, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, are planning the program for the institute.

During 1951, 43 agricultural technicians from 21 foreign countries came to Texas through the technical assistance programs.

A&M - Arkansas

from the same general difficulties, the game promises to be a tight battle all the way.

Where the once Porkers were without a serious All-Conference individual contender, they now have at least two in the persons of Lambert and Kearns.

In Houston Saturday night, Arkansas' second half comeback after trailing by seven points at the half was paced by Kearns' 13 points in the final 20 minutes. His total for the night, 15.

Kearns looms as a threat to any scoring ideas that the Aggies' Buddy Davis might have. He did an excellent job on the high-scoring Schwinger of Rice, holding him to 12 points.

At present the Cadets, resting in fourth place, hold a one full game lead over Arkansas. A win by the Aggies would move the Farmers to within one-half game of third place SMU.

Probable starters for the Cadets are Buddy Davis, center; LeRoy Miksch and Don Binford, forwards; Don Heft, and Woody Walker at the guard posts.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

POOR PAUL was having a fowl time. Even his best gal didn't give a hoot for him. "Wise she hate me so?" he asked his roommate. "Simple, you stinky old bird—because your hair's always ruffled up! Better try Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic. It's non-alcoholic. Contains soothing Lanolin. And does three things: Relieves annoying dryness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. (Even limbers up your scalp. And helps you pass the Finger-Nail 'Nester-Test!') Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's a 'jowling success. So why don't you take a taxi-dermist to any drug or toilet goods counter to get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's your hair's best friend! And ask for it at your barber shop. Then there's no talon how the chicks'll go for you.
