

Aggies Seek Revenge, Challenge Frogs Tonite

By JIM ASHLOCK
Battalion Sports Writer

Refreshed and revenge minded after their 61-47 slaughter of the SMU Mustangs Saturday night, A&M's cage team will be out to make up for their two time loss to the TCU Horned Frogs when they engage the Frogs in Ft. Worth tonight.

Walter Davis, Raymond Walker, LeRoy Miksch, Eddie Houser, and Don Binford will probably get Coach Floyd's nod for starting positions.

The game will mark the last college meeting of Davis and McLeod. The two giant pivotmen, both of whom have been considered by basketball experts as two of the finest the SWC has ever produced, have been conducting their own private feud for the past three seasons. At present Davis, three points behind Baylor's Ralph Johnson's first place marks in conference scoring, is leading his rival by one point, but McLeod holds the high point honors for seasonal play.

Binford, completely recovered from his early season leg injury, performed yeoman service in the SMU game Saturday night as he cleared the hoop for 16 points and played a fine defensive game. The 6-1 Kansas cager has shown rapid improvement in recent games and should see a lot of service in the two years of eligibility remaining before him.

Another relatively new addition to the Aggie starting lineup who has played excellent ball in recent games is Ed Houser. His speed and power have proven vital defensive aides to the speed shy Aggies. Houser, who did not play last season, still has a year before him in which he can play if he so chooses.

Coach Floyd is expected to send

Fish Mural Spring Semester Started

According to Barney Welch, A&M intramural director, freshman intramurals will get under way this afternoon with wrestling, ping pong, and bowling holding the current spotlight of another college-wide sports participation program.

Ping pong and bowling matches will be held in the MSC.

Boxing, softball, and handball will be started later in the semester.

his cagers into the game with instructions to shoot when the opportunity offers itself, but to keep the ball moving. The Frogs will have the advantage of their home court, but the Farmers are out to erase the scar the two losses to TCU have placed on their record, and this inspiration could prove to be the key to victory.

'Blind Bogey' To Be Held In MSC Alley

Today is "Blind Bogey" day at the MSC bowling alleys according to Mrs. Elaine Lester, manager of the Bowling Alley.

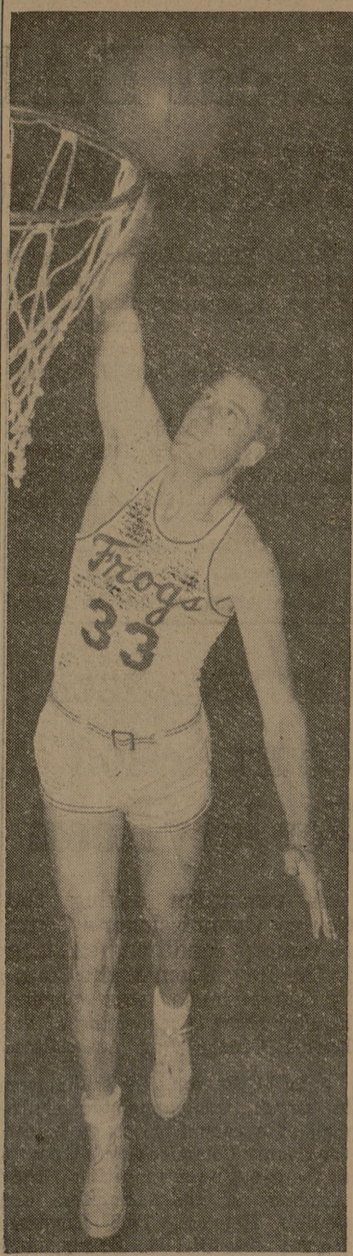

Blind bogey day is a regular Tuesday feature of the MSC bowling alleys. Prizes are awarded to the blind bogey winner and also to the person who bowls the high series for the day.

Every score between 60 and 200 is sealed in an envelope and placed in a bowl. Some time during the day a score is drawn from the bowl and the person who bowls closest to this score is the winner of the blind bogey.

All students from freshmen to seniors, corps and non-corps, are invited to participate Mrs. Lester emphasized.

Last week's blind bogey winner was C. H. Woliver with a score of 175. He received a MSC pineapple cake as first prize.

J. E. Kennedy was awarded 12 free lines of bowling for bowling the day's high series, 610.

George McLeod
Center

TCU's leading scorer for the last two years, McLeod has scored 142 points in conference play this season. His season total of 340 is still tops in the Southwest Conference.

ned to spend the night before journeying to Ft. Worth today.

TCU, presently one and a half games ahead of Texas University for the conference crown, won their first encounter with the Aggies 65-35 in the Southwest Conference Pre-season Tournament in Dallas on Dec. 29. The second engagement, in College Station on Feb. 6, also went to the Frogs, 52-41.

George McLeod, 6-7 Frog captain and center, will lead the attack against A&M. The towering Houston senior popped the mesh for 27 points in the Dallas meeting of the two teams, but was held to only 8 in the second clash at A&M.

Other probable starters for Christian coach Byron "Buster" Brannon's hardwood five will probably be Harvey Fromme, John Ethridge, Bryan Kilpatrick, and Ted Reynolds.

Baseball Candidates Hold First Workout

"We didn't order this kind of weather, but we've got a lot to do and a little time to do it in," said Coach R. C. "Beau" Bell, opening his first official baseball workout.

47 Men Saturday
Practice was called off Friday, with the exception of the pitchers and catchers throwing inside the gym, as a mist dampened the Ag efforts. But Saturday found about 47 varsity men out, despite the cold weather.

After a check on positions and the men out, the squad did some running, which included wind-sprints. The rest of the brisk workout was taken up by a shuffling exercise to sharpen up their fielding and moveability, along with "pepper games," and throwing.

Also to aid in the strengthening of the boys' legs and to get them into shape, Bell, and Wally Moon, ex-outfielder for the Aggies, had the candidates catch thrown flys on the run.

No Batting Practice
Bell asked if any of the pitchers were ready to throw batting practice, and found that very few felt ready. So with the cold weather condition, along with this fact, he thought it wise to wait a while.

Coach Bell did say the opening game with the BAM Comets in San Antonio March 7 was drawing near, and that intersquad games would have to start this week.

Even though the weatherman tried to put a crimp into the Cadets first work-outs, he didn't have much of a chance, for throughout the afternoon, continuous flow of chatter and high spirits prevailed.

As the resounding crack of bats, the popping of the horse-hide into leather pockets, and the diamond chatter sounds from the Aggie's Kyle Field, one is sure to know that America's sport is again taking over the spot light.
