Deadline Set To Enter 'Fish' Sweethearts

Deadline for turning in pictures of candidates for Freshman Class sweetheart is Friday. Pictures are to be turned in at the Student Activities office, second floor of Goodwin Hall.

The Fish Ball will be Saturday night, March 1, from 8 to 12 in Sbsia Hall. The Aggieldand Orchestra will play. Tickets will go on sale next week in the dorms. They are $2.00, stag or couple.

Six finalists for sweetheart will be picked from the pictures. During the first intermission at the dance, these finalists will be introduced, and a committee selected from the honor guests present will select the Freshman Sweetheart. She will be announced during the second intermission.

The Sweetheart Committee will select the six finalists. Jerry Ramsey is chairman of this committee. No one who has turned in a picture will be allowed to judge.

11 to Attend Wildlife Meet At Miami, Fla.

Representing A&M at the North American Wildlife Conference will be 11 wildlife students and one assistant professor.

The conference, will be held March 16-18 in Miami, Fla.

"A delegation has been sent to the conference by A&M for the first four years. This has resulted in jobs being secured and students being placed in work all over the United States," said Jack Inglis, assistant professor of wildlife management.

Among those planning to attend are Bobby Heath, Dick Bittner, Don Shutt, Tom Green, Bob Downing, Carl Berglund, Dick Blume and John Scroggins. Graduates Paul W. Parmelee, John E. Wood, and R. B. Davis along with Inglis complete the list.

Each graduate student will give a report at the conference. Parmelee will report on "Parasites of Bobwhites in the Post Oak Woodlands of East Texas," while Davis will discuss "The Use of Rumens Contents Data in a Study of Deer-Cattle Competition and Animal Equivalence." Wood's subject will be "The effects of Agriculture on the Habitat and Food Supply of Fur-bearing Mammals of East Texas."

Army Now Needs Finance Officers

Army Commanders will consider applications for direct appointment as lieutenants, Finance Corps, USAR and concurrent call to active military service.

This opportunity will be afforded individuals who have attained a masters degree from a recognized college or university in the graduate fields of accounting, business administration, or economics, said the military department.

Summer Trip to Turkey Explained by Steve Lilley

Steve Lilley, junior animal husbandry student from Nacogdoches, gave an illustrated lecture of his recent work in Turkey at the regular meeting of the Texas Alpha Chapter of Alpha Zeta in the MSC Monday night.

Lilley, one of the two Texas 4-H Club representatives selected to participate in the 1951 International Farm Youth Exchange Project, presented colored slides showing the agricultural conditions existing in Turkey as well as picture descriptions of the customs and traditions still observed in that country.

Explanations of each picture gave the national agricultural honor society members a running perspective of the conditions in Turkey and what we, as a nation, are doing to help their farm economy. "Much aid has been received in Turkey from the United States in the form of farm machinery because of the Marshall Plan," he explained.

In one of his pictures, a direct contrast was noted in that the newest of American-made tractors were pulling the crudest Turkish farm equipment, a wooden plank with sharp rocks attached for the purpose of threshing wheat.

Purpose of Exchange

The purpose of the exchange transaction was for American farm boys to gain a better knowledge of rural boys in foreign countries and agricultural situations in those countries.

This program is sponsored by the extension service of the State Department in conjunction with similar agencies in various foreign countries. All the students who went abroad last summer on this plan were given a two-week briefing period by the State Department early in June, Lilley said.

The greater part of their time spent in Turkey was out in the country helping the farmers with American farm machinery and other phases of modern agriculture as we know it here in this country, he added.

'Players' to Present 'The Circle' Monday

Curtain time is nearing and rehearsals are coming to an end for the Aggie Players currently working on "The Circle," their next production.

Due for its Aggieldand debut at 8 p. m. Monday night, "The Circle" is a sophisticated comedy by W. Somerset Maugham about the trials of a stuffy English furniture collector and his wife.

The eternal triangle enters the plot with the appearance of Teddy Luton, a dashing young man-of-the-world who captivates the furniture collector's beautiful young wife.

Further complicated by the sudden return to England of the furniture collector's estranged mother, the plot becomes a problem fit for a marriage counselor.

New Star

Starring Marjorie Selleck in her first appearance in the cast of an Aggie Players production, "The Circle" promises an interesting evening for those attending the two performances at the Assembly Hall Monday and Wednesday nights.

The triangle in the play, which should really be called a pentagon, consists of Alice Burke as Elizabeth Champion-Cheney, the furniture collector's wife; John Samuels as Arnold Champion-Cheney, the furniture collector and a member of parliament; B. B. Smith as Teddy Luton, the dashing, young Casanova; Mrs. Selleck as Lady Kitty Champion-Cheney, the wayward mother of the furniture collector; and Harry Gooding as Lord Porteus, the person responsible for the furniture collector's mother being wayward.

In supporting roles, Director C. K. Esten has Bob Travis as a footman, Jerry McFarland as the furniture collector's father, and Mrs. D. D. Burchard as Anna Shenstone, a friend of Elizabeth Champion-Cheney.

Tickets for the performance may be purchased at the door or from members of the Aggie Players at a price of 50 cents.

Big Three Will Include German Army in NATO

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 20—(AP)—The Western allies open a dispute-dogged North Atlantic Council meeting today (at 10 a.m. EST). It may achieve historic progress.

Overshadowing the meeting was the urgent conviction that the sessions must produce concrete progress toward European defense. Otherwise, the United States Congress may slash its multi-billion dollar military aid bill, regarded as essential to Allied rearmament plans.

The Allied foreign, defense and finance ministers and their brainiest advisers will troop into the gleaming white marble chamber of the Portuguese National Assembly for the public opening session.

Greece and Turkey are attending for the first time as full members, swelling to 14 the nations linked in the North Atlantic Treaty organization. The other members are the United States, Britain, France, Portugal, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Italy, Norway, Denmark, Canada and Iceland.

In private conversations before the meeting opened, senior American delegates expressed conviction Congress is in a put-up-shut-up mood.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson flew in last night with one plum believed likely to sweeten the Congressional mood—a big three agreement with Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer on German affiliation with Western defense through membership in the six-nation European army.

Three Officials File for Return To City Posts

The mayor of College Station and two councilmen declared their intentions to file for re-election last night at a meeting of the city council.

Ernest Langford, mayor; Joe A. Orr, councilman from Ward I, and A. P. Boyett, councilman from Ward III, said they would seek re-election.

The announcements came after the council passed a city ordinance declaring an election April 1 for the purpose of electing a new mayor and three councilmen, one from each ward.

A city ordinance setting the tax rate for the calendar year of 1952 was passed at the meeting. The rate was not changed, but remained at $1 per $100 property valuation.

Three members were appointed to the tax equalization board. They were Carl Birdwell, W. I. Truettner, and E. R. Alexander.

City Hall will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. April 1 for polling. Election judges appointed were F. B. Clark, Mrs. C. B. Godbey, and Mrs. L. P. Gabbart.

Possum In Bugle Stand Not Playing

A dead possum has an unusual hapit — the bugle stand.

The possum can be seen on the left hand side of the stand if you are facing the MSC.

This animal was reported to the B & C U department last week. However it has not been picked up yet.

Dallas Artist's Paintings On Display in MSC Cases

A collection of paintings by Ramon Froman of Dallas are being exhibited in the show cases near the post office area at the MSC. The paintings have been at the Student Center since last Wednesday, and will remain on display until March 1. The estimated value of the collection is $5,000. Prices of individual pictures range from $100 to $1,000.

Froman, a popular portrait painter in the east, was born in Louise, Texas. Soon after he was born, his family moved to Illinois. At the University of Illinois, he majored in art and later studied with Van Umbragh. In the east he has won many awards with his portraits.

About six years ago he moved to Dallas. There he teaches art and does some portrait painting. He will be back in this area in about two weeks to do painting.

Ag Places Second At ASME Meet

A paper presented by Glenn Rader placed second at an American Society of Mechanical Engineers triangle meet in Houston last Saturday. A&M, Rice, and Texas entered the contest.

Ted Mullinix also represented A&M. Purpose of the meet was to prepare speakers for the regional meet in Austin, Feb. 29 and March 1. Schools in this region are A&M, Rice, Texas, Texas Tech, LSU, Louisiana Tech, Tulane, and SMU.

Munsan, Korea, Feb. 20—(AP)— Communist insistence that Russia be invited as a neutral nation to help supervise a Korean truce stalled armistice talks today.

The Allies offered "in the interest of progress" to pare their troop rotation figure from 40,000 monthly to 35,000. But the Reds would not even talk about it.

No Progress
No specific progress was reported from another truce meeting on prisoners of war. And no date was set for a third committee of staff officers to work out technicalities on the final truce clause— recommendations to governments.

Red negotiators were insistent that the Soviet Union be the third neutral nation nominated by the Communists. The United Nations command already has approved Poland and Czechoslovakia.

U. N. negotiators refused to indulge in a debate on the neutrality of Russia in the Korean conflict despite repeated Red hints they would like such an argument.

The Allies said simply that Russia, as sponsor of Red Korea and Communist China, was "not acceptable" as a neutral supervisor.

North Korean Col. Chang Chun-san insisted there was "no reason" why the U.N. command should object to the Soviet Union.

A U. N. command communique said the Reds were trying to get the Allies to waive the previously "agreed to principle that neutral nations to be invited to serve on the supervisory commission should be acceptable to both sides."

The Russian question assumed the proportion of a third major stumbling block toward final agreement on an armistice. Negotiators already are stalemated on (1) voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war—the Reds insisted again Wednesday on forced repatriation—and (2) whether Reds shall be allowed to repair bomb-pocked airfields during a truce.

Col. Andrew Kinney said the Red nomination of Russia was not "acceptable to both sides" as called for in previous agreements. He said the Communist stand "is in direct violation of the agreement reached between the delegates and in violation of the instructions given to the staff meetings."

Communist staff officers insisted the nomination was "fully consistent with the agreed principles of the nomination of neutral nations" and did not need Allied approval.

The Reds said the proposed draft for selecting neutrals did not specifically mention that both sides must approve. That agreement was oral.

The draft provides merely that neutral nations must not have contributed combatant forces in the Korean war.

No mention was made of the fact that Red air forces in Korea are supplied exclusively with Russian-type anti-aircraft guns, artillery, tanks and other equipment, or that the North Korean army was Russian trained and advised.

Reason?
The Russian question assumed the proportion of a third major stumbling block toward final agreement on an armistice.

Negotiators already are stalemated on (1) voluntary repatriation of prisoners of war—the Reds insisted again Wednesday on forced repatriation—and (2) whether Reds shall be allowed to repair bomb-pocked airfields during a truce.

Featuring two big floor shows, large murals of French night life, a dancing area, and a photographer, the cafe is designed to provide fun and frolic for all, she said. Since the cafe is located in the bowling alley, it can seat only a limited number each Friday night. A large number of reservations have been made for the coming show, and Miss Bolander recommended that tickets be bought as soon as possible. Tickets are on sale for 50 cents each in the bowling alley of the MSC.

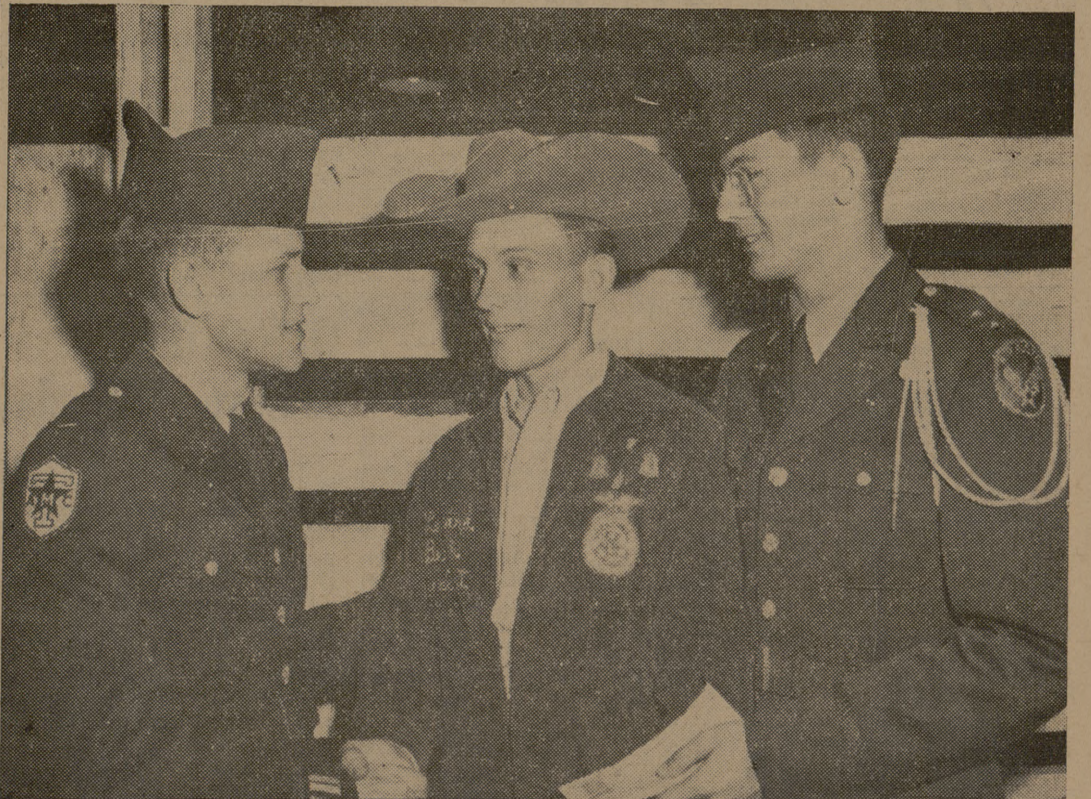

"Fun in the French Manner" will be had when the first floor show comes in the spotlight at 9:30 p. m. A second floor show will be presented for the night owls at 11 p. m. Both local and imported talent is featured in these floor shows, which will become a regular attraction of the Cafe.

March 1 Is Deadline For Degree Filing

March 1 is the deadline for filing application for a degree to be conferred at the end of the current semester, H. L. Heaton, registrar said. Applications filed after this date will not be accepted and the student cannot graduate, the registrar added.

Any student, either graduate or undergraduate, who expects to complete the requirements for a degree by the end of the current semester should come to the registrar's Office now and make a formal application for a degree.
